Minute from Ag. Colonial Postmaster of 19/6/39.

①

Submitted, I agree with the recommendation of the Postmaster. Formerly not less than 6 envelopes were sold for 7d. If the envelopes are sold at the value of the postage 1d, far more will be sold. In the UK the envelopes ordinary and registered are sold for the value of the stamp embossed or printed thereon.

MINUTE.

1939

19th June, 19

From The Colonial Postmaster,

To The Honourable

Stanley.

The Colonial Secretary,

Stanley, Falkland Islands.

Stanley.

I have the honour to inform you that it has been the practice for many years to sell 1d Post Envelopes to the public at the rate of 7d for 6 or 1s. 2d a dozen. It is understood that the amount charged over and above the value of the stamps is intended to cover the cost of the envelopes.

2. The last consignment of envelopes received cost 15s. 10d per 1,000 or just under  $\frac{1}{4}$ d each. If sold at face value the return would be £4. 3. 4 per 1,000.

3. There does not in my opinion appear to be any justification for the extra charge of 2d per dozen and I recommend that the envelopes be sold at their face value of a 1d. each.

C. J. Stewart

Acting Colonial Postmaster.
