LIMITATION OF NAVIES.

Negotiations Broken Down.

The "Daily Mail" announces that the conversations between France and Italy regarding the limitation of navies have broken down for the moment. Busy-bodies are already suggesting that this is a case where the League of Nations should intervene and apply pressure.

But nothing could be more detrimental to peace, writes the "Daily Mail" The wiser course is for these two great nations themselves to get together and come to a close understanding .

VALUABLE RADIUM FIND.

Enough For The British Empire.

It is announced from Ontario that a discovery of a radium deposit has been made near there by Dr. Richards of Toronto University. There is only one kind of ore richer in radium than that found near Ontario and that is the ore worked in the Belgian Congo.

The deposit is said to be extensive and it is possible that sufficient radium may be found and extracted to enable the British Empire to be independent of outside supplies.

EMPIRE BROADCASTING.

A Letter To The "Times"

By His Lordship The Bishop.

We re-print the following letter, written by His Lordship the Bishop of the Falkland Islands and which appeared in a recent number of the "Times" :

"To the Editor of the 'Times',

Sir,

I noticed in the 'Times' of Friday a letter from Admiral Sir R.F. Phillimore, in which he speaks of the wireless advantages in the Falklands at that most critical time for the Islands at the end of 1914.

It may interest your readers to know that the seed sown by the then Governor, Sir William Allardyce, has borne fruit a hundredfold. The present Governor, Mr. Arnold Hodson, O.M.G., has developed wireless in the islands very considerably.

When I left Stanley two months ago the necessary short wave instruments were on the point of arriving to put the Islands in touch with England for broadcasting purposes. I have heard Big Ben in Government House and concerts et cetera, are often heard from Monte Video and Buenos Aires.

Loudspeakers are in nearly every house, and they are joined up with the wireless station. Every Sunday night the services from Christchurch Cathedral are passed through the loudspeakers by telephone. Sir William Allardyce was certainly the pioneer of in all this.

I have the honour to be,

Sir, your obedient servant,

N.S. Falkland Isles."

George Benner, M.B.C. has been nominated by the Secretary of State for the Colonies to represent the Falkland Islands at the Conference on Wool Research which is being held in the United Kingdom, the proposal for which, submitted by the Director of Research of the British Research Association for Woollen and Worsted Industries, has received the approval of the Empire Marketing Board.

DEATH OF LORD BIRKENHEAD.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce the death of Lord Birkenhead who passed away on Tuesday. British statesmen of all parties regard his demise as depriving the Empire of one of the most brilliant intellects of this generation.

Lady Birkenhead, with Viscount Furneaux, his twenty-two year old son and heir, and his daughter were present at the bedside at the end.

"The end came as a surprise," a member of the household told the "Daily Mail", "we had hoped Lord Birkenhead would have been able to leave shortly and spend the winter on the continent."

One of Lord Birkenhead's last requests was to see his oldest friend, Commander Readmond W. McGrath who arrived at the bedside fifteen minutes before the end and, in the darkened room, the two friends said good-bye.

The body of Lord Birkenhead was taken to Grays Inn Chapel on Tuesday night where it will lie in state until to-morrow. The funeral will be at Charlton, the family country home, on Saturday.

ARGENTINE'S CLAIM TO THE FALKLANDS.

Talk Of British Usurpation Of The Islands.

The "British Usurpation" of the Falkland and South Orkney Islands is dealt with in a series of articles in the important Buenos Aires newspaper "La Prensa", which resurrects the claim of the Argentine to sovereignty over the islands.

The newspaper asks what right, other than might does Britain levy tribute from the Norwegian and other whalers operating there, and also asks why the British Governor of the Falkland Islands extended permission to Argentine citizens to disembark on the South Orkneys to take up duties at the Argentine Observatory there.

The Argentine Government is urged to assert its right to the Islands, "which geographically and historically belong to the Argentine."

This claim to the Falklands, the South Orkneys, and South Georgia crops up periodically, despite the fact that in 1933 the centenary of British occupation of the Falkland Islands occur.

GERMANY'S PLAN.

The plan of the German Government for placing Germany in a sound financial position was made known on Tuesday and promises to be more than a measure of getting out of the present difficulties. It is a plan for the conquering of the markets of the world.

By the cutting down of the profits of the employers, the wages of the employed, the general expenditure and the price of goods it is hoped they will thereby obtain the markets of the world because they will have reduced their charges to the extent that their goods would be the cheapest in the world.

FITZROY COOK HOUSE BURNED DOWN.

Early Morning Jump From Bedroom Windows.

Six Men's Narrow Escape.

The six men living in Fitzroy Cook House had a narrow escape from a terrible end in the early hours of yesterday morning when the building was burnt to the ground. They were - Bert Hessey, E. McLeod, G. Harrison, J. King, S. Middleton and S. McGill.

How the outbreak occurred is a mystery but it is believed to have originated in the middle of the house. The discovery was made by Hessey who woke up about 3.30 in the morning and heard wood crackling. For a moment he thought it was the cook lighting the fire but he became suspicious when he realised that something was burning the smell of which was very strong.

He was sleeping in the same room as McLeod and they got out to see what was the matter. When they opened the door they were met by flames leaping up the stairs and had to shut it again. They managed to rouse the others but it was hopeless to attempt to escape by way of the stairs so they had to jump through the windows. Harrison in breaking a pane of glass cut his arm. Although they had to drop a fair distance they did so without injuring themselves. Had they delayed their departure but for three minutes they would have been entrapped and quite probably burnt to death.

Except for the few articles of clothing they managed to scramble on the six men were unable to save a single thing. The cook house was completely demolished and the flames lit up the settlement with a brilliant light. The wind was blowing hard at the time but luckily from a westerly direction. Had it been blowing from a northerly direction the wool shed might have been involved though it would probably have escaped serious damage. For the time being the men are being put up in the house vacated recently by Mr. W. Goodwin.

Mr. F.C. Langdon, the Section Manager at Fitzroy for the Falkland Islands Company, is at present on leave and the station is under the charge of the Foreman Mr. C.W. Lyse.

Mr. C.A. Lambert, a friend, told Ferguson, at their club of Lord Birkenhead's death and Ferguson left the club in a distressed state. He also seemed very startled.

A few minutes after his arrival at the bank on Wednesday morning his staff heard the noise of a shot in his room and found him unconscious on the floor.

A third announcement is believed to be imminent. It is said to relate to a small trainer unknown even by name to many racing enthusiasts and the horse mentioned in the case has not won a race this season.

A JOYOUS FAMILY OF STANLEY CHILDREN.

Last Friday's Party.

Stanley Town Hall could never have known so large or so happy a band of children as those gathered together by the kind invitation of His Excellency the Governor at the party given there on Friday last. The happy scene which was composed of the children who were present or past members of His Excellency's Plays and given particularly for their benefit also included many parents obviously captivated by the spirit of revelry so joyously shown by their little ones.

About eighty youngsters were present most of them wearing fancy dresses the colours of which vied in their galaxy with the various designs. The girls looked exceptionally charming and though it were invidious to single out any special costume one cannot refrain from mentioning the Hawaiian maid, the old country dame while even the "Penguin" was represented. Among the boys blood-thirsty brigands were the favourites of fashion and many were the deadly combats they engaged in. At times the air seemed alive with knives and pistols while almost where-ever one trod duelers to the death were engaged in mortal combat on the floor - or were they merely determining who should have the extra cakes at tea-time.

The Party began about half-past four and continued until half-past six, during the whole of which time His Excellency the Governor whose sincere and devoted interest in the welfare of the children of the Colony stands out pre-eminently, was present with the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), both sitting down to tea with the little ones who, in the words of a youngster almost too deeply pre-occupied with the demolition of a fine puff pastry, were "having a scrumptious time".

After tea there was a tremendous dash for the swings and the slide while the music from the loudspeakers added their merry tunes to the enjoyment of all, and as airs from pieces occurring in His Excellency's play were recognised their familiar sounds were taken up with tremendous enthusiasm. There were also diversions such as darts and skittles and soon there shaped the long wiggly line of musical chairs. Round and round folk pranced until at last there remained just the winners - Alice Mills, Betty Sedgwick and Dorothy Aldridge, Noel Biggs, Basil Biggs and Leslie Summers. Then there was the scramble for sweets and a net ball competition for the boys. Mrs. Vincent kindly played the piano for the musical chairs and Mr. W.J. Davies refereed the net-ball match.

Finally, before they departed for homes, three rousing cheers were given for His Excellency for his Play and for giving the Party, and these were followed by three cheers for the organising Committee and the Executive Committee who did so much to assure the success of what was undoubtedly one of the most enjoyable parties ever known in Stanley.

AT THE PICTURES.

Stanley's Kingdom Of Thrills.

Father Migone, who is well-known as the pioneer in the Falkland Isles of this world-wide form of amusement - the Cinema, undoubtedly provided his patrons on Saturday night with a worthy bill of fare. His little hall was veritably a kingdom of thrills. And not only thrills but laughter and romance played their part in a performance of some two hours' duration.

At first we were treated to birth-making antics by a good intentioned young man who at the critical moment lost a button and after a series of vicissitudes found himself cast out with a tale of woe. The picture of the evening "The forbidden Trail" - a story of the late eighties was packed with deeds of daring; the gallant exploits of the hero Dick, over the villain (Baton) and his shady lieutenant, ferreted them from their lair and herded them back stock and barrel, to the dealers of justice; and last but not least there was the pretty heroine Isabel, torn from him "the stealer of her first kiss" in her duty to her "dad", but after thrilling escapades unravelling the wrong and asserting the right, the two lovers were united again. Last but not least there was "The Scarlet Path", in this Jimmie confounded once and for all that gross libel which asserted Father Migone relentlessly cut out the kisses of his casts.

GHASTLY END TO R. 101.

49 Passengers Burnt To Death.

It is with profound regret that we hear of the terrible accident which occurred to the R. 101 yesterday when on her maiden flight to India. She was wrecked in a storm in France and forty-nine of her fifty six passengers were burnt to death. Two passengers alone have been rescued unharmed, the other five having various injuries.

According to Captain Lloyd, one of the unharmed passengers rescued, the dirigible was flying in the face of the storm at about 100 metres above the ground when the catastrophe occurred. The helmsman was doing his utmost to control the movements of the airship but the helm would not respond, the airship consequently struck the ground and burst into flames.

Three military aeroplanes are due to arrive at the place of the accident to enable an investigation to be undertaken. It is expected that the Prince of Wales will also fly to France to the scene of the accident.

BRITISH FIRST AT BROOKLANDS.

Fine Racing.

British cars triumphed in the 500 miles handicap race at Brooklands on Saturday, winning the first three places. S.C.H. Davis in an Austin 7 was first with an average speed of 35.41 miles an hour. J. Benjafield, in a Bentley was second with an average speed of 122.12 miles an hour. H.W. Purdy in a Stinson was third with an average speed of 104.74 miles an hour. The Austin 7 won by seven minutes and twenty-one seconds.

It was a thrilling race and Davis had an amazing escape when his axle came off. Another car skidded and rolled in front of Davis' Austin on another occasion, and although travelling at 80 miles an hour, it wheeled round three times, shot along the track broadside and then continued the race to win.

The winning car was entered by Sir Herbert Austin.

LAST FRIDAY'S PARTY.

In our account of His Excellency the Governor's Party hold in the Town Hall, Stanley, last Friday we stated that "Stanley could never have known so large or so happy a band of children". This is not so, of course, since those parties organised by the Stanley Benefit Club and His Excellency's Christmas Parties have brought together as many as between three or four hundred children.

In order also to put right any mis-understanding that might have arisen it should have been made clear that the Tea Party, which was so much enjoyed, was given by the Executive Committee of the Play under His Excellency's supervision and not by His Excellency as inadvertently mentioned.

COMMUNISTS ACTIVITIES IN U.S.A.

President Hoover, who is making four speeches in seven days to secure a closer contact with the people, met with an unpleasant experience during his first contact at Cleveland, Ohio.

While he was addressing a crowd of 10,000 a force of 3,000 Communists marched on the hall and tried to force an entrance. Mounted on motor-cycles and horses, the police charged the demonstrators, hundreds of whom showed themselves prepared to fight. They were clubbed and beaten within a hundred yards of the hall.

The police formed riot squads to fight off the mobs. A battle raged for fifteen minutes and many women were knocked down by horses. Over a thousand police and firemen were engaged before the demonstrators were driven off.

The noise penetrated the hall but Mr. Hoover quietly continued his address making no reference to the disturbances.

A sentence of eighteen months imprisonment in a fortress was passed on three young artillery officers by the Supreme Court at Leipzig on Saturday on charges of high treason.

The trial is memorable for the dramatic speech Herr Hitler made from the witness box.

When the sentence was passed the Nazis (members of Hitler's party) raised their hands in the fascist salute and great demonstrations occurred outside the court incited by the Nationalist Socialists whom the police charged.

The crowds dispersed to the side streets and continued their demonstrations there. It was with difficulty that the authorities prevented any blood-shed.

THE FATE OF R. 101.

The "Daily Mail" Bulletin broadcast from Rugby late Sunday night states that among those who perished in the giant airship R. 101 was almost every British expert on airship design.

"We saw the airship flying low above the hills and the lights from the cabins seemed to flicker once or twice, then there was a tremendous roar of an explosion and a great flame shot into the sky while the gale howled and the rain fell in torrents."

This was the description of the last fatal moment of the stricken giant given to a "Daily Mail" correspondent by George Carling, the British race-horse owner in France.

The flames swept through the enormous fabric, burning everything that would burn, within a few minutes. On Sunday morning the Air Force flag still fluttered to the tail of the crumpled wreckage.

Eight survivors struggled from the wreckage which resembled a furnace. The others were imprisoned amidst the twisted metal and crushed by the girders constituting the frame-work of the giant gas-bag above them.

The disaster was completely overwhelming and apparently instantaneous.

So far as is known no complaint was made by radio messages that the airship was in difficulties. Croydon heard her ask Le Bourget for her position at 0244 and this was given.

The Air Ministry announced on Sunday night that a "Public inquiry will be held in the country into the loss of the R. 101 subject to co-ordination with arrangements being made by the French Government."

After the message at Le Bourget, asking for her position nothing was heard from the airship.

Then with a horrifying brutality listeners were startled by the frantic broadcast message from Le Bourget - "G.F.A.A.W. a pris feu". It rang round the world. The liners on far seas picked it up. Operators throughout the Continent were shocked and listeners-in were alarmed by its ominous ring.

It meant that the proud airship - the pride of the British Air Force was on fire and had crashed to her doom.

Boris belongs to the orthodox faith and the Princess is Roman Catholic but the Pope has consented to accept a verbal promise instead of the usual written undertaking that any children should be brought up to the Catholic faith.

It is expected that the wedding will take place in Sofia within a few weeks. There will be two ceremonies, Orthodox and Roman Catholic.

"GRAN' SLAM" AT NORTH ARM.

The Season's Finale.

During the past three months the people of North Arm have enjoyed a fortnightly Whist Drive and Dance and to conclude the season a "Gran' Slam" was held recently when there were many visitors present from Garwin and Walker Creek.

The Drive started at 8.0 p.m. and was continued until 10.0 p.m. when refreshments were served. The presentation of the prizes by Mr. A. Blackley took place the winners being Miss F. Bailey (1st Ladies), Mr. R. Cartmell of Walker Creek (1st Gents'), Mrs. S. Newman (Ladies' Booby) and Mr. Walter Barradge (Gents' Booby.) The prizes were kindly given by Mr. H. McLeod and Mr. J. McPherson.

Afterwards dancing was enjoyed and the merry making continued till the small hours of the morning, all the dances being entered except the "Whisky Dance".

Songs were rendered at intervals by Mr. W. Newman, Mr. L. Summers, while Mr. J. Sweet provoked considerable amusement with the song "You can do a lot of things by the seaside that you can't do in town".

Mr. C. Jennings (Cassie) ably carried out the duties of M.C. for the dance while Mr. J. Sweet acted to perfection in the same capacity for the whist. Music was provided by the local String Band and Accordion.

At the close of the dance Mr. A. Brown thanked the visitors for the way in which they had rallied for the "Gran' Slam" and also the Committee for the capable way in which they had organised and carried through the auspicious event. "Guld Lang Syne" was sung while "Johnnie Walker" intermingled with the company. The gathering then broke up after the singing of "God Save The King".

THE R. 101.

Dominions Homage.

When the heads of the Delegations to the Imperial Conference met on Monday their first act was to pass the following resolution :

"We, the members of the Imperial Conference desire to place on record our great sorrow at the disaster to the airship R. 101 and the loss of so many brave and valuable lives. On behalf of all parts of the British Commonwealth we pay homage to these gallant men who have given their lives as pioneers in the cause of human progress and we wish to express our heartfelt grief for their bereaved families. To our Chairman we offer our deep sympathy at the loss of so distinguished a colleague and well-beloved friend." The meeting stood in silence to pass the resolution.

The motion was moved by the Canadian Premier, Mr. Bennett, who briefly expressed his sense of the irreplaceable loss sustained by the death of so many pioneers of aerial navigation. The Australian Premier, in seconding, said that only last Friday he had met Lord Thomson and Sir Sefton Brankier who were full of enthusiasm with the idea for linking up England to Australia by airways and had arranged to discuss the matter further when they returned from India. Mr. Scullin also made a feeling reference to the death of Squadron Leader Palstra of the Royal Australian Air Force.

In replying Mr. MacDonald paid an affectionate tribute to Lord Thomson with whom he was on the closest terms of intimacy, describing him as the dearest of his colleagues.

A Memorial Service for the victims of R. 101 will be held in St. Pauls Cathedral on Friday. The bodies were taken from Allonne on Monday to Beauvais where they are to lie in the Town Hall until the service which is being held to-day in the Beauvais Cathedral.

Afterwards they will be taken by a special train to Calais and transferred to British warships which will bring them home.

The French nation is displaying the profoundest sympathy and the authorities are giving all practical help. French troops are rendering military honours to the dead. The Premier, M. Tardieu, will be at Beauvais to attend the departure of the victims. Lord Tyrrell, the British Ambassador from Paris arrived at Beauvais on Monday.

British and French air experts are continuously engaged in the examination of the wrecked airship.

The Autheticy is denied of certain statements published purporting to express the opinion of air officials regarding the cause of the disaster. When all available information has been collected and correlated an authoritative statement will be issued.

An Air Ministry official stated to the "Daily Mail" that "we have no information respecting reports concerning the finding of structural portions of the airship at considerable distances from the airship. Nor have we any information regarding oil having been traced along the final stages of the flight before the disaster.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Next Year's Estimates.

Unofficial Member Congratulates

The Government.

Stanley Rate The Same.

The principal business before the Legislative Council which met in the Council Chamber and over which His Excellency The Governor presided on Tuesday morning, was the passing of the "Appropriation (1931) Ordinance, 1930" with the Estimates for the year 1931. The following members of the Council were present : The Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Halkett (Colonial Treasurer), the Hon. G. Roberts (Colonial Engineer), the Hon. J.I. Moir (Principal Medical Officer) and the Hon. L.W.H. Young with Mr. G.R.L. Brown (Acting Clerk).

At the outset the Hon. Colonial Secretary begged leave to move a resolution on the occasion of the terrible disaster which had befallen His Majesty's Airship R. 101 on her maiden voyage to India and couched in the following terms : "This Council desires to place on record its deep sympathy with the victims and their relatives, and also with the Imperial Government on the irreparable loss of such tried and valued servants." The resolution was carried with the members of the Council standing in solemn silence.

Stanley Rate.

In moving the resolution for the fixing of the Stanley Rate for 1931, the Hon. Colonial Secretary pointed out that the figure was the same as collected during the past two years, namely 1/9d in the pound. This was approved.

The Council also approved of the resolution moved by the Hon. Colonial Secretary that the Council sanction the expenditure from Public Funds of the sum of 25,769 13s. 8d. to meet the several charges itemised in the Schedule of the Supplementary Estimate of Expenditure No. 2 of 1930.

Congratulations To Bisley Team.

The Hon. L.W.H. Young then rose and begged leave to move the following Resolution : "This Council resolves that a vote of warm congratulation and appreciation be conveyed to the Captain and the Members of the Colony's Team on the occasion of their notable achievement in winning the Junior Kolapore Cup Competition at Bisley 1930."

He added that he would like to couple with it the names of Major Turner and of His Excellency the Governor. His Excellency had seen the object he had worked for reach fruition quicker, he thought, than most of them saw their own ambitions accomplished. Thursday week was to be a public holiday in celebration of this event and he suggested arrangements should be made whereby the team might come ashore at a fixed time in order that they might be assured of the exceptional welcome they so warmly deserved. This motion was seconded by the Hon. J.M. Ellis who expressed his desire to add his personal congratulations to His Excellency.

The Governor stated that he felt deeply grateful to the Hon. L.W.H. Young and the Hon. J.M. Ellis for their touching remarks. It was certainly a unique occasion which might never occur again (cries of No, No.) They would have the rich Colonies such as Trinidad striving very hard against them next year. His Excellency concurred in the proposed welcome to the Team on arrival and stated that he was content to leave the actual arrangements in the hands of the Hon. Colonial Secretary, Major the Hon. J.I. Moir and the Hon. L.W.H. Young.

The Estimates.

The Colonial Secretary then rose to move the first reading of the Appropriation (1931) Ordinance Bill. He did not, he said, propose to speak at length on this reading of the Bill which provided for the service in the Colony for the year 1931, but simply to indicate on general lines the Colony's financial position. On the second reading, however, when the Council went into Committee, he would be happy to answer any question.

It was anticipated, he went on, that at the end of the current year the surplus balances of the Colony would amount to £23,500. In addition there would be the Reserve Fund of £10,000 which had been opened during the year. In other words, the Colony's Reserve and Floating Balances would total £33,500 which compared with the figures of £31,113 at the beginning of the year. This showed that they would have made a nett profit of £2,000 during the year. And this though in addition to the ordinary expenditure, which was estimated on revision to amount, with the Public Works Extraordinary, to £44,000, they had spent nearly £14,000 on major works of a capital nature. In other words they would have paid their way, and have carried out a very large programme of Extraordinary Works and yet could show at the end, a nett profit of £2,000 on the Profit and Loss Account.

Turning to the year 1931 for the service of which these Estimates provided, the Hon. members would see that the Revenue from ordinary sources was estimated at £60,000 and the expenditure on ordinary services was estimated at £57,000. In other words the ordinary revenue was estimated to exceed the ordinary expenditure by no less a sum than £3,000. The Extraordinary Expenditure was put at £11,000 which brought the total expenditure to £68,000 and even then, allowing for the Extraordinary Expenditure, the Ordinary Revenue as estimated showed a balance over the total expenditure of £11,461. In the matter of the details of the expenditure Hon. members would note with satisfaction a steady increase from year to year and this was due to the fact that economy was being effectively practiced. The actual payments under the Recurrent or Maintenance Heads of 1929, amounted to £46,000. The approved estimate for 1930 was £41,000. The revised estimate for 1930 was just under £41,000 and the estimate for 1931 as just under £38,000. It was anticipated that a further decrease would be effected next year when the Recurrent Services of the Colony should be near an expenditure of about £37,000.

In commenting on the Hon. Colonial Secretary's remarks His Excellency said that he was sure they would agree with him that the best policy for the Government of the Colony was to try and keep everything as efficient as it possibly could be kept, that was, by not stinting anything. On the other hand the strictest economy should be observed by eliminating all the superfluous and unnecessary expense. It was largely due, His Excellency added, to the Hon. Colonial Secretary and the various heads of departments that this very desirable end had been attained. Without the sincere cooperation of these officers, it would be impossible for a Governor to work.

His Excellency pointed out that the Government was running the Colony £20,000 cheaper than three years ago and since then it would be noticed that the Civil Servants salaries had been increased, leave passages allowed while such services as the electric light, broadcasting the "Penguin", the new Gymnasium, and houses not only for Government officials but the people of Stanley had been included in this re-organisation scheme. At this rate the Colony would soon become practically independent of any outside sources, and would be able to live on its investments. This was an ideal to which few countries in the world could aspire. In concluding his remarks His Excellency said he wished to record his deep gratitude to the Heads of Departments and to the Officials, senior and junior for the very loyal way they had helped with the scheme.

Mr. Young's Congratulations.

The Hon. L.W.H. Young said that he had listened to His Excellency's remarks with great interest. He, the speaker, had spent the last week-end studying the figures for a number of years past and he felt he must publicly show his appreciation of the results he found. He had gone back to 1927; looking at the finances for that year, he saw they had a surplus of £2,400, the next year £3,700, and the next year £14,000 - that was due partly to the new issue of stamps which was an exceptional source of revenue - , this year there was £9,000 and next year the estimate provided for £18,000. It was a position of which the chairman of any company would be very proud. The estimated assets over liabilities at the end of the year were placed at £265,000. The expenditure was coming down and the bank deposits were going up. He did not think there was anywhere else in the world where a balance sheet could be shown like the one before him and he took that opportunity of expressing his great appreciation of the state of affairs.

His Excellency thanked Mr. Young for his kind remarks which gave him great pleasure particularly since they came from an unofficial source and from one who was so prominent a business man and who was associated with so many large interests.

During the Committee stage of the Bill the Hon. Colonial Secretary pointed out that though the expenditure on the Secretariat had not been decreased a great deal more work was being carried out by the staff, including the work of the Harbour, Legal and Audit Departments; in addition one of the clerks was acting as clerk to the Medical Department and as assistant in the Post Office at mail times.

Commenting on the expenditure under the Medical Heading, the Hon. Colonial Secretary said that despite the additional services rendered by the Medical Department and despite new charges which had been added, it had been found possible, by the exercise of extreme economy and efficiency in working to reduce the expenditure by £119 and he was glad to take this opportunity of paying a warm tribute to the Principal Medical Officer and also to the Matron of the Hospital for their devoted and capable work. In the course of discussion His Excellency observed that included in the Medical Expenditure was the sum of £200 granted to the West Falkland Farmers' Medical Association under a new sub-head.

The Department "Shot At."

In considering the figures under the two Public Works Heads, the Hon. Colonial Secretary drew attention to the fact that the expenditure was placed at £4,097 and £5,365, as against £4,720 and £5,655 in 1930. This might be taken as an outstanding example of the satisfactory budgeting to which Mr. Young referred. Mr. Young endorsed the speaker's comments adding that the Public Works was always the department which was "shot at." His Excellency said he was sure they would all agree with him on the enormous importance of the Public Works Department because the Falkland Islands was an extremely difficult place in which to carry out public works while the health of the people here depended largely on the efforts of Mr. Roberts and the Public Works staff. A great deal of the work was underground and if mistakes should occur, the results would be disastrous. Mr. Roberts had saved his salary, again and again and again by the economical working of his department.

Next Year's Improvements.

During the discussion on Head XXI - Public Works Extraordinary - it was pointed out that the programme for work included preliminary reconnaissance work on tracks to the Camp - for a distance of, say, 15 miles from Stanley upon the North Camp and on the Darwin tracks - in the nature of a survey and of marking out provisional lines which during the year shepherds and others using them would be able to test and comment upon. Also improvements to the tracks on Stanley Common. These should be of great benefit to householders in Stanley as providing facilities for the carting of their peat. Under "Stanley Improvements" provision was made for the construction of a water tower at the top of the hill to increase the storage capacity and to facilitate the supply of water to all houses in the town; the roads in the out-lying parts of the town would be made up and the system of water-mains and drains extended. Mr. Roberts informed the Council that it was hoped to finish the work on the Magazine Valley and Dairy Paddock roads by the end of 1930 and next year to undertake the work of making up the whole of Fitzroy Road and the east end of Davis Street. The Bill was passed unanimously after the third reading.

