We require fresh Colonial Fire Brigade Long Service Medal Regulations and I have also drafted ^{new} Colonial Police Long Service Medal Regulations for convenience as they are brief and in this case there is no point in searching for amendments.

2. I understand there is no established police force in the Dependencies so I have confined the C. Police L.S.M. Rs to the Police Force of the Colony.

3. The C. Fire Brigade L.S.M. R. includes the Dependencies because I am not certain if a properly organised Fire Brigade does exist there. In any case it may stand as it is or if so desired be amended to apply to the Colony only.

4. Draft Colonial Fire Brigade Long Service Medal Regulations and Colonial Police Long Service Medal Regulations attached.

DESPATCHCIRCULAR 1218/55CONFIDENTIAL

THE CHURCH HOUSE,

LONDON, S.W.1.

3rd December, 1955.

Sir,

THE COLONIAL SPECIAL CONSTABULARY MEDAL

I have the honour to refer to the Record of the Second Conference of Colonial Police Commissioners held in 1954 and to the recommendation contained in Part 8 "Medals" paragraph (6) that it would be desirable to institute a new medal for which members of volunteer auxiliary police forces would be eligible in recognition of long and efficient service.

2. In consequence of these recommendations I consulted the Honours and Awards Committee and I am glad to say that the Chairman on behalf of the Committee has, with my approval, submitted a proposal to The Queen that a new Medal be instituted to be known as "The Colonial Special Constabulary Medal", and that Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to give her informal approval to the proposal.

3. A draft of the proposed Royal Warrant instituting the new Medal and of the Model Regulations governing its award have been prepared, and copies of these two documents are enclosed, but before they are formally submitted for Royal approval, I have to request you to inform me whether the proposal is acceptable to the Government with which you are concerned and whether you have any comments to offer.

4. To avoid any risk of ambiguity in the Fifth Rule in the Warrant it would eventually be necessary to name the volunteer auxiliary police force or forces the members of which you consider should be eligible for the award of the medal. The appropriate place for this to be shown would be in the "Regulations".

5. You are of course aware that all costs in connection with the institution of and the subsequent awards of the Colonial Police Long Service Medal are borne by Oversea Governments. It is therefore proposed that all costs in connection with the proposed new Medal should also be borne by Oversea Governments concerned in proportion to the use which they may be expected to make of the new Medal. The following is an approximate estimate of present day costs:-

- (a) Artist's fee in connection with the preparation of the design for the reverse of the Medal £75 - £100
- (b) Preparation of the necessary dies for the Medal £160
- (c) Cost of each Medal including engraving, sewing and case £1. 7. 6d.

The price given at (c) allows 6/3d. for the cost of the silver content at the present price of silver.

6. The Honours and Awards Committee have also approved the proposal contained in paragraph (2) of Part 8 of the record of the Second Colonial Police Commissioners Conference that the Colonial Police and Fire Brigades Long Service Medal instituted by the Royal Warrant of the 23rd March, 1934, should since there are in fact two separate Medals with different inscriptions and ribbons, now be governed by individual Warrants, and styled "The Colonial Police Long Service Medal" and "The Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal" respectively. Arrangements are being made for the necessary Royal Warrants to be prepared, and a further communication on this matter will be addressed to you in due course.

7. This circular has been addressed to all Colonies, (including the Federation of Nigeria,) Protectorates and Regional Organisations, except Antigua, Montserrat, St. Kitts-Nevis, Virgin Islands, and the Regional Governments in Nigeria. It is repeated to the Commissioner General for South East Asia for information, and has been sent to the High Commissioner for the Federation of Malaya under cover of a separate despatch.

Seventhly: Certificate of efficiency. - No person shall be recommended for the Medal or Clasp unless, having completed the qualifying period of service, it is certified that he was willing and competent to discharge the duties of a Special Constable, and performed such duty as a Special Constable as has been required from him. Tenthly: Delegated powers. - Delegated powers to make awards under the terms of this Our Warrant shall be vested in Our Governor-General, Governor or Officer Administering the Government of the Colony or Territory in which the Twelfthly: Forfeiture and restoration. - It shall be competent for Our Governor General, Governor or Officer Administering the Government of any Colony or Territory under Our Protection or Administration, in relation to the Special Constabulary within his jurisdiction, to cancel and annul the conferment of the Medal on any person and also to restore a Medal which has been so forfeited.

