STRIKE IN STANLEY

Government threatens prices and incomes policy

Friday 15th September saw the first strike in the Falklands for many years. The strike was said to be a token one day protest due to the alleged refusal of employers to negotiate on union claims for a wage increase for hourly paid workers. The General Employees Union was not sure how many people were on strike but said that some 52 members were at the hurriedly called meeting the evening before which decided on a strike action.

The strike came a day after a session between the union and the employers which ended after only two minutes. It appears that the meeting opened with a statement on behalf of the employers stating that the unions claims were unacceptable. The union's representatives took this to mean

SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS THIS WEEK

Mexico City

Twenty-four Latin American and Caribbean nations have sent representatives to a conference this week. The major item on the agenda is relationships between the United States and the other members of the Organisation of American States. One speaker said that in future the relationship must be 'co-operation not subordination.' United States' much travelled Secretary of State Dr. Henry Kissenger is due to meet the representatives in secret session. Other items to be discussed are: the activities of U.S.A. based multinational companies, development co-operation, the Panama Canal, the energy crisis and the recognition of communist Cuba.

Argentina

Some one hundred lives are said to have been lost plus thousands of people made homeless in the northern provinces of Argentina. Heavy rainfall over the last month has caused flooding and emergency work is now in progress.

Chile

The new Chilean military government has announced that it plans to stay in power for at least another five years. It says that it has plans to continue its claimed improvements on the situation left by Dr. Allende which will take at least five years to complete.

WORLD NEWS THIS WEEK

Washington Oil Conference

This conference, which the United States hoped would enable the oil consuming countries to agree on a common policy toward the oil producing countries, ended with a statement which France refused to be associated with. The French Foreign Minister said that France rejected a statement which appeared to give the impression that the oil consuming countries were

'ganging up' on the oil producers. It should be remembered that France has close relations with many oil producing countries some of which are former French territories.

British General Election
- polling day Feb. 28th

Opinion polls were showing a Conservative lead but with Labour quite close behind. One feature that was surprising many commentators was that if voting patterns on election day follow the opinion polls then the Liberals could end up with 20% of the votes. This would be their highest for many years.

The major issue emphasised by the Conservative leader Mr Edward Heath has been his claim that the unions, particularly the Miner's Union, have been seeking to interfere with the elected Government and dispute its decisions. His cry is, "Who should run the country, the unions or the elected Government." Lately he has switched to an attack on the Labour proposal to nationalise North Sea oil activities.

Labour, through its leader Mr Harold Wilson, has been claiming the Conservative Government has mismanaged the economy causing much higher increases in the cost of living than were caused by world inflation generally. He is claiming that the Conservative is out of touch with the ordinary working man who is finding it difficult to make his wages stretch to meet his needs.

The Liberals as ever are calling for a devolution of power from the central government to the regions and greater worker participation in the firms that they work for. The greatest hope that the Liberals have in this election is that the two large parties will get more or less an equal number of seats and that they will therefore hold the balance of power.

Syria

With sporadic outbreaks of fighting still taking place on the Golan Heights between Israel and Syria the ceasefire is plainly a difficult object to achieve. Next week Dr. Henry Kissinger expects to commute between Damascus, Syria and Jerusalem, Israel to mediate in an effort to achieve a permanent peace.

HELLO, from the Weekly News.

It was hoped to have this newspaper out on Tuesday but so many other important things to do made this not possible. This whole issue is a one man effort from gathering the news to distributing the finished paper. We hope shortly to get secretarial help, and then, hopefully, all will be well.

Please support this paper. If it is supported well both with news and buying it, probably later we could buy equipment to print pictures as well. The ADVERTISING RATES are very cheap. Please let us have them by midday Monday to be out Tuesday. Adverts from Camp accepted by letter or telegram and will be billed at the end of each quarter. Finally, the price is provisional until we see if any extra costs are involved.

that the employers were not prepared to negotiate or make an offer and the union representatives walked out - therefore ending the meeting. We now give a summary of the views of the two sides.

The G.E.U.

The union took the first step on the 12th November 1973 by putting in a summary of their claim. This was followed up by a verbal presentation at a meeting on December 20th shortly after the Chief Secretary's return from leave. On the 7th January 1974 a letter was sent setting out what the union considered were their reasons for requesting increases.

The unions claims are -
1. Do away with the system whereby the cost of living award is paid, not on the latest calculations but, on an average of the previous four quarters. It was claimed that in a period of continuing, rapid inflation the money paid in quarterly increases never catches up with the cost of living.
2. A rise of 15% in the basic hourly rates. It was said that the cost of living calculations do not take account of such things as rents, telephone and loud-speaker rental and medical fees - all of which have gone up in price recently. In addition Stanley workers were receiving less than £100 per year more than people doing the same sort of work in Camp - and the Camp workers were receiving free peat, milk, meat and house, and paying less tax, which was all worth some £400-£500 per year. The union said that the last increase in the basic minimum wage was nine years ago and that the minimum basic rate of pay plus cost of living award amounted to only £14.80 per week.

3. As an alternative to the 15% rise the union was prepared to consider a basic hourly rate linked to the wool prices - in a similar way to that operating in Camp. This would at least give a good wage in the years when the industry is doing well and would be a fair reward for workers after the union not making claims when the price of wool was so low.

4. The G.E.U. asked that when public holidays fall on a Saturday the employees have a working day off in place of it. This was agreed.

5. The general concern about Old Age Pensions was expressed by the union in a request that pension payments and contributions be linked to the cost of living index. The Government representatives advised that this was already being looked into.

In a broadcast the General Secretary of the G.E.U., the Hon.R.V. Goss, gave a summary of the union's case stating, 'the basic hourly rate does not constitute a fair living wage'. The other union representative at the ill-fated meeting was Mr.K Summers.
The Employers.

The employers in Stanley were represented by an ad hoc committee comprising the Hon. H.T. Rowlands and Mr.D.R. Morrison from the Government and the Hon.A. Sloggie from the F.I.C. This committee has no power to negotiate on behalf of their principals but can take back negotiated recommendations and seek to gain approval for them. Other smaller employers usually accept the final agreement.

The Government, the major employer in Stanley, sees the wage claim in the wider context of the Colony's economy. It claims that acceptance of the union's demand will result in a significant rise in the prices of goods in the stores further adding to the rocketing cost of living. Also, of course, the cost of public services would increase. This would probably lead to higher demands from the Treasury when Stanley rates are assessed.

Employers were also concerned to maintain what they felt to be proper differentials between skilled and unskilled workers. It appears that they felt that if wages of unskilled workers were raised to the level claimed then there would be a danger of young people not desiring to train for the skilled trades if they could get similar wages as a labourer.

As far as the fateful two minute meeting was concerned the employers felt that they were not given a chance to see if any common ground existed between the employers and the union. One report said that an employers' representative was actually speaking as the union men walked out.

