I did not submit this before as I thought other Heads of Departments besides the Treasurer would wish to make some acknowledgment, but they don't appear to consider it necessary.

Telegram from Secretary of State to Governor.

Dated 1st July received 2nd July, 1919.

Now that Peace has been signed I desire on behalf of His Majesty's Government to thank the members of the Colonial Service for their work during the War and to express our appreciation of the devotion to duty which they have shown during all these trying years. Not a few I fear have suffered in health owing to the exceptional strain and all have been exposed in a greater or less degree to serious privations. But in all true spirit of patriotism these hardships have been cheerfully borne. By ensuring the good conduct of the Administration throughout the War in all His Majesty's Possessions the men who have remained at their posts have contributed no less than those who have fought in the field to the great national effort which has resulted in Victory