£1,000 Gift From Mr. J. Hamilton.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary announced that Mr. J. Hamilton, the owner of Weddell Island, had generously given the Government the sum of £1,000 to be expended on some public purpose. "This most generous gesture of Mr. Hamilton's," Mr. Ellis added, "although I do not like to use the word 'unique', if not unique is very rare in the annals of this Colony or of any other." Mr. Hamilton had asked for a part of the money to be expended on the erection of a beacon light on the south-west or westerly corner of the West Falkland Island and the practicability of such a light was being explored. Mr. Hamilton's offer was gratefully accepted by the Council.

Other Bills.

"The Tariff Amendment Ordinance, 1930," the "Merchant Shipping (Amendment) Ordinance, 1930," and the "Falkland Islands Currency Note Ordinance, 1930" Bills were also passed. With reference to the last-named Bill, the Hon. Colonial Secretary said that the Bill brought the Colony's Currency system up to date. The present system was antiquated. One of the principal advantages of the new system was that it would be no longer necessary for the Colony to have a gold reserve with the money standing idle. The gold reserve at the present moment was £8,000 and that would be shipped to England, sold, and the invested proceeds would bring in another £2400 to the revenue.

The Hon. L.W.H. Young.

Before the Council rose His Excellency said that he would like to place on record their great appreciation of Mr. Young's services on the Council. Mr. Young, he added, was shortly going on leave and he hoped he would have a pleasant sojourn at home and a safe return. The Hon. J.M. Ellis associated himself with His Excellency's remarks and the Hon. L.W.H. Young suitably responded.

ERRATUM.

We regret that through inadvertence a mistake crept into our issue of yesterday's date under the heading of "The Estimates", in the account of the Legislative Council, in which we reported a sentence in the Hon. Colonial Secretary's remarks at the first reading of the Appropriation (1931) Bill as :-

"In the matter of the details of the expenditure Hon. members would note with satisfaction a steady increase from year to year"

This should have read, of course :- "a steady decrease from year to year....." as the subsequent figures plainly indicated.

BRIDGE AND WHIST AT THE TOWN HALL.

An unusual treat was provided for bridge and whist players on Tuesday evening last at the third of a series of card parties arranged by the Entertainments Committee of the Girl Guides Local Association.

The Town Hall, used for the occasion, was adapted to the best advantage, bridge being played in the refreshment room, where one could smoke, and whist, somewhat less dependent on the tobacco habit, on the stage which, curtained off, makes a comfortable room. It was a novelty to have refreshments served in the main hall where, after the excellent repast provided, we believe, by the ladies of the Association and the Girl Guides themselves, we could walk about and chat. Speaking of refreshments reminds us of Mrs. Henricksen's invariable kindness on such occasions in helping behind the scenes.

Play commenced at 8.0 o'clock when twenty-eight couples sat down to bridge and ten couples to whist. In the bridge room play continued until after 11.0 o'clock; the whist players finished somewhat earlier and passed the waiting time pleasantly in an impromptu dance to piano music played by Miss Muriel Summers.

As M.C. at a dance Mr. Davies is a host in himself; as M.C. at a bridge drive in which capacity we saw him for the first time, he is a guide, philosopher and friend. If we missed our way in the traffic at the change over or required a pilot through the maze of tables Mr. Davies was there: he was also there if we merited a nice little flag to mark our triumphs: if, however, by any chance we miscounted our score, he was very much there. His vigorous challenge at the end of the play to anyone inclined to dispute his reckoning was not taken up. Mr. Robson, too, in the whist room proved an excellent M.O.. We hope to see both gentlemen again at similar functions.

The prizes, kindly given by the Hon. J.M. Ellis, Mrs. Craigie-Halkett, Mrs. Louis Williams (Islands Commissioner), Mrs. Brown, Miss Felton and Miss Kirwan, were presented by Mrs. Williams at the close of the proceedings, as follows :

Bridge - Gentlemen's 1st Mr. Hatchman and Mr. N. Berntson, 2nd Mr. J.E. Hamilton; Ladies' 1st Mrs. A.E. Felton, 2nd Miss Bossingham and Miss Reeve. Whist - Gentlemen's 1st Mr. M. Robson, Consolation Mr. P. Hardy; Ladies' 1st Mrs. A.P. Hardy, Consolation Mrs. McPherson.

Judging from the popularity of these parties we may quite expect to see them a common feature of next winter's entertainments.

SHOOTING PROSPECTS.

Improvements To The Ranges.

On the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor the Rifle Ranges, Old and New, have recently been renovated and repaired and are now ready for the season's shooting. The target frames on the New Range have been adjusted, oiled and put in a servicable state of repair which will help greatly in the manipulation of the targets during the firing. The firing point mounds which were re-turfed during the last season have settled down well and the turf is in excellent condition.

A telephone has been installed in the Committee Room in the Range Pavillion and connected up with the Exchange in Stanley. The telephone communication between the firing points and the Target Gallery has been brought up to perfection and loud-speaker plugs have been installed at the firing points thus greatly simplifying connection by portable telephones.

Four yard-arms have been fixed at various intervals to the telephone posts on the New Range, between the Target Gallery and the thousand yards firing point, and two installed on the Old Range, for the purpose of flying wind direction pennants. This should greatly help marksmen to estimate the strength of the wind. Big improvements are going ahead on the Old Range which in future will be used for short range shooting only, that is - 200 to 600 yards.

The Target Shed and Target Gallery have been repaired and improvements made in the swinging in and out of the Targets. A new and complete set of targets have been installed. The old Targets were damaged so much during the inclement weather experienced during the last Local Bisley Meeting that they were unrepairable.

The Telegraphs and Telephones' Department are at present working on the telephone lines and when the work is completed the communication between the firing points and the Target Gallery should be as perfect on the Old as on the New Range. The telephone poles from the 600 yards to the 1,000 yards have been removed.

During a concert on the "Orduna" a collection was taken, and the pursor in a little speech thanked the passengers for their support and proceeded to give details as to the coins received.

"We have collected 200 half-crowns and one throopenny bit," he said, adding in a jocular tone "I think there must be a Scotsman on board." Immediately from the back of the audience a voice boomed out; "You'll excuse me sir, but there were three of us in that donation."

An experiment has been tried on the long range and the 200 yards' targets on the New Range. Instead of stripping the old canvas from the old targets, the faces of the targets were reversed and the new canvas put on that side. This should save the target from bellying during the high southerly winds and the canvas will be on both sides.

During the Defence Force Class Firing which commences this week-end, the Old Range will be available for shoots conducted by the Defence Force Rifle Association.

GOOD HUNTING.

Wolf Cub Adventures.

(From the Pen of the Old Wolf.)

Recently, the Wolf Cub Pack, under the care of Miss Macenzie, went for a day in the Camp - or, as they have it "The Jungle" - What they did and how, we leave them to tell :

..... Such a day in the Jungle ! We laid trails; followed tracks, made exciting kills and discovered buried treasure. An old breadboard found on the beach took many shapes from the shield of St. George, to a plate, a toboggan and lastly a hoop. Frank started to bowl it along the sands but had barely begun when the wind snatched it away down the beach, along the water's edge and - into the sea.

Brandishing his spear Frank threatened the waves but did they heed this King Canute ? Not they. For all his trouble he got his toes wet ! But he kept his weather eye and at last, while the sea pondered in its mind, he snatched it back and was St. George with his shield once more.

Soon it was time to satisfy a hungry pack. Fires were lit and frying eggs became the most important thing in the world. This was a cooking test for Cubs with "One eye open" !

But we could not be hungry for ever, and soon were back at stalking - and what big game hunters we were ! The smell of blood was in the air and young Meierhoffer was in the lead as "Bagheera" crept closer to "Sambhur" - and then some kill; then more feasting !!

But time waits for no man, not even an angry pack, and soon we had to set off on that long wolf "lope" which never tires, upon the home trail. Our lively Cub soon drove us (his horses) with the aid of his spear that was now a whip. Away we went into the distance. Somehow though, the horses went lame and wandered by the beach. Driftwood became guns and clubs and lo ! There was Blunderbore ! After this we were threatened terribly and a small Cub from a high rock in a big voice said "Do as you are told or I shall cane you severely !"

And when "Mowgli" built his stone house could Frank rest ? Yes in anyone's place but his own ! And so they were all driven out to his cry of "You must not play in our yard !"

Stanley by now was just over the hill and to bombing raids, Robin Hood and all the jungle noises we said "Till to-morrow" - and so to bed !

Akela.

POPULAR WEDDING.

Mr. A. Mercer And Miss W.B. Dixon.

Saturday's Ceremony Broadcast.

Wedding bells again pealed out on Saturday afternoon on the occasion of the marriage of Mr. Alex Mercer to Miss Winifred Beatrice Dixon, both well known and popular figures in Stanley. The bridegroom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mercer and the senior operator in the Government Wireless Service while the bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Dixon and the late Mr. W.B. Dixon and for eleven years was a clerk in the Colonial Post Office.

The ceremony, performed in the Cathedral, was of unusual interest in that it was relayed to the Stanley Studio and broadcast throughout the town and the Camp. The church itself was filled with admiring friends and well-wishers who were obviously impressed with the solemn dignity of the service which was conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean and was fully choral with Mr. A.W. Beardmore as organist.

The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. E.V. Dixon, looked perfectly charming in her dress of white silk and georgette trimmed with diamante; she wore a veil and wreath of orange blossom with a spray of real apple blossom grown in the Falklands and kindly given by Mrs. J. Davis. Her bouquet, which came from London, was particularly distinguished in that it included a white rose sent by Mrs. Turner senior.

Miss Marjorie Mercer (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Ellen Berntsen (friend) were the bridesmaids. The former was tastefully attired in a dress of Delphinium Blue crepe-de-chine with a coronet of silver leaves and wearing an opal and diamond ring, the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Berntsen looked no less charming in a dress of pale peach suede georgette with a head band to match having as her only ornament a gold bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom. Both carried sheaves of daffodils, the warmly appreciated gift of Miss Bender of Moody Valley Farm. The best man was Mr. Jack Mercer, the bridegroom's younger brother.

Mrs. Dixon was tastefully gowned in a dress of rose beige marocain while Mrs. Mercer senior was becomingly attired in black lace georgette.

After the ceremony and following the taking of photographs by Mr. L.B. White, the bridal party were conveyed to the Town Hall in Mr. E.G. Rowe's car, kindly loaned for the occasion, and driven by Mr. G.L. Pallini. There a tea dance and the reception were held, some five hundred guests attending. A most enjoyable time was spent by all and each received a piece of the handsome six tier wedding cake - the admiration of every eye and, we are sure, the particular pride of Mr. F.J. Summers who made it and was also responsible for the delicious catering.

The Hall was suitably decorated by Mr. E.V. Dixon and Mr. Bert Ratcliff while the dance music provided by the "Melody Sheiks" and "Stanley Jazz" bands gave the proceedings a delightfully vivacious effect. Mr. Aubrey Summers was M.C.

Including cheques to the value of over fifty pounds the happy couple were the recipients of 254 presents - all handsome and of great utility. One tremendously prized is the autographed copy of the most recent publication of His Excellency the Governor "Where Lion Reign". Presents were also received from the Hon. J.M. Ellis

Tuesday, 14th October, 1930.

(Colonial Secretary), the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Halkett (Colonial Treasurer) and Mrs. Halkett, The Hon. G. Roberts and Mrs. Roberts, The Hon. L.W.H. Young and Mrs. Young, the Hon. G.J. Felton and Mrs. Felton, the Very Reverend the Dean and Mrs. Vaughan, Father Migone, Mrs. Baker of North Finchley, Miss Salmon of Richmond, Mrs. Murdoch of West Kirby, Mrs. Aspinalls of Waterloo, Liverpool, and Mr. and Mrs. Hudson of Red Crossby, Liverpool.

Telegrams of congratulation were also received from "Mr. and Mrs. Rumbles, Nelson Jones, S. Brownell and J. Etheridge, South Georgia;" Captain Carlsen, Johansen and Sverdrup - the "Fleurus"; "Jonie, South Georgia;" and "Atkins, Blade and Lanning, South Georgia."

It is the first time a member of the Royal family has paid an official visit to Abyssinia. The Duke is taking many presents for the new emperor, including some sporting guns and several very valuable Abyssinian manuscripts that have been in England for centuries.

He will make the presentations immediately on his arrival at Merelik Palace at Addis Abada where a spacious suite of rooms, walled in mother-of-pearl and gold and hung with silkon tapestries, has been prepared for him.

The Duke will be the principal guest at the numerous ceremonies connected with the coronation which will last for a week. After the conclusion of the ceremonies the Duke will undertake a game hunting trip in the uplands of Abyssinia and before returning home from Aden will pay a semi-official visit to British Somaliland.

Boyd said they had been blown 400 miles from the course by a fifty miles-an-hour wind. Five hours before sighting land they found the petrol feed pump in the main tank clogged and there was nothing to be done but leave the tank and its 100 gallons of petrol overboard.

Stanley,
Falkland Islands.
Wednesday, 15th October, 1930.

'WELL DONE'.

Mr. Fleuret, Mr. Gleadell And Mr. Campbell

Stanley's Rousing Reception.

Home at last ! Ever since the joyful news of the Bisley Team's wonderful achievement in winning the Junior Kolapore Cup for the Falkland Islands Stanley has waited for the day when Mr. A.I. Fleuret, Mr. J.R. Gleadell and Mr. M. Campbell would return home again to receive the jubilant reception they so richly deserved from everyone - from the oldest inhabitant to the tiniest tot. And yesterday, with the coming of R.M.S. "Orita", the moment had arrived.

Arrangements had already been made for the formal welcome prior to the official reception. But long before 10.30 in the morning, when the "Penguin" was due to reach the Public Jetty with our successful marksmen on board, the whole town was agog with excitement. Even at day-break, with the earliest risers - and the welcome sun promising its beaming rays - "To-day is the Day" was the phrase on the lips of one and all.

Everywhere flags were hoisted and fluttered proudly in the breeze; Government House, houses and offices, works and stores were bedecked with a kaleidoscope of colour while at the Colonial Secretary's Office flew the signals "Welcome" and "Well Done."

As the appointed hour drew nigh all steps were turned to Ross Road and the Public Jetty even though the sun hid itself behind overcast clouds. Lorries, decorated and filled with elated men, lined up at the junction of the Jetty and Ross Road.

Thicker and thicker became the crowd and longer and longer it stretched towards the Cathedral. All the school-children wore there. Flags were grasped firmly in their hands; their eyes were round and large with their tightly pressed lips vehement with hurrahs for the home-comers when they passed by.

His Excellency the Governor stood at the Jetty steps with the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mrs. Ellis, the Hon. L.W.H. Young (Manager of the Falkland Islands Company Limited) and Mrs. Young with other members of both the Executive and Legislative Councils including Major the Hon. J.I. Moir (Commanding Officer of the Defence Force) and Lieutenant W.M. Allan (Adjutant).

The strains of bag-pipes, played by Mr. D. McPhee, broke the expectant silence as the "Penguin" approached the Jetty and as the launch drew along-side a resounding cheer rent the air, echoing the whole length of the packed platform to be taken up by the throng along Ross Road. The "Penguin" which had already saluted the team with six short blasts from her siren as she approached the "Orinoco" to receive them, accorded them a similar honour as Mr. A.I. Fleuret, with a modest but happy smile, jumped ashore.

His Excellency stepped forward and shook the captain heartily by the hand and with the words "Well done" patted him on the shoulder. Mr. Young also stepped forward to extend his congratulations. Mr. Gleadell and Mr. Campbell followed in the steps of Mr. Fleuret and as they were received everyone pressed eagerly to grasp their hands. At the same moment sirens and the bells of the Cathedral with those of St. Mary's Church broke out with a tumultuous clamour and everywhere along the route they were enthusiastically mobbed.

Our pride knew no bounds and our feelings no limit in their extasy. Never could these men have received a warmer or a more heartfelt welcome except that it might be from their mothers and kinsfolk who stood modestly in the back-ground looking, with what thoughts of contentment, on the well-earned acclamation showered upon their sons.

"Penguins prefer Perrier" is the title of a photograph in which is shown a Gentoo penguin drinking from an upturned bottle of the famous Perrier Water, and which was submitted for competition by the Hon. G. Roberts (Colonial Engineer) to Perrier Ltd., of Bankside, London, the producers of the well-known sparkling table water.

By the last mail Mr. Roberts learnt with a delight in which we all share that he had obtained second prize in this world wide competition, thereby winning a further honour for the Falkland Islands in the eyes of the world besides gaining for himself the handsome award of £15.

The announcement of the competition which appeared in an early number of "Punch" this year stated that Perrier Water is shipped to the remotest corners of the earth: in Africa even to the upper reaches of the Nile, the Zambesi and the Congo: in Asia to remote Teheran and Kabul: the whole American continent, even to the far distant Falkland Islands.

Three prizes were awarded - 1st : £25, 2nd £15 and 3rd £10 - for the most striking and original photographs sent in.

BOMBAY ROUND UP.

Congress House Confiscated.

News has been received that a complete round up has taken place in Bombay with a large number of raids in which 5,000 police have taken part.

The President and all the other officials of the Congress War Council were among the first prisoners.

Under the power of the Violence Ordinance Congress House was confiscated and the Congress flag was hauled down and the Union Jack hoisted. The building was placed under a guard armed with rifles and fixed bayonets.

Great excitement prevailed in the city and Congress enthusiasts called for a general hartal or mourning strike but this was only partially carried out.

The Stock Exchange closed in protest and efforts were being made on Wednesday to organise a week's hartal.

Among the stabler elements in the city the Government's action has been greatly appreciated since the Congress's tyranny towards traders and the public has been growing more oppressive.

SUMMER TIME IS WORKING TIME.

BUT THE WORK HAS TO BE DONE WHETHER WE HAVE SUMMER OR NOT.

Now hard work means heavy wear and tear on clothing, and, as everybody knows, cheap clothing only proves false economy. Of course by cheap we mean in quality and price.

Now on Saturday we are offering you good working trousers, "Granite", at an amazing price. Don't worry, the quality is there. In fact we ask you, has there been a West Store 'special' yet that was wanting in this respect.

The word 'granite' is synonymous with 'long wear' and 'durability', and, in the case of our Saturday bargain is well applied.

AGA KHAN IN THE LEAD.

Tops The Winning Owners.

With the addition of the victory of "Utmajeur" in the Cesarwitch the Aga Khan's horses have had a most successful season.

His colt "Blenheim" won the Derby, "Ruston Pasha" later won the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown which were worth over £10,000, his filly "Quarratain" won the Coronation Stakes at Ascot and "Lephare" won the Stewards' Cup at Goodwood.

Until this week the Aga Khan was second in the winning list of owners to Lord Glanelly but the successes of "Ruston Pasha" and "Utmajeur" have added some £14,000 to the stakes his horses have won this season and he now leads the winning owners with a total of £42,747.

The result of the Cesarwitch was a triumph for classic form as opposed to handicap form and "Utmajeur" was a class horse which the race handicapper underestimated in ability.

One of Lord Derby's two horses for the Cesarwitch met with a mishap in his box at Newmarket. It was discovered that a hock was sprained and the horse was immediately struck out of the race.

SKIRT LENGTH AND LITIGATION.

2½ Years' Case Settled.

The length of the skirt of Frau Muller of Cassel has been the subject of litigation in the Prussian courts for over two and a half years and the final opinion of the judge in the High Court was that the skirt was not short enough to justify the expulsion of the lady from a restaurant.

The skirt complained of was worn by Frau Muller one evening when she went to a Cassel hotel with her husband. After dinner Frau Muller danced with her husband.

But he was tall and she was short so, when she put her hand on his shoulder the skirt went up so that it almost showed her knees.

Following complaints Muller was asked to leave. Muller brought an action of slander against the manager and the manager brought an action against them for causing a disturbance in the hotel.

Muller won the first hearing but the manager appealed and for two and a half years the case has gone from court to court until on Tuesday the case reached the High Court in Berlin and was decided in Muller's favour.

THE JUNIOR KOLAPORE CUP.

Wednesday's Reception To Bisley Team.

The Bishop's Shield.

"A Remarkable Achievement" - Lord Passfield.

Hardly a single soul who could possibly avoid it was absent from the well decorated Town Hall, Stanley on Wednesday evening when the members of the Bisley Team - Mr. A.I. Fleuret, Mr. J.R. Gleadell and Mr. Mark Campbell - were officially welcomed home with the Junior Kolapore Cup at a dance organised by the Defence Force and associated bodies. Everybody was in as jubilant a frame of mind as one could possibly be and from the beginning of the jollifications there was continually a happy atmosphere prevailing among the throng of light-hearted dancers.

On the stage were arranged two tables covered with the Union Jack with several rows of chairs in the rear. At first the lilting music of the dance bands - "The Melody Sheiks" and the "Stanley Jazz" - enslaved the minds of all but, with the bag-pipes of Mr. D. McPhee supervening, these 'shackles' were cast off and the attention of the dancers became riveted to the stage where His Excellency the Governor sat with the members of the Council and their wives. Besides His Excellency there were present the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mrs. Ellis, the Hon. M.C. Craigie-Halkett (Colonial Treasurer) and Mrs. Halkett, Major the Hon. J.I. Moir and Mrs. Moir, the Hon. G. Roberts and Mrs. Roberts, the Hon. J.G. Felton and Mrs. Felton, the Hon. W.H. Luxton and Mrs. Luxton, Mrs. Young and Mr. G.R.L. Brown (Private Secretary).

Thunderous Applause.

As the strains of the bag-pipes died away and with the announcement of Major Moir, who is the Commanding Officer of the Defence Force, that His Excellency would welcome the Kolapore Cup Team, Mr. Fleuret advanced from the wings carrying the handsome and enormous trophy, followed by Mr. Gleadell, and Mr. Campbell (the other members of the Team present) with Lieut. W.M. Allan (Adjutant) who took up his position by the side of Major Moir. The Cup was placed on the nearer table while on the other was to be seen a handsome shield presented by His Lordship the Bishop together with a beautiful silver cup and replica presented by Major Malcolm Hay of Seaton as a challenge trophy to the Stanley Golf Club.

The announcement was the signal for thunderous applause. So loud and continuous was the clapping and cheering that the band themselves could hardly have heard their rendering of "See the Conquering

Saturday, 18th October, 1930.

Heroes Come." It was some minutes before Mr. Fleuret could manage to speak the words - "Your Excellency, we have much pleasure in handing to you on behalf of the Colony the Junior Kolapere Cup which we have brought back from Bisley."

Again the excited audience broke into cheering to become subdued as His Excellency in reply said - "Members of the Bisley Team, Honourable members of Council, Ladies and Gentlemen. In the name of the Colony and myself I deem it a great honour to receive this magnificent cup, so kindly presented by the 'Morning Post', and which our team have won. Now we have secured it I hope we shall keep the cup and that this trophy will find a permanent resting place in the Falkland Islands. (Loud applause.)

Rifle Shooting + In The Old Days And Now.

"A few days ago I was reading a book about Disraeli, and in it I noticed certain advice which was given to a member of Parliament who was about to make a speech. It was - firstly, eat sparingly at dinner; secondly, drink no wine; thirdly, keep something pleasing to end up with. I read, marked and inwardly digested that excellent advice so I hope my speech to-night will be a success ! (Laughter.)

"I will say a few words to you to-night about the Defence Force and rifle shooting because I shall never have such an opportunity again of addressing so large and representative an audience, and I am particularly glad Mr. Luxton is here because he will be able to convey to the West what I have said.

"First of all when I came to this Colony the Defence Force was small in numbers and rifle shooting had been neglected except in the case of a few enthusiasts. Steps were taken to remedy this and the position now is entirely different. Shooting has improved out of all knowledge and whereas in the old days scores in the eighties would win prizes now, nothing under ninety has a chance. This speaks for itself.

First Class Body Of Men.

"You all know that in our scheme of Empire Defence each Colony is expected to pull its weight and do its share, and this is only right and fair when we take into consideration the fact that we, in this Colony, do not pay sixpence either directly or indirectly, towards the cost of the Royal Navy.

"We therefore have our Defence Force. Now the members of this Force to be any use in war, and especially the kind of warfare we should have out here, must be good shots, if they fail in this they are simply an encumbrance and might as well not be soldiers at all. In fact I would rather have in action fifty first class shots than three hundred men who do not know how to use a rifle as it should be used.

"Now the men in the Force, all honour to them too, give up there spare time to become proficient. They suffer many hardships, as I know to my cost, on these bleak and exposed ranges. By this keenness and determination they have turned themselves into a really first class body of men who, in addition to the rifle, have become proficient with machine guns as well. They ask for no reward and get very little thanks.

Object Of Bisley Team And Fund.

"It was therefore with the object of trying in some small way to repay them for what they do that the Bisley Team was started. It gave each man something to work for; something to look forward to. It was a Great Adventure. To make the Team open to all it was necessary to provide funds, because many, if not most, of our men are working hard for their living, and have not money enough with a wife and family to support to leave the Colony. We are a long way from England and passages are expensive, and the object of this fund was simply to provide these passages which as a matter of fact are provided by other Colonies to the members of their teams. Let me make it quite clear the members of our Team are not being professionalised; their expenses in England are not paid; and that, by going home, however economically they live they are out of pocket.

"The Secretary of State is very anxious that teams should be sent from the different Colonies to fight at Bisley for the Kolapore. It is a splendid thing from the Empire point of view. Lord Jellicoe, Sir Cyril Fuller, Sir Lionel Fletcher and many other great and prominent men are whole-heartedly for it. In fact the advantages of this shoot must be obvious to everyone.

Others Interests & Amusements.

"The Colony as a whole is behind the movement as this very large and demonstrative gathering here to-night amply proves, (loud applause), but unfortunately there are a few people in the Colony who have given the movement no support and, in addition, have tried to discourage it.

"I would ask those gentlemen if they do not think it their duty to encourage the men who in time of danger they would be the first to make use of? Remember all that is asked of them is a 'God-Speed' and 'Good Luck to you.' The world would be a poor place if people never entered into others interests and amusements. Personally I am not particularly interested in crochet and needle-work yet I attend all the seances where intricate work of this description is performed and support the movement heart and soul. (Loud laughter and applause.)

"The Colony is getting on so well and we are all such a happy family that I do most earnestly hope that those who are Anti-Defence Force and Anti-Governor in this movement, will be Pro-Defence Force and Pro-Governor. (Loud and continued applause).

"Next year we shall have a very hard fight to retain the Cup as the Governors of Trinidad, the Gold Coast and the other Colonies will do their best to ensure that the Cup does not remain here. We can be perfectly certain of that. So we must get down to it and practice harder than we have ever done before. I am ambitious, I want next year not only to retain the Kolapore Cup but to win the Mackinnon as well. (Loud applause.)

Mr. Fleuret - A True Falkland Islander.

"I congratulate Mr. Fleuret, Mr. Gleadell, Mr. Campbell and Wing-Commander Turner on their achievement. I think it is a matter of extreme congratulation and satisfaction to us all that the first team who won the Cup was captained by a true Falkland Islander, born and bred. (Loud and prolonged applause.)