In a news release after the meeting the Government stated that hourly paid workers had already received an 18% increase as a result of automatic cost of living increases during 1973. They also claimed that some hourly-paid workers were already earning in excess of £1300 per annum. (We understand that this includes overtime and contract earnings etc.) The news release threatened that it was likely that the Legislative Council would soon be asked to approve a Prices and Incomes Policy. We understand that this is a serious suggestion.

WHAT NOW?

It seems that, having walked out of the last meeting, the next move is up to the General Employees Union. We understand that the G. E.U. will hold an executive committee meeting later this week to decide the next move.

An Annual General Meeting is likely to be held soon and members would then have an opportunity to air their views.

It appears that both sides would be agreeable to arbitration - that is getting an independent person or persons to work out a settlement which both sides would be committed to accept. There is some difficulty in finding such a person. If someone is brought in from outside he might be very well qualified and experienced and so on but would have little knowledge of the local situation. There are few people living locally who might be considered suitable to perform these duties who are not liable to direct or indirect pressure from one side or the other. Hopefully, maybe at least one more attempt may be made at a solution by direct negotiation. In informal conversations with both sides in the dispute it is apparent that there is still room for further understanding of each others positions and that therefore there would be much to gain from continuation of contact and negotiations.

The limited resources of this newspaper do not make it possible to check the statements and figures quoted above. We cannot therefore be held responsible for any errors contained therein.

CHRISTIAN VIEWPOINT

When Billy Graham met Sir Winston Churchill -

'The Bible speaks with ultimate authority. We do not need complicated arguments to prove that the Bible is more than a human book, that it is divinely inspired. Its very durability over the centuries supports Isaiah's claim: "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever."

Some years ago, I was invited by Sir Winston Churchill to his home at No. 10 Downing Street. It was a dark hour in Britain's history, and the Prime Minister was deeply discouraged. He had hardly greeted me before he asked, "Young man, have you any hope for the world?"

I took out a New Testament, saying, "Prime Minister, this book is full of hope." Quickly he replied, "Would you read me some passages?" For the next 30 minutes I read selections that I thought would fit his mood. As I left, he said warmly, "I thank you. You have given an old man a renewal of faith for the future." I hadn't. But the Bible had.

Like Churchill, all of us know moments when our outlook is bleak and hope seems an illusion. In the Bible we can find exactly the strength we need.' Dr. Billy Graham as quoted in Reader's Digest.

Football - third Shield match

It rained for twenty four hours before the kick-off of this match, but the pitch was in remarkably good condition. There was also light rain throughout the match. Stanleys' team had two changes in it from the side which won 3-1 in the last shield match, Stephenson for Pete and Scholes for Luxton.

The match kicked off at a fast pace with some good football from both sides with little in it between the teams. Once again Stanley were to go a goal behind midway through the first half when a low cross from the left was allowed to slip through the Stanley defence and Endurance centre-forward had an easy task. He put the ball past Peck from some nine yards cut and this turned out to be the only score of the half - so it was Stanley 0 - Endurance 1.

In the second half Stanley took T.Betts out of defence and put him up in the forward line to add a little more sting, with Scholes moving to left back and Stephenson to left half. Endurance spent almost all the second forty-five minutes in their own half of the field with Stanley pushing attack after attack. Then a cross from Cave found Gibbons unmarked and he scored from two yards to put Stanley level. Cave then had the luck to score with his knee also from about two yards with around ten minutes to go. Stanley almost went three-one up when Cave crossed to see T.Betts head just over the bar. Although both Stanleys' goals were nothing out of this world the team were well worth their win.

Stanleys' team was T.Peck, R.Betts (capt.), T.Betts, P.Shuttleworth, G.Edwards, J.Scholes, R.Cave, L.Biggs, G.Hamilton, J.Stephenson and T.Gibbons. I would like to point out that this Stanley team must have contained the fewest local born players ever. There were only four local born lads in the side: R.Betts, T.Betts, T.Peck and L.Biggs.

Shackleton match

There was a six-a-side match between Stanley and R.R.S. Shackleton. This ended in a 7 all draw. Stanleys team was R.Betts, T.Betts, J.Lee, P.Seazeal, M.Luxton and G.Johnson. One of Shackleton's players was local born Tony Alazia who scored three of his teams goals.

CONSTITUTION MEETING THIS THURSDAY

What could be one of the most significant public meetings held in Stanley for many a long day is arranged for this week. Thursday 28th February at 8.00 p.m. in the Town Hall. No guarantees have been given by H.M.G. that the changes to the constitution supported by the highest number of people will be accepted. However it is the first of a series of opportunities to bring into the open, by residents of the Colony, what they like and dislike about the way we are governed - and to offer suggestions for changes that residents want to make.

We have already brought some suggestions to the public in the F.I. TIMES but due to an error a vital clause (9) was left out. We now repeat this in the Weekly News - and leave a space so that you can put in your notes and ideas ready to take to the meet-

SERIOUS ROAD ACCIDENT IN STANLEY

In the early afternoon of Monday 25th there was a collision at Speedwell Corner. A motor-cycle travelling north up Villiers Street driven by Mr Jimmy Wallace collided with a Thames Trader Lorry going west along John Street driven by Mr Roddy McKay. As so often in these cases the motor-cyclist came off worse with abrasions and cuts to head, mouth and right side. His elbow was badly fractured. He was taken to K.E.M. Hospital and after medical examination it was decided to send him to the Comodoro Rivadavia Hospital on the LADE plane which was here at the time. He was not wearing a crash helmet at the time of the accident.

The police are investigating to see if it can be established if the collision was anyone's fault.

ing this Thursday.

MAJOR CONSIDERATIONS

- A. Close ties must be retained with the United Kingdom.
- B. Executive Power, that is the power to decide things and to get them done, must be passed to the residents of the Falklands.
- C. It appears very unlikely that H.M.G. will agree to a form of Government that does not consist of two separate Councils.

One way of meeting these criteria

1. Her Majesty the Queen must continue to be the Head of Government. Her authority to be exercised through a Governor appointed by H.M.G. after consultation with the Elected F.I. Legislature.
2. The Governor, with his Advisory Council (see 6 below), to be responsible for Defence, Foreign Relations and appointment of Police, Registrars and Magistrates.
3. The post of Chief Secretary as being a person appointed by H.M.G. to head the Government be abolished. Deputy Chief Secretary to be Head of Secretariat.
4. Conduct of public affairs to be as follows:
Legislative Council to consist of 7 elected members. 4 from Stanley being the top 4 candidates with Stanley as one constituency. 1 from East Falkland, 1 from West Falkland, 1 from the Islands. Candidates should put down a deposit as at present. They need not be resident in their constituency - thus a person retired say from Port Howard now living in Stanley could stand for Legco for West Falkland. If elected funds would be provided for him to visit his constituents. The Governor continues as Speaker and President of Legco (with a casting vote if necessary?).
5. The Legco seeks to elect or appoint either from its own members or if not from outside a salaried, full-time Chief Executive - the F.I. equivalent of Prime Minister. The Chief Executive will appoint two part-time Ministers (from within or without Council) to form a Cabinet and assist him govern.
6. The Governor will appoint 3 members to his Advisory Council.
7. The Chief Executive will be ex-officio member of - Legislative Council and Advisory Council.

