DECODE.

TELEGRAM.

From Secretary of State for the Colonies.

To His Excellency the Governor.

Despatched : 13th April, 1941 Time : 2045.

Received : 14th April, 1941 Time : 1030.

No. 45. Secret. I understand arrangements have been made or are in contemplation to maintain service supplies in the Falkland Islands and also reserves for 90 days.

I should like to have an assurance that two or three essential civil foodstuffs will be available for the same period. Please telegraph whether this is so or if not what do you consider is necessary to make them so available. This enquiry is not necessarily concerned with maintenance of imported foodstuffs as normally supplied. Where the resources of local production can be called upon in an emergency to cover necessary minimum period special steps to accumulate stocks of imported supplies may not be necessary.

TELEGRAM.

From His Excellency the Governor.

To Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Despatched: 15th April, 1941. Time:

Received: 19 Time:

No 49. Your telegram No 45 close co-operation with principal importers has enabled hitherto essential food reserves to be maintained on a six months basis.

Following considered essential foods which have to be imported :- fresh butter, bacon, beans, cheese, coffee, cocoa, flour, jam, lards, tinned milk, onions, potatoes, rice, sugar, tea, maize and pollard.

Importers render fortnightly returns of stock in hand, last dated April 5th showing stock of absolute essentials, i.e., flour, sugar, tea, coffee, sufficient for three six six and six months respectively.

Tinned milk stocks for nine months, every endeavour being made to produce sufficient fresh milk locally but dairy has to be built up from poorish herds.

Sufficient potatoes can be produced locally but harvests unreliable being dependent on weather conditions. Government policy of encouraging this and other vegetable growing has succeeded this season but there will be grave difficulty in obtaining seed which question is being tackled by Agricultural Department.

Other articles above in paragraph 2 show good reserves.

I understand Rear Admiral, South America Division has Admiralty permission to buy supplies from neutral countries. If similar permission be given to importers here supplies of necessary food stuffs will be assured and I should be grateful if you can arrange this telegraphing me your decision. Control over purchases could be carried out here without difficulty and the total sum involved at the latest prime cost for all essentials named amounts over a full twelve month period approximately to £18,500. This figure does not take into account any possible rationing scheme which owing to the scattered nature of the settlements, their smallness and their distance apart as well as to the shortage of available staff would be very difficult. This policy however is not being lost sight of.

If you agree to purchases from neutral South American sources exchange facilities to £18,500 would have to be provided and we should then be independent of United Kingdom allocations or shipments. The sum involved being so small I do not hesitate to press the point and so lift any anxiety