"Mr. Fleuret, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Gleadell had never been to Bisley before. They were unacquainted with the difficulties and intricacies of the Bisley range. There are no more 'tricky' ranges in the world. They stood the test well. I know how nerve-wracking it is shooting for a Colony when you think of all the people waiting to hear the results, and the really awful feeling that you may fail and let the team down. No it is no sinecure, and as for its being a joy-ride I can only say that Messrs. Gleadell and Campbell went home on a whaler. Think of the smell of the whale-oil? Who could have blamed them if they had broken down? (Laughter.)

"They have brought honour to the Colony and we shall never forget it. (Loud applause.)

The Bishop's Gift.

"I have great pleasure in presenting to you this handsome shield, suitably engraved, which has been given to the Colony by our much loved and respected Bishop. It has touched me more than I can say. It is such a gracious and thoughtful act. You can all see His Lordship is an optimist like myself for he has arranged for no less than ten blank miniature shields to be affixed to the big shield in order that the names of the teams may be inscribed thereon as we win it year by year. (Laughter and Applause.)

"I will now read out the Bishop's letter :-

"Your Excellency - In celebration of the victory of the Kolapore Team at Bisley, I formally present to the Island through Your Excellency a shield bearing the names and scores of the winning team. I originally promised a flag but on consideration decided that a shield would be more practical and effective. My idea, and I hope it will commend itself to all, is that only the names of the winning teams should be inscribed on the small shields as illustrated by that of the present year 1930. Your Excellency and those concerned will decide where this trophy should be placed.

"The value of the victory achieved is that it demonstrates the fact that it is possible for the Falkland Island team to win the Cup as competing against other similar Empire teams. I hope that it will be a matter of emulation in the Rifle Association to get their names perpetuated in this way, and that the general public will do all they can to make this annual competition possible in the future. With very genuine congratulations which I hope Your Excellency will make known, I am, yours sincerely, N.S. Falkland Isles."

Lord Passfield's Praise.

"In addition I have received the following despatch from the Secretary of State. I value it very highly as praise from the Secretary of State is seldom given and therefore doubly appreciated

"Sir, I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Despatch No. 131 of the 18th of July forwarding copies of the 'Penguin' containing an account of the rejoicings which took place in Stanley on the receipt of the news of the success of the Falkland Islands team entered for the Junior Kolapore at Bisley.

"2. I share the sense of satisfaction felt by you and by the Colony as a whole at the success achieved at Bisley by the local team, and I regard it as a remarkable achievement for so small and scattered a population. I have the honour to be, Sir, Your most obedient humble servant, (sgd) Passfield." (Loud and continued applause.)

"Also I have much pleasure in informing you that when I was at Weddell Island the other day Mr. Hamilton presented me with a cheque for £1,000 on behalf of the Colony. (I think it must have been a thank offering for our victory in the Kolapore, so already my policy has born good fruit pressed down and running over!) I cannot tell you how grateful I am for it will enable me to help many deserving causes. I know you will show your appreciation in the usual way. (Loud and Prolonged Applause.)

"For my part, I hope next year to be able to provide the Defence Force Funds with £300 as a help towards our local Bisley and the sending of the Team to England. (Prolonged and Continuous Applause.)

"In conclusion I have been asked by the Defence Force to thank all those who so kindly contributed to their funds, more especially to the Hon. George Bonner for his generous support and help, to the Civil Servants, to the Falkland Islands Company, to the Estate Louis

Williams, to the Scotts of New Island, the Smiths of Johnson's Harbour, the Pitalugas of Rincon Grande and Salvador and to many others too numerous to mention.

"I will now conclude by asking you to give three hearty cheers for the Bisley Team." (Cheers and Continued Applause.)

Mr. Fleuret's Response.

In his response to His Excellency Mr. Fleuret said : "I would prefer to be at Bisley lying on the 600 yards mound in the pouring rain than in my present awkward position trying to make a speech. But on behalf of the Team I should like to thank His Excellency for the very kind remarks he has made about us and after his excellent speech there appears little left for me to say but I feel I cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing to His Excellency and the Rifle Association and the Colony as a whole, our deep appreciation of the very hearty welcome extended to us on our arrival at Stanley yesterday.

"I cannot recollect having seen the Town Jetty so densely populated before. It would be difficult to explain in words how much this wonderful reception is appreciated by the Team and how much we would like to thank the Rifle Association and all the others concerned for arranging such a delightful dance.

"With regard to our victory, it is I think, unnecessary for me to state that it gives us the greatest pleasure to hand over this Trophy to the Colony of which we are so proud. (Loud Applause.)

"It was by no means easy. The wind and weather conditions were vile to say the least and great credit is due to Major Wright and Mr. Woodrow without whose valuable help the Cup might not have been in its present position (Loud Applause.) Both of these gentlemen are excellent coaches and we have found from experience that they could practice what they preached. We are also indebted to Sir Lionel Fletcher for his valuable assistance and the National Rifle Association for the many privileges granted to the Team, and the Hon. George Bonner for his kind help and also we are most grateful to His Lordship the Bishop and Capt. Coutts who entertained the Team after the meeting.

"As to the Mackinnon Cup I can only say how very disappointed we were, but I suppose we cannot be too greedy. Our one regret is that Wing-Commander Turner is not here to-night and how much we owe to him for helping us out of so difficult a position.

"In conclusion I should like once more to thank you all for the most wonderful welcome and we trust that the Bisley Team of next year will be successful in lifting both the Mackinnon as well as the Kolapore Cup." (Loud and continued Applause.)

After the cheering had died down somewhat Mr. Fleuret, escorted by Mr. Glendell and Mr. Campbell, carried the Cup across the Hall and placed it in the large and handsome cabinet on the south side where it will remain for the year. With the ceremony over the dance was resumed and continued until the early hours of the morning, broken only by the interval for the excellent refreshments provided by Mr. J.F. Summers and the announcement by Mr. G.R.L. Brown that His Excellency had received the following telegram from the Hon. L.W.H. Young who had just left the Colony for the United Kingdom by the "Oriza": "Respectfully request you convey my congratulations Bisley Team. Regret cannot be with you to-night."

And so concluded a celebration which will never be forgotten in the history of the Colony and which we trust may be repeated or more than one occasion.

ELECTRIC LIGHT EXTENSION.

Approval From Secretary Of State.

His Excellency has now received approval from the Secretary of State to proceed with the scheme for the extension of electric lighting in the town of Stanley.

The extension includes besides the lighting of private houses, the lighting of the new public baths and Gymnasium, the streets and the jetties. As is well known this measure which is being undertaken by the Government meets a need of long standing and is one which is very near to His Excellency's heart and has received His Excellency's careful consideration. The necessary material, including a twenty kilowatt Generator, is being ordered for supply by the first boat in 1931. Preliminary work in connection with the scheme will start at the beginning of the new year.

We are sure that our readers will welcome this final step in the progress of Stanley as a modern town and we look forward to the day when our brightly lighted streets will offer to ships in the harbour a panorama as alluring as those of sea-side resorts at home.

It is noteworthy that the scheme was very fully elaborated locally, without the aid of experts from outside, by Mr. F.A.W. Byron and the electrical staff working under His Excellency's personal direction. In this manner much unnecessary expense has been saved and local requirements have been specially studied. We have to offer our warm congratulations to His Excellency, Mr. Byron and all concerned on the successful outcome of their endeavours for the welfare of the community.

THE KING'S NURSE.

Permanent Appointment For

Sister Black.

Sister Catherine Black, who nursed the King during his illness last year, has been appointed permanently to be the King's nurse, and apartments at Buckingham Palace have been allocated to her.

Apart from a brief period in July last year when she was taken ill and had to go to a London Hospital, she has remained in attendance on the King since his illness.

It has been emphasised in Court Circles that the appointment of Sister Black is not to be taken as any indication that the King is not enjoying good health, and undue significance is not to be attached to it. It is described as being a measure of precaution.

As Sister Black had remained with the King so long, it was felt better that she should be appointed permanently. The appointment was made some time ago.

AMERICAN CRAZE FOR RECORDS.

The "Tree-Sitters."

America's youth appears to have gone marathon-crazy. All over the country boys and girls are sitting on trees, on flag-poles and on lamp-posts in search of ephemeral fame. Others are pedalling bicycles in endless circles, and still others are dancing; and in one place West Virginia, a water-wing contest is in progress.

The craze started recently when a boy "tree-sitter" perched himself on a bough and announced that he would sit there indefinitely. He stayed for nearly two days, but his example spread over the length and breadth of the land, and the business of endurance records is now rapidly becoming an epidemic.

In Chicago two girls, aged twelve and fourteen, started a see-saw marathon, being re-fueled from time to time with fruit, cake and sandwiches, but were finally compelled to dismount by an unimaginative policeman.

Some youngsters have even equipped themselves with comfort contrivances and their roosts with electric lights and fans.

In many instances the parents are capitalising the craze and are charging admission fees, but this is too much for the New York "Evening Post", which describes the thing as a scandal and really dangerous from the point of view of health.

SI SUBMARINE TO THE POLE.

Sir Hubert Wilkins's Equipment.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, who visited the Falkland Islands last year on his way to the Antarctica, hopes to begin his submarine voyage to the North Pole next May or June, starting from Spitzbergen. From there he hopes to drive his submarine under the Arctic ice pack, across the North Pole, and down the other side of the world to Unalaska, on the Bering Sea.

The submarine to be used on the trip, the old Navy 012, renamed "Nautilus", after Jules Verne's ship, is being fitted out at the Philadelphia navy yard, United States, under the direction of Commander Gleason Danahower, who will be her skipper on the Arctic voyage. She will carry a crew of eighteen.

While abroad, Sir Hubert Wilkins enlisted the services of Dr. H.U. Sverdrup, the Norwegian meteorologist, who is an expert on Arctic currents and conditions, and Dr. Vening Meenesz, the Dutch scientist.

The "Nautilus" is being equipped with ice-bering apparatus, which will make it possible for the crew to get air no matter how thick the ice above them. She will be equipped with wireless so that they will be in constant touch with the outside world.

Sir Hubert believes he will be taking less risk than he did in his flight across the Arctic circle from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen.

RECORD FLIES PROGRESS.

Kingsford-Smith's Set Back.

The England to Australia flight is being watched with keen interest. Lieut. Hill, on the twelfth day of his journey in a private Moth aeroplane was reported on Friday to be on the way from Bima to Atambua on Timor Island. It was understood he hoped to reach Darwin early Saturday morning.

Captain Kingsford Smith, who left England four days after Hill took off was making for Sourabaya from Singapore in his Avro-Avian monoplane early Saturday morning and was expected to reach Port Darwin yesterday.

"It is a good race with Hill" was how many described Captain Kingsford Smith's dash half-way across the world when he left Singapore. When he arrived at Sourabaya he spoke on the wireless telephone to Sydney and sent a message to his fiancée in Australia "Everything O.K."

Lieutenant Hill, who took off from England on October 5th, left Bima for Atambua on the thirteenth day of his journey and proposed to make the last stage of his flight, 500 miles in length, at night-time.

A later message states that Captain Kingsford Smith was forced to return to Atambua Saturday afternoon owing to the strong headwinds over the Timor Sea. But in spite of that delay he hoped to reach Darwin by Sunday.

Another race-horse trainer, the third in a month, has been warned off the turf. This action was taken following the announcement issued by Messrs. Weatherby, the Secret Jockey Club.

The Acting Stewards of the Ayr September Meeting met on the 7th of October to receive the result of an examination which was ordered to be made of "Tyrant" after running in the Buchanan Selling Handicap.

The Stewards of the Jockey Club met on the 17th of October and after a further investigation satisfied themselves that a drug had been administered to the horse for the purpose of the race.

They disqualified the horse from running again under their rules and warned off Mr. W.J. Gale from Newmarket Heath.

GUN REGISTRATION ORDINANCE.

We have been asked to elucidate a misunderstanding which appears to be current in regard to the effects of the recently enacted Gun Registration Ordinance.

Under the Ordinance the annual tax payable is on the gun, and no personal tax is levied. For example, under the old system every person using a gun whether or not it was the same gun, was liable to pay 10/- a year. Now, provided that the tax of 5/- a year is paid on the one gun, it is immaterial how many persons carry or use this same gun.

And so, if on a station there are ten men using two guns, under the new Ordinance they have to pay two Registration licences a year at the total cost of 10/- whereas previously they would have had each to take out separate gun licences costing 10/- or 25 in all.

ARGENTINA'S NAME.

Argentina writes "Observator" in the "Observer", which concluded its week-end revolution with the minimum disturbance of traffic, is, like Greenland, one of the countries which have managed to get the wrong name.

Though, on breaking away from Spain in 1816, the Republic took the name of "Provincias Unidas del Rio de la Plata" (United Provinces of the Silver River), there is no silver. The silver was an unwarranted deduction from a handful of silver ornaments which Sebastian Cabot obtained from the Indians and sent home in 1526, backed by the fabulous stories of the wealth of Peru.

Nor, indeed, is there a "Rio" de la Plata any more than there is a "Rio" de Janeiro.

AIRMAN'S RECORD FLIGHT.

Australia In 10 Days.

Wing Commander Kingsford Smith landed at Port Darwin, Australia on Sunday completing on the eleventh day of his flight the ten thousand four hundred miles journey from England to Australia.

He has thus beaten by a very large margin Bert Hinkler's record of fifteen and a half days which has withstood so many other attacks upon it.

Kingsford Smith left Oreydon aerodrome at 5.30 a.m. on the ninth of October and by Greenwich mean time reckoning the flight may justify the claim to have been completed within ten days.

He left Timor Island early Sunday morning and landed at Port Darwin at two o'clock in the afternoon local time. He received an overwhelming reception.

His small single seater Avro Avian machine with 120 horse power Gipsy engine is the latest model of the same type used by Hinkler on the Australian flight. It has not given him a moment's anxiety on the long journey.

The aviator has made possibly the most remarkable long distance flight in the history of aviation. When he left England he was suffering from the effects of an operation and was advised by his doctors not to fly. In disregarding their injunctions he added another record to the many achievements to his credit which include flights round the Australian coast, across the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans and a flight round the world.

It is understood he will proceed to Sydney from Port Darwin via Broken Hill.

MRS. VICTOR BRUCE'S FLIGHT TO JAPAN.

Down In A Sandstorm.

Details have reached England of the experiences of Mrs. Victor Bruce, the English woman who recently set out in a single seater machine on a flight to Japan.

She made good progress until after leaving Bushire when she encountered a violent sandstorm. She attempted to land on what seemed hard sand but sank into it and overturned.

Baluchi tribesmen appeared on the scene and seemed hostile but she made friends with them by interesting them in an alarm clock and by dancing and singing to them.

After some nights in the desert living on water and dates given by the tribesmen she persuaded the chief to send a message to Jask, forty miles distant and three Englishmen came to her help. They mended the aeroplane and Mrs. Bruce flew it to Jask with one of them, Mr. Wilson, an Imperial Airways engineer lying along the fuselage.

LATE PRESIDENT HARDING'S MEMORIAL.

No One To Undertake Dedication Ceremony.

The New York correspondent of the "Daily Mail" reports that the memorial to Warren G. Harding, the President of the United States concerning whose death in 1923 amazing allegations have been made, awaits dedication at his home town of Marion.

But none can be found who will undertake the ceremony. Those responsible for its erection - the funds were collected by public subscription - say that unless President Hoover will honour the dead man, who was once the leader of the Republican Party and holder of the greatest office in the United States, none shall dedicate the memorial.

Mr Coolidge has already refused and White House are remaining silent.

The desire that President Hoover and the Republicans should bury the late President's memory coincides with the remarkable fact that Harding's life and death are being more intimately discussed throughout America to-day than any time since the war. This is largely due to a book - "The Strange death of President Harding" - which attaches significance to the fact that Mrs. Harding was alone with her husband for a few minutes before he expired.

THE FANCY DRESS DANCE.

The Fancy Dress Dance, organised by the Executive Committee of His Excellency's Play and under the personal supervision of His Excellency, which is to take place to-morrow evening in the Town Hall, promises to be one of the most fascinating of its kind ever seen in the Colony.

Everywhere rumours are current of the fantastic figures and fairylike forms expected to be present to give the added charm and novelty such an event should command.

We hear there is to be a Rajah among the motley throng and an Eastern Princess too; a Penguin and a Pirate attracted by the glamour and forsaking their daily quest for spoil - fish and the forgotten treasures of Peru.

Ladies in exalted rank and old world costumes we hope to see while it is an open secret that Prince Charming is to be represented by at least one gallant gentleman. But how many other beaux will cajole for ladies favours brilliantly arrayed, and how many will appear in their habitual hues no one can say. We learn though that the Sporting Chappie with opera hat complete will be among the throng contrasted with the Sinister Chinaman who let us hope will not have occasion to endorse what oaths he might make at the expense of the caterer's crockery.

TERRIBLE MINE DISASTER.

88 Killed: 160 Men In Danger Of Their Lives.

The "Daily Mail" news bulletin broadcast on Tuesday evening reported a terrible mine disaster in England, but owing to "jamming" by ships the actual name of the place where the catastrophe has occurred is not available at the moment.

The Bulletin states it is officially declared that fifty-two men have been killed and seventy-six injured. There were nineteen dead above ground and thirty-three below. There are between 150 and 180 men still in the mine and it is doubtful whether they can be saved.

It is believed that the explosions were caused by an oil tank 250 yards below the surface which in turn fired a store of dynamite kept on the same level. The flames rising in the shaft caused the explosion of a benzol store below the offices which blew them into the air. The noise of these explosions was heard ten miles away.

Rescue parties established pipe-used telephonic communications with the entombed men. Food has been passed to them and they report they are as comfortable as can be expected but fire-damp was making their position precarious. There is also danger of flooding.

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENTS IN ENGLAND.

Automatic Train Control.

An interesting development in railway operating methods is announced by the Great Western Railway which proposes to equip 1,760 miles of track embracing all its principal main line route and 2,000 engines with its own system of automatic train control.

The system gives audible warning to the engine driver of the status of the signal and, in the event of danger, the signal will automatically pull up the train if it passes and before it gets to the next signal.

Work is to be begun at once on the further enlargement of the Southern Railway's extension scheme at Southampton docks under which some 3,500 feet of deep water quays, suitable for the accommodation of vessels of fifty foot draft, together with cranes, berths and railways and all modern accessories are to be constructed at an estimated cost of three millions sterling.

The work will take about five years to complete. The Government have agreed to give financial help under the Development Loans Guarantees and Grants Act.

The scheme also includes the reclamation of about two hundred acres of mudland.

BURGLING A TEXAS COW-PUNCHER.

A Race Down The Garden Path.

A burglar believed to be wounded by one of four shots fired at him by an ex-Texas cow-puncher, as he raced from a shop in Hockley, Essex on Thursday, is being sought for by the police.

He was disturbed on the premises of Mr. Alan Frewin, who keeps a general shop in the high road, shortly after midnight; and Frewin has a wounded arm as a result of the encounter.

Frewin told a "Daily Mail" representative - "I could have hit him easily as he ran down the garden path but I didn't know my legal status so I just aimed low. I've been a cow-puncher in Texas and always keep a six-shooter and a loaded case in my bed-room.

"As I crept towards the kitchen I felt something hard pushed into the small of my back. Someone shouted 'Put your hands up, and let me go. If you don't I'll shoot. I'm desperate.' I swung round and hit the man on the shoulder. My left arm went red hot as he flung himself past me into the garden. I raced after him and, as I was afraid of killing him, I shot low."

R.R.S. "WILLIAM SCORESBY" SETS OUT.

Presentations To Mr. Roy And Mr. Sutherland.

The R.R.S. "William Scoresby" sails from London next Tuesday to resume her ~~researches~~ in the Antarctic and the neighbouring seas on which she has been employed since 1926. These investigations are being carried out by the Discovery Committee on behalf of the Falkland Islands Government to whom the vessel belongs.

It was by her assistance that Sir Hubert Wilkins carried out his exploration from the air of the Antarctic territories near Graham's Land last summer.

The "William Scoresby" is only 134 feet long but has oil fuel to carry her four thousand miles. By a large steam winch she can work a small trawl in over three thousand fathoms. Echo-sounding gear enables her to sound down to about 130 fathoms and a Lucas sounding machine has five thousand fathoms of wire. She has two small engines for working water bottles, fine silk nets and other scientific gear and carries a laboratory.

The purpose of her investigations is primarily the advancement of knowledge as to the distribution, migrations and conditions which affect whales but she also attends to the possibility of fishing development. She has already conducted valuable trawling surveys around the Falkland Islands and will make others on reaching the south.

Her complement will consist of seven officers and sixteen petty officers and men commanded by Lieutenant Commander Irving.

Before she sails presentations will be made by the underwriters to Messrs. Roy and Sutherland, her Chief Engineer and Artificer respectively, for their gallant action in diving repeatedly in icy waters off South Georgia to free the propeller when entangled with the trawl.

Drivers who race on the track have been asked to point out the places where the worst bumps occur.

Treasure Of Vanished Lake.

A message from Kentmere, Westmoreland, states that Mr. J.T. Brown, a mining engineer of Buxton, found a green clod of earth which, on examination, was found to be pure diatomaceous earth siliceous deposit, a substance which has many commercial uses.

A survey revealed the fact that he had discovered what may prove to be one of the largest deposits of diatomite in the world. The find was made on the bed of a vanished lake which covers over 160 acres and has an earth deposit three feet thick.

Hitherto Great Britain has been paying the United States and Germany about £20 a ton for diatomite.

THE FANCY DRESS DANCE.

Last Friday's Evening Of Fun.

The Speeches.

For many moons past a veiled expectancy has dominated those in Stanley who have been preparing for the Fancy Dress Dance given in the Town Hall on Friday to the adult members of the Governor's Pantomime and organised by the Executive Committee under the personal supervision of His Excellency. But this only served to stimulate surprise and admiration for the beautiful dresses and fine costumes observed. It would be impossible, however, to describe the fascinating scene of the dancers in their varied hues and to do adequate justice to the merits of each.

Amid the throng, happy and gay, we saw "Dolly Varden" dancing with an Indian Rajah. Here was a Spanish lady no doubt comparing the suitability of fashions with ladies of the Fourteenth and Early Nineteenth Centuries, and there a Persian lady seemed quite at ease with a Sporting Chappie and his implaments while sedate ladies of the Eighteenth Century mixed with Apache and "Query" men. Elsewhere an Eastern Princess indulged in occult art with the "Rainbow" and we caught glimpses of a Parsee lady, a Red Indian Squaw, Eastern Dancing Girls, a Russian Rose, and a Japanese Lady with a regular Beau Brummel mingling among pierots and pierrettes.

"Monkey Brand" - a fearsome character - rubbed shoulders with Pimpo the Clown, a Cowboy, complete with six-shooter, brought himself into prominence with a speeding rodeo, unaware of the close attention of the Sheriff in the band but watched indulgently by a sinister Chinaman and a Tramp in his own placid way. We saw also an Eastern Slave somewhat piqued with the "fascination" caused by his arms, and a figure which swept the floor in a white duck suit as the "Aspiration of the Falklands."

Another Performance.

During the course of the evening His Excellency the Governor rose, and, after a few warm words of welcome, spoke of his sincere appreciation of all the cast and helpers had done in the Plays and the excellent results attained. He himself knew what an enormous amount of time had been spent both by the children and the others in the Pantomimes which, he added amid laughter, had now become a secondary branch of the Civil Service for which people nominated their children quite young.

In February next year, His Excellency continued, they were going to give another performance when the Commander-in-Chief, Vice-Admiral Vernon Haggard, visited the Colony. He was certain they were all looking forward to having the Play again to relieve the monotony of the winter months and to cause fun and amusement; and for that reason alone the justification of the Pantomime was assured.

His Excellency hoped very much that they would all enjoy the dance and he thanked all those who had done so much towards making the event so great and happy an occasion. In conclusion the Governor said that having seen such wonderful fancy dresses there that evening he felt certain that when the Fancy Dress Dance, to be given in honour of H.M.S. "Despatch" early next year, was held it would be an unqualified success. (Applause.)

In response to His Excellency, Mr. G.R.L. Brown (chairman of the Executive Committee) said he was certain they would give a bumper show when the Admiral of the Fleet came to Stanley.

It was just three years ago since the Plays were first introduced by His Excellency and if they looked back they could well see the important part these had played in the life of the town. The amusement and pleasure that was to be obtained from them had afforded a unique opportunity to the young people for developing their exceptional talents in dancing and acting. The Plays had also raised nearly a hundred pounds for charitable purposes. (Applause.)

In speaking of the gentleman who took the part of Zachariah Fee, Mr. Brown said, he noticed he had been growing a moustache but that evening he saw Mr. Fee had developed a pig-tail: he envied him the versatility of hair production (Laughter.)

The Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) stepped forward in fancy dress and thanked His Excellency and the Committee very much for the jolly evening, at the same time, amid laughter and applause, apologising for his "unorthodox costume" which was in danger of collapse by reason of the loss of a vital safety pin.

From beginning to end the evening was one riot of fun and laughter. A deep debt of gratitude is due to the bands - "The Melody Sheiks" and the "Stanley Jazz" - for their music of the latest tunes and to Mr. J.F. Summers for the delightful refreshments served on the stage beneath fairy lights arranged by the T. and T. Department. The costumes and dresses brought with them the spirit of the sun and it seems the weather clerk has taken this hint to heart so now perhaps we have a remedy for his past bitter ills and duck suits may become more than an aspiration.

ROYAL WEDDING.

New Queen Of Bulgaria.

King Boris of Bulgaria and Princess Giovanna of Italy, the third daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, was married in the Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi on Saturday.

There is no secret that when she visited the tomb of St Francis in Assisi in June and other sanctuaries made immortal by his footsteps, she visited them for prayer and contemplation.

The sequel to this was that when her betrothal was announced a month ago, the marriage on which she meditated was arranged to take place in Assisi with as little pomp as possible and in as close a manner as possible to the Franciscan spirit.

The royal couple are being married by Friar Antonio Maria Riso, the custodian of the Basilica and scientist of some repute. During the ceremony one hundred and fifty Friars chanted "Canticle of God's Creation" written by St. Francis himself. There bridal attendants will be three hundred little children of Assisi.

THE BISLEY TEAM.

Passages By The "Melville."

It is with much pleasure that we learn from Mr. Neilson, the manager of the whaling factory "Melville", that the two members of our Bisley Team who travelled to England last year by this ship made themselves most popular with all on board. So much so that Mr. Neilson has kindly offered to do everything in his power for the team which will be sent next year.

Mr. Neilson hopes that he may be able to take them all the way to England but in any case he has promised to provide passages to Monte Video by the "Melville".

On behalf of the Colony we wish to express to Mr. Neilson and to the owners of the "Melville", the Hector Whaling Company, our warm appreciation of this generous offer.

VISIT OF H.M.S. "DESPATCH".

Fancy Dress Dance In Honour Of Vice-Admiral Haggard.

In view of the great success which attended the dance given in the Town Hall on Friday last by the Committee of the Zachariah Lee Revue, it has been decided definitely that the Colony Dance in honour of the visit to Stanley of the Commander-in-Chief in February next shall also be in fancy dress.

His Excellency has written to Vice-Admiral Haggard informing him of this arrangement and asking that the officers and men of H.M.S. "Despatch" may be permitted to come in fancy dress and may be given plenty of warning before-hand so that they can prepare their costumes.

His Excellency has further invited Vice-Admiral Haggard to be good enough to judge the Stanley costumes in which case His Excellency will himself judge the ship's costumes.