8. All meetings of both Councils will be in public and meet three monthly. The Advisory Council will have similar functions to the British House of Lords and will be able to send Bills back to the Legco for up to 6 months. Legco would meet on the day(s) following Legco.
 9. The functions of the Governor-in-Council to be passed to the three man Cabinet.

FALKLAND TRADING LTD.

The F.I. Sheepowners Association Ltd. has issued a circular letter regarding the likely formation of the above company. It is desired to encourage local residents to invest in FTL and the circular is designed to give the Sheepowners Assoc. an idea of what amount of money FTL can expect to receive. They ask for people who are interested to get in touch with the SOA and advise them how much money they are likely to invest in the new company if the published terms are acceptable.

The new company would take over the FIC. Retail Trading (West Store etc.), Butchery, Spares Section and Shipping.

The total money required is about £420,000. FIC will subscribe £209,000 and other SOA members £140,000. Thus £71,000 needs to be raised from the public. It is not indicated what will happen if this is not forthcoming.

It is going to be difficult for the public to know what to do as a result of this circular. There are many folk with a fair amount of savings who would welcome an opportunity to invest in what would be, in effect, another local Co-op. If the terms were very good they might want to invest a lot. If the terms didn't seem too bright we might advise that they just invest the minimum amount of £100.

It occurs to us that as SOA members have agreed to put up £140,000 they must surely have some information. They would not jeopardise their shareholders money without adequate facts and figures. It would be useful for us also to see Profit and Loss Accounts and Balance Sheets for the past few years.

Meanwhile we would advise anyone who is even faintly interested to con-

CHRISTIAN VIEWPOINT by David Wilkerson, New York.

"I will never forget a rally our Teen Challenge workers had on 101st Street in Harlem. About two hundred people gathered near a school building with a good many broken windows, and in the crowd I recognized a number of drug addicts and prostitutes. While my brother Don was leading the singing of 'What the World Needs Is Jesus,' I went across the street to get a better view of those present.

A well-dressed young social worker I had often seen in the neighbourhood came up the street. 'Mister' she said, 'you're with those hallelujah people over there, aren't you?'

'Yes, I am,' I said. She looked at me suspiciously. 'Will you tell me,' she asked, 'just what you're doing for these people?'

'We're telling them about the Saviour this neighbourhood needs.'

'I know what you tell them,' the social worker said. 'Christ is the answer! Jesus can change your life! What good does that do a pregnant teen-ager or a hopeless alcoholic? I'm from the welfare department. There isn't much I can do for some of these people, but at least I can see that the hungry children are being fed. I can try to get the mothers with nothing back to the dentist, and the sick people to the hospital. What most of them need is better housing, more money and a change of environment. Yet you and your hallelujah friends stand there saying that if they surrender to Jesus all their problems are solved. I think it's disgraceful! You say Christ is the answer - but you don't even understand the question!

She walked away, and I stood there feeling so discouraged that I wondered why I had come to New York. 'Lord,' I asked, 'what are we doing here? How can we make a dent in these slums?'

I went back to the rally. While three Bible school trumpeters were playing a gospel medley, a dark-haired girl named Rosa slipped to my side and asked softly, 'Mr. Wilkerson, was that not the welfare lady who was talking to you just now?'

I nodded, wondering if Rosa had heard her give her opinion of our work.

'You look sad. Did she tell you that our need is money and jobs instead of religion?'

'Yes,' I said, 'and I'm beginning to wonder if she isn't right. After all, we don't have either money or jobs to offer you people; we had to pray in the money for supper at our own Center the night before last. About all we can offer anyone is faith and prayer.'

Rosa looked at me intently. 'Mr. Wilkerson, two weeks ago you came to this block with the trumpets and the singing. I came to look, though I laughed when I heard you say that Jesus can live in my heart. That I could not swallow!

'One of your ladies gave me a little black book. She asked me to read it. I laughed at her, too, when she said Jesus would give me power over sin. But that night I started to read this little book that says on the cover, SAN JUAN. I like this name, 'John'. I read how Jesus made water into wine, and I asked Him if He could change my heart.

'Mr. Wilkerson, something happened that night. Ever since, this block has been different. The piles of garbage still smell just as bad, the cockroaches in our apartment are just as thick, but in some way everything has changed. I have something inside me now that tells me God is with me, and He will be with me anywhere. I have many problems, but Jesus has changed the biggest problem of all. He has shown me how to live with myself.'

Rosa smiled. 'Mr. Wilkerson, please keep doing what you are doing. Come back often.'

CONSTITUTION MEETING

URGES CHANGES

Last Thursday evening the 28th February the first of the current series of public meetings to present ideas for a revised constitution was held in the Town Hall. About 160 people were present and 22 spoke or asked questions - all men except one, and half were born in the Falkland Islands.

A full report will be given in next weeks F.I. TIMES and we give here a summary of the matters that received the most attention.

Truer Representation

Some speakers felt that the present Legislative Council was not fully representative of the people and that one way to remedy this situation was to have elected representation from the following sections of the community - civil service, labour,

IT'S WILSON!

After one of the most extraordinary election results for many years Mr Edward Heath found it impossible to find the needed support in the number of votes that he could count on in the House of Commons. Accordingly he resigned on Monday. Mr Wilson, the Labour leader, had already indicated that he would be willing to form a minority Government and

JIMMY WALLACE CONDITION FAIR

Jimmy Wallace, who was injured in a road accident last Monday and flown to Comodoro Rivadavia, was in a fair condition on Tuesday. It was expected that his injured elbow would be operated on as the swelling had now gone down. He was still feeling sick and dizzy from time to time. He was visited by farming, and others. Another view on this subject was that it should be left to the voters who, after all, cast the votes that put in the present Council.

Real Internal Self-Government

Pleas for greater independence from Britain in matters of government were made. Particular emphasis was laid on independence in economic matters. One speaker proposed that the Chief Secretary (whom another would have renamed Colonial Secretary) should be a Falkland Islander - and this was well received by the meeting.

Longer Residence Requirements

It was several times suggested that the present residence qualification period before a person could vote or offer himself as a candidate (12 months) was too short. Alternatives offered were from 3 to 7 years.

Voting Age

Proposals to reduce the voting age to those of 18 years and above were made. The opposition to this was small. When the meeting was asked to call out if it supported the idea of an upper age limit on candidates there was an overwhelming, "NO!"

Keep Two Councils

When the meeting was asked if it wanted to retain the system of two Councils the answer was an overwhelming, "YES!"

Better Decision Making

Concern was expressed several times at the weakness of the present method of Government Decision Making. It was alleged that economic independence of the U.K. would be an essential part of this. Also calls were made for a ministerial form of government. An assessment was offered that this would mean increased or even doubled taxes!

Payment for Legco

Several speakers said that in their opinion the community might put forward more candidates for election if they could be paid an allowance if elected. Particularly if they depended on being at their job to receive their regular income. This would be particularly vital if people were elected to ministerial office.