Lastly: Annulment, etc., of rules and ordinances. - We reserve to Ourselves, Our Heirs and Successors, full power of annulling, altering, abrogating, augmenting, interpreting or dispensing with these rules and ordinances, or any part thereof, by a notification under Our Sign Manual.

The Colonial Special Constabulary Medal will be granted as a reward for long and faithful service to members of the Special Constabulary, that is to say, of the Volunteer or Auxiliary Special Constabulary Reserve, or Special Reserve Police, of (insert name of territory), who on or after the (date of Royal Warrant) shall have completed nine years' continuous service as hereinafter defined.

Service would ordinarily be without pay, but embodied service, even if paid, shall count towards the qualifying period, provided that such service is not also reckoned as qualifying service for the award of the Colonial Police and Fire Brigades' Long Service Medal.

A Clasp will also be granted to a recipient of the Medal on his completing each further ten years' qualifying service subsequent to the date of completion of the first nine years aforesaid. For each Clasp so awarded a small silver rose may be added to the ribbon when worn alone.

2. Continuity of service

Proposal is acceptable. I have no observations to make.

30.
Y.E.

There are three separate issues to be dealt with on these papers:-

(1) The Colonial Special Constabulary Medal.

At folio 1 the Secretary of State put forward the proposal for a new medal to be known as "The Colonial Special Constabulary Medal" and enquired whether the proposal was acceptable to this Government and whether we had any comments. At folio 8 we replied intimating that the proposal was acceptable and saying that we had no observations. At folio 9 the Secretary of State forwarded the Royal Warrant instituting the Medal. Draft model Regulations were forwarded to us under cover of folio 15.

We have not got a properly constituted Special Constabulary here although I understand that we have in the past and on special occasions sworn in special constables.

In these circumstances I do not think we need Regulations and suggest that we advise the Secretary of State accordingly.

(2) At folio 18 we were advised by the Secretary of State that H.M. has approved the proposal that the Colonial Police and Fire Brigades Long Service Medal should be governed by separate Warrants and the Medals styled "The Colonial Police Long Service Medal" and "The Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal". The Medals will only be available as awards to subordinate officers and men who have completed 18 years whole-time service in the Police Service and properly organised Fire Brigades, part-time service not being a qualification for these awards.

We have not got a whole-time career Fire Brigade and consequently the Colonial Fire Brigade Long Service Medal will not be required in the case of this Colony and we have no need of the proposed Fire Brigade Model Regulations.

(3) That leaves us with the Colonial Police Long Service Medal and the Registrar has drafted a set of Regulations Governing the award of this Medal which I suggest we now forward to the Secretary of State under cover of the attached draft despatch.

You will see from the Model Regulations at folio 24 that we are required to insert our own definition of "Exemplary Character", the term to be defined in the light of existing practice and requirements. We have no specific definition here and consequently the Registrar in drafting the Regulations, has turned to the Gibraltar Model which has been incorporated under Regulation 4 of the draft Regulations. This I think will do very well and if the Secretary of State does not like it he will no doubt tell us so.

CIRCULAR 164/67

Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal

48 The replies received to Colonial Office Circular 158/66 revealed almost unanimous support for the proposal to extend the qualifications for the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal so as to include part-time service. A recommendation to that effect was accordingly made.

2. Her Majesty The Queen has now been graciously pleased to approve the proposal, and a copy of the Royal Warrant dated 10 April 1966, amending the Royal Warrant dated 21 March 1956, is enclosed.

48 3. It has not been thought desirable or practicable to specify in detail the training requirements which should qualify for the award in respect of part-time staff. The training requirements reported in reply to paragraph 5 of Circular 158/66 vary widely in detail, but show that in nearly all the territories attendance is required at all, or a large proportion of, fires and also at regular drill and training parades. It is the intention therefore that the eligibility of a part-time member of a fire brigade for the award should be subject to the satisfactory performance throughout his service of the obligation to attend for drills and training at such times as may be required, and to be available to respond to calls to attend fires during such periods as may be arranged. The Model Regulations attached to Circular 577/57, on which territories have based their own Regulations, do not expressly exclude part-time service, and can therefore be applied without amendment. If however you wish to add a regulation or regulations defining your requirements in respect of part-time staff, then this can be done provided the drafts are first submitted for approval in the usual way.