We need hardly say how much we hope the sailors of H.M.S. "Despatch" will appear in fancy dress when the success of this dance to which we are all so eagerly looking forward will be more than ever assured.

It is officially understood in Berlin that twenty were killed and thirty-five wounded aboard the German liner "Baden" by a shell exploding from Chaopachana as the steamer was leaving the harbour at Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian Embassy in London says that a statement has been received that ex-President Washington Luiz has handed the Government over.

But a Router Bulletin from Rio de Janeiro announces that the ex-President is a prisoner in the barracks of the Third Infantry Regiment.

Rio de Janeiro city has resumed its normal aspect. The new provisional government has been formed and the names of the ministers announced. The officers of the army and navy who have taken charge of the city have issued a proclamation asking both sides to suspend hostilities and support the policy of the peace movement.

MUSSOLINI TICKLES MARS.

Cannon Balls And Fine Words.

Speaking at Florence Mussolini referred to his sensational speeches at Florence and Milan last May and derided Italy's attitude to the rest of the world on Monday on the occasion of the ninth anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome.

He said "A moral war is being waged against us and side by side with it, preparations for a war of fire and steel are being hastened forward.

"Italy will arm herself because other nations are arming. We will dis-arm when everyone else dis-arms. A revision of the peace treaties would be to the interest of the whole world. The pretence that treaties cannot be changed is absurd.

The Duce added that next year the Fascist militia and cadets would give a display of might such as had never been seen before. He repeated his words uttered in May that cannon balls were far more beautiful than fine words which are often vain.

GIANT COLLIERY MERGER.

£20,000,000 Involved.

A giant merger of all the Lancashire and Cheshire collieries was decided upon at Manchester on Monday by the owners and representatives of the whole of the vast coal-fields in both counties.

The scheme involves twenty million pounds capital; it will amalgamate about 140 collieries and affect 90,000 workers. Applying as it does both to the working and distributing sides of the industry it is in effect one of the greatest attempts at rationalisation ever made in Great Britain.

Orders for 640,000 tons of coal have been placed with Welsh exporters, and a contract for 340,000 tons of coal for the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean Railway is to be carried out by two Cardiff collieries. Other contracts include 150,000 tons each for the French State and Southern Railways.

Villagers Massacred.

News from Tokio announces that, on Tuesday, troops were being rushed up to the dangerous mountain trails in the Horisha district, central Formosa, where head hunters had attacked and destroyed a dozen police out-posts.

Official reports state that it is believed that about twenty police were killed. The first detachment was expected to arrive late Tuesday evening.

Meanwhile some 2,000 savages attacked a village called Musha, a hundred Japanese residents and a small detachment of police resisting them. An accompanying aeroplane reported that on Tuesday afternoon the savages banners were in the village indicating its capture and the probable massacre of the inhabitants.

According to one report 190 Japanese, including 20 school-girls have been massacred.

THE R. 101. ENQUIRY.

Secret Document On Opening Day.

In his opening speech at the Public Enquiry on Tuesday into the R. 101 disaster which had not concluded when the Court adjourned until Wednesday, the Attorney General, Sir William Jowitt, said that every possible factor which could throw light on the tragedy would be brought out publicly.

He had obtained special permission to hand a copy of a secret document to the Court to read the material passages from it. He added "Departmental letters and Departmental minutes are always most jealously guarded. But I have thought it right without making any precedent, to put before you and the public every scrap of documentary evidence which exists. Whether that evidence exists in the files of the Air Ministry or any other quarter, I propose to put it before you and make it public."

A moving reference to the R. 101 disaster was made early in the proceedings of the House of Commons on Tuesday afternoon. Speaking after the address in reply to the King's speech had been moved and seconded, Mr. Baldwin said that anything thereon the Premier might think fit to say would have the heartfelt sympathy and support of every man of the opposition side of the House.

"Apart from the public tragedy we feel a profound sympathy with the Prime Minister in the loss of Lord Thomson, who was not only a colleague but a proved and well-beloved friend", added Mr. Baldwin.

Speaking a little later Mr. MacDonald expressed the grief of the House for those who had died together and appropriately shared a common grave. Their leader was a devoted friend and a man who was also a great Minister devoted to the service of the State in many fields of action. He was an inspiring head of a department of gallant pioneers in whose ranks had been enlisted some of the finest, most single-minded and most promising of British youth.

The Premier added an expression of special gratitude to M. Tardieu and France and the people of Beauvais for the practical sympathy they had shown.

SATURDAY'S DRESS REHEARSAL.

Impressions Of A Mariner.

(Contributed.)

With the usual characteristic thoughtfulness of His Excellency the Governor, the personnel of the N.Y. "Florida" were invited to witness a full dress rehearsal of His Excellency's production "Zachariah Tee Revue" on Saturday evening when Mrs. Hodson was also present among the audience.

The title seemed formidable to we mariners and all were agog with curiosity as to the class of entertainment we were to see. With trepidation we entered the portals of the Town Hall and those who may have been sceptical were immediately surprised to hear the strains of excellent music from the Local Broadcasting Station.

The Revue commenced with a musical pot-pouri very ably rendered by the Orchestra. His Excellency in a neat little speech made us very welcome. The first act rather took our breath away. The talent displayed astounded us, and we all leaned further back in our seats to thoroughly enjoy the fare provided. The Stanley Girls were perfect in rhythm and the Chorus Girls were beautiful to behold and danced with grace. The Elves and Fairies were marvellous. The Minstrels proved a very good diversion, and the singing and humour very acceptable.

The Children's bedroom greatly amused us. The easy facility with which they spoke their lines was wonderful. The remainder of Act I was very enjoyable and we greatly admired the Maypole Dance, the Pose Dance and the Musical Moments.

The Children's Schoolroom Scene made the whole audience rock with laughter and the comical efforts took the house by storm; this scene was a riot. The Horn Pipe and La Pons Chantant were very enjoyable features and we were amazed at the agility and grace of the dancers.

The downfall of Tee was much deserved and he received scant sympathy from the audience. The remainder of Act II was just as good. The Galley Slave Scene deserves particular commendation; the Christmas Tree Scene was an inspiration. "I don't want to play in your yard" was admirably performed. The Pastoral Gavotte deserves great praise.

In Act III the quartette were very funny and the dances just as good. To finish up we thoroughly enjoyed the excellent way the Sea Shanties were rendered by the whole company.

To sum up, we had a feast of excellent enjoyment. The dancing, weaving intricate patterns, and like lit points on a map, flashed to and fro casting a warm radiance and leaving an echoing spell. The direction was admirable and the whole Revue went off with verve and spirit. Great commendation is due to the Managers, Committee, and the ladies and gentlemen who arranged the dances. A very able orchestra was equal to all demands and played magnificently. The book is very cleverly written and the comedy showed some budding George Robey's. We loved the Fairies. The scenic and lighting effects were very good and materially assisted in making the Revue such a success. The dresses were beautiful and displayed the great taste of the designers.

This is really a splendid Revue that His Excellency has produced and is certain to be greatly appreciated and enjoyed by H.M.S. "Dragon".

W.S.

His Excellency the Governor wishes to express his deep appreciation of the manner in which the cast and orchestra and all those who assisted in any way whatsoever in the dress rehearsal of "Zachariah Tee Revue" carried out their parts on Saturday evening.

SERIOUS POSITION IN EGYPT.

The "Daily Mail" reports that the Wafd, the anti-British and extreme Nationalist party in Egypt, are determined to win supreme power by whatever means possible.

Developments followed swiftly on the breakdown early in May of the London negotiations for the Anglo-Egyptian Alliance. The leading Wafdists in London and Cairo openly talk of the "coming revolution".

They discuss the respective advantages (for themselves) of an Egyptian Republic with Nahas Pasha, who the other day drove a motor car into a row of bayonets and provoked riot and bloodshed, as its first president.

Alternatively they speak of the deposition of King Fuad to be succeeded by his son Prince Fawouk, who is ten years old, the country to be ruled by a regency which, of course, will be exclusively Wafdist. To carry this through they hope to get British Socialist support.

TEST MATCH.

Rain Spoils Play.

Owing to heavy rain on Sunday night and frequent showers during the day yesterday play in the Third Test Match at Leeds was restricted to less than one hour.

A large crowd waited patiently throughout the day but the wicket was soaked and there were several pools in the outfield. The pitch was being constantly inspected by the captains and the umpires and at five o'clock preparations were made for the resumption of play which began at 5.30.

Three-quarters of an hour later bad light stopped the game thirty runs having been added to England's score without further loss of wickets. Hammond's score now stands at 73 and Duckworth's 15.

A TRIBUTE TO STANLEY GOLF CLUB.

(Contributed.)

The game, which originated in Scotland and which will for ever be associated with its rolling, sandy stretches, is happily no longer confined to that little country. In every corner of the Empire can be seen happy, or unhappy, pursuers of the "wee, white ball" over stretches of land ranging from the baked hard ground of India to the verdant springy turf of England.

Here in Stanley we are privileged to play over the most southerly course of the British Empire, a course which, considering the nature of the ground in these rocky islands, would do credit to the records of Braid and Taylor, had they been fortunate enough to be concerned in its construction.

Certainly we cannot rival the undulating dunes of St. Andrews or North Berwick but our course ranks rather with the inland courses of the world and I venture to suggest that it holds its own. Around any of the large cities in Britain we find many golf-courses of varying merit. Many of these are very, very fine from the point-of-view of smoothness of turf, culminating in greens of lawn-like surface but they do not provide the test of a good golfer as does Stanley.

Anyone who can wield a club is capable of rolling up to a green, even 500 yards distant, in three strokes and, without great skill in avoiding the few sandy pits, may secure an easy par five. Can the same be said of Sullivan? There we have a hole calculated to test the ingenuity of even the best players. Several pit-falls lie between the tee and the green and the outstanding feature of the green itself is the beauty of the natural guard formed around the hole by the ditch in front, the boundary fences behind and to the right, and the phalanx of small rocks to the left which utterly preclude any chance of "sneaking in" with a badly-played approach.

By contrast let us consider the shorter holes. The par three on the course would seem to a visitor a ridiculously easy hole. An uphill shot of 124 yards with no hazard immediately below the hole. Why! it's a stone-cold three. And so one thinks until the ball has left the club. The perfectly placed shot lands on the green and with great ease runs a yard or so beyond. So far, so good; then comes a test of approaching and putting which frays the nerves of the score-seeker and adds the zest of uncertainty to the match-player. Even a scratch player can acquire at the Race-course a nasty seven to "spoil his medal round". The other short hole which seems to me to rival the best that Scotland can produce is Redan, the second. Guarded this time by a bank above and below, the hole is a tricky one, even with the assistance of the finest green on the course.

Thinking in retrospect, then of courses we have known, spectacularly laid-out to strike terror into the hearts of the weak in spirit, we should remember that it is not the obvious difficulty in life which proves the greatest obstacle. Many a horse has safely passed Beecher's Brook only to stumble near the winning post. On paper Stanley Golf Course looks easy; in theory it ought to be a place to spend a happy afternoon "pottering around" with a few practice clubs; in actual play it provides opportunity for the use of every club sanctioned by the Royal and Ancient and practice in all the shots required over a championship round.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS CRASH.

Three Passengers Killed.

Three persons were killed and two passengers and the pilot injured when the Imperial Airways liner "City of Washington", bound for Croydon from Paris with the Indian Air Mail, crashed on Thursday at Neufchatel, Northern France and between Le Touquet and Boulogne.

The dead are Mr. Street a passenger and the American secretary of G.W. Garnrick and Company of Newark, New Jersey, A.C. James Imperial Airways ground engineer of Bristol and F.H. Mason 'planes engineer of Croydon.

The injured are F.B. Tomkins and H. Bolsover both of Manchester and J.J. Flynn the pilot who was on the reserve of R.A.F. officers. Tomkins crawled badly injured from the wreckage and wandered about for nearly two hours before finding help.

The conditions of the injured are aggravated by the fact that they lay in the field for nearly three hours. One of the two engines of the 'plane failed and the pilot in trying to land in a fog dived into the hills.

With the exception of the fuselage, the liner was totally wrecked. The Post Office states that the mails are safe. The 'plane fortunately did not catch fire.

SUCCESS OF BROADCASTING EXPERIMENT.

The British Broadcasting Corporation announced on Monday evening that the experiment of broadcasting simultaneously in three continents the speeches in Europe, America and Asia, in connection with the London Naval Treaty, was a great success.

This is the first time in history that the three continents have been included in one broadcast. The Radio reception spanned, in addition, to the three continents, nearly 12,000 miles with fifteen hours difference and the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Claims For New Engine.

Striking new claims are made for a new high-speed heavy oil engine which was publicly demonstrated for the first time in London on Thursday.

Rating at 95 horse power, it is claimed that the engine can be run on fuel costing four-pence a gallon, and for double mileage to the gallon. It is also stated that its exhaust fumes are non-poisonous and with it driving is trouble free.

£400,000 has been spent by the Associated Equipment Company, the builders of London's taxis in perfecting the engine six of which will have a trial in the passenger service next week.

It is estimated that the saving to the London General Omnibus Company, if this engine replaces the present petrol driven units, will be about £800,000 a year.

AMERICAN LOAN FOR NEW SOUTH WALES.

Premier Says Nout.

American interests are stated to have made a loan offer to Mr. Lang, the New South Wales labour leader who is succeeding Mr. Bavin as the State Premier following last week's general election victory.

The sum offered is said to be up to fifteen million sterling at 6½ per cent but Mr. Lang refused to confirm or deny the report.

The report is possibly founded on the fact that American trading banks are anxious to operate in Australia, their previous attempts in this direction having failed.

Mr. Lang's government will be unable to borrow so long as New South Wales remains a member of the Australian Loan Council, a joint body which deals with all government borrowing in the Commonwealth.

GENERAL SMUTS AND PALESTINE POLICY.

The Prime Minister, in reply to General Smuts, who has criticised the British Government's recent statement of policy in Palestine, says he feels sure General Smuts views are based on an incomplete telegraphic summary of the contents of the statement and that when he has read the full text he will admit it cannot fairly be described as a retreat from the Balfour Declaration.

That declaration he adds, "explicitly provided that nothing should be done which might prejudice the civil and religious rights of the existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine.

"Since the acceptance of the Palestine Mandate the trend of events and in particular some of the methods adopted in the establishment of Jewish communities, has given us grave concern and convinced us of the necessity for special measures to ensure that the double obligations contained in the Mandate are fulfilled."

ARMISTICE DAY.

Government Notice.

It is hereby notified for general information, that the following arrangements have been approved by the Governor for the observance in this Colony of Armistice Day, the 11th of November, 1930.

The Government offices and works will be closed throughout the day and the children attending the Government School will be given a whole holiday.

Divine Service will be held in the Cathedral at 10.15 a.m. at which His Excellency will attend officially and will be supported by the Honourable Members of Councils. The Falkland Islands Defence Force and the Stanley Boy Scouts and Girl Guides will parade and will take part in the Service and the subsequent Ceremony.

At the end of the Service about 10.40 a.m. the Governor will proceed in procession to the Cemetery where at 11.0 a.m. a volley will be fired. The customary two minutes silence will then be observed after which the Last Post will be sounded. His Excellency will lay a wreath at the foot of the Cross of Sacrifice; the Colonial Secretary will also lay a wreath of Poppies sent by the Magallanes Branch of the British Legion and the ceremony will terminate. Wreaths may then be laid by private individuals at the foot of the Cross of Sacrifice and on the Naval and Military graves. The Cathedral bell will also toll to mark the beginning and the end of the two minutes silence.

It is hoped that as many of the public as possible will be present both at the Service in the Cathedral and at the Ceremony at the Cemetery and that Heads of Departments will make a special effort to attend.

Full permission is given to those holding war medals and decorations awarded to deceased relatives to wear such medals on the right breast at this and other Armistice Day Ceremonies.

The order of the Procession from the Cathedral to the Cemetery will be as follows :

His Excellency the Governor.

The Falkland Islands Defence Force.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

Heads of Departments, Justices of the Peace, their wives and families, and the general public.

Monday, 3rd November, 1930.

The children from the Government School will not be present at the Cathedral, but will be assembled and drawn up in readiness for the Ceremony at the Cross of Sacrifice.

Immediately on the conclusion of the Ceremony His Excellency will present the Colonial Auxiliary Forces Long Service Medals which have been awarded to a number of past and present members of the Falkland Islands volunteers and Defence Force. The Presentation will take place either on the Government House Paddock or in the Town Hall, a definite decision being made at the time in accordance with the weather conditions.

By Command,

(sgd) J.M. Ellis,

Colonial Secretary.

SPINNERS AND WEAVERS !

Exhibition Of Articles.

It is proposed in conjunction with the Spinning and Weaving Classes, which are being run by the Girl Guides Local Association, to organise an Exhibition of Articles manufactured in the Colony from local grown and spun wool on the occasion of the call at Stanley on the 1st of February next of the tourist ship "Orduna".

It is further hoped that at the Exhibition it will be found possible to sell the articles on show to the tourists on board who are always anxious to obtain characteristic souvenirs of the Falkland Islands.

All those in the Camp who make their own wotton articles of clothing such as socks, scarves, mufflers, shawls, gloves, jerseys etc., are invited to take advantage of this opportunity and to send in exhibits to Mrs. David Roberts, the Secretary, Stanley. No guarantee of sale can be given, but the articles, if for sale, should be marked with the minimum price expected. The Committee of the Local Association will then fix such prices as are considered suitable, not lower than the minimum given with the addition of a commission of 5% to cover expenses. All articles for exhibition to reach Mrs. Roberts not later than the 20th of January next. In the case of sale payments will be effected as promptly as possible and all unsold articles will be returned or otherwise disposed of as the senders wish.

It is hoped that all those interested in the possibility of the establishment of a local Fair Isle industry will do their utmost to co-operate in this first step towards the establishment of such an industry which should be of great value to our people.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR H.M.S. "DRAGON".

A recent number of "Truth" reports that Captain Ernest J. Spooner has been appointed to command the cruiser H.M.S. "Dragon" in the vacancy caused by the death of Captain L.B.H. Bevan at Valparaiso early in September last.

Until he can join the vessel her chief executive officer, Commander P.W. Nollies, will hold the acting rank of captain; he is probably the first officer of the Royal Canadian Navy to command a cruiser, a post his own Service could not possibly yield him.

Captain Spooner was only promoted in the mid-summer batch whilst acting as Fleet Navigating Officer in the Atlantic Flagship "Holson". His war service, which brought him the D.S.O., was almost wholly spent in Grand Fleet cruisers.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS CRASH.

Victims' Unfortunate Decision.

The passengers in the "City of Washington" Imperial Airways 'plane which crashed in France on Thursday last are stated to be the victims of their own unfortunate decision.

Three of them were killed and three injured.

The passengers were told before starting that the Company would prefer they waited for the usual three-engined aeroplane. But four of the passengers were very anxious to make the journey as quickly as possible. They pressed to be allowed to fly in the twin-engined "City of Washington" which was due to leave earlier than the 'plane on regular service.

ADVENTUROUS GIRLS' FLIGHT.

The officials of the Tempelhof Aerodrome, Germany, had a surprise when the trans-Atlantic aeroplane "Columbia" landed from Croydon on Saturday and two vivacious English girls stepped laughingly out.

The adventurous girls were Miss Maisie Procter, the daughter of an Isle of Wight vicar, and Miss Vivien Stayner, a mannequin. They went on the flight on the spur of the moment within a few hours of being invited by Captain Erroll Boyd and Lieutenant Connor who flew the "Columbia" across the Atlantic.

Both girls had only the clothes in which they had travelled and their first expedition was to the Berlin shops.

THE DUKE OF GLOUCESTER.

Royal Witness Of Vivid Ceremony.

In all his travels the Duke of Gloucester could never have taken part in a stranger or more vividly picturesque ceremony than the unveiling of the statue of Menelik Second in the glittering city of Addis Ababa, the mountain capital of Ethiopia, on Saturday.

The scene was set in the great city square in front of the Cathedral of St. George where Ras Tafari was to be crowned king yesterday. The new ruler's title is King of Kings of Ethiopia and Lion of Juda.

Hours before the ceremony wild looking tribesmen, carrying guns and long spears, dashed on horseback through the streets uttering shrill cries.

Priceless persian carpets were laid down in front of the statue where the Emperor, clad in a purple cape encrusted with gold, received his guests. Behind him stood the clergy in black hoods and the tribal chiefs in full war array and capes trimmed with lions manes.

The city has been transformed as by a magician's wand for the pomp and magnificence of the coronation ceremony. When the crown of Solomon is placed on his head Ras Tafari will be the 354th ruler of his country.

SCHENECTADY AND THE FALKLANDS.

Special Broadcast For The Colony.

An interesting letter has been received by the Electrician-in-Charge from Mr. T. Meenam of the News Bureau of Schenectady Wireless Station, U.S.A., from which we are privileged to publish the following extract :

"I have taken up the matter of a special message to the Falkland Islands with our Studio Manager and I believe we can do even better and will put on a special half-hour programme especially dedicated to His Excellency and his people. By the time this letter reaches you the programme will have been broadcast and we will have informed you of our plans by radio. I hope that reception conditions will have been favourable."

From Mr. Meenam's letter it would appear the Station has already broadcast this programme but apparently atmospherics have been such that reception has not been possible; neither has the radio warning been received.

We understand the Electrician-in-Charge has been instructed to write to Schenectady explaining the position and, although naturally, we are disappointed that their special endeavours on our behalf have come to no fruition, we sincerely hope Schenectady may be able to spare another corner of their valuable service for our benefit. If so we hope on this further particular occasion we shall be able to report as satisfactory a reception as at other times when we have enjoyed their excellent programmes.

SOCIALISTS IN HEAVY LOSSES.

Municipal Polling.

For the first time in eight years the Socialists have lost heavily at the Municipal Council election throughout England and Wales. The losses are particularly severe in the midland and industrial areas and the cotton town of Lancashire.

Polling took place in 329 boroughs on Saturday. So far the results show - Conservatives 79 gains and 10 losses; Liberals 9 gains and 17 losses; The Socialists 27 gains, 92 losses; Independents 24 gains 20 losses. The Socialists show a nett loss of 65 seats. The control of the councils of Hull and Leeds have also been lost.

Since Socialist leaders always associate municipal and parliamentary politics in a common programme the reverses therefore indicate a general loss of confidence in the Socialist Administration. The number of candidates sent to the polls by the Socialists was 829.

At Manchester a house was struck by lightning and three persons were transformed to pillars of blue flame while a bed-ridden woman was encircled by a flame. But no one was injured.

ATTEMPT TO KILL RACE HORSE.

Outrage In Australia.

The attempt to kill the Melbourne favourite "Pharlap", made in broad day-light on Saturday has caused a profound sensation throughout the Commonwealth. The outrage is without precedence in the annals of the Australian turf.

While the horse was being led in from a gallop several shots were fired from a motor-car standing nearby. The horse was not hit.

The car bore an obviously disguised number plate on which the numbers were crudely written. "Pharlap's" owner, who leased the horse, has offered a reward of £100 for the conviction of the culprits.

"Pharlap" is the wonder horse of Australia as the three-year-old won the three most important races this year - The King's Plato, The Victoria St. Ledger, and the Australian Jockey Club's St. Ledger.

A message has been received that the s.s. "Falkland" is expected to arrive at Port Stephens this afternoon on her return trip from Magallanes.

Shelled By Insurgents.

He went on shore several times while at the capital of Brazil and noted there were obvious evidences that the insurgents and the State Government were at grips round the city.

The "Hoctor", which is of the latest pattern, had an exceptionally quick passage out from Tonsberg making an average speed of fourteen knots a day which is undoubtedly an extraordinary performance for so slight a boat. Three days from Stanley however, she encountered such rough weather that some of her housing was stove in.

GENEROUS GIFT TO FRANCE.

Edward Tuck, aged 88 years, the retired United States banker, philanthropist, and art collector who lives in the Champs Elysees has given the city of Paris the whole of his valuable collection of tapestries, china, and painting

Experts agree that these treasures are worth at least six million sterling. Few people have hitherto seen the collection which is to be exhibited in the Petit Palais. President Doumergue will open the exhibition to-day (Wednesday). Among the chief objects are a Beauvais Gobelons tapestries room, Flemish tapestries, old masters of the Flemish school, chinese vases of the rare Kanghsi period.

HAVOC AFTER GALE.

It is now revealed that several lives were lost and widespread damage to shipping resulted from the terrific gale which swept the seas around England during the last week-end.

Among those who perished was Dr. Cecil Watts a house surgeon of St Bartholomew's Hospital. Dr. Watts was swept overboard from a cutter at the entrance at Chichester Harbour. The yacht nearly capsized and it was several hours before the remainder of the party could be brought ashore.

EXPOSING SHARE PUSHERS.

"Daily Mail's" Order To Assist Authorities.

So far the authorities have not availed themselves of the offer of the "Daily Mail" to provide them with the names and addresses of employees and alien share-pushers who have been foisting valueless and unknown shares upon the public.

At no time in the history of the country has share pushing, with its disastrous consequences on the individual or community, been so rampant as during the last nine months,

Between a half million sterling has been taken from the public; the victims include elderly spinsters and scores of humble folk whose "nest-egg," accumulated as a safeguard against old age, has gone in return for a few share certificates of no value.

American salesmen have paid 25% of all the monies they have extracted from these simple investors and it is stated that some of the most successful have made between £5,000 and £10,000 in the course of their short operations. The people who employ them get from ten to twenty shillings for shares which did not cost them as many pence.

Poacher's Evidence.

The R. 101 Court of Enquiry on Monday heard French witnesses from Beauvais and Allonne, including Albert Rabomillo who was on a poaching expedition and was quite close to the spot where the airship crashed. The main point of his evidence was that the airship after twice dipping struck the ground and that she did not break until she touched.

The death occurred on Monday of Major Thomson, the brother of Lord Thomson, the late Secretary for Air. Major Thomson, who was sixty-eight, was seriously ill when the R. 101 disaster occurred and never rallied from the shock of his brother's death.

AMERICAN COMEDY FOR ENGLAND.

For the first time for many years a spectacular American comedy is to be brought across the Atlantic with the complete original cast and scenery, and produced in the West End, London. The production is "Flying High", one of New York's greatest musical successes.

George White, who staged it in the United States, will present it personally in London probably at the Palace Theatre when the run of "Frederica" ends. "Flying High" is an extremely expensive show and among the large company will be Bert Lehar, the comedian.

ATFRAY WITH CAT BURGLARS.

After Dinner Episode.

Roland Robinson, the barrister, who recently married Miss Maisie Gasque, the beautiful United States heiress, has had a violent struggle escaping from a cat burglar. The couple have just returned from their honeymoon and are living at Hampstead Hoath.

While dining on Sunday evening two cat burglars climbed a ladder to the first story and searched the bedrooms looking for Mrs. Robinson's jewellery. Robinson said "I went into the room after dinner and found confusion everywhere. I saw a ladder at the window and a man outside. I rushed out-side and closed with the man and we exchanged blows. Another man scrambled down the rope from the window and distracted my attention. Both escaped with a number of articles of jewellery."

TYNESIDE AND CLYDE RIVALRY.

The Second Cunarder.

The second giant cunarder it is understood will be built in the Tyne-yard where the "Mauretania" was built. Work is to be started as soon as the first ship is under way at the Clyde.