Dispute

One 'old chestnut' was the raising of the 'expatriates versus the natural born Falkland Islanders' issue. One suggestion was that after a certain period all should be regarded as residents.

Amid laughter it was pointed out that all were expatriates or descended from them - it was just that some had been here longer than others!

In conclusion, the chairman called for written representations to the committee.

Her Majesty the Queen has invited him to do this. He is already attempting to set about ending the Miners Strike which precipitated the election.

The seats won by the major parties were:

Labour	301
Conservative	296
Liberal	14
Ulster Loyalist	11
Others	13
	635

In round figures the votes cast for the three major parties were:

Labour	11 million
Conservative	11 million
Liberal	6 million.

Thus the Liberals are again pointing out that the present voting system is unfair.

Israel

Mrs Golda Meir, also leader of a minority party, is at last seeing signs of success in her attempts to form a Coalition Government.

Syria

Dr Henry Kissinger is claiming that his recent visits to Jerusalem and Damascus have started the necessary openings to begin negotiations for disengagement of troops on the Israel/Syria border.

SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS

Argentina

Police in Argentina's third largest city Cordoba want on strike last week after the attempted dismissal of the police chief by the alleged pro-communist Governor. Police say that he had also been supplying arms to leftist groups. A woman and two policeman were killed when they were shot from a passing car.

The town is now said to be quiet but the Federal Government of Gen. Peron is seeking to take control of the province.

Uruguay

A meeting is taking place between representatives of the Latin American Free Trade Association and the European Economic Community on the subject of closer co-operation between the two.

Guatemala

Tension was rising after an announcement by the military backed government that their candidate had won the presidential elections. Allegations were being made of electoral fraud.

Chile

The 32 member United Nations Human Rights Commission was urging the Chilean Military Government to beware of infringing the U.N. Convention on Human Rights. It was alleged that political prisoners were being executed or imprisoned without trial. They urged that political opponents should be allowed to leave the country.

Vice-Comodoro de la Colina en route for Stanley and by his brother Fraser who was on his way to school in Montevideo.

Boarding School Hostel

It was announced on Friday that after consultation with Council Members and Mr Simmonds, the visiting architect, it has been decided to site the new hostel to the west of Stanley, near Moody Brook on the present ESRO site. It is anticipated that the present buildings can be incorporated into the new complex.

Falkland Traders Ltd

Following our notes last week we have been advised that in fact farms do not have much more information than the general public and that they have only promised support if the published terms prove acceptable. Replies to the SOA letter should be returned by March 7th.

St Marys Roof

We hear that the roof of St Marys Presbytery will shortly be going up - literally. Structural alterations to provide, among other things, water to the first floor of the house means that the roof will have to be raised to accommodate the water tank.

Sunday School

The Tabernacle Sunday School has started up again after its midsummer break for the 1974 session. There are 5 classes catering for age groups from 3 to 12.

Party

A party was held in Admiralty Cottage on Tuesday evening for Mrs Polly Stewart on her retirement from the post of hospital cook, and for Mrs. Aase Davis to celebrate her recent marriage. Polly was presented with a table lighter and Aase with a canteen of cutlery.

(We apologise that part of a sentence was missed out last week which should have indicated that Mrs Stewart has been cook at the hospital for a long period - often standing in when needed).

Quarantine

A small quarantine compound for two dogs is being constructed near the race course. This is to enable dogs who are pining to be easily visited by their owners.

CHRISTIAN VIEWPOINT

from the London Christian Herald June 2nd 1973.

"It is claimed that 1,350,000 signatures were attached to the monster petition presented to the Prime Minister, at 10, Downing Street, by supporters of the 'Nationwide Festival of Light' and the National Viewers and Listeners Association, as the climax of a campaign against pornography. The organisers of the petition stated that they had circulated papers from door to door in a wide variety of areas, in order to obtain a cross-section of opinion. There can be no doubt that standards of public entertainment have reached an all-time low. Both the language used and the scenes presented have been vulgar, harmful and subversive of normal moral standards. It is high time that producers and all responsible for entertainment programmes, whether in the theatres, or on television and radio, should be compelled to adhere to certain standards of decency and good taste."

Sports Report by Terry Betts

Darts

The Falkland Islands Darts Club held its Annual General Meeting in the Parish Hall on Wednesday 27th of Feb. Some 15 people attended. The chairman started the ball rolling by saying he was pleased to have the President at the meeting as he has been in the Camp for the past 12 years and hasn't been able to attend a meeting over this period. He then asked the secretary to read the minutes. Then the meeting was opened to any other business and here is a list of matters raised and passed:

1. Mr Fred Whitney proposed that when a player leaves his team to go to Camp he should not be allowed to play for that team or any other team for the rest of the season should he return.
2. Mr A. Alazia suggested that it would be a good idea to give all captains a copy of the rules.
3. Miss V. Perkins proposed that a set of rules be posted in all bars.

4. That the names of the League Divisions stay as they are (i.e. Heather and Beauty).
 5. That the club no longer gets its trophies through the Co-op.
 6. That the Auditor and Secretary be given a donation for their hard work over the years.
 7. That the committee decide when the season starts.
 8. The newly elected committee is as follows:
President - Cyril Betts
Chairman - Barry Neilson (Re-elected)
Vice-Chairman - Terence McPhee (Newly Elected)
Secretary/treasurer - Colin MacDonald (Newly Elected)
- Other Committee Members - R. Peart, G. McGill, I. Cantlie, S. Smith, S. Whitney, P. Short and one Royal Marine from the next detachment.
10. It is to be noted that the club has a healthy bank balance of £547.38.

COUNTER PETITION ON COFFEE BAR ISSUE

Following a petition organised by Mr L. Butler opposing the opening of a coffee bar at No.10, James Street there now comes news of a petition supporting the proposal. The origin of it appears to be somewhat mysterious. Under questioning people who have signed it admitted that they they did not know the author (or authoress?). Its publication has been delayed as we were not furnished with a copy. We are grateful to the secretary for forwarding a copy to us. It is dated 11th (contd. page 4)

About 2.30pm last Thursday a red and white Cessna 172 Skyhawk landed on the temporary airstrip at Hookers Point bringing great joy to its owner Mr Robin Pitaluga. It was ordered many months (contd. page 11)

MINISTER RESIGNS

During the Evening Service in the Tabernacle on April 14th the Hon. Sec. Mr Graham Went made the following announcement.

'As some members will know it was announced at yesterday's Church Meeting that Rev. Forrester has given the church notice of his resignation to be effective from the beginning of July.

He stated a number of reasons why he felt that this was necessary but emphasised two points in particular:

First, that this was not because of any ill-will between himself and the church, and,

Secondly, that he wished to stay in the Islands and would fully support the future work of the church.

The Council of the Tab. wish to inform everybody that every effort will be made to ensure that God's work continues here at the Tabernacle.'