18 4. The amendment does not impose any obligation on those territories which did not favour the proposal, and they are at liberty to refrain from using the extended powers if they consider them unnecessary or inappropriate.

5. This Circular has been addressed to all Governors, High Commissioners, Commissioners, Resident Commissioners and Administrators. Copies have also been sent to the British Government Representative in Castries for transmission to the Governors of the West Indies Associated States. It has been repeated for information to the British Commissioner and Consul, Tonga.

THE COLONIAL FIRE BRIGADES LONG SERVICE MEDAL

With reference to circular 577/57, preliminary consideration is being given to the possibility of extending the qualifications for the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal so as to include volunteer part-time service in Fire Brigades.

2. Under the existing Royal Warrant, only "whole time and continuous service" qualifies for the award, and it has been represented that this restriction prevents due recognition being given to part-time volunteers who may serve over long periods with no financial return.
3. The services of volunteer auxiliary police forces were in similar circumstances recognised by the institution of the Colonial Special Constabulary Medal in 1957, and it has been represented that the failure to give similar recognition to volunteer firemen is anomalous. Moreover, in the United Kingdom, both full and part-time members of Fire Brigades, with paid or unpaid service, qualify after twenty years' service for the award of the Fire Brigade Long Service and Good Conduct Medal.
4. It is not proposed that a new medal should be instituted at this stage and you will appreciate that it is not accordingly possible to extend the qualifications for the Colonial Special Constabulary Medal to cover volunteer part-time Fire Brigade service. In order that the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal could be so extended it would be necessary to seek an amendment of the Royal Warrant, and before approaching the Honours and Awards Committee to this end it would be necessary to ascertain the extent to which volunteer part-time firemen, whose services may call for recognition in this way, are employed.
5. I should accordingly be grateful for any comments you may have on this proposal and, should you wish to support it, for information on the following points :-

Reply at 49

/(i)

- (i) Number of volunteer part-time firemen employed.
- (ii) What are the minimum training requirements ?
- (iii) Number of duties a man is expected to do in a given period.
- (iv) Whether the wearing of uniform is compulsory.
- (v) Whether salary or allowance or training or retaining fees are payable in respect of their services.

6. This circular has been addressed to all Governors (except the Governors of Bermuda and British Guiana), High Commissioners; H.M. Commissioner, Swaziland; Administrators, and Resident Commissioners. It has been repeated for information to the Governor of Bermuda and the British Commissioner and Consul, Tonga.

Your Excellency, in 1898 Governor Grey-Wilson established the first Stanley Volunteer Fire Brigade and in a Notice published in the Falkland Islands Gazette dated the 31st March 1898 ^{of the same year} the names of the first volunteers were listed. Sergeant I. Davies was appointed the first Superintendent.

Amongst the names of the first volunteers were some very familiar sounding ones. There were - H. Clifton; C. Hanson; R. Allan; T. Binnie; J. T. Luxton; J. McAtasney; H. H. Sedgwick; and J. F. Summers.

Morris Ellis Evans was not in that original list, and indeed, if he had been he would be pretty ~~old~~ ^{over 80} now; but he did join the Fire Brigade as long ago as September 1926, and served in various capacities until March 1959 when he was appointed Superintendent ~~of the Brigade~~. Your Excellency, the presentation by you of the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal ⁴²³ to Mr. Evans marks forty-one years of unbroken voluntary service. Forty-one years of duty to the citizens of Stanley and the Colony. X

On behalf of the Government of the Falkland Islands and before representatives of the Town Council, the present managing body of our Fire Brigade, it gives me the greatest pleasure to ask Your Excellency to mark, by presentation of the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal, ^{92 B}Mr. Morris Ellis Evans' faithful voluntary service.

COLONIAL FIRE BRIGADES LONG SERVICE MEDAL

We are considering whether two provisions in the Royal Warrant and Regulations governing the award of this medal should not be amended. Both concern the necessary qualifying period of 18 years' service.

