This is interesting but unfortunately the previous file was lost in the fire.

2. I am not quite sure of the story but as far as I can recollect Tonsberg were given the sole fishing rights at South Georgia some seven or eight years ago and have religiously paid £100 per annum for them - the last payment being made in London in August of last year. They did operate for one season or part of a season but for some reason or other did not continue. I suspect that their decision to give it another trial this season may be connected with Petfoods. However, we shall want to know more about it and I propose to telegraph Administrative Officer as in draft at back cover - now submitted for consideration.

File lost in fire and therefore am unable to confirm position regarding licence except that last payment of fee £100 was made in London in August last year. Please endeavour trace position regarding possible expiration of licence from your files and sound Tonsberg on intentions.

Reverse f. i. p.

Conslary has paid £700 in license fees & I think we might permit the three trips without imposing a fee. If the three trips are successful & as a result they decide to operate on a continuous basis at a later date they shd. apply for extension of the license in good time in view of the "subject to the approval of the S/S" clause.

2. I have drafted a reply on the above lines & now submit it for consideration

Please inform Tonsberg no objection trial fishing trips and that no fee will be imposed. If trips are successful and they decide to operate at a later date advise them to make application for extension licence well in advance in view of Clause requiring Secretary of State's approval.