The Rev. Robin Forrester writes: 'This is not quite so dramatic as it at first seems. My contract, in fact, had built into it an option for me to resign with three months notice if I so wished. Also the net effect of it all is that I hope that I will be able to support myself and my family by working part-time and continue to do such things as lead the Sunday School, visit in the Camp, and so on. Very important in my mind are some new projects that I want to get under way. A Christian is obliged to do what he feels Christ would have him do - and so I have taken this step. If it were possible for the Tabernacle to get another minister then there would be two on the staff and the whole work at the Tabernacle would be really strengthened.

April 1974 and we are advised that it was received in the secretariat April 15th. We have been told that there are 38 signatures.

"We, the undersigned wish to make known our views regarding the present controversy about Mr Greg Edwards application to open a coffee bar on James St.

In a place where alcohol constitutes one of the main social problems and which most tourists must leave with a picture of an 'alcoholic paradise', surely the creation of some alternative, non-alcoholic source of entertainment would be of great benefit to everyone concerned - local people and tourists.

Regarding the suggestion that Mr Edwards should hire the Parish Hall, Town Hall or St. Mary's Anneze - Government must surely recognise the difficulty of creating a local atmosphere in places such as this, besides which the café would cater for the tourists who come into the Colony each week, and not for the half dozen or so occasions per year when a tourist vessel visits the Colony.

Apart from the tourism aspect the café would fill a gap in facilities for the people of Stanley, especially the younger generation who at present, except for a few evenings a week have nowhere to go and wander aimlessly around Stanley looking forward to the day when they too are able to enter the public houses of Stanley.

This community is very musically minded but there are very few opportunities for them to congregate and provide musical entertainment in a relaxed atmosphere.

The allegation that living near to a coffee bar would have a detrimental effect on children seems rather vague and ill-founded. There are many children in Stanley who live in the vicinity of public houses without any apparent ill-effects.

In fact, most of the objections to the coffee bar seem to stem from the implication that it is to be a 'bar' or 'night club' - which is obviously not the intention.

The article in the April edition of the 'Times' refers to the religious aspects and implies that the café will be used for religious indoctrination. We are confident that this is not so and wish to point out that this could equally apply to the various functions organised by the established religions in Stanley. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights states that "Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status."

This should surely apply to the Falklands as well.

We wish to support Mr

Edwards in this very worthy project and ask Government to consider the interests of the whole community before turning down his application."

We asked Mr Butler what he thought about this counter petition. He said that he thought that it was largely irrelevant and that it had nothing much to do with the basic issue which was why should residents of a quiet residential area have a coffee bar next door if they didn't want one. He added he didn't see that it mattered whether it had 38 signatures or hundreds of signatures, for the people who were really concerned didn't want the coffee bar. He concluded by saying that if the other people wanted a coffee bar so much why didn't they have it next door to them?

If the composer of the counter petition would like to contact the Editor of the Weekly News he/she can be sure of an opportunity to answer Mr Butler's comments.

We understand that the Government is considering these petitions and the matter is scheduled for discussion at the Executive Council meeting planned to be held on Thursday 9th May.

ARBITRATORS AWARD ANNOUNCED - INCREASE FOR STANLEY
HOURLY PAID WORKERS.

Mr S. McDowell the arbitrator in the dispute between Stanley hourly paid workers and the employers has published his conclusions. The main items are:

1. Mr McDowell commented on the good record of labour/employer relations in the past.
2. He then reviewed the arguments put forward by both sides. The General Employees Union were represented by Major R.V.Goss and Mr Ken Summers. The employers by Messrs. A. Sloggie (FIC) and H.T. Rowlands (F.I.Government).
3. He stated that he intended to 'make elsewhere' recommendations about the wages negotiation system as a whole.
4. Mr McDowell agreed that the value of hourly wages had been eroded over the past year. He quoted a reduction of 15% in purchasing power.
5. His opinion was that the cost-of-living awards system should make the recipients the 'envy of the world'.
6. He said that an increase in hourly wages was now necessary.

7. The Union's suggestion that an increase be linked to the wool prices in a similar way to that of camp employees he rejected as inappropriate.
8. Also rejected was the Union request that the averaging part of the cost-of-living award formula be discontinued. Mr McDowell said that there were benefits to both parties in the averageing principle although he did not say what they were.
9. Mr McDowell noted that he expected the rapid rise in inflation to continue in the immediate future.
10. Accordingly Mr McDowell recommended that the averageing scheme remain as at present, and concluded, "All those Stanley hourly paid workers whose rates are covered by that agreement should be granted as from 1st January 1974 an increase in their basic hourly rates of 10%. Of course the normal cost-of-living awards should continue to be applied to those enhanced rates. This includes the cost-of-living award implemented on the award contd.

1st January 1974 and the 1st April 1974."

Cox, joined forces to sing this work with confidence and care. They were accompanied by Mrs.Vi Robson on the organ. The section entitled 'The Appeal from the Cross' was sung expressively by Miss Vivienne M. Perkins.

The performance opened and closed with the singing of hymns by choir and congregation and the collection was in aid of church funds. "The Story of the Cross" proved a source of pleasure and thought both to the participants and listeners.

FOOTBALL

Final Match a Draw

Stanley and the old detachment of Royal Marines drew 2 all in the final match of the series. Stanley took the lead with a goal from Les Biggs. But the Marines soon hit back with a goal from Gibbons. A good goal this which he hit from some twenty-five yards. Stanley took the lead again when T. Betts scored - the Marines protesting to the ref that he was offside, but the goal stood, so Stanley went in at half-time leading 2-1. The second half proved disappointing for Stanley as the attack could get little going right, and when the Marines drew level with a goal from Palmer who was yards offside, the luck had clearly left Stanley. So the final score was 2 all. But still it was a good result for Stanley who had been well outplayed in some of the matches in this series, defeats of 8-2 and 8-3 being outstanding. The Stanley team had few players who could answer to the talents of players of play-like Edwards, Hamilton, Shuttleworth, Cave and Gibbons, the best of all in the writers opinion being Gibbons.

Stanley beat New Detachment

Stanley beat the new detachment of Royal Marines by three goals to one on Saturday April 6th. Stanley went in to an early lead when a cross from the right shaved the head of Biggs and dropped down to T. Betts who lobbed it over a defender and the goalkeeper to put Stanley one up. The Marines got on level terms when their inside forward hit the ball first time which flashed into the net. So at half-time it was Stanley one Royal Marines one.

Stanley took the lead again when Betts ran through to pick up a cross from the right to slot it past the outrunning 'keeper and into the top corner of the goal. As in the match with the old Marines the new Marines claimed that Betts was offside but once again the goal was allowed. Stanley should have went 3-1 up when they were awarded a penalty for handball but John Farrow put the spot kick over the bar. However Stanley did manage to seal the game when T. Betts scored his third goal with a high lob from twenty yards which the goalkeeper could only help on its way to the goal. The final score was 3-1.

The difference between the two teams is little and the matches over the next year should be very even and close.

The names I think you'll hear a lot of this year from the Marines are Bob Gilson who we all know about; the captain Boh Currie, and goalkeeper Phil Davies - all three will make the first eleven I'm sure.