The rivalry between the Tyne and the Clyde which built the "Lusitania" will thus be revived. The preparations have been completed at the Clyde and include the lengthening of the slip-way to 1,300 feet, the erection of giant derricks and the widening and the deepening of the river.

Details of the agreement between the Board of Trade and the Cunard Company, providing for the insurance of one or possibly the two vessels each valued at 4½ millions sterling, were issued on Tuesday evening. The Government is undertaking to insure the first vessel in so far as the ordinary insurance market is unable to do so.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.by F.S. Vaughan.

Tuesday, November 11th.

With the approach of another Armistice Day, now more commonly called 'Remembrance Day', our thoughts and sympathies go out to the hundreds of thousands of our fellow-Britishers who are still suffering as a result of the Great War. There are some 142,000 Widows, 182,000 War Orphans, 165,000 children of disabled men, about 50,000 disabled men still needing treatment, and 6,450 insane. The great organization which helps these most deserving cases is the British Legion, of which H.R.H. The Prince of Wales is Patron, and Admiral of the Fleet Earl Jellicoe, President and chairman of the Benevolent Committee.

The funds collected by the British Legion are devoted to the relief of distress existing amongst Ex-Service men of all ranks, their dependants, and the widows and children of those who fell, the maintenance of highly organised employment bureaux for Ex-Service men, providing assistance and advice in pension matters, assisting Ex-Service families to emigrate, helping with the children's education, providing without charge legal advice with regard to housing, employment and other matters and granting loans free of interest, to Ex-Service men who wish to commence business on their own account.

The main source of income for this noble work is the sale of Poppies throughout the world on Remembrance Day. For 1929 more than 37,000,000 Poppies were made at the Poppy factory at Richmond which gives all the year employment to some 350 severely disabled Ex-Service men, and the total sum realised last year was 2598,120 11/ 6d. A quarter of a million ladies sold Poppies in the streets last year, including some young ladies in Stanley, and Poppies were sold in no less than 226 British liners and cargo vessels at sea on November 11th., including the 'Orduna' and the 'Orita'. We in Stanley obtain our supplies of Poppies through the branch of the British Legion in Magallanes, which branch has each year very generously borne the cost of a large wreath which is laid, usually by the Colonial Secretary at the foot of the Cross of Sacrifice.

On the first occasion upon which Poppies were sold in Stanley (1927) we sent to the British Legion the sum of £11 - 4s. - 9d; in 1928 £15 - 4s - 0d and last year £17 - 1s - 6d. Each year we have tried to get poppies into the Camp for Remembrance Day but have not been successful until this year, when we have been able to send some to the West, but, unfortunately not yet to the settlements on the East Falklands. We are hoping however, that this year the receipts will show a still further increase and to this end we appeal to everyone to purchase a poppy, which is as simple a way of paying tribute to the memory of that million of our fellow men who died for the realisation of an ideal as could possibly be devised, and to pay for it more than the minimum sum asked. The Poppies will be on sale at several of the Stores.

STREET FIGHTING IN RIO.

Captain Oli Olsen, of the whaling catcher "Hektor 9" which arrived at Stanley yesterday morning on its way down to Deception Island, says that although he only went on shore at Rio de Janeiro for two hours there were obvious signs of disturbances caused by the revolution and fighting in the streets was taking place. He arrived there on the 29th October and left the same day. Ships were only allowed to enter or depart from the harbour with the express permission of the authorities and any vessel disobeying either wantonly or inadvertently was fired on from the forts without hesitation.

The Argentine ship which the captain of "Hektor 8" mentioned as being fired on when about to enter the Harbour, suffered a number of casualties, including seven killed.

FALKLAND ISLAND STAMPS

Take Second Prize At Berlin Exhibition.

We learn with deep satisfaction that a collection of the Falkland Islands Stamps took a silver-gilt medal - a Second Prize - in the class allocated to "British Colonies in America" at the Berlin International Stamp Exhibition held in September.

The collection was entered by Mr. Bernhard S.H. Grant of Maidstone, Kent, who writes "I am very glad the Falklands have come so high up". Mr. Grant adds that as many as eighty of the awards went to the British Empire Exhibits. This speaks well for the high place accorded British Empire stamps in the estimation of philatelists.

SKELETON MYSTERY SOLVED.

The mystery surrounding the discovery of a skeleton in a cave in Warleigh Woods near Bath, was solved at an inquest held on Tuesday. The remains were identified as those of Jaboz Humphries, formerly the Clerk of the Parish Council and Assistant Overseer of Freshford village, a few miles away, who disappeared in 1969.

A revolver containing a spent cartridge was found by the side of the skeleton and there was a wound in the forehead apparently caused by the bullet. The official books were in order and a verdict was that the skeleton was that of Humphries and that he was found shot in a cave.

BOY SCOUTS LOCAL ASSOCIATION.

Progress Of Movement During The Past

Twelve Months.

Troop And Pack Annual Reports.

A Committee Meeting of the Stanley Boy Scouts Local Association, followed by the Annual General Meeting, was held in the Scout Room on Thursday last, the 30th of October.

The business dealt with included the reports of the Group-Scoutmaster and Cubmaster on the work of the Troop and Pack during the past year, which reports we publish in full below, the passing of the accounts and the election of officers for the forthcoming year.

The Reports and the Statement of Accounts were unanimously adopted by the Meetings and reveal the affairs of the Local Association as being in a really sound condition. Much progress has been made with the organisation and training of the Scouts and Wolf Cubs on proper lines and great credit is due to Mr. E. E. Frewin, Mr. T. Killop and Miss E. MacKenzie for the spirit of true scouting which they have been successful in inculcating. The accounts showed a balance of over £25 standing to the credit of the Local Association.

The following gentlemen were elected as officers and members of the Committee of the Local Association for the year beginning 1st of November 1930. : The Hon. J. M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) - Chairman; the Hon. J. I. Moir - District Commissioner; Mr. G. I. Turner - Hon. Treasurer; Mr. E. E. Frewin - Hon. Secretary; Messrs. J. D. Creamer, W. Hutchinson, N. C. Bound, A. R. Hoare, D. Howatt and K. Lellman. Members of the Committee.

The Stanley Wolf Cub Pack 1930.

The 1st Stanley Wolf Cub Pack, disbanded for a long time as there was no Cub Officer, was re-formed in January by Mr. Killop. In the ten months that it has now been in existence there has been a continuous average membership of twenty. Soon after commencement four sixes were formed (Red, White, Brown and Green), there being twenty-three boys.

From this point the Pack has been run as nearly as possible upon the lines set out in the Official Hand-book. The boys, or recruits as they were then, were trained in the Law, the Promise, the secret signs, and in games and how to play them, the games being taken from the Jungle Stories. They rapidly learned about and became familiar with the jungle animals, from Hathi - the elephant, down to Bundorlog - the monkey folk, transforming, not long after, the Club Room into a jungle. The recruits were now tenderpads.

Instruction has been regularly given and readily assimilated on all the First Star subjects, namely - the composition of the Union Jack, Knots and their uses, simple rules of health and cleanliness, balance and carriage exercises, how to tell the time, and several games which train the senses of sight and hearing. Each Cub, with the exception of three who joined later, has, as a result, "one eye open" - or, in other words, has gained his First Star.

Saturday, 8th October, 1930.

Before the Pack can open both eyes, examiners must be found for certain of the Second Star subjects: yet there has been no stay in the progress, several of the Cubs being ready for most of the tests. Instruction in a new subject is first given by Akela to the Pack, then to each Six by its own Sixer, aided generally by the Second. Each Six has its own den or lair, its own equipment box taken care of by the Sixer who also has his own set of teaching apparatus, made by himself.

During holiday week, picnics gave many of the Cubs experience in laying trails, tracking, lighting fires and cooking. One Cub, during the year, has passed up into the Scouts. Another goes up next month. Others will be going soon after, but we expect a few younger ones in to keep the numbers up.

The Group Report 1930.

Mr. E.E. Frewin was elected Instructor of the First Stanley Group in October 1929, and the Troop was established on a proper footing in February. From that time onward the Troop has been organised on the Patrol System and Competition has been the Watch-word.

The three Patrols formed were the Owls, Curlews and Seal. The policy in those early months was merely to play games. These games were gradually changed from mere uninstructional play to exercises which trained the senses, as well as the body. By this means a gradual knowledge of the boys with whom one had to deal was gradually gained. During this preparatory period there were acting Patrol-Leaders and Seconds. These were promoted to this rank only on the understanding that they were not full leaders but merely on trial. Where boys were found to have no abilities for leadership they were returned to ordinary Scouts. Until February, no boy could be passed in any test as there was not an appointed S.M.. However, as soon as this necessary formality was accomplished there was no loss of time in incorporating the real work of Scouting in the programme of games.

From this date then, Programme and progress records were made and have been kept up to the moment. From Recruits to Tenderfoot, Tenderfoot to Second Class, and now touching First Class, the proficiency line has steadily risen.

A Troop Meeting has been held for an hour and a half every week and Instruction Classes when and as often as required.

The boys have been induced to practice their Scouting wherever possible, and often a Troop Meeting would be just a Tournament, in which one Patrol would pit its knowledge and abilities against another. This was exemplified by the Parents' Night on the 28th of June. Even all this, however, there has been evident the spirit of sportsmanship - in other words the Scout Spirit. In the furtherance of this object we are deeply indebted to His Excellency the Chief Scout for the gift of two books, the first, a prize for the Leader whose Patrol obtained the highest number of points during the year, and the second for the most efficient Scout. The former is unique in that it is an autographed copy of one of His Excellency's own publications - "Seven Years In Abyssinia."

On the 1st of April, a Troop Fund was commenced with the idea of giving the boys a sense of possession and responsibility over their Troop, its goods, assets and affairs.

Saturday, 8th November, 1930.

In accordance with the rules laid down by Imperial Headquarters this money has always been at the disposal of the Court of Honour.. It has been used for buying locally, and although we have now some £1. 17s. 8d. in hand we hope to turn this to good use.

In connection with the disposition of the boys in the Patrols; of order, attendance, payment of subscriptions - in fact all the things which the Patrol Leader must be responsible for, the Court of Honour has been the deciding factor. The Court is composed of the Patrol Leaders and Seconds with the S.M. in the chair. A Minute Book has been kept of the Meetings where necessary, but as is the case with the heaviest discussions of boys many of these are not recorded as they did not merit it.

Each Patrol, as can be seen has its own corner, and suggestions from the S.M. to the boys have been made from time to time as to decorations and handicrafts with which they might improve them, but so far this has not gone beyond pictures demonstrating hero worship. But now, having reached the stage where each boy may follow his particular bent, soon it is hoped that these corners will become museums of all the things nearest to a Scout's heart.

At this stage it would be as well perhaps, to realise what the making of a First Class Scout will mean. There are many parts of the First Class. There is particularly that which must be passed by independent examiners, and that upon which the Scoutmaster only may instruct. This then, will be the next most important item for the Association - members to assist us. We have already approached one or two ladies and gentlemen and have received promises of assistance. This applies equally to the passing of the Wolf Cub Second Star Tests.

A Troop Library has been formed but at present, owing to our few books, it is not circulating. We are hoping to devote some of the subscribed Troop Fund to this object at an early date.

Roughly a third of the Troop has now been put into correspondence with troops in other parts of the world and, although at this stage only one or two letters have changed hands with friends in the Argentine, Australia, Canada, London and Scotland. It should not be long now before the First Stanley Troop takes its place recognised and known by all the Scouting world as the British Scouts - furthest South.

NORTHAMPTON MYSTERY.

Charred Body In Blazing Car.

A charred body in a blazing motor-car was found near Northampton on Thursday by the police who are satisfied that the body is that of a woman though the only clues they have are charred heels or a woman's shoes.

The discovery was made by two young men who saw the blaze and on going to investigate passed a man hatless and breathless apparently hurrying from the scene of the tragedy.

The police have established the fact that the owner of the car was a commercial traveller of North Finchley, London who left home the previous afternoon. On Thursday evening detectives visited every hotel in Nottingham with the hope of establishing the identity of the woman.

Addis Ababa, the Emperor of Ethiopia, conferred on Thursday, the ~~Order~~ Seal of Solomon on the Duke of Gloucester at a banquet held at the British Legation and attended by the Emperor and Empress, the Duke of Gloucester, and sixty guests.

A feature of the occasion was the coronation cake specially sent from England. After the banquet each guest, carrying torches of yellow, green and red, formed a procession along the terrace lit by three bonfires of the same colours. The Emperor then returned to the terrace and sat in royal state to watch a Somali war dance.

AWKWARD DEVELOPMENT IN AUSTRALIA.

Acting Federal Treasurer Intends To Resign.

There was an awkward development in the Australian political situation on Thursday when Mr. J. A. Lyons, Acting Federal Treasurer, announced his intention to resign after a tumultuous meeting of the Labour Party Caucus (a private association of political partisans).

The Caucus attempts to control the present Federal Labour Government and has resolved to "order" legislation compelling bondholders of a £27,000,000 sterling loan to hold their bonds for another year.

Mr. Lyons warned the Caucus that such a step would mean financial disaster. The Caucus is consistently opposed to the economy programme adopted by the Federal and State ministers with Sir Otto Niemeyer of the Bank of England last August.

An attempt is being made to persuade Mr. Lyons not to resign but to force the resignations of Mr. Mastoy and Mr. Beasley, two Ministers who voted in favour of the Caucus motion, and carry on the Government with the aid of the opposition until the Premier, Mr. Scullin, returns from the Imperial Conference.

150 Miles An Hour.

R. J. S. Wright, the champion motor-cyclist, regained on Thursday at Cork, the world's motor-cycle speed record with the amazing speed of 150.736 miles an hour. He rode an O.M.C. twin-cylindered Jap engined machine.

The previous record was 157 miles an hour established by Henne, the German racer in September last. The Civic Guards had to keep the crowds back while the trials were taking place. After the event it was found that the saddle had been chafing the back tyre the tread of which was torn off.

TO THE ANGLO-RADIO CLUB

BUENOS AIRES.

We are privileged to publish the context of a letter which is being forwarded to the Anglo-Radio Club, Buenos Aires in connection with the recent First Radio Ball held by them and broadcast from Rivadavia, and in reply to the kind notification to the Colony of their intention of so doing :

"Stanley,

Broadcast Dept.

Sir,

On behalf of His Excellency the Governor and our Listeners-in, may I express our appreciation of the excellent programme broadcast by your Club on the night of the 31st of October last. Although interfered with by atmospherics at intervals, the majority of the programme was heard very clearly. I think that we must be the most distant receiving station relaying your programmes, and I trust therefore that I may be permitted to remark that owing to the excellent modulation of music and speech transmitted by L.S.5, and also the small amount of fading in comparison with other stations round that wave length, the Rivadavia station is probably the ideal station for future events.

We look forward to your next programme which we understand is to be on the 28th of November and we hope that conditions will be a little more favourable.

In conclusion may I congratulate the Anglo-Radio Club on its endeavours to bring closer together the English Speaking Community of Buenos Aires, Monte Video and surrounding districts.

I am Sir,

Your obedient servant,
(sgd) G.W. Butcher,
Officer Acting In Charge Broadcast Service."

REVOLUTION FEVER SPREADING.

Monte Video And The Scourge.

Persistent reports are being received at Buenos Aires from Monte Video, Uruguay, and Santiago, Chile, declaring that revolutions are about to break out in both of these Republics.

On the Brazilian-Uruguayan frontier strong bodies of fully equipped troops are said to be ready to march on Monte Video which has been in a state of unrest for some time.

The revolt in Brazil culminated last week with the assumption to the Presidency of Dr. Vargas. In Peru and the Argentine the Presidency have been recently overthrown while also there have been unsuccessful attempts to cause a revolution in Chile.

R. 101 ENQUIRY.

Sensational Documents.

A sensation was caused at the resumed enquiry into the R. 101 disaster when Sir John Simon read two documents, including a secret letter describing very serious faults in the airship's gas-bags.

Sir John demanded to know why the letter had not been produced before and it was later explained that the letter was put on one side to be copied and was overlooked.

The secret letter revealed that Mr. F. McWade, in charge of the Inspectors Department, issued a warning that unless the faults to the gas-bags were remedied he could not recommend the extension of a permit for flying. McWade said that with regard to the flight to India during which the R. 101 crashed, if he had been asked to give an airworthiness certificate he was "afraid they would not have got it."

NORTHAMPTON CAR MYSTERY.

A Charge Of Murder.

It is now established that the body found in a blazing car near Northampton is that of an unknown man. The car proved to belong to Alfred A. Rouse, a commercial traveller, of North Finchley, who reported to the police in London late on Friday evening.

It was understood that he would accompany the police to Northampton to the inquest.

A later message states that a charge of murder has been made against Rouse as a sequel to the sensational discovery early on Thursday morning on the outskirts of Northampton where the body of a man was found in a blazing car. At first it was thought that a woman had perished since the charred heels of a pair of woman's shoes were found amidst the debris.

Rouse was brought before the local magistrate under conditions of the utmost secrecy and was remanded for further inquiries. As Rouse was about to leave the court he turned to the magistrate and said "I am innocent and that is all I have to say."

ARMISTICE DAY.

Presentation Of Long Service Medals.

A beautiful dawn beckoned the morning of Tuesday, the 11th of November and the twelfth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice; and in Stanley every preparation had been made to signalise the passing of yet another milestone from that memorable event which brought to an end the tragedy of the Great War.

At 10.0 a.m., in the brilliant sunshine, crowds were to be seen making their way to the Cathedral for the Commemoration Service which began at 10.15, each person displaying a poppy. The Defence Force paraded under the Commanding Officer, Major the Hon. J.I. Moir, and were led by the Drum and Fife Band with the officers, Lieutenant W.M. Allan (Adjutant), Captain J.M. Coutts, Captain D.R. Watson and Lieutenant J. Morton. They looked gay and workmanlike in their new head-dress of a Balmoral with the Falkland Island Badge on a back-ground of the Hay Tartan which the Defence Force has adopted as being the Tartan of Mrs. Hodson - a compliment deeply appreciated by His Excellency. No less than eighty-two of all ranks were on parade including the five officers.

The Boy Scouts were also on parade under Group-Scoutmaster E.H. Frewin and Cubmaster Miss E. MacKenzie, distinguished too by the wearing of neckerchiefs of the MacKenzie Tartan. But the Girl Guides looked just as smart as they marched along Ross Road under the charge of Miss B. Felton and when they came to a halt before Mrs. Louis Williams (Islands Commissioner) and Mrs D.W. Roberts (Islands Secretary) outside the Cathedral.

His Excellency the Governor was in his accustomed seat accompanied by his private secretary (Mr. G.R.L. Brown) with the Honourable J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mrs Ellis also occupying the first row on the south side. Immediately behind were the members of the Councils with their wives and Mrs Vaughan. The Cathedral was well filled and throughout the stirring service which was conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean, there prevailed a deep feeling of thankfulness mingled with many a tender thought of remembrance. The names of all those from the Falkland Islands who had sacrificed their lives in the cause of the Empire were solemnly pronounced and there followed the heart-felt rendering of the Cantation for the Departed.

At the conclusion, the Defence Force, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides formed up outside and, led by His Excellency the Governor and the members of the Councils with the general public following behind, the whole concourse made its way slowly to the Cross of Sacrifice for the observance of the Two Minutes Silence. His Excellency and the members of the Councils and their wives gathered round the Cross with the general public grouped around on the hill-side while the parade came to halt at the roadside below.

Thursday, 13th November, 1930

The children of the Government School were already assembled along the sloping steps of the Cross under the supervision of Mr. W. J. Davies.

The Two Minutes Silence was preceded by the tolling of the Cathedral bell and the firing of a volley by members of the Force and concluded with the sounding of the "Last Post" by Pte. D. Wheatley. His Excellency then laid a beautiful wreath on the plinth, an example followed by the Honourable the Colonial Secretary who placed on one side a cross of Flanders Poppies sent by the Magallanes Branch of the British Legion; and by Major Moir who set down on the other, the Defence Force token - a lovely wreath made by the Hospital Staff.

Though the public dispersed, the Defence Force marched back along Ross Road for His Excellency to take the salute at the Town Hall prior to presenting Long Service Medals to members of the Defence Force or their relatives and thus bringing to an end in a most impressive manner a most impressive ceremony. Those who received the medals were : Mrs. A. Hardy (the late Mr. A. Hardy), Captain D. R. Watson, Serjt G. L. Newing, Pte. W. T. Albridge, Pte. W. Summers, Serjt J. R. Gleadell, C. S. M. E. J. Gleadell, C. Q. M. S. D. Lehen, Corpl. W. Etheridge and Pte. R. Atkins.

We wish to offer to the Commanding Officer and all ranks our congratulations on the smart and strong turn out of the Defence Force on this occasion and also on the thoroughway in which all the arrangements were drawn up and carried out.

SCULLIN RESISTS LABOUR CAUCUS.

Australian Premier Stands Firm.

In view of the developments in Australia, the tour of the Australian Prime Minister, Mr. Scullin, in the west of England, was curtailed and he returned to London early Sunday to consult with his colleagues, the Attorney General, Mr. Brennan, and the Minister for Markets, Mr. Malloney, who with Scullin, are the Australian delegates to the Imperial Conference.

The consultation produced no change in the attitude of Scullin who firmly resented the proposals of the extremists of the Labour Caucus for the compulsory postponement of the redemption of the 27,000,000 pounds sterling Internal Loan which is maturing next month.

SOVIET DUMPING CAMPAIGN.

Another Hit At Britain.

The "Daily Mail" Riga correspondent announces that Moscow is putting the final touches to elaborate and sinister plans for a world wide dumping campaign to be carried on at the present only in the nature of a preliminary test.

It has already been proclaimed a huge success and it has been decreed by Stalin that "The U.S.S.R. must turn from a country exporting raw materials into a country whose exports are based chiefly on industry."

Hundreds of factories have been "isolated" in various parts of Russia for the production of dumping commodities, and huge sums of money, obtained from past dumping exploits, are being used to finance and equip more factories, new ports and new railways, all of which are being built as "auxiliaries" to the main objective. Any worker deserting from an isolation factory will be punished by death.

Bulk goods are copied from British "samples" obtained by special agents from Britain and kept in so-called "merchandise museums" attached to the Supreme Court of the Soviet in Moscow. It is an ironic thought that the machinery to equip these isolated factories is still being supplied on credit by British manufacturers assisted by the British Government.

THE "POLAR YEAR."

Expedition Leaves For Greenland.

Arctic Air Route To America ?

The first tangible proof that the Great International Polar Year of 1932-33 is approaching was given recently when the seal-hunting ship the "Grande", of fifty-three tons gross, left Bergen for Greenland with a scientific meteorological expedition under the leadership of Dr. Constantine Dumbrava, of Bucharest.

Nine nations, including Great Britain, the United States, France, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Italy and Rumania are taking part, and the expedition now under way is to erect a sort of central station for observations in the Polar area.

The expedition is financed by the Paris newspaper "Le Journal", the Rumanian Ministry of Education, and a syndicate of Rumanian newspapers. Professor Dumbrava has himself contributed a sum of money, and the Belgian Meteorological Institute has placed instruments at his disposal.

THE NORTHAMPTON MYSTERY.

That a man may vanish for seven days and not be missed by his friends and relations is one of the remarkable facts in the blazing car mystery.

The police are totally unable to establish the identity of the man whose charred body was found in the car and for the death of whom Alfred Rouse, the owner, is under remand on a charge of murder.

Superintendent Brumby, who is in charge of the case said "We have followed up hundreds of clues but nobody has come forward with any information which is likely to help us and it is quite possible that we shall never be able to establish the identity of the victim."

Inquiries are now proceeding into the movements of a man who was known to be asking a lift from motorists shortly before the tragedy.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Royal Pilot Of The Dornier Dox.

The Prince of Wales had the most remarkable experience of his career as an airman on Wednesday when he piloted an amphibian aeroplane with eight passengers from Hendon and alighted on Southampton Water near Calshot.

After that he took complete control of the Dornier Dox, the giant German flying boat, for ten minutes during an half-an-hour flight over the Solent and the Isle of Wight. In conclusion he piloted the amphibian back to Hendon and altogether, flew over two hundred miles in three and a half hours during which time he handled two very different machines.

The amphibian was "Saracloud", the most powerful twin-engined amphibian in the world and belonging to Major Holt, a Canadian. The Prince's skill and confidence aroused the admiration of Dr. Dornier, the designer of the Dox.

GANGSTERS MAKE MERRY IN NEW YORK.

Two funerals, both highly significant, took place in New York on Wednesday. One was attended by Commissioner Mulrooney and 350 men in uniform being the funeral of a police-man who met his death at the hands of shop raiders. The second funeral was that of Benny Gallo, who succeeded Vito Bonaventura as the king of the Alcohol Racketeers. Bonaventura was shot in June and Benny, having ascended the throne, was shot four days ago without revealing the names of the assailants. He was carried to his grave in a gold mounted casket preceded by eight motor cars filled with flowers and a band of twenty instruments. Thirty-four policemen with their hands and pistols concealed in their pockets, watched the obsequies, listening for any scrap of conversation which might reveal the identity of the murderers.

The funerals emphasise the fact that since the attempted assassination of Jack Diamond about a month ago, 89 persons have been shot in New York; of these thirty are dead and the remainder are in hospital. The average is three persons a day which is claimed to surpass even Chicago's.

FIRE BRIGADE PRACTICE.

Under the supervision of the Superintendent, the Hon. G. Roberts, the Stanley Fire Brigade carried out a practice with the Merryweather Hatfield Motor Pump yesterday afternoon, and before the members of the Committee who were deeply impressed with its performance.

The pump was affixed to the hydrant at the junction of Fitzroy Road with the hose stretching up to the top of Flagstaff Hill - the highest point - where it produced a jet which proved that wherever a fire might break out in the town the danger could be combatted.

In considering the length of the hose through which the water had to pass - some six hundred feet - and that it had to rise 110 feet from the point it was pumped from the hydrant to the ejecting nozzle at the top of the hill, nothing but praise can be accorded the machine which is capable of forcing through the hose 240 gallons a minute.

At a meeting of the Fire Brigade held last week it was revealed that His Excellency the Governor has approved of further extensions with a view to giving an improved service. These include the installation of a maroon at the Police Station as a fire alarm, and five additional fire hose boxes, fully equipped, to be erected in different parts of the town, making the total number ten.

The members of the Committee present were Messrs. V.A.H. Biggs (Hon. Sec. and Treas.), A. Lellman, A.I. Fleuret, B. Hannaford and A. Ratcliff.

CRICKET IN THE FALKLANDS.

Spasmodic Efforts At Revival.

(By kind permission we are privileged to reproduce an article on cricket in the Falkland Islands contributed to the "Cricketer" by Mr. J.D. Creamer.)

It is always sad to learn that cricket has had to be abandoned in a place where it has once been played. Such, however, seems to be the fate of the game in the Falkland Islands, our most southerly Colony, where several spasmodic efforts at revival on the part of the Stanley Athletic Club, under whose auspices all outdoor games are played, have ended in failure.

There are two main causes for the death of cricket out there. First, but not the compelling reason, is the weather conditions in the so-called summer. The prevailing coldish north-west wind makes fielding in the bleak and sloping Government House Paddock anything but a pleasure to all but the most hardy and the most enthusiastic. The second and main cause is the dearth of sufficient numbers of men who either know anything at all about the game or who are both keen and anxious enough not only to learn it, but to keep their enthusiasm up to that pitch which overcomes all disadvantages of weather or ground conditions.

