Hon. Col. Sec. I am of the opinion that a small corral would be an asset. It is practically impossible to catch a horse on the common without driving a whole troupe to the common gates.

I agree this would be an asset, and propose to put on two unemployed men to erect a corral at small cost from old materials

Stanley.

18th Dec. 1931.

The Chief Constable,
Stanley.

Sir,

We the undersigned holders of grazing licences for horses on the common beg to enquire whether any steps may be taken to prevent the indiscriminate driving of our horses to the town. The animals are being continually herded from their feeding ground to the common fence as often as twenty times during the week, in many instances this being quite unnecessary. It then takes the horses at least two hours to return to their pasturage having to cross the rough stony area immediately outside the common fence. Under the present conditions any benefit the animals derive from grazing on the common is nullified by this continual driving around. In the absence of any regulations by the Colonial Government in this matter we would suggest that a small corral would undoubtedly be an asset and prove of no small benefit.

We remain,

Yours faithfully,

Sir:-

In confirming my interview of this morning, appended hereto are the signatures of those members of the Public who protest against a corral being erected on Goose Green to catch horses in, and suggest that it might be erected a little to the South of the Heat Banks which would be much more convenient, as erecting same at the aforesaid place, in our opinion, would entice youths to get into mischief.

I am, Sir

Your obedient servant

Hon

Colonial Secretary.

W. J. Hutchinson.