(from page 1) flying and delivery was not likely before middle or end 1974. Then due to the oil crisis one became available earlier than expected. It was flown from Wichita, Kansas by Mr Terry McQuade, a professional ferry pilot and the journey took 27 days instead of an estimated 14-15. The pilot said that he was continually delayed by poor weather conditions including being forced back several times after making an attempt to get going.

The plane seats 4 and cruises at around 100 to 120 knots using about 8 gallons of fuel per hour. The ferry pilot maintained a height of 14,000 feet for a large part of the journey.

It is planned to site a hangar next to the workshop on the temporary airstrip in Stanley and another at Salvador.

We understand that if you would like a Cessna 172 it will cost you about £10,000, and there is a waiting list!

Issue No. 5 Tuesday 7th May 1974 Price 3p

GOOD NEWS FOR FIGAS

The government announced yesterday that all the spare parts needed for the Beaver under repair arrived by this weeks Fokker F27. The announcement added that the number of flying hours allowed on the other Beaver would be immediately doubled to eight hours. It was expected that this restriction would now only last about another three weeks.

The news that a return to normal flying is in sight will be accompanied by a sigh of relief throughout the Colony. Particularly to those folk who have been marooned away from home. At least these restrictions will be a salutary reminder to us all how well we are served by our internal flying service.

THEY'RE LEAVING IN DROVES

At this time of the year it has been traditional for people to leave the Colony for our winter, to catch the summer in Europe. It is evident this year that a large number of people, especially families, are leaving for good - apparently with no likelihood of others coming in to replace them. As a result of this exodus we have questioned some of those who are leaving soon or who have already gone. A fear of possible victimisation or recrimination in the future, if they return, means that they must necessarily remain anonymous.

EXCO TO DISCUSS COFFEE BAR THIS WEEK

Mr A said that the main thing for him was the lack of future for his children. He felt that even if his child received an overseas scholarship there were too few good jobs available at the end of it. He said that there weren't even many apprenticeships available. He said that no-one from the Government had approached him to find out why he was going or to persuade him otherwise. 'The Government is doing its best to get people to go,' was his viewpoint. He said that for him the matter of Argentina's claim on the Falklands had not affected his decision to leave the Falklands, 'I can cope with them,' he said.

Mr B is a Camper. The major factor affecting his decision to take his wife and family to England was the poor education facilities for the children. He liked living in the Falklands but he was faced with the choice of keeping his children at home and giving them a part-time education or losing them from his family life by sending them to boarding school. It seemed to him also that there was little opportunity to advance to a managerial position unless one was of a certain class. Overseas there were greater opportunities he said. He also had had no official contact to find out why he was going.

A number of issues led Mr C to decide to 'try his luck' in the United Kingdom. He felt that he would like to try to settle down away from the Falklands just to give it a try and see what it was like. Some of his family were in England and they had done nothing to dissuade him from going. He was disappointed that there was 'not much future for the younger ones'. He seemed to think that in Britain his children would have a chance at a job with greater opportunities for advancement. He also felt that perhaps the 'uncertainty about the place' had affected his decision a little. No one from the Government had officially contacted him to discover why he was going or to see if he could be persuaded to stay.

Two of the three said that if things did not work out in a satisfactory way then they would very likely return.

In publishing these views we are not saying they are right or wrong but we feel that they deserve to be widely known.

soon be taken in regard to the controversy over the coffee bar which Mr Greg Edwards proposes to open at 10 James Street. With Executive Council meeting this week, also Standing Finance Committee, all Council members will have an opportunity to air their views. We understand that most Legco members intend to oppose the project under the circumstances which have been brought to the public notice. The main points are i) it is intended to finance with the coffee bar with a British Government Tourism Loan and yet

Mr Edwards is an alien who has been in the Colony for only just over a year; ii) it is intended to open the coffee bar in a quiet residential area and most of the nearby residents strongly object.

We contacted Miss Colleen Biggs who authored a petition to the Government supporting the project. She said she had no desire to reply to Mr L. Butler's comments printed in the WEEKLY NEWS last week. She said she thought that the petition itself clearly stated her opinion and that of those who signed it. She felt that it helped to present a more balanced picture than the first petition opposing the present project. She felt that its arguments were trivial.

Just to be fair to those who have said that they oppose the project we would add that none have said that they oppose the basic idea of a coffee bar - they just oppose this present intention of Mr Edwards in James St.

NEWS NOTES

Gateway Sponsored Walk

Unless the weather next Saturday afternoon is anything worse than awful we can expect to see a number of keen walkers out around the town. The idea is that the Gateway Club, joined by as many members of other clubs and members of the public who wish to, will ask their friends to pay to a charity working to relieve hardship due to drought in Africa various amounts of money depending how many times they walk on a circuit around the town. It will work like this:

- 1. Those who wish to walk contact club leader Mr Graham Went.
- 2. Go to as many friends as possible and ask them to sponsor you at so much a circuit of the town. (If, for instance, you are sponsored at 5p a circuit and you complete 5 circuit then the sponsor pays 5 times 5p, that is, 25p to the charity, and so on)

3. The walk will be held on Saturday afternoon between 1pm and 5pm.

4. After your card has been marked with the number of circuits that you have completed you go to your sponsors to get the money. This is handed to Mr Went who will forward the total.

5. The afternoon will finish with a cowboy supper in the Tab Hall.

Please be generous in supporting the walkers.

In an accident last Friday one of the Royal Marines suffered a serious accident. A chain on a winch broke and flew back and hit the leg of Tony Parker. He was taken to hospital and treated for multiple injuries to the top of his tibia. We send best wishes and hope that it heels well.

A new radio programme 'Moody Brook Calling' has been well received. It is compered by Simon Carysfoot and is lively and interesting. We feel that if he reads his news items much quicker he is going to lose his tionsils if he doesn't watch out.

While on the subject of broadcasting we note that before hastily correcting himself the Snippets reader last week placed Noddy on West Point Island. It reminds us of the lady announcer last year who enthusiastically told us that 'we are now going over to London for the Stocking Exchange Report.'

We here that most of the items put up for tender by ESRO recently was taken between them by BAS and the Government under a private arrangement. We have also heard that there is unlikely to be a further sale of office equipment as this has been purchased en bloc by Alginates Ltd. for their proposed new installation.

The following were recently elected to the committee of the Working Mens Social Club. Chairman - Derek Howatt, Vice-Chairman - John Cheek, Secretary - Lewis Clifton, Assistant Secretary - John Leonard, Treasurer - Peter Short, plus Messrs. Aub Summers, Robert Triggs, Robert Rowlands, Michael Alazia and Colin Blythe. At a fairly lively meeting there was a lengthy discussion following a proposal by younger members about 5.15am on Sunday that the publication 'Men Only' should be purchased out of club funds and put in the reading room. The proposal was defeated in the end when the voting was a tie and the chairman of the meeting used his casting vote against it. The proposers said that they would probably ask for another meeting to discuss the matter when more younger members would be present.

The result of an exciting FA Cup Final was that Liverpool beat Newcastle 3-0. We believe that we could hear the cheering from the Ray Smith household at the other end of the town!

