The rights of Lessees of Crown Lands in the Falkland Islands to capture or destroy Wild Cattle on such Lands.

Public Notice.

Whereas the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council have given judgment on the 23rd day of July 1864, which judgment received the approval of Her Majesty the Queen in Council on the 28th day of July 1864, that in the absence of any reservation to the Crown of any right of Killing or taking Wild Cattle on any lands granted or demised within the Falkland Islands it must be held that the right of Killing or taking such cattle while on the lands granted or demised is included within any such grant or demise.

And Whereas heretofore the said Wild Cattle have been held to be the sole property of the Crown and have been protected by Law from molestation or destruction.

And Whereas certain permissive licences have been been from time to time issued by the Government for the capture of such wild Cattle on lands leased within the Colony upon payment of certain royalties specified in such licences;

And Whereas by the aforesaid judgement of the Privy Council it is evident that such permissive licences and payments of Royalties were unnecessary. Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor hereby proclaims that he is prepared to consider the claims of every person to reimbursement of all sums of money which they may ^{have} at any time paid into the Colonial Treasury as royalties for Cattle captured on leasehold property as hereinbefore mentioned under such aforesaid licence or licences. Provided. That all claims be sent in to the Office of the Colonial Secretary to be examined, checked, and considered, prior to being submitted to Her Majesty's Government for approval, before the 30th day of April 1865, with full particulars as to the dates of payments, amounts paid, number and description of cattle paid for, and references to the licences under authority, of which they were captured, and production of receipts given at the time of such payments. Provided, always, that no claim will be admitted for consideration unless accompanied by a declaration made ~~under~~ before the Chief Magistrate of the Falkland Islands that the animals for which royalties were paid and in respect of which reimbursement is claimed were actually and bona fide captured or killed on each individual claimant's leasehold property within this Colony.