Cricket is not taught in the schools, and as everyone knows it is not a game easily learnt by the youth of sixteen and upwards. Consequently, the bulk of the talent available for two teams (there are practically no visiting opponents) is dependent upon the people out from home, the majority of whom, in Stanley at any rate, are in the Government service or the Falkland Islands Company's employ.

Cricket flourished (by comparison) in the years roughly from 1917 to 1922, when by a sheer coincidence seven out of every ten of the Government and Company's staffs played the game, and when there were, in addition, some 30 of all ranks at the Naval Wireless Station upon whom to draw.

Between 1920 and 1922 there were something like thirty matches played, mostly Stanley v. The Camp (i.e., combined farm stations), Government v. The Rest, F.I. Company v. The Rest, Married v. Single, Stanley East v. Stanley West, etc., etc., and during that period Stanley also played a very creditable draw against H.M.S. "Southampton" (Rear-Admiral A.T. Hunt), and beat H.M.S. "Weymouth" handsomely by three wickets in a game of some 400 odd runs.

With the closing down of the large W/T Station, however, and transfers amongst the Government officials, with very few cricketers among those who took their places, the game gradually died a natural death until, from 1927, even the few real enthusiasts have regarded the task as hopeless and have diverted their attention to golf.

Stanley can still raise an eleven, and quite a good one for what, after all, is comparable with good village cricket; in fact, as recently as 1926 (time passes very quickly out there) the best team - on paper - they have ever mustered was to have played H.M.S. "Capetown" during the celebrations which marked the unveiling of the Falkland Islands Battle Memorial in February of that year, but bad weather intervened. It is another question, however, to get together twenty-two or more keen ones, with an umpire or two, all of whom are also willing to do their share of pitching and taking down nets, looking after gear, marking out the wickets, and all the little jobs, which, in the absence of a groundsman, fall upon the players themselves.

Certainly the Club cannot take the customary "blame it on the Government" attitude for the game's failure. Sir John Middleton (Governor 1920 - 1926) not only played, but always generously "tead" the teams. The present Governor is not now himself a player, but he places his paddocks at all times at the Club's disposal, the wicket has since been partly re-laid by the Government House gardeners at very little expense to the Club, and a mighty roller can always be had for the asking from the Public Works Department by anyone who can be lucky enough to get together a team of six or seven to help push it.

SOVIET DETERMINATION.

Scheme To Ruin Britain.

Inquiries made by the "Daily Mail" regarding the methods being adopted by the Soviet for flooding Britain with produce and manufactures disclose a deliberate scheme of under-cutting British trade in every possible direction.

It is all a part of Moscow's plan to ruin Britain's industry and produce discontent among the workers so that they will become more receptive to revolutionary propaganda. The scheme is very simple. All the goods are made and produced in Russia and sent to Britain, thanks to the complacency of the Socialist Government, without hindrance. Some arrive from the northern parts but most is brought from Russia in the Soviets own ships to wharves in the heart of London.

"Aroos", the Bolshevik trading organisation, handles all the imports of this kind and arranges to distribute them through ordinary trade channels. Apparently orders have been given from Moscow that Soviet goods are to be sold irrespective of production costs. British traders who have been invited to stock Russian goods have been asked to name their own price.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WESTMINSTER.

Work will shortly be started at Eaton Hall, Chester, preparing for the Duke and Duchess of Westminster who will take up residence there early in the new year.

The Duke and Duchess are shortly going to the French Riviera and while they are away the decorators will be working at the Duchess's apartments at Eaton Hall where a happy event is expected. The Duchess has marked personal tastes in the matter of the decorations and colour schemes. Her room at St. James's Palace, when living there with her father who is the King's Treasurer, was decorated with gold and apricot.

MOVE TO OUST PREMIER.

The "Daily Mail" bulletin states that the internal troubles of the Government have reached such a pitch that a movement is revealed to oust the Premier, Mr. McDonald, and replace him by Mr. Henderson, the Foreign Secretary.

It is declared by a political correspondent that the movement is confined to the rank and file and lacks really influential support. Those standing highest in the Party's counsels have dissociated themselves from it, but its existence is regarded as a disturbing feature.

Local Bisley Competition.

Open 500/600 Yds.

The first round of the above competition was fired off on the New Range on Sunday (yesterday). With the exception that a tricky wind was blowing, varying from 5 to 7 o'clock, the weather was very favourable.

The nine highest scorers in this round fire off in the final at the Local Bisley in February 1931. The competition will be open at that time to Camp members of the Association.

All the arrangements for the Shoot were made by the Committee of the Rifle Association and everything went off without a hitch.

His Excellency the Governor returned a card with the top score, having made 33 at the 500 yards' and 31 at the 600 yards', bringing the total to 64. The other scores were as under; the first nine to shoot at the Local Bisley. The scores made on Sunday count towards the grand aggregate.

THE DOX DORNIER.

Dox, the giant German flying boat made a safe and easy landing on the Gironde River, twenty miles from Bordeaux on Saturday. The event was watched by a crowd of over 100,000.

For several hours after the departure from Calshot no signals were received from the flying boat and, with fears of a mishap having occurred the French airship Vio set out from La Rochelle in search of the Dox. On the airship's return she crashed at Nieul sur mer and the crew had a miraculous escape.

POST CARD SAVES A LIFE.

Through a post card being delivered within an hour of posting the life of a man was saved.

The man is now in hospital at Highgate, London.

At mid-day Saturday, Mr. Jannering of Highgate, received a post card from a tenant stating that there was a gas leak in the house. He went round to suggest notifying the gas company and on arriving found his tenant lying in an unconscious condition on the floor of the kitchen and the gas on.

The police were called and respiration was tried. Afterwards he was removed to St. Mary's Hospital.

An examination of the post card showed that it was posted at 11.0 o'clock the day it was received about noon.

SCOTLAND YARD'S TASK.

Three gangs of criminals, more desperate than any known in Britain since the Anarchist days that culminated in the siege of Sydney Street in 1910, are causing Scotland Yard the gravest concern.

It has been learned at headquarters that the men who form these gangs are fully armed and may be expected to resist violently any attempts of arrest.

Special warning has been given to C.I.D. officers. The men are circulated as "wanted" for various offences in different parts of the country. The officers have been reminded that the utmost precaution must be taken in any efforts apprehend them.

The police are determined to end the activities of these gangs who have their headquarters in London. One depot was raided early last week and the discoveries then made have convinced Scotland Yard and the Flying Squad that they are faced with a tremendous task.

DISTURBANCES IN BENGAL.

The Calcutta correspondent of the "Daily Mail" reports that four rioters were killed and several seriously injured in an attack by railwaymen on the liquor shops at Jamolpore (the Bengal Railway junction) on Saturday.

Twenty-four policemen were injured and a volley was necessary to disperse the mob.

When the mob made the assault on the shops the police tried to drive them back but it was not until re-inforcements were hurried up under the superintendent and a number of the rioters arrested, that they were successful in regaining order.

The Programme for this evening's Broadcast is :

In view of Rat Week commencing to-day we take the opportunity of publishing a small article given on a previous occasion dealing with the depredations of this dangerous rodent.

The rat is a robber and a reiver of the worst type. He attacks man both in health and pocket. From every nation he levies tribute. In one year in the United States he did a billion dollars of damage, and in France he destroyed 200 million francs worth of commodities. In Germany the cost was 200 million marks while in Britain the bill was fifteen million pounds. Ponder, just for a while, the loss to the community in food and valuable goods.

Let us enumerate the diseases spread by the rat :- 1, plague, 2 jaundice, - spirochaetal, 3 rat-bite - fever, 4 trichiniasis - worms, 5 tuberculosis - rat leprosy, 6 pseudo- tuberculosis, 7 trypanosomiasis, 8 foot and mouth disease, 9 food poisoning, 10 hydrophobia, 11 equine influenza. Just for a while ponder the fact that these diseases may be carried from any one part of the world to another.

There are two varieties of rats; the black and grey. In the late years of the Roman Empire the black rat migrated from Asia to Europe, where in the middle ages, he disseminated terrible plague epidemics - for example the Plague of London. In the Eighteenth Century, the grey rat followed hard on the trail of the black, and eventually mastered him. In those days everyone was his own public health officer, and rats multiplied exceedingly and adventured in ships, and colonised all over the world, even as the hardy Britons.

In suitable environment rats are prolific to an amazing degree. In one year one pair will produce 800 to 900 offspring. In four months rats are mature, and commence to breed, and the period of gestation is three weeks, and the litters are eight to ten in number. Just for a while ponder what an unmolested rat community can do in a year in the way of multiplication.

THE FREE STATE SWEEPSTAKE.

Four blind boys at Dublin Mansion House held in their hands the destinies of eighty one people - the prize-winners in the Free State Hospitals Sweepstake yesterday.

The draw began at 11.0 a.m. and continued for three hours.

The Sweepstake has so far captured national interest that about half a million sterling has been subscribed for tickets and it is estimated that nearly £400,000 will be distributed in prizes.

The first prize winner receives at least £180,000 and the hospitals about £100,000.

The officials who have worked night and day during the past week brought their labours to a grand finale supervising the mixing of hundreds of thousands of counter-fails and rehearsing the scenes which a thousand people were to watch in the historic Round Room of the Mansion House in Dublin.

The proceedings were recorded by sound and film cameras and quite ten thousand people assembled to listen in at St. Stephen's Green.

INDIA CONFERENCE.

A further informal meeting of the British India Delegation to the Round Table Conference was held at St. James's Palace on Monday, and another was fixed for to-day.

The report that the Moslem delegates had issued an ultimatum to the Hindus during the discussions on the communal demand, is denied. The denial is a joint one authorised by the British Delegation and issued by the Aga Khan and Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru.

It says that the ultimatum has been issued neither by the Moslems nor by the Hindus but on the contrary the discussions have been friendly and harmonious.

The denial continues "There is no justification at all for the statement that there are any quarrels over the Conference.

Differences in points of view are in the process of adjustment from day to day."

News has been received that the general strike in Spain has been confined to Madrid and so far no disturbances have resulted.

The strike has not extended to the railways and general calm prevails in the city. The public services employees resumed work on Sunday and the bakers started again the same evening while other strikers were resuming on Monday.

TRAGIC LOVE AFFAIR.

Suicide Pact.

The finding at St. Gobain in the Aisne Department of the body of a strangled girl with her blind lover lying beside her provides another chapter in dramatic love affairs.

Some months ago Raymonde Veron, a girl of good family, fell in love with Alfred Helin, an electrician. Her family refused to consent to their marriage and the couple determined to commit suicide. Helin fired twice at the girl and then at himself, missing his sweetheart and only succeeding in putting out his own sight. He was then tried for attempting to murder the girl. She pleaded so passionately for his pardon that he was sentenced only to four years and, under the First Offenders Act, he was set free immediately.

Then came the climax.. When Helin was found with the girl's lifeless body by his side he said to the police "She told me to strangle her and I did. Take me, try me and guillotine me. That is all I want."

The Club Challenge Cup.

The Challenge Cup presented by the Stanley Golf Club for 36 holes medal play, under full handicap, and played off on the 9th and 16th of November, was won by Mr. W.D.A. Jones with a nett score of 147 - two strokes clear of his nearest rival, Mr. H. Thomas.

Mr. Jones's achievement, despite his long handicap, was excellent, and he well merits the congratulations of all, but his handicap now warrants deduction.

The most interesting incidents in the competition were the play of Mr J. Morton who, as reported in our issue of the 12th, completed the course with a gross of 74 in his first round, and Mrs. the achievement of Mrs. Morton who lowered the ladies' record to 95. In her second round Mrs. Morton lopped off another 8 strokes, completing the course in 87 - her scores being Out 42 and In, 45, and this, it is understood, included two "out of bounds".

Out of the twenty-two entrants only twelve completed the two rounds and handed in cards. A few, through indisposition or absence from the town, could not complete the two rounds whilst the remainder retired from the competition.

The scores returned were :

The shooting of a Chilean millionaire was revealed on Monday when a pretty young woman, Henriette Joron, called at the police station at Porte Dauphine, France, and said she had tried to kill Senor Jose d'Astoreca.

Losing my head I took out a revolver and fired five times, hitting him in the arm and the chest. He was very self-possessed and adjured me to go away immediately and say nothing about it."

MISSING CONSUL DEVELOPMENT.

B.B.C. Appeal.

An unexpected development has occurred in the mystery of the disappearance of Mr. R.A. Lee, the British Vice-Consul at Marseilles, on July 5th last, by the broadcasting at the request of the police on Monday an appeal from the B.B.C. stations for information concerning him.

Lee's disappearance has completely baffled the French police. One suggestion put forward was that he was kidnapped by a gang of drug traffickers who found their activities hampered by his knowledge of their movements.

A Swiss nurse-maid declared that Lee was in love with her and that two days before his disappearance she received a letter from him saying "Without you life has no meaning for me."

A fortnight later a valise was recovered from the sea. It contained a quantity of unmarked linen and a note in English reading "I am committing suicide. No one is to blame."

Lee's housekeeper declared that the linen belonged to her master but his mother and brothers disagreed.

POLISH PREMIER'S VICTORY.

Triumph Of Common Sense.

Marshall Pilsudski, the Premier of Poland won a brilliant victory with the declaration of the poll at Poznan on Monday.

As a result of the elections the Polish nation has given the Government party headed by Pilsudski a clear majority of fifty-two in the new Parliament.

There are 444 members in the Polish Parliament and 248 Government candidates were returned. This means there should be a stable government in the country for five years.

Only five Communists, disguised as members of the Party of Workmen Peasants, were elected and the Socialists were badly defeated.

The results of the elections, so writes a correspondent, are a triumph of common sense. Poland no longer requires a Dictator and Pilsudski can cease to play a part he never wanted to play. It is considered he will probably resign the office of Premier and devote himself to the care of the Army.

ATLANTIC AIRMAN ARRESTED.

Engraver's Suspicions Aroused.

The arrest of Charles Levine, the American flyer of the Atlantic, at Vienna, has caused a sensation in the city temporarily eclipsing politics.

Levine has made several visits to Vienna this year. It is alleged he ordered dies from an engraver for medals and finally dies for coins corresponding to French currency issued in Paris by the Chamber of Commerce during the inflated period. This made the engraver suspicious.

The French Legation told the police that such coins were still legal tender.

Levine visited Vienna last week accompanied by Mabel Boll, the American diamond queen. Detectives watched him during his two days stay and on Tuesday morning, when he was about to leave, arrested him.

Levine states he wanted the dies to make counters for a new club he was founding in the United States.

A Reuter message, following on the previous message, states that it now appears the arrest of Levine may have been due to a mis-understanding.

MARCONI'S EXPERIMENTS.

New Developments.

The Marchese Marconi, the wireless inventor, who has just arrived at Genoa in his yacht "Electra", states that he is now pursuing a series of experiments in automatic radio telephony.

Tests are shortly to be continued on a larger scale by connecting telephone networks at Rome and Cagliari by two powerful wireless stations.

It will be possible for a person in Rome to dial any number in Cagliari. The impulses will be transmitted across the sea by short-wave wireless in a fashion similar to that when Marconi switched on the lights at Sydney Exhibition in March last from his yacht at Genoa.

Once connection is established conversations can be carried on by ordinary wireless telephony.

STRIKE TROUBLES IN SPAIN.

Shots Fired.

Four people were killed, twelve injured and seventy-nine arrested when riotous strikers defied the police at Barcelona on Tuesday.

Cafes, restaurants and some shops in the heart of the city re-opened as the strike was declared for only one day but only one tram-car was running, and this was heavily escorted.

The main feature of the strike is the antagonistic feeling between the members of the two powerful and rival trade unions who attack each other at sight.

It is also expected that a strike will be declared at Alicante.

Forty men were arrested in Madrid on Tuesday for molesting builders operatives who had resumed work. The Barcelona strikers used fire-arms and in one fight some thousand shots were fired.

TELEPHONE FROM LONDON TO NEW ZEALAND.

Mr. G.W. Forbes, the Premier of New Zealand, and Mrs. Forbes, spoke by wireless telephone to their two daughters at their remote sheep farm homestead at Cheriote, New Zealand, over 12,000 miles away, on Tuesday.

They and other New Zealand Ministers and officials who have come to London to attend the Imperial Conference, spoke also to colleagues, relatives and friends in the Cabinet Room, Wellington.

The conversations lasted about an hour and were perhaps the most successful held between Great Britain and New Zealand except for the experimental service.

CONVICT JUMPS FROM TRAIN.

Considerable excitement was caused on the west of England train on Tuesday when a convict was being conveyed to Dartmoor and tried to effect an escape by jumping through the window of a carriage.

A passenger on the train said "the prisoner ran past our compartment and tried to climb out of a window but a warder caught him and a desperate struggle ensued.

"The guard pluckily rushed to the warder's aid, catching the prisoner's legs and toppled him back. But the convict managed to elude their endeavours to stop him and a moment later sprang through the opening. A woman passenger cried out that one of them had gone through the window and pandemonium reigned. The communication cord was pulled and the train stopped at Romsey Station."

A hunt then took place for the convict who was found on the embankment along the line in a dazed condition.

Type-built Whaler Launched.

A £150,000 tanker with a capacity equal to 50,000 barrels of whale oil, and intended for the Antarctic whaling fleet of the Anglo-Norwegian Holdings, was launched from Messrs. Armstrong and Whitworth's South Yard, Walker, recently.

The vessel, a single-screw motor-ship, the "Leiesten", built for Messrs. Rasen and Loennechen, of Norway, was christened by Mr. E. Matheson with a bottle of Empire wine instead of the usual champagne.

The Anglo-Norwegian Holdings fleet, for which the new tanker will act as an auxiliary carrier, is the largest unit in the whaling industry in which British capital is invested. Last year's total catch of whale oil amounted to 240,000 barrels, worth over a million pounds.

Catching The Whale.

This fleet consists of three large factory ships, each supplied by a number of speedy, steam-driven catchers. The Company also operates a land station at South Georgia. Its whale catching methods include the use of an electric harpoon which kills the whale immediately contact is made - thus saving much time in the death struggles of the whale.

The "Leiesten" is 408 feet in length, 54 feet wide and 22 feet deep. She is designed to carry about 9,000 tons and her speed is eleven and a quarter knots. She is specially strengthened for work in the ice.

The engine, which has been constructed at Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth's Scotswood Works, consists of an Armstrong Diesel engine with the latest Sulzer improvements.

WEST STORE NEWS AND CHIT CHAT.

Chatterbox Page.

This is the housewives week in that the bargains should appeal particularly to those who are sometimes at a loss to think of some dish that will serve to break the monotony of the eternal mutton diet.

Yeatman's powders may be used either for puddings or blanc mange while Foster Clarke's sponge mixture is well known for its delicious and appetising aspect.

We hope you fully understand that you cannot make penguin or gosling pie with birds custard.

Ponder a moment. What scenes pass before your eyes when you think of cocoanut - Sunny Pacific Islands, bright blue sea and sky, The cocoan'rollers breaking in foam upon the coral reef, native huts nestled under the waving palms. Dusky maidens throwing cocoanuts down from the trees. Others catching them and breaking them open, extracting the interior and desiccating it. Then comes a tidal wave sweeping away dusky maidens, waving palms, island and all when, of course, the price of cocoanut rises straight away.

Judging by the price on Saturday there hasn't been such a catastrophe for some time but we strongly advise you to buy in a stock in case a tidal wave washes away the next year's supply of cocoanut.

SOVIET EFFRONTERY.

A Direct Blow To British Manufacturers.

A Special Correspondent states that the "Daily Mail" is able to disclose the details of an astounding Soviet scheme hatched in London by Moscow agents in collaboration with British friends.

It is a direct blow to British Manufacturers and workers for it is no less than an attempt to finance from Britain the whole plan of the Soviet dumping.

With unprecedented effrontery these people are attempting to raise a huge sum of money from Britain to provide elaborate machinery camouflaging Soviet dumping in Britain.

The scheme was considered in detail at a special conference recently in Moscow and had been fully approved by Stalin, the Moscow dictator.

It is proposed to form a company "The Anglo Soviet Trading Corporation" and to ask the British public to provide ten millions sterling capital.

The company when formed is to act as the sole distributors of Soviet goods in Britain and the Empire.

COMMUNISTS AND SPANISH UNREST.

A Franco-Spanish frontier correspondent reports that Communist activities, subsidised by Moscow, are the principal causes for the present unrest in Spain.

The Monarchist feeling is still strong throughout the country and given the opportunity which it is hoped to have if normal elections result, it is certain there would be a Monarchist majority in the Cortes.

We have much pleasure in announcing that a telegram has been received stating that a special message to the Falkland Islands will be broadcast on Friday evening next, the 28th of November, between 8.0 and 9.0 p.m. United States Standard Time (between 10.0 and 11.0 p.m. Local Time) from Schenectady (W. 2XAF) on 9530 Kilocycles.

RIFLE RANGE IMPROVEMENTS.

By the kindness of His Excellency the Governor we understand that a number of further improvements to both the Rifle Ranges are under consideration and will be made at an early date.

On the New Range a flag-pole is to be erected to the left of the 500 yards' firing point and such an addition cannot but be most helpful in determining the general direction of any of the puzzling fish-tail winds which are so often experienced on the Ranges. Besides this three seats for Register Keepers, combined with storage for empty cartridges, will be provided at each of the firing points - an improvement which will not only be of great utility but provide for the better comfort of the scorers.

On the Old Range, the first measure to be undertaken will be the re-conditioning of the 300 and 500 yards' firing points. We understand it is His Excellency's intention also, to have the targets on the Old Range replaced by horizontally running targets. This will be a very beneficial move since it will do away with the laborious method of swinging the targets in and out as done at present.

When these improvements have been effected we may truthfully say that our Ranges will be most up-to-date and the Falkland Islands will then possess a Rifle Range of which any Colony might be proud.

CHARTRES RIVER BRIDGE.

As a result of the recent inspection of the Chartres River Bridge it has been found that the damage done in the severe weather experienced during the past winter proves to be not too serious. It was found that four of the ten piers have been slightly tilted out of position and three of the main girders have been displaced some nine inches in all. The bridge is in no immediate damage and is still capable of carrying the usual traffic. It is hoped to carry out repairs early in the new year.

The slight damage speaks well for the stability of the structure when it is considered that hundreds of tons of ice were held up at this point of the river. The frosts experienced this year on the West Falklands were the severest known to the oldest inhabitants and after the thaw set in blocks of ice were to be seen flowing down the Chartres River eight inches in thickness and in blocks from twelve to fifteen feet square.

Eavesdropping on the Trans-Atlantic telephone is claimed to be impossible as a result of the invention described by Sergius P. Grace, the Assistant Vice-President of the Bell Telephone laboratories.

The former jumbles words actually spoken and inverting and distorting the natural speech so that an eavesdropper hears unintelligible gibberish. The "translating brain" re-arranges the sounds into an intelligible form.

THE IRISH FREE STATE SWEEPSTAKE.

Expenditure Disclosures.

While no one finds fault with the scrupulous manner in which the draw was carried out or with the actual management of the Sweepstake, the public is anxious for more particulars.

The disclosure that it actually took an expenditure of £248,723 to secure £131,724 for the Irish hospitals, has surprised subscribers.

The facts are these : receipts £658,618, contributions to hospitals £131,724, prize money £409,527, promotion fees and expenses £117,000.

To these figures must be added £131,723 paid to ticket sellers as commission.

Radical changes are to be made in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Grand National in March as a result of the experience gained in the Handicap Sweepstake.: the promoters fees are to be reduced by half; the percentage to hospitals is to be increased, the first prize is to be reduced, and precautions against dishonesty in ticket selling are to be taken.

It is understood that the same course is to be adopted at Washington by the Germans when the film is released in the United States, but there is little chance of their succeeding in getting it suppressed.

THE INDIAN CONFERENCE.

Work To Begin To-day.

The Indian Round Table Conference is to begin its real work to-day when the first meeting of the Federal Relations Committee find themselves beset with the task of translating the general agreement which emerged from the five days Plenary Session into practical proposals for submission first to the Conference and ultimately to Parliament.

A hopeful view of the prospects is taken by the press. The "Times" comments on the remarkable unanimity shown in the speeches.

"Perhaps the most hopeful impression left by the debate," it says, "is that it has at least placed abstract conceptions of status and Federations in their proper order.

"Status is coming to be recognised as a matter of achievement and not the gift of the Coping Stone and in consequence the capacity for self-government is to be considered as the first stage in the framing of the Constitution.

"There can be no progress in the discussion of any committee over details till the broad outlines of the structure are settled. Sceptics are asking already how long the great ideals of these last few days will survive in the next stages of the Conference, for whatever else it might imply there is no doubt that the Federation does mean a definite sacrifice on the part of all its members.

"The appointment of a vast Committee on Federal relations may, however, for a moment be hailed as a welcome sign that the new idea predominates."

The "Times" records two personal impressions of the long discussion. Firstly the spontaneous and prolonged applause which greeted every mention of the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, and secondly that the Prime Minister proved himself a tactful, sympathetic and infinitely patient chairman.

The "Morning Post", while not under-valuing the power of words, says "the problems of defence and the frontiers, the maintenance of law and order, the rights of minorities and the protection of British interests, remain.

"The Federal proposal has at least one advantage in that it brings in the Princes who are a stable and conservative element, but everything depends upon the manner in which the principle is applied and whether it can reconcile with those things which the Simon Commission rightly held to be essential."

The "Manchester Guardian" says that the British policy in India since the war has been entirely consistent and with sincerity has declared the firm intention that India should enjoy complete self-government within the Empire, reaching the ultimate aim by stages.

Events have shown "a conflict between the British view based on the necessity for a gradual change and the Indian demand for all or nothing.

"The offer of the Indian Princes to come at once into the All India Federation has ended this conflict because they will introduce into the legislature the element of balance between racial, religious and political extremes."

THE MANCHESTER NOVEMBER HANDICAP.

The result of the Manchester November Handicap which took place on Saturday was :- first, "Glorious Devon" 25/1; second, "Coligny" 40/1; "Nestorian" was third at 100/1.

The Irish Hospital Sweepstake first prize of £204,764 was shared by L.R. Prescott, Frank Ward, and John Tournay of Belfast who sold a half share to a London Syndicate for £2,500. The second prize goes to A.P. Dawe of Vancouver, the amount being £81,905. The third prize of £40,953 was obtained by Mrs. Selina Thompson of Worksop, Notts., who sold half for £1,000.

The Sweepstake and the Handicap has caused the Stewards of the Jockey Club a great deal of anxiety.

This has arisen from the fact that ticket holders in the Sweepstake received £1,694 for runners but only £534 for non-runners.

There was a record field of thirty and this would not have been so large but for the financial arrangements between certain owners and ticket holders that horses should run in order to secure the big difference between the amounts paid the starters and the non-starters.

At least one instance is known of a ticket holder who had drawn a horse in the sweepstake reaching an agreement with the owner that the horse should start on the condition that the difference between the £1,694 and £534 was shared between them.

"The Princes, however, will assuredly make conditions, the minority communities will demand safeguards while the British Government will require some measure of control of the army and foreign affairs. Again, for the time being the British Indian delegates have very definite ideas as to what constitutes a democratic institution. But these difficulties are adjustable and it is for the Committee to adjust them."

The "Daily Herald" says the demand of the Indians is as plain as a pikestaff and it is for the Committee to discuss not whether but how India is to have a full self-government. It is a supremely difficult but not insuperable task.