Mrs Emma Steen has been seeing great success in her new venture of providing an alternative Saturday evening eating place in Stanley. One evening we hear that 38 people used this new facility which includes a menu with a choice.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Mr & Mrs Bob Kiddle who celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary on Saturday 27th April at Green Patch. We hear of a great party which started around 5pm Saturday afternoon and concluded morning.

Notice to the Public

Many people will be aware that recently a new company was formed to take over mainly the activities of the West Store, Stanley Butchery, FIC Spares Dept. and Charter Shipping to and from the U.K. etc. - called Falkland Traders Ltd.

FTL (for short) advertised to find out if the general public were interested in putting money into the new company. The result was that apart from those willing to invest large amounts of money about 40 people said that they would be willing to put in around £100 - but it is now evident that this amount is too small to be directly invested in FTL.

THE PROPOSAL It is now proposed that an opportunity be given for all those with small amounts of money to invest to JOIN TOGETHER and invest in one lump sum in FTL. When the dividend is received it would then be divided up among all those who put some money in according to how much they had put in. If this idea is successful, and it is practiced very extensively in other countries, then it would later be possible to go further and invest in local farms and other local businesses as the opportunity occurs.

WHAT TO DO If you think that you would like to join in such a scheme and invest £10 or more please fill in the form below as soon as possible and send to the Falkland Islands TIMES. Do not send any money yet. You will then be sent further details.

CHRISTIAN VIEWPOINT by Canon Michael Green

The passage of time from the first century until now has dulled the sense of shock that the claims of Jesus must have made on his contemporaries. Here was a Jewish peasant preacher saying in sober, earnest tones: I give men eternal life, and they shall never perish; 'no one shall snatch them from my care.' 'My Father and I are one'. Nothing like them has ever been heard before or since - outside the walls of a madhouse! Such were the breathtaking claims of this unique man.

GOVERNMENT TO ASK FOR ANOTHER QUARTER MILLION POUNDS?

In the latest issue of the Government Gazette there is given a statement of proposed government expenditure for the year 1974/75. Last year the Government budgetted to spend in the current year the sum of £543,008 on 'ordinary expenditure'. Next year it is intended to spend £796,380, and increase of £253,372. We give below a statement showing how the money is to be divided up between the different government departments. At this stage further details are not available.

Heading	Current Year 1973/74	Increase	Proposed 1974/75

Supreme Court & Legal	3595	2769	6364
	£543008	£253372	£796380

Of course the actual expenditure for 1973/74 will be very much higher than the budgetted figure of £543008. However it is clear that a large rise, as indicated by the figures above, can be expected. The question that will be in everyones mind will be, 'Where is the extra money coming from to pay for all this extra expenditure?'

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

The budget session of Legislative Council is scheduled to be held on Tuesday June 4th, at 10am.

SWIMMING POOL

We understand that the Government is hopeful that the Swimming Pool will be completed within the next year. It appears that Mr Simmons, the architect who visited the Colony recently, thinks that it is possible to remove the present roof to the old Power & Electrical building, and install a solar heating plant underneath a transparent roof. It is thought that this would provide the swimming pool with sufficient heat to permit swimming for the larger part of the year with the water above 60° F. Of course it will also be necessary to get rid of the generating equipment at present in the building.

CHIEF SECRETARY VISITS YOUTH CLUB

On the evening of Monday May 27th the Chief Secretary spoke with members of the Youth Club at their regular meeting by invitation of club chairman Mr Ted Clapp. The visit was mainly to explain to the young people present, who numbered sixteen, what were the major matters under consideration by the Select Committee of Constitutional Advance. He became by explaining how the Colony is governed at present and said that the Committee was advising on modern practice and taking views from the people to see what they wanted. He said that Independence not being feasible it was necessary to work out changes in internal matters such as - the merits or otherwise of nominated members of Councils; one or two Councils; upper and lower age limits for candidates and voters; whether civil servants should be allowed to stand as candidates; how many members should be elected for each part of the Colony; residential qualifications for candidates and electors and the acceptability or otherwise of official members on Councils. Speaking for a little over half-an-hour Mr Layng said that with an unofficial majority on both Legislative and Executive Councils the Colony was virtually self governing on internal matters. Mr Layng expressed an opinion as to how it seemed that the Committee might decide on some of the issues raised. He said it appeared that the majority of speakers at meetings wanted the age limit of voters reduced to 18 years. He thought the position of official members of Council was likely to remain unchanged. Two very difficult matters on which there appeared to be varying opinions was the eligibility of civil servants to stand for Council and how, or whether, the Falklands would be divided up into constituencies.

The young people present did not seem inclined to speak leaving most of the questioning and comments to about three of their number. The club members were promised that their names would not be quoted if they spoke up so here are some of their remarks printed anonymously. In our opinion it would be well if they were studied by their elders. 'there are only a small group of people here capable of administering the government; perhaps we have the intelligence but colonists don't have the education, knowledge and experience.' ; 'will a cookhouse council be able to cope with matters it faces - say with foreign policy?'; 'the Lord of the Manor in the past made the underdogs think that they couldn't do things themselves - but now we are discovering that maybe we can.'; 'we ought to train people on the condition that they come back for so long'; (CS answered, 'it won't work, people have got to want to come back to their homeland and help it'). 'the true Kelper is one who is completely educated in the Falklands'.

DROUGHT AREAS APPEAL TOPS £400.

The appeal by the GATEWAY Club for funds to transmit to the drought stricken areas of Sahalian Africa reached £409 with a cheque from the Camp last week. Over £300 was raised through a sponsored walk around Stanley and the appeal was broadened by asking Camp stations to contribute if they wished. The appeal will remain open a little longer before the money is remitted overseas. By kind permission of the manager of the West Store twelve posters will be displayed shortly which give an idea how the money is spent in aiding needy persons in the underdeveloped countries.

RUMOUR UNTRUE!

We are advised that the rumour currently circulating to the effect that Mr Layng is to continue as Chief Secretary for a time longer than previously announced is untrue. Mr Layng expects to leave the Falklands towards the end of June to take up a new appointment.

ESRO SALE

About 70 people gathered at the ESRO station, near Moody Brook, last Saturday afternoon for the final sale of surplus items. Over £300 was taken in the auction conducted by Mr Jack Ford. The building is more or less empty now and we understand that its disposal is in the hands of the European Space Research Organisation offices in Paris.

This years May Queen is Shirley Rozee (for the second year) with Susan Smith second (? Princess ?). On the second night it was decided that Prince Charming was Paul Bonner with Robert Rozee, second.

APPRENTICESHIPS

We hear that the Government is preparing to revise the local Apprenticeship Scheme to give a wider choice of trades. It is acknowledged that this might end up as 'training young folk to emigrate' but it felt that this is a personal matter and that the opportunities should be given.

ANOTHER FALKLANDER AS PILOT?

While under cross examination at the Youth Club on Monday evening Mr Layng revealed that at least one young person at school is being considered for encouragement, and maybe sponsorship, to train as a pilot to replace Mr Jim Kerr when he retires. Naturally he couldn't reveal names and so we cannot say who it is.