2. First, unlike the equivalent medal in the United Kingdom (the Fire Brigade Long Service and Good Conduct Medal), the Colonial medal is available only to subordinate (i.e. non-gazetted) officers and men. In being so limited, it is in line with certain other long service medals, but many of these are accompanied by a corresponding long service decoration for gazetted officers. There is no such decoration for gazetted officers in Colonial Fire Brigades. A large number of Colonial Fire Brigade officers, both local and expatriate, attain gazetted rank before completing 18 years' service, and thus are denied the medal.

3. The second point concerns expatriate Fire Brigade officers. Some Colonial Fire Services, before accepting such men, require them to have served at least five years whole time with a local authority fire brigade in Great Britain or elsewhere. At present they are not allowed to count such previous service towards the qualifying period for the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal, for the Regulations do not provide for any other than Colonial service to be counted. In practice this debars the average expatriate officer from ever qualifying for the medal, since expatriate officers who have served 5-10 years in the United Kingdom (which would not be unusual) will almost certainly have reached gazetted rank before the expiry of the further 18 years' qualifying period, and will thus have become ineligible for the medal.

4. A solution could be to bring the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal into line with its United Kingdom counterpart and make it available to all ranks. This would meet the case set out in paragraph 2 above, but would still leave expatriate officers at a disadvantage. Consequently, we are considering the case for allowing expatriate officers to count their United Kingdom service.

5. Before proceeding further, I should be grateful for your comments on the two amendments proposed in paragraph 4. Are such changes likely to be welcomed by the Fire Service in your territory?

6. I should ...

6. I should also be grateful to know the views of your Commissioner of Police. Since the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal and the Colonial Police Long Service Medal are so closely linked, any amendment to the one would seem to call for a similar amendment to the other.

7. This Circular is addressed to all Colonial Governors (except Hong Kong) and Administrators, the High Commissioner, Western Pacific, the Governors of the West Indies Associated States and High Commissioner, Brunei. It is copied for information to all other Administrators and Resident Commissioners, the British Government Representative, Castries, and the British Commissioner and Consul, Tonga.

In view of its listing immediately above the British Empire Medal and higher than the Queen's Police Medal and the Queen's Fire Service Medal in the order of principal British decorations and medals, in the case of all of which holders are allowed to use after their names initials indicating these awards, the case for holders of the Colonial Police Medal, whether awarded for gallantry or only for meritorious service, to be accorded the like privilege seems unanswerable. My view is that the privilege of the use of the letters "C.P.M." after their names should be accorded to the holders of this medal.

1. The Queen has approved amendments to the Royal Warrants of the Colonial Police Long Service Medal and the Colonial Fire Brigades Long Service Medal. Copies of the Amending Warrants, which were published in the London Gazette on 11 November 1971 are enclosed. 67-72
2. The purpose of the amendments, in response to general demand, is to make the medals available to all ranks, and to allow certain previous service in the United Kingdom to count towards the period of qualifying service for the medals. The opportunity has been taken to make other minor amendments, e.g. certain War service may also now be counted as qualifying service.
3. You will see that we have defined the type of service in the United Kingdom which counts towards the award of these two Colonial medals by referring to service that would count for the corresponding United Kingdom medals; i.e. the Police Long Service and Good Conduct Medal and the Fire Brigade Long Service and Good Conduct Medal respectively. This was the only concise way of defining qualifying service. Consequently you will need to have copies of the Royal Warrants of the two United Kingdom Medals. That for the Fire Brigade Long Service and Good Conduct Medal is enclosed; that for the Police Long Service and Good Conduct Medal will follow as soon as possible. A
4. In order to put into operation the provisions of the new Amending Warrants it will be necessary for those Territories who have local Regulations to amend them accordingly. I attach copies of the revised "Model Regulations" for the two Colonial medals, incorporating the suggested amendments which have been sidelined. B I should be grateful if you would make such amendments to your Territory's Regulations (if any) and let me in due course have three copies as printed in your Official Gazette.

COLONIAL PRISON SERVICE MEDAL

In 1969 the decision was taken to allow holders of The Queen's Police Medal and The Queen's Fire Service Medal to use after their names initials indicating these awards and in 1971 holders of the Colonial Police Medal were granted permission to do so.

2. As a consequence of these decisions we have been considering the case for according to holders of the Colonial Prison Service Medal the use of the initials CPSM after their names.

3. I should be grateful for your views.