Turkey & Plum Pudding At 110.

Miss Katherine Plunket, the oldest living Irishwoman of Ballynascannon, Colough, celebrated her 110th birthday on Saturday. And she dined on turkey and plum pudding.

Miss Plunket, who is perfectly Victorian, with strong loyalist views, is the grand daughter of the first Lord Plunket who was Chancellor of Ireland, and she has known all the six holders of the title since its creation in 1827.

As a girl she travelled from the west of Ireland to Dublin by a canal boat and stage coach, and remembers being carried round that city in a sedan chair.

She also remembers one occasion when Sir Walter Scott, the famous novelist, took her on his knee and talked to her.

She will not have wireless in her house as she prefers the memories of famous musicians to radio melodies.

It is expected that her hull will take one and a half years to build and when the works are in full swing some 3,000 men will be employed. The vessel will take three and a half years to complete.

The new liner, which Mr. Smith said is being built to bring back the prestige of English shipping, will be the largest ship ever built.

Convicted Man's Ordeal.

The funeral of a man named Pat Groake, at Dudley, recently, recalled a domestic tragedy of thirty-five years ago.

During a quarrel in which Pat Groake and a brother, who died some time ago in America, were alleged to have been involved, their mother was kicked to death at their home in Dudley, and both men were tried for murder at Worcester Assizes.

The brother was acquitted and went abroad. Patsy, as he was known, was convicted and served a term of imprisonment, during which he was described as an exemplary convict.

At the end of thirteen years his brother is said to have confessed, when near his death, that he was responsible for the crime.

The then Home Secretary discharged Patsy. Patsy came home, however, a broken man, and was unable to find regular employment. Finally he had to go into the workhouse where he died.

Defence Force Rifle Association.

The members of the Association held a Spoon Competition over the week-end, in very boisterous weather. On Saturday afternoon a strong gusty wind was blowing from 2 o'clock and at times reached 20 miles an hour. The average deflection required at 600 yards was 13½ minutes.

On Sunday morning the wind which was equally as strong veered round to 1 o'clock. Whilst firing was in progress at the 500 yards' one of the targets was blown clean out of the frame and was smashed.

Pte. M. Campbell is to be complimented on the fine score of 96 which he returned on Sunday; he shot very consistently under difficult conditions.

SCOUTS AND GIRL GUIDES.

Total Of Nearly 3,000,000.

Canterbury residents and some thousands of Kent Scouts and Girl Guides gave a rousing welcome to General Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, when he arrived recently to receive the freedom of the city.

The Chief Scout was accompanied by Lady Baden-Powell, their two daughters, who were in Guide uniforms, and their son, Peter, in Scout uniform.

The Mayor paid a high tribute to the valuable work of Lord Baden-Powell in the cause of world peace. The presentation of the freedom was made, he said, in acknowledgement of the eminent services rendered by the Chief Scout in welding together the youth of the nations in the bonds of brotherhood and mutual understanding by the establishment of the Scout and Guide movements.

Lord Baden-Powell, in replying, said he took the presentation as an honour paid to the Scout and Guide movements, and he carefully attributed to his wife the credit of the formation of the Guides.

The latest figures of the progress of the Scouts and the Guides throughout the world showed that there were over two million eight hundred thousand in 1929, and he anticipated a very great increase when this year's figures were complete.

"THE BANGLE GIRL."

Curious School Problem In Somerset.

The question whether a girl should be allowed to wear jewellery at school or not has provided the Somerset Education authorities with a problem of unusual difficulty.

The problem with which the authorities are faced is to find a settlement for the deadlock which has arisen in the case of Violet Burton, a little girl living at West Coker, a West Somerset village, who, owing to the dispute in which she has figured, has become known as the "bangle girl."

When a little girl she was sent to the village school wearing a small silver bangle, which the school requested should be removed. Her parents insisted on her wearing it, and went so far as to padlock it on her arm to prevent its removal. This has created a deadlock which has lasted almost continuously for nearly five years.

Violet Burton is not attending school because of the bangle dispute. Her father insists on her wearing it at school, while the school authorities and the teacher are equally determined that she shall not wear it, and refuse to have the child at school unless the ornament is removed.

Again during the past week the problem has been considered by the school managers and the teacher. No solution, however, is in sight, and the child continues to enjoy holiday indefinitely.

RARE BOOKS RECOVERED.

Solicitor's Advice.

Three first edition folios of Spencer's "Faerie Queene", valued at £2,000 and stolen from Cartmel-in-Furness Priory, Lancashire, over a year ago, have been handed to the police at Sudbury, Suffolk by a man who stated he was asked to accompany another man to the United States to sell three old books.

He travelled in various places in America but their efforts to sell the books were futile.

One day his companion attempted to kill him by gas-poisoning in the hotel bedroom. He escaped and found that the other man had left the books.

He returned to England and saw his solicitor who advised him to go to the police.

The thief who stole the books in September, 1929, removed the gate in a dense fog and carried it a hundred yards to the Priory and used it as a ladder to reach the window of the vestry and cut the glass in the case where the books were.

THE DOWNFALL OF MOSCOW.

Soviet Again Imperilled - By Rumours.

Moscow has again preserved utter silence, so reports the "Daily Mail", regarding the position of the Soviet government and a fresh wave of rumours has spread over Europe.

Much speculation was aroused in Geneva on Monday by the sudden departure of the Soviet Foreign Commissar who has been attending the Preparatory Disarmament Commission. The Russian delegation say he has gone to Britain to meet the Soviet Minister for Rome. It is believed however, that the detour through Britain is nothing but camouflage, concealing the real reason for the Minister's recall to Moscow.

That the Soviet Government views the position in Russia to-day with the greatest alarm is confirmed by information from an unimpeachable source. Some days ago Soviet officials confided that the government were rapidly losing their grip on the situation, the gravest danger coming from peasants revolting against the seizure of their crops for dumping abroad while they are starving.

The Warsaw correspondent states that according to a Moscow wireless message, picked up at Vilna on Monday, the Commissar for War (Boroshilov), has proclaimed himself dictator of Soviet Russia. He promises to restore all rights and privileges to the people and the army.

The Berlin correspondent states that a Russian officer arrived there declaring that there had been a plot among the Red Army officers, seven hundred of whom had been arrested and a number of them shot immediately.

The Riga correspondent announces that Russian armoured trains have been rushed to Ostrov to quell a peasant rising in White Russia. The Latvian border guards have had and are having great difficulty in preventing the Russian hordes from crossing the border.

THE INDIAN CONFERENCE.

Federal Relations With British India.

The delegates of the Round Table Conference had a further meeting on Monday when the position of the Indian states was again considered.

It is understood that, for the present, they have decided not to place any detailed plan before the Federal Relations Committee of the Conference. The conditions upon which they would willingly join with British India were clearly stated in the speeches at the plenary session.

They are summarised by the "Observer" as follows : firstly that the crown shall remain; secondly that the army and foreign affairs shall be left in the hands of the paramount power; thirdly that the States shall be given equal representation with British India; fourthly that their rights shall be clearly defined before the Federation; and fifthly that a Federal Supreme Court shall be set up for deciding all judicial disputes.

In addition it has been made clear that while Princes would not tolerate interference by the Federal authority in disputes between themselves and their subjects, they are prepared to make important concessions whereof the most important is their readiness to enter the Federation.

The "Observer" says that they are also prepared to concede that currency tariffs and railways should be regarded among matters of common concern to the States and the rest of India and these should be in the hands of the Federal authority.

SIGNS OF INDUSTRIAL IMPROVEMENT.

World Trade Still In Infancy.

Speaking at Farnham on Monday evening, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Philip Snowden, said he shared the view of the British Federation of Industries in their latest report that there were signs of improved trade.

He added "when it does come I think it will come with considerable rapidity. So long as prices are low and there is an impression that they have not touched rock bottom there will be a reluctance to buy, but as soon as the impression becomes general that prices are rising, there will be a very great stimulus to trade."

He expressed confidence regarding the future of British trade. Its percentage of the total world trade was slightly less than formerly but as other countries became industrialised that was inevitable.

It was volume not proportion that mattered. World trade was still in its infancy. At least two thirds of the population of the world had low standards of living and as they progressed their demands for manufactures from other countries would increase.

Speaking of world conditions which had contributed to trade depression, he welcomed the increasing attention being paid to the effect of a monetary policy upon industry. He had no doubt that interested governments would give serious consideration to and take any necessary action upon the report which is shortly to be issued by the League of Nations Committee examining the subject.

Lewis Gun Shooting.

Field Practices.

The Lewis Gunners of Numbers 1, 2 and 3 Platoons have been putting in their Annual Shooting during the past fortnight. This year the shooting has been done during the evenings with very good results.

Each gunner was exercised at service targets (steel falling plates, fifteen inches square), set at unknown ranges. The gunner had to estimate the range and get quickly on to the target; he would then be suddenly given a new target on which he had to find the range as before. In all, each member fired 100 rounds under service conditions.

Range Practices.

To be fired in bursts, 10 seconds allowed to fire and clear the Gun.

Scoring :- 2 points for each hit on the scoring surface of the Target. Highest Possible Score 30.

2. 45 rounds in three magazines each containing fifteen rounds. Large (6-foot) L.A. Target. 400 to 200 yards' range.

Fire 15 rounds at 400 yards - 10 seconds allowed. Interval 10 seconds. Advance to 300 yards', load and fire 15 rounds - 90 seconds allowed to advance and fire. 10 seconds interval. Advance to 200 yards' load and fire 15 rounds - 90 seconds allowed to advance and fire.

After firing fifteen rounds at 400 and 300 yards', the firer had to unload and place another magazine on the gun; the gun had to be loaded when the next firing point was reached.

Scoring : 1 point for each hit on the scoring surface of the target. Highest Possible Score 45.

SLIPPERS AND RAZOR STROPS. - both closely related in that they are each made of leather and used at the same time. What does one look for first thing every morning? A pair of comfortable slippers - and then? A razor and a strop to touch up the keen edge for a fine clean shave. We can heartily recommend these strops to all barbers, chiropodists, out-throats etc. only 3d each and a pair of slippers to go with it 6d. What better could one do with 9d. than spend it like this.

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE EITHER HERRINGS OR LOBSTER, this is an OPPORTUNITY not to be missed.

Apart from its BRAIN BUILDING QUALITIES, fish is an EXCELLENT FOOD. The herring is the staple diet of millions of people, the lobster of course is purely a delicacy. Of course we do not suggest that you live entirely on herrings or lobsters, such a diet of tinned fish would have disastrous results. We do recommend however FRESH FISH (or canned when fresh fish is unobtainable) as a change and to introduce variety into your diet. Both lobster and herrings, or for that matter any other tinned fish obtainable at the West Store are not only PLEASING TO THE PALATE, but are prepared in such a manner that even the unpractised eye may see at a glance their wholesomeness.

SMUGGLING 'PLANE ENGINES

TO THE SOVIET.

An unconfirmed report from Helsingfors, Finland, states that an American vessel whose name is unknown, while passing through Finnish waters some days ago, obtained a private pilot to Petrograd whither it was bound. The ship's cargo is stated to have been 500 aeroplanes.

In Washington on Tuesday, during the hearing of evidence by the Congress Committee investigating Communistic activities, Vassilev Delgass, formerly the Vice-president of the Soviet Trading Agency, said that four hundred aeroplanes and engines had been bought in the United States during the past three years and had been illegally shipped to Russia.

MOTHER'S DESPAIRING CRY!

Fashionable Bride In Tears.

The most fashionable wedding in the Berlin season was disturbed on Wednesday by a mother's despairing cry.

It was at the wedding of Barnness Lilly Claire Von Gotard and Herr Schleber, a wealthy business man, which took place at the favourite church of St. Matthias.

As the radiant bride came down the church steps after the ceremony a mother, a black-haired woman standing in front of the crowd cried "Give me back my son Herr Von Gotard. You have put him into penal servitude for fifteen years although he is innocent. You've taken away my support. Give honour to God and speak the truth."

Everyone there knew who spoke. She was Frau Bullerjahn, whose son was tried for betraying to French agents, secrets of the chemical works wherein he was employed. Baron Von Gotard was a managing director of the works.

The Bullerjahn case has been described by some as the "German Dreyfus case". The mother's cry, on hearing which the bride burst into tears, has given a new impulse to a campaign for re-opening the whole case.

MOTOR BOAT WEEK.

Next Year's Event At Southampton.

That a great international week of water-boats and yachts is to be held at Hythe, Southampton, in 1931 was the announcement at Park Lane Hotel on Thursday night at the annual dinner of the Royal Motor Yacht Club and the British Motor boat Club.

It is proposed to start the week on Saturday, June the 20th with a race of motor-boats from London to Cowes. On Sunday there is to be an assembly of yachts and motor-boats.

The greatest contest will be an international race for the Detroit News Cup for five and a half litre boats. This trophy, which is the first American motor-boat trophy to be taken from that country, was won by W. Scott Paines in the States this year.

The United States announces that she is sending a team of three specially built boats in an attempt to win back the trophy. At the dinner on Thursday an appeal was made for three English boats to defend the Cup.

Arrangements were concluded on Tuesday whereby Mr. Maurice Chevalier the French film and stage comedian is appearing in the Royal Albert Hall on Sunday evening, December the 7th, in a recital of songs which have made him world popular.

This will be the first occasion a film star has appeared at the Albert Hall and this has been necessitated by the fact that many thousands were unable to secure seats for the comedian's forthcoming season at the Dominion Theatre, and now therefore will be catered for.

The prices at the Albert Hall will be those usually charged for "star" recitals held there.

NEW SOUTH WALES FINANCIAL CRISIS.

Confronted With Disaster.

The "Daily Mail" Melbourne correspondent reports that a serious position in the New South Wales finances was described in the State Parliament on Thursday when the new Labour Premier, Mr. Lang, asked for £13,482,240 as supply for four months.

Speaking with unusual earnestness he said "Taking Sydney and London combined we are faced with owing, by way of overdraft balances immediately maturing, and Local Treasury Bills, £11,789,537.

"If the London Treasury Bills due on December the 31st and March 2nd next, are also added, the total obligations realise the stagger sum of £15,342,789. Never in the history of the State has the Government been saddled with such a tragic legacy.

"The position portends speedy and inevitable disaster if not absolutely and immediately grappled. Whether it will be possible to balance the accounts I am unable to state."

It is generally recognised that the Legislative Council of the State is doomed.

SOVIET EMBASSY'S CONCERN.

Ozpu Agents As Prisoners.

Consternation reigned in the Soviet Embassy, London on Thursday following the "Daily Mail's" revelation that Ozpu agents sent to England to "persuade the Ambassador Sokolnikoff to return forthwith to Moscow have been outwitted by a sharper intelligence than theirs and were being held practically prisoners in the Embassy.

Strenuous efforts were being made in the Soviet circles to deny that the holding of men as prisoners in the Soviet Embassy could happen but the practice is common in embassies and legations. The following morning a meeting of the heads of the Embassy was held and it was decided to make exhaustive enquiries among the whole staff of the Embassy and the leading members of the Soviet Trading Concern in an effort to find out where the news of the Embassy's prisoners leaked out.

GERMAN "DREYFUS" CASE.

High Treason Charge & Re-Trial.

The dramatic appeal made to Herr Von Gotard, the industrial magnate at his daughter's wedding on Wednesday by the mother of a man under-going fifteen years' imprisonment for alleged high treason seems to have produced a situation which parallels the famous Dreyfus case.

Walter Bullerjahn, whose mother it was who made the appeal, was found guilty of high treason in 1925, and committed for giving information to French members of the Inter-Allied Military Control Commission, of the existence of a store of military arms and ammunition which had not been reported in accordance with the terms of the Peace Treaty.

Lieutenant Jost, a member of the Committee, on account of his membership could not give evidence at the trial and Bullerjahn was sentenced on the evidence of a "person in whom full confidence can be placed and who is in no sense involved or concerned in the matter".

That witness was Herr Von Gotard, who was at the time the director general of the company owning the works in which the forbidden weapons were hidden.

His evidence was taken privately. Bullerjahn's counsel, who never ceased his endeavours to obtain a re-trial of the case, has now informed the Supreme Court that Lieutenant Jost is ready to swear that Bullerjahn did not betray the secret.

Herr Von Gotard asserts that Bullerjahn could not have been convicted for he was never heard directly by the Supreme Court. It is understood that a decision is being taken as to approaching the French Government in the matter.

GREETINGS FROM THE ETHER.

Schenectady & Rivadavia Honour The Falklands.

Messages From New York & Buenos Aires.

A thrill of expectation was realised on Friday when the Colony received two charming programmes, particularly dedicated to the Falkland Islands, and especially broadcast from Schenectady, New York and Rivadavia, Buenos Aires. Both these stations are familiar to the listeners-in of Stanley and the Camp through the praiseworthy endeavours of the Stanley Broadcast Service of which His Excellency the Governor is the keen and enthusiastic sponsor.

Soon after 10.0 p.m. the voice of the announcer from Schenectady stated that after the fortnightly programme by the General Electric Company a portion of the broadcast that evening was being dedicated to the southernmost outpost of the British Empire - His Excellency the Governor and the people of the Falkland Islands - and would commence with the National Anthem which the orchestra then played. The music came through with the utmost clarity and throughout the whole of the dedicatory programme there was hardly a trace of interference from atmospherics and not a single item was missed.

"I am sure," the voice resumed, "it will interest our Falkland Island friends to know that this is the second time to-day this Station has rendered a special programme for the Colonies of the British Empire. The first was at 2.0 o'clock this afternoon when we transmitted a programme to the National Exhibition being held at Johannesburg, South Africa."

Our American friend then went on to give a short topographical sketch of the Falkland Islands and the Dependencies explaining that they were to be found in the South Atlantic and were the southernmost British possession. There were a hundred islands in all with a population of 2,500 people. Stanley was the most densely populated place and the easternmost part of the East Falklands, having a population of 900 people; and that it was particularly to those people that Schenectady was speaking that evening. The broadcast service was operated by George Butcher and the Studio relayed programmes through to ninety loud-speakers in widely separated parts of Stanley and it was safe to say the majority of the 900 people were listening to their programme originating thousands of miles away.

After the tune "Go Home To Mother" had been broadcast the announcer mentioned that the Station had received a letter from the Colonial Secretary informing them that "W.C.Y." was being received and with the letter was a copy of the local newspaper published in the Islands and called the "Penguin". Then followed a detailed description of the "Penguin's" cover, pages and advertisements with the local and foreign news. Among the items of the latter was news of the golf championship at Hoylake and mention of President Hoover's speech on the occasion of the presentation of the National Geographical Society's award to Admiral Byrd.

"These people," our friend went on, "must wait four weeks to get a mail from England or the United States and Schenectady are very happy to help the happiness of so far off a people."

The following three musical items were then given: "Waiting for the Sunrise" by arrangement, "It goes like this" by special request and thirdly a favourite tune in America "When the organ played at twilight."

The multitude of worldwide listeners were then acquainted with climatic statistics of the Islands in which they were informed that the mean temperature for the mid-summer months was 47 degrees and for the mid-winter months 37 degrees, there being only a difference of ten degrees between the two. In New York by way of contrast, the mid-summer temperature was as high as 100 degrees above zero and in mid-winter it dropped as low as 15 or 20 degrees below. Last summer they had more than their share of heat and the previous day the thermometer registered ten degrees below; and they had the severest weather yet to come.

After further musical items "New Winter Night" and a "Song of the South" Schenectady brought the specially dedicated half hour to a close with the announcer extending to His Excellency and the Falkland Islands sincere wishes for a happy Christmas and a Happy New Year and the hope that "our programmes will continue to reach you and give you enjoyment."

About 10.0 p.m. the Anglo-Speaking Radio Club, Buenos Aires, announced that they would give a special programme in honour of the Falkland Islands at 10.30 p.m. and punctually, the first items were broadcast consisting of a series of gramophone records which were heard quite distinctly. As the programme continued the reception improved still further and we were interested to hear the announcement that the church services from Buenos Aires were to be broadcast and also the announcement that the programme for the next Friday evening would be one of classical music and would be transmitted on 316 metres wave length.

In the course of the programme Mr. Butcher's letter of the 10th of November was read out. It ran :

"Sir,

On behalf of His Excellency the Governor and our Listeners-in, may I express our appreciation of the excellent programme broadcast by your Club on the night of the 31st of October last. Although interfered with by atmospherics at intervals, the majority of the programme was heard very clearly. I think that we must be the most distant receiving station relaying your programmes, and I trust therefore that I may be permitted to remark that owing to the excellent modulation of music and speech transmitted by L.S. 5, and also the small amount of fading in comparison with other stations round that wave length, the Rivadavia Station is probably the ideal station for future events.

"We look forward to your next event which we understand is to be on the 28th of November and we hope that conditions will be a little more favourable.

"In conclusion may I congratulate the Radio Club on its endeavours to bring closer together the English Speaking Community in Buenos Aires, Monte Video and surrounding districts."

The announcer said that it gave the Club great pleasure to receive such letters from so distant a source.

Following upon this was a discussion on Spiritualism opened by Mr. Eric Courtney Lock whose arguments could be distinctly heard throughout. The Reverend Mr. Neale, who had not listened to Mr. Lock's speech also gave his views on this widely discussed subject. A sketch was given afterwards and came through quite clearly. It was the first of its kind, the announcer intimated, that the Club had attempted to broadcast. The sketch was most enjoyable. When saying good-night the announcer bade "Good-night Falklands, Good-night Your Excellency, Mr. Arnold Hodson, our honorary member. We thank you for your letter and we hope you have enjoyed this performance as you did the last and we hope to hear something of it in your 'Penguin' newspaper."

So closed a memorable evening for Stanley and the Falkland Islands whose names were hurtled through the air, covering half the face of the earth in the twinkling of an eye. In the Colony itself every wireless set was prepared for these programmes of which we had been so kindly apprised; and every loud-speaker in Stanley and the Camp transformed these messages of goodwill from such distant sources, into clear and untrammelled sounds arresting the ear.

We are deeply appreciative of the arrangements made by our overseas friends to give this remote Colony special mention in their programmes so widely broadcast to English Speaking peoples and for the special messages they have sent us.

His Excellency, in acknowledging the kindness of the General Electric Company of New York and the Anglo-Speaking Radio Club, Buenos Aires, has caused the following telegram to be sent :

"Thank you for your delightful programme. Reception Excellent. Letter follows." signed "Governor."

It is with pleasure that we learn that Mr. John Hamilton of Wonderful Score On Local Course.

We feel sure that our members will be interested to read that Mr. J. Morton, whilst playing with His Excellency the Governor on the 30th November, put up the following remarkable score :-

Holes.	1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.
Out	4.	3.	3.	4.	4.	3.	4.	4.	4.	33.
In	3.	3.	4.	5.	4.	3.	4.	4.	4.	34.
Total										67.

We are informed that Mr. Morton only made two slight minor slips and it is to be regretted that the score was not made in a competition round. The score, which is eleven below bogey for the course, was checked personally by His Excellency.

It was owing to the fact that he was playing on St. Andrew's Day, the patron saint of Scotland, that Mr. Morton went "fey" on this occasion. It is fortunate for other members of the Club that St. Andrew's Day only comes once a year.

His Excellency's score was 75 - eight short of Mr. Morton's and four below bogey for the course.

Ladies' Record.

Mrs. Morton, playing in the American Tournament on Saturday, the 29th November, again reduced the ladies' record to 79 - her score being :

Holes.	1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.
Out	4.	5.	5.	4.	5.	4.	4.	4.	4.	39.
In	4.	4.	5.	4.	5.	5.	5.	4.	4.	40.

SHOOTING.

The members of the Defence Force Rifle Association held a Practice shoot at the 900 and 1,000 yards' on Saturday, 29th November, and at 200, 500 and 600 yards' on Sunday, the 30th. The wind was very tricky and the light variable on Saturday when good shooting was marred.

Private A. Hills returned the best card with 62, a thirty-one at each range. This score was followed by His Excellency the Governor with 61.

The leading scores were :

Pte. A. Hills	31	31	62.
H.E. The Governor	33	28	61.
Sgt. A.I. Fleuret	31	28	59.
Pte. L. Aldridge	27	30	57.
Mr. J.F. Summers	29	28	57.
Lieut. W.M. Allan	31.	26	57.
Pte. W. Summers	33	24	57.
" R.L. Robson	29	27	56.

Eight other members returned cards.

On Sunday the conditions were deplorable. At 10.0 a.m. the weather could not have been more suitable and gave every promise of a good day. But by 11.0 a.m. it seemed that the weather experienced at the Local Bisley last year had returned.

Rain squall followed rain squall and on three occasions the firers had to make a hurried retreat to the pavilion from the 200 and 500 yards' firing points.

Finally the shoot had to be abandoned just as the last detail was firing.

His Excellency the Governor had bad luck for when shooting in the last detail at the 200 yards' he had to complete his score in a rain squall with the target almost invisible, but in spite of this he registered 31. His Excellency was one of the detail returning incomplete cards when the shoot was abandoned in the heavy rain at the 500 yards.'

Adverse weather conditions seem to suit Pte. M. Campbell who made 96 on the previous Sunday in bad weather and on this occasion had 32 at the 200 yards' and 34 at the 500 yards'. Twenty members were present at the shoot.

DORNIER DOX DAMAGED.

Wing Completely Burnt.

A press message reports that the monster German flying boat, Dornier Dox caught fire on Saturday with the result that the 160 ft wing of the craft was completely destroyed by fire.

The Dox arrived at Lisbon on the previous Thursday and was anchored in the Tagus, prior to its attempt to cross the Atlantic.

The fire was caused by the fusing of one of the electric wires. Sparks came into contact with the waxed lining of the left wing which burst into flames.

Fire brigades were telephoned for but by the time they arrived the crew of the Dox had extinguished the flames. Only the skeleton of the wing remains the whole of the fabric being burnt away. But for the prompt action of the crew who prevented the flames reaching the big oil tanks, the whole machine would have been destroyed. The damage will take several weeks to repair.

CRISIS IN COAL INDUSTRY.

Scottish Miners And Complete Stoppage.

Efforts To Avert Strike.

Throughout the week-end desperate efforts have been made to secure agreements in districts concerned in the coal crisis.

A message on Saturday stated that the Scottish miners had decided on a complete stoppage as from Sunday afternoon. This meant that 92,000 men would be idle. On the other hand a message gives the promising news that the South Wales miners, who are regarded as the key to the area, have agreed to carry on temporarily on the owners new terms pending further discussions.

In announcing the decision of the National Union of Scottish Mine Workers which had been conferred with, Mr. Doovan, the president, said at Glasgow that "There is to be absolute unanimity among the men in resisting the owners proposals." Despite this statement it was regarded as unlikely that there would be a general stoppage for negotiations on Saturday were concentrated upon fixing up temporary arrangements to prevent the cessation of work and so enable the mines to carry on until Thursday when the next miners delegate conference takes place.

On Sunday it was certain that in all mining areas, except the Scottish coal-fields, work was to continue as usual on Monday. In Scotland, the Union of Scottish Mine Workers decided to cease work from Sunday. Consequently the shifts did not descend the mines in the afternoon but there were strong hopes that the meetings fixed for Monday morning would result in an arrangement whereby work would be resumed.

South Wales is much more an important coal-field and was, in fact, regarded as the danger point in the situation. The settlement reached there provided grounds for expectation that the meetings in Scotland would lead to a resumption of work.