HOOKERS POINT

The latest copy of the government Gazette contains an order designating the airport as a Customs Airport. Apparently this is a requirement of the Colonial Air Navigation regulations but makes no practical difference to what goes on.

PETER BIGGS

Off on Monday next will be Peter Biggs who is hoping to travel up through South America to Canada. He expects to train, bus and hitch hike his way - or any other method that helps him on. He expects that the journey will take 3-4 months and the route he is aiming at is-after Argentina going up the West Coast of South America, through Central America and thence to Canada. We wish you well Peter and hope that you will send us some interesting news from time to time.

LIBRARY BOOKS

In an effort to get back missing library books the Library Committee have agreed to accept library books back, that have been out for a long while, free of fines. This offer ends on the 31st May.

CO-OP

The Annual General Meeting of the Stanley Co-operative Society has been fixed for the evening of Tuesday 11th June at 8 o'clock in the Town Hall Refreshment Room.

TAX NOTICE

The Government Income Tax Department have put out a notice saying that Statutory Declaration forms should now be in and if they have not yet been returned then they should be returned as soon as possible.

YOU WON'T GET AWAY!

A bill to be put before the Legislature will make it necessary for persons leaving the Colony to be able to present to the Immigration officer a certificate from the Commissioner of Income Tax stating that the person is not liable to pay any tax, or that all tax payable by him has been paid or that he has made satisfactory arrangements for the payment of his tax.

CHANGES AT THE CATHEDRAL

The Christ Church Parish Gazette notes that changes are under way both physical and administrative. Some of the back pews have been removed. It is also thought that all the church committees could be telescoped into one. These ideas have come from Bishop Tucker.

BAZAAR

The Christ Church Cathedral Bazaar is to be held this weekend - Friday 31st May and Saturday 1st June, both nights commencing at 6pm.

MEMORIAL WORDING

At a Dedication Service in the Tabernacle last Sunday afternoon His Excellency the Governor unveiled a memorial plaque with the following wording thereon, "To the memory of Rev. W. Forrest McWhan MBE, DD, Minister of the Tabernacle 1934 - 1965, The Renewal of the Pulpit, Choirstalls and Interior Panelling by the people of the Falkland Islands, 'To God be the Glory'". The service is to be broadcast later.

Falkland Island Journal

The 1973 Falkland Island Journal which has been delayed is now being printed. It is likely that there will be an increase in price from 25p to around 40-50p.

RADAR

We have heard that technical experts from the Argentine have been visiting the Falklands with a few to determining the possibility of installing a radar set-up at the temporary airstrip.

SPORTS REPORT by Terry Betts
Rovers win six-a-side

Seven teams took part in the 1974 six-a-side tournament, one less than last year. The teams were Dynamos, Auldstars, Rangers, Redsox, Hotspurs, Mustangs and Rovers. The Auldstars captained by Les Biggs had a bye into the semi-final and after the first round had been played they were joined by the Rovers, Redsox and Dynamos. In the semi-final Rovers beat the Auldstars. The final was won by the Rovers by 9 points to 2 over the Redsox. The teams line up for the final were Rovers: T. Betts (Capt.), V. Steen, G. Johnson, M. Lee and Marines Baillie and Coley - with Coley giving the Redsox a nightmare with his wing skills. The Redsox team was R. Betts (Capt.), M. Luxton, T. Peck, S. Jaffray, M. Clarke and J. Colbert. I'm pleased to say that it's the third year in a row that I've skippered the winning team.

Darts - Gary Brown wins

Gary Brown one of our big names in darts has at last won a major prize when he won the biggest money prize in local sport - the £25 first prize in the Johnny Walker tournament. By the time the last eight was reached the darts were reaching a high standard. In the quarter finals Pat Lee, William Whitney, Mike Alazia and Gary Brown all won through. In the semi finals Lee beat Whitney and Brown beat Alazia. The final itself promised to be a classic but proved to be an anti-climax with Brown winning easily. However this tournament proved again that Brown, Lee and Whitney must be the three most consistent players in knock-out tournaments.

Editors Note: We enclose with this issue a special pull out supplement showing all the results in the 1974 Johnny Walker Darts Tournament.

CHRISTIAN VIEWPOINT

Most of our readers are never likely to visit a remote mission station overseas and so in this issue we give an account of the real thing. Come with us to the mountains of North Thailand where missionary John B. Kuhn has arrived for a short visit:

"Sunday morning the congregation begins to gather. Quite a few heathen come too, to see what it is like, you know! And they were wandering around, in and out on impulse, when John stood up to speak.

"Now," he began, "I do not want any running in and out during the message. Those who wish to go outside, go out now, and don't come back in. Those who wish to be inside for the meeting, please sit down and don't go until it is over. Does everybody understand?" Several rows of faces solemnly nodded that this was quite reasonable.

"All right," says the preacher, "I have written on this paper the words of Jesus. He says...."

Up jumps a small boy on the front seat and dashes violently for the door, outside which he could be heard getting rid of mucus from his nasal passage with loud noises. Almost instantly he dashes in again and sits down with such an awed and reverent expression of face that the preacher really cannot scold him. The lad was utterly unconscious that he had broken the rule as soon as it was made. When a fellow's nose needs to be blown (with the fingers, correct tribal custom), what else can he do? And, of course, the faster he gets out, the sooner he gets back! Pastor ought to appreciate that, certainly!

So the preacher heaves a sigh and goes on: "Jesus said, I am the way, the....."

Mrs Khun-ba sits scowling at him. She had turned Christian because her husband had. He had been an opium sot for thirty-seven years and just been delivered, so of course one must show gratitude, but she had no sympathy with this new-fangled idea that you must stop work one day in seven! Lay off work for a whole day while all the heathen were getting ahead of you? She has come to the service because Khun-ba said she had to, but the scowl on her face says plainly, "I'm agin the government!" And here she was to sit and listen to a white man say that Jesus is a road. Ridiculous. A person is a person and a road is a road. She waits for no explanation, but turns to the woman next to her and declares loudly, "I don't understand his meaning! Say, I've got a lot of work to do at home. I can't stay here all day!"

John hears her and quickly slips in an illustration on her level, with a bit of fun mixed with it, and before she knows it she is sitting on the edge of her seat enjoying herself.

Then Khun-ba stands up and begins to stretch his back and arms luxuriously. A farmer is not accustomed to sitting still for an hour. John, still preaching, eyes him. Should he stop and deliver a lecture on church etiquette, or just ignore it? What's a fellow to do when his muscles need stretching? Animal instinct wins, and the message goes on.

Two Yao (a tribe) women, heathen, appear at the door and declare loudly that they have condensed milk to sell. There is a scuttle as one of the heathen decides his life depends on purchasing milk immediately. And so it goes on. As they finally troop out the door, the missionaries pray inwardly, "Lord, it is the incorruptible Seed; cause it to bring forth fruit." (from Ascent to the Tribes by Isobel Kuhn).