The Secretary of Mines, Mr. Shinwell, in a statement issued on Sunday emphasised the danger of a national upheaval which he thought had been averted by the decision of the Welsh miners and added "there will be no interference with normal transactions in coal and no interference with exports and buyers of coal need be under no misapprehension about obtaining supplies. There will be an abundance of coal production."

Mr. Shinwell pointed out that the Government had been in constant touch with both sides during the dispute and mentioned that the National Industrial Board had made, in regard to the Scottish appeal, similar recommendation to that made in the case of South Wales, namely, that as a temporary settlement pending negotiations there should be no wage reductions and that the spread-over principle should be adopted.

Actually the agreement reached between the South Wales owners and miners provided for work on eleven days of eight hours for the fortnight as against the permissible ninety hours per fortnight of seven and a half hours a day per working week as laid down by the new Coal Mines Act if the Act were adhered to rigidly.

BURMA WANTS TO SEPARATE.

Equitable Terms With India.

At a round table conference in London on Monday it was decided that a special committee should be set up to "Consider the nature of the conditions which would enable Burma to separate from India on equitable terms and to recommend the best way for securing this end.

This important decision was reached after the Burman point of view had been placed before the conference by Mr. U.B.A. Pe. He said that the wishes of the people of Burma were that their country should be separated from India. He considered that Burma should have a constitution if possible at the same time as India and he thought it would be best to have another conference in London to which would be invited the representatives of the various parties and interests in Burma, some fifteen to twenty in all, who would sit as the present conference was sitting, with representatives of the British Government.

The further conference would economise time, avoid trouble and be more conducive to the working out of a constitution for Burma. The Prime Minister, as chairman, interpreted the desire for a conference as for a committee which should not attempt to draft the constitution for a new Burma but should take note of certain conditions which had to be met in the process of separation. It should further recommend how the process should be best carried out - whether by committee, commission or anything else. He then proposed the terms of reference given and there was a general assent.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS.

In a Parliamentary answer on Monday, the Secretary for India, Mr. Wedgwood Benn, said the strength of the boycott of British goods in India had varied greatly in different places and from time to time, and cotton goods had been more severely boycotted than others. The boycott was now weakening over India as a whole but it was still effective in Bombay.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Henderson, replying to a number of questions regarding statements made with reference to the British Government during the Ogpu trial now proceeding in Moscow, said that he had made a very careful examination of a full translation of the documents issued by the Soviet Government.

Mr. Henderson added "His Majesty's Ambassador at Moscow has, accordingly on my instructions, informed the Soviet Government that in so far as the comments of the public prosecutor on the depositions made by the accused, have been officially accepted by the Soviet Government, I take exception to the passages which contain adverse and unfounded reflections upon the late and present Governments.

Mr. Shinwell, the Secretary for Mines, stated in the Commons that, in England and Wales all pits were working on Monday and in Scotland eighteen per cent of the men. When on Monday the Scottish Coal Board met the Glasgow men's officials it was believed almost with certainty that an agreement would be reached. It was widely hoped that those Scottish miners who were waiting for terms to be reached would return to work on a day to day basis.

BAILIFFS IN THE HOME.

New South Wales Anxiety.

Anxiety is being felt in many small homes in Sydney, New South Wales, wrote a correspondent on Monday.

In order to anticipate the Moratorium Act which the state government proposes to pass, the landlords and their agents are secretly preparing a big series of raids which are expected to take place to-day (Wednesday) on the households where the rent or other payments are in arrears.

One firm alone is sending bailiffs to twenty-seven shops and dwellings. One suburb has already organised a body of unemployed to give the bailiffs a hot reception.

Mr. Lamard, the Minister of Justice threatens a retrospective clause making any seizures on or after to-day illegal, but the creditors object will have been achieved before the Bill becomes law and the clause will be inoperative.

"THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A CROOK."

A First Hand Account.

It now appears that Netley Lucas was the name under which Evelyn Graham made his first essay in literature for he used it when publishing some years ago "The Biography of a Crook".

Inquiries have also revealed that before he became known as Evelyn Graham, Lucas had other names including those of Robert Clarke and Armstrong McKenzie, both of which are on the files of Scotland Yard and in the archives of the Canadian police. Included in the latter's he is also known as Georgia McKenzie under which alias Lucas was convicted in Canada in 1924 for operating a bogus employment agency and was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment and deportation. He has also done a term in Borstal.

CANADA AND "HUMBUC".

Retort To Mr. J.H. Thomas's Epithet.

Mr. R.B. Bennett, the Canadian Premier, made a statement on Tuesday in reply to a speech in Parliament last Wednesday week by Mr. J.H. Thomas, the Dominion Secretary, who applied the epithet "Humbuc" to an offer by the Dominions at the Imperial Conference of Empire Preferential Tariffs.

He said "The Government's failure to denounce that statement must be construed as an endorsement by it of the views expressed by one of its Ministers.

"The Dominion Secretary condemned beyond the possibility of further discussion and in language deeply resented by the Government of Canada a proposal which I made in a sincere desire to meet our individual and our common needs.

"If this indicates the attitude of the United Kingdom at the Conference to be held at Ottawa then I've little hope that any agreement which Canada may reach with the other Dominions will include the United Kingdom.

"If the Canadian proposal is thus to be contemptuously rejected the Canadians can only accept and act upon the rejection by embracing other means at hand of further strengthening her economic position in the world."

BUYING UP ENGLISH CINEMAS.

American Proposal For Fifty.

The "Daily Mail" is able to announce that American interests are proposing to acquire a still larger chain of English cinemas than those reported yesterday when it was announced that the Famous Lasky Corporation had purchased the Astoria cinemas at Finsbury Park, Streatham, Brixton and the Old Kent Road, London.

The representatives of an American banking concern have been making enquiries lately in the city for the purpose of raising two millions sterling to be devoted to the purchase of fifty cinemas in various parts of the country. The capital would be raised in England.

Independent exhibitors in England are greatly disturbed at this latest move and the matter has been brought officially to the notice of the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association which represents over 3,500 cinema owners.

FRENCH BANKING DIFFICULTIES.

Notable Financier Arrested.

The "Daily Mail" Paris correspondent writes that M. Oustric, the head of the bank and financial group of the same name and only a month ago one of the most powerful figures in French financial circles was arrested on Monday in connection with charges made against him for alleged complicity in a financial scandal two years ago.

Other charges have also been made against Oustric in connection with Stock Exchange speculations which led to the failure of his bank and several firms of brokers on the Korb Market during the past three weeks.

This latter collapse has involved the loss, it is estimated, of about twelve millions sterling and led to the resignation last week-end of two members of the French Ministry. But their action is in no way connected with the alleged scandal of two years ago.

The Ministers are M. Lautier (Under Secretary of Fine Arts), and M. Folcoz (Under Secretary of Public Works) whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Oustric Bank.

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD AS VICEROY OF INDIA.

Lord Irwin's Successor ?

The good impression created by the Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, in his conduct of the India Round Table Conference in London, has had one unexpected result.

The "Daily Mail" learns that the suggestion has been put forward that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald should succeed Lord Irwin whose term of office expires in April, as Viceroy of India.

The idea that the leader of the Socialist Party should end his political career with the Viceroyalty and the accompanying peerage sounds fantastic but the "Daily Mail" has been assured that it has been advanced in more than one quarter and the further view has been advanced that his appointment would give satisfaction to the Indian people.

Mr. MacDonald has had a consultation with the Indian Princes, among whom was "Rangi", in his room at the House of Commons on Wednesday evening.

THREE MYSTERIOUS DEATHS.

Extraordinary Occurrence In France.

An Englishwoman, a distinguished prelate and an old maid who was a Christian scientist, figure in a extraordinary sequence of deaths that are engaging the attention of the Paris police.

All of them died in the same house block of flats in the Rue Victor Cousiderant. Although the deaths may be an amazing coincidence they appear to the police to demand the closest investigation and the body of Miss Sims has been removed to the Medico Legal Institute for examination by Dr. Paul, the criminal expert.

"YOU COULDN'T GET THEM HERE AT THAT PRICE !"

How often have you heard these words spoken ?

Mr. A. sends direct to Barratts because he knows that their boots are really good. He waits for three months and is then informed that his money has been 'pinched' in the post and he loses another three months in getting it refunded. IS IT WORTH ALL THIS TROUBLE ?

Of course he knew that Barratt boots were obtainable at the West Store even though they were a shilling or two more than the catalogue price. He certainly was unlucky and in nine cases out of ten there would only be the usual wait of three months or so. ST. MARY'S SCHOOL PRIZE-GIVING.

A Glowing Tribute To Father Migone

And The Sisters.

There was a large attendance at the twenty-fourth Annual Prize giving at St. Mary's School, Stanley on Thursday when the awards were distributed by His Excellency the Governor who was accompanied by his private Secretary, the Mother Superior and Father Ussher.

The proceedings opened with a well-applauded pianoforte duet by Alice Mills and Helen Lees entitled "The Last Rose of Summer" and this was followed by the singing of the song "Our Motherland and Our King." by the girls of Class III upwards.

Prior to presenting the prizes His Excellency said they all knew Father Migone had been terribly ill and for that reason the Sisters had asked him to explain that those present would not have the pleasure of enjoying the happy sketches they generally saw. His Excellency spoke of having seen Father Migone the night before the latter's operation and in all his life, he said, he had not seen so much courage, cheerfulness and Christian fortitude. That in itself showed what a real thing the Catholic religion was.

The Governor added that it was with much pleasure that he was there that afternoon to give away the prizes and, at the same time, he took it upon himself to welcome Father Ussher who had come from Monte Video during the illness of Father Migone.

After complimenting the School on its excellent work His Excellency paid a high tribute to the Sisters for their devoted labours amongst the people of the Falkland Islands.

He reminded his listeners that the Sisters came to the Colony without being paid anything at all. Most of them had left their own families situated in warmer climes and did what they were doing cheerfully and wholeheartedly. And he could not but admire their selflessness and fortitude.

Another point he was sure they were all agreed upon was that amongst the Sisters of Stanley there was always an atmosphere of kindness and goodness which seemed to surround them, and influence all those with whom they associated.

They were always cheerful, always happy and never complained. The only objection he had to their Order was that they were not allowed to go and eat his food at Government House although he had tempted them with peaches from the hot-houses and the conservatory. (Laughter and applause.)

His Excellency went on to refer to the new Gymnasium and Baths and said that he wanted to tell Mother Superior and the Sisters that he hoped very much to be able to arrange for all the children of their school to go to the Gymnasium and learn gymnastics on perhaps two or three days a week which would make an enormous difference to their health and physique. The Government - although they all knew he wanted his pound of flesh - would charge nothing. (Applause.)

In the last mail, His Excellency continued, he had received a letter from his wife who they all knew was a Catholic, saying how very sorry indeed she was not to be with them that afternoon and how she remembered the last performance she attended and the hearty welcome given her.

In conclusion he thanked them all and expressed the hope that Father Migone would make a speedy and complete recovery and long be spared them. (Loud applause.)

At the conclusion His Excellency announced his intention of giving three prizes to the Mother Superior for the School stating he would like them to be awarded for a short composition, the subject being "Why I am glad we won the Kolapore Cup." This generous offer of His Excellency was greeted with acclamation.

Before departing His Excellency paid a visit to the exhibition of school work held in one of the adjoining rooms where there was an excellent display of skillfully executed handicraft, including paintings, embroidery, needlework and handwriting, in all of which His Excellency showed himself keenly interested.

ZACHARIAH FEE REVUE.

Play To Be Photographed.

It will be of interest to all connected with His Excellency's Revue to learn that the Hon. George Roberts has kindly arranged to take a series of photographs which will form a complete picture record of the play as staged and costumed in honour of the visits of H.M.S. "Danae" and "Despatch". The building chosen by Mr. Roberts for the purpose is the new Gymnasium which, owing to the roof light, will make an excellent studio.

The series will include all the principal episodes of the play and a group of photographs of the entire cast, orchestra and management: each picture will be taken true to its stage setting, the actual scenery, furniture, et cetera, being used for the photograph.

We understand it is His Excellency's intention to have a copy of this series prepared in booklet form for presentation to Vice-Admiral Vernon H. Haggard on his arrival in H.M.S. "Despatch". On the cover of this copy will be mounted and coloured by Mr. Roberts certain of the characters cut from their scene settings. We understand also that His Excellency proposes to forward a similar copy to the Secretary of State and to have an enlargement of the Group photograph hung in the Town Hall as a companion picture to the cast of the original play.

We look forward to seeing this series which to many will form a souvenir of very happy memories. The skill of the Hon. G. Roberts as a photographer is too well known to leave us in any doubt as to the excellence of the pictures. We cannot, however, let this opportunity pass without thanking him very warmly for his kindness in undertaking the work.

Miss Mona Gleadell, the sister of the bride was the maid of honour, while the bridesmaids were Dot Aldridge and Joyce Gleadell (cousins). The first-named was dressed in silk of sunrise shade with hat to match and the two younger maids wore pretty blue frocks. The best man was Mr. W. Grierson.

After the ceremony a reception and a The Danceant was held in the Town Hall where about two hundred and fifty guests were present. Mr. E.G. Rowe very kindly placed his car at the disposal of the bridal party and Mr. Pallini drove it.

FATAL FOG.

Sixty-Five Deaths in Belgium.

The Brussels correspondent of the "Daily Mail" wrote on Saturday that the fog which had covered Belgium for the previous forty-eight hours had been regarded as responsible for the deaths of some sixty-five persons in the Meuse Valley.

In the little village of Englis ten people were overpowered by the fog and died one after the other. Curiously enough all were more or less asthmatic and it was at first thought they had been suffocated by the fumes from a zinc factory nearby which was, however, found to have been closed for several weeks.

A number of cattle are also reported to have died and as a result farmers were driving as many as possible of their animals into dry kitchens.

A message on Sunday reports that the general public in Belgium are disinclined to accept the official explanations that the fog and cold alone were responsible for the heavy mortality in the Meuse Valley during the previous few days.

Wildest speculations were running riot and in order to restore confidence the Queen of the Belgians is visiting the districts seeing the sufferers in hospital and endeavouring to comfort the families of the bereaved.

The latest news gave the death roll as sixty-nine.

Sir Oswald's Emergency Measure.

Sir Oswald Moseley, whose manifesto, signed by seventeen other labour members of Parliament was published on Saturday, says that he and his colleagues have no intention of taking action in Parliament that would result in the replacement of the present administration by a Conservative Government.

The Manifesto was a statement of policy designed to meet the present emergency but could only be carried through if it secured National support.

The essential features of the manifesto are the appointment of an emergency cabinet of five Ministers with wide powers; a national planning organisation for industrial development; an Import control Board for foodstuffs; with a guaranteed price for agricultural products and protection for consumers against unfair prices.

The tribunal at Vienna has decided not to take any proceedings against Charles Levine, the United States Trans-Atlantic flyer and millionaire. He had been released on bail pending the decision whether he should stand his trial for attempted counterfeiting. He has now been informed that he may leave the country. It is understood that he is flying to Paris on his way home to the United States.

According to the Viennese authorities Levine had asked a sculter to produce a die from a French coin as a preliminary to striking a number of medallions for presentation to his friends. The sculter reported the matter to the police and Levine was arrested as he was leaving the country for Italy.

H.M.S. "Danae" arrived at Stanley at 2.30 yesterday afternoon and as the ship with Captain E.R. Bent D.S.C. in command, steamed majestically along the harbour the town, with one accord, rose to give her a hearty welcome.

The weather was beautiful and showed to the best advantage the kaleidoscope of colours fluttering from every flagstaff while the sirens of the launches blew their greetings and the bells of the Cathedral gave out a merry peal.

As the ship passed the Colonial Secretary's Office where the signal was run up "Welcome to the Colony" the children from the Government School, who were assembled in front of Government House Paddock, gave vent to the wildest cheering while practically everyone waved a flag. His Excellency the Governor also stood on the lawn as the "Danae" dropped her anchor.

Lieutenant Colonel Norman Simpson, the Bengal Inspector-General of Prisons was murdered the day before yesterday when three Bengali youths shot him dead in his office and then wounded Mr. J.W. Nelson, the Judicial Secretary, in the leg.

When chased the assailants turned the weapons on themselves and one took poison. One of them is dead and another, who is wanted for the murder of Mr. Lowman, the Inspector-General of Police, in August last, is gravely ill.

The youths called at the building and brushed the attendants aside. They rushed into the office and fired six shots at Colonel Simpson as he sat at his desk, then ran along the verandah, firing wildly in the passport office and escaped by jumping through the window.

Stanley Lose To H.M.S. "Danae".

Teams representing Stanley and H.M.S. "Danae" met on Government House Paddock yesterday evening in a friendly match the visitors winning by the convincing majority of 5 - 1 after a greatly enjoyed game.

Stanley, having won the toss, elected to kick with the sun in their faces during the first half. The first few exchanges were of an indecisive nature, each forward line making only tentative ventures. The first sally came from Powell, the sailors' right wing and was followed by a good move by Tulip on the left. The homesters retaliated through Campbell but the defence against him, as was ultimately to be proved, were adamant except on one occasion, about a quarter of an hour after the start. A get-away from Stanley's right winger at that time resulted in Thomas scoring from a well placed pass by Beardmore. The home team pressed on a number of occasions during the first half but could not penetrate the sound half-backs and backs opposing them. In turn Stanley's goal was the scene of several escapades before Richardson equalised, Marshall and Honna having missed open goals.

Towards the end of the first half, the home team who had been playing fairly well together showed signs of disorganisation - a defeat which led to their undoing in the second half. Creece, in goal for Stanley, played well and dealt capably with many of the shots fired at him by the inside forwards and even Foggarty in the half back line. The last-named played conspicuously in the second half. Both the Stanley backs worked hard and A.I. Fleuret, as the pivot, was tireless in his endeavours to effect a successful understanding between the forwards and the defence. At half time the score was 2 - 1 in the "Danae's" favour, Marshall having scored the second goal.

The Stanley forwards tried to break through in the early stages of the second half and should have scored at least on once when Grierson, on the left wing broke through and centred nicely but to no avail. Gradually the game developed into purely a defensive measure from the point of view of the home side and before the final whistle went the "Danae" had added three more goals, Marshall (2) and Tulip being the scorers.

The teams were : - H.M.S. "Danae" - Mathews S.A.; Fox S.V.
Powell A.B., Richardson P.O., Hannah O.D., Marshall A.B. & Tulip Mne.

Keen Shooting Competition.

After the Parade on Monday commemorating the Falkland Islands Battle, the members of the Defence Force spent a most enjoyable day on the ranges competing for the "Stanley" Cup, one of the Local Bislay events which the Committee had decided should be fired off in the course of the year. A very well appreciated lunch was provided by the Association in the adequate pavilion.

After an extraordinarily keen tussle the Cup was won by Sgt. J.R. Gleadell with a total of 95 out of a possible 105, with His Excellency the Governor a close second. In fact His Excellency obtained the same number of points as Sgt. Gleadell and had it not been for a slight misunderstanding as to the number of sighters allowed at the 500 and 600 yards' butts, His Excellency's score would have been more for he was under the impression that two sighters were allowed at the longer ranges instead of one; thus he found that the magpie, which he presumed would have been counted as his second sighter, included in his total of eight shots. His ninth shot was an inner otherwise his score at that range would have been 34, or one below a possible.

After firing at the 500 yards His Excellency hurried away to be present at the Children's Tea Party in the Town Hall and later hurried back to fire at the 600 yards range. Among others taking part in the shoot which also included a "Handicap" Cup presented by Mr. E. McAtasney and won by Pte. C. Thomson, there were Major the Hon. J. Innes Meir (Commanding Officer), Capt. J.M. Coutts M.M., Lieutenant and Adjutant W.M. Allan and Lieutenant J. Merton with thirty members of the Force.

The conditions on the ranges were such that accurate shooting was extremely difficult owing to the strong wind blowing with a force of about thirty miles an hour thus considerably hazarding the firm holding of the rifle. In the evening, towards the last stages of the shoot, the setting sun also interfered with a good aim on the bull being affected. We therefore heartily congratulate Sgt. Gleadell on the excellent marksmanship he put up in winning the Cup. We understand His Excellency has written a personal letter of congratulation to Mr. Gleadell on his success. All the members of the Force are now looking forward to this competition when it takes place next year. Meanwhile it is very gratifying to notice the wave of keenness which has spread over the Defence Force in connection with rifle shooting.

REVIVAL OF SPORT IN STANLEY.

It was in a tranquil mood that I mused as I closed the Common gate, leaving behind me Sapper Hill outstretched in the glowing warmth of the summer sun and caressed for once by a wind so often a rude usher on the downward Valley path. Suddenly, however, I became aware of a strange restlessness; the air seemed full of happy care-free activity. To my left in Government House Paddock, almost immediately below my eyes, a jubilant throng of school-boys were assembled wrapped up in the intricacies of cricket which their school-master, Mr. W.J. Davies, was unfolding to them. Farther afield the younger scholars were playing a keen game of rounders using as a base a goal post - the reminder of yet another sphere of sport.

Beyond them, I espied golfing enthusiasts steadily emerging from the first tee, and stolidly advancing along the fairway to hole out by Government House and disappear beyond, or lag behind to beat peevishly among the tussock on the seaward side for not perhaps the first ball to play itself out of bounds.

My attention was then drawn to figures approaching in my path, trudging up the hill with an eager look of anticipation which only a joyous pleasure can lend to a tedious climb. They were rifle-men whose pouches bulged with bullets. And the sole topic of conversation was shooting on the ranges which I had but recently passed and had now left hidden behind the rocks in the rear. Even as they advanced they gave way to a posse of riders who galloped into view and wheeled over the brow of the hill, their light hearted voices and the tattoo of hoofs echoing more faintly in the distance.

Such outdoor recreations are flourishing, not to mention that popular indoor game of badminton, with a clean activity generated by that love of sport so dear to a Britisher's heart and so early inculcated in his being that without it life would seem lost and unwholesome. How natural did it seem that in this spontaneous wheel of happiness there should stand Government House as the solid hub - round which appeared an atmosphere of vigorous and healthy life, and symbolical of that policy so dear to His Excellency the Governor and so aptly expressed by "Mens sana in corpore sano."

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Anniversary Of Falkland Islands Battle.

Once again, on Monday last, Stanley commemorated that lasting achievement of Admiral Sturdee who annihilated Von Spee's Squadron in 1914 and thus saved the Colony from falling into the hands of the enemy of Great Britain during the Great War.

The commemoration took the form of Divine Service in Christ Church Cathedral at which His Excellency the Governor was present accompanied by the Hon. J. M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary), and his private secretary, Mr. G.R.L. Brown. The Falkland Islands Defence was also on parade under Major the Hon. J. Innes Moir, (Commanding Officer), Capt. J.M. Coutts M.M.; Lieut. and Adjutant W.M. Allan and Lieutenant J. Morton, with the Boys Scouts under Group Scoutmaster E.E. Frewin and Miss McKenzie (Cubmaster) and Girl Guides under the leadership of Miss B. Felton and accompanied by Mrs. Louis Williams, the Islands Commissioner. The service was conducted by the Dean. Members of Councils and their wives were among those present.

After the service the Defence Force marched past His Excellency who is the Commander-in-Chief, and who took the Salute at the Flag-staff on Victory Green.

ST. MARY'S BAZAAR.

The first of the two days' Bazaar held under the auspices of St. Mary's Catholic Church and organised by the Sisters was opened yesterday evening by His Excellency who pointed out how the Sisters fulfilled a great want in Stanley because they ran a boarding house whereby the small children from the Camp could come into Stanley to live and be educated. It was needless for him to add how they all hoped the Sisters' work would prosper. The Government did all it could to help and the Bazaar was one means by which the Sisters raised money which they were bound to make since they charged the children practically nothing. He was sure they would all do their utmost to make the bazaar the success it deserved to be. In addition to a large number of the townsfolk there were also present a number of the ship's company including Capt. Bent and other officers, and the stall-holders immediately set about doing a brisk trade. Little blue jumper suits, fluffy balls and baby's woolly hats were among the luring articles dangled before buyers eyes and our Naval visitors were keen purchasers; the Gunnery Officer was to be seen brandishing a notable addition to the armament in the form of a pop-gun angled from the fish pond.

A list of the stall holders will be given in to-morrow's issue with further particulars of the sale.

Tea Cloth and 6 Tea Napkins - Miss Ada Short, (2); Large box of chocolates - B. Clifton (28); Shingle Set - Bessie Clark, (28); Night Dress Case - Mrs. T. Burns, (4); Doll - Dot Aldridge, (2); Box of chocolates - T.M. Biggs, (18); Box of chocolates - Eileen Smith, (28).

H.M.S. "DANAE".

Possible Visit To Darwin.

It is probable that H.M.S. "Danae" will visit Darwin before she leaves the Colony on or about Sunday the 4th of January, 1931.

If and when definite arrangements are made for this visit full information will be published and communicated to all concerned.

We sincerely hope it will be possible for the "Danae" to visit Darwin as we are sure such a visit will be very much appreciated by all at the Port and in the neighbouring Camp.

The "Danae" left for Port Edgar last night on a surveying expedition and was expected to arrive at her destination early this morning. The ship took with her the West Falkland mails while the Principal Medical Officer journeyed with her as a passenger.

If you haven't others have done so for you; nearly all the tinned food manufacturers nowadays can supply mincemeat and Xmas puddings ready for use.

Think of the time and trouble saved by buying these two items ready made. Also at Saturday's prices you will save money.

The Lemon and Black Currant Syrup is a special bargain for peat cutters who will find in it a cooling and refreshing drink. Of course you can take advantage of Saturday's price even though you don't cut peat.

Forthcoming Arrangements.

Jack Sharkey has agreed to meet Max Schmeling, the title holder, in an open air contest next summer.

Determined efforts are being made by the manager of Berg for a definite arrangement at Madison Square Gardens, New York, for the proposed World's Lightweight Championship contest between Kid Berg and Tony Cangoneri, the holder.

Any further side-tracking, so Berg's manager makes clear, is not to be tolerated and for this reason, the proffered contest with Billy Petrolle, whom Berg has already beaten, has been rejected. Berg's slogan is "Cangoneri or no one."

It has been pointed out that the match would extract a bigger gate during the summer but the manager says "We want the title for Berg and care nothing for a few thousand dollars extra."

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Invitation From

It will come as splendid news to the adult members of the Zachariah Fee Revue to learn that they have been invited by Capt. Bent to supper on board H.M.S. "Danae" after the performance on Tuesday, the 23rd instant.

The invitation includes, besides the principals and chorus who will attend in costume, the members of the orchestra and the Executive Committee. Owing to the lateness of the hour it has not been possible to ask the juvenile members for whose special benefit an entertainment will be arranged at another time.

Capt. Bent's guests have a delightful evening in store - a fitting climax to the fun and frivolity of the Pantomime. On a calm evening - which the present weather leads us to expect - the picturesque appearance of the warship aglow with lights glittering on the water, the added colour of uniforms and costumes and the music of the ship's band should form a scene long to be remembered.

All must feel deeply grateful to Capt. Bent for his kindness in providing so charming an entertainment. In thanking him, His Excellency on behalf of the cast, assured him they would all be delighted to come and that they were looking forward eagerly to this unique treat.

REHEARSAL.

There will be a full rehearsal of Part II of His Excellency's Revue, including the Orchestra, and conducted by the Governor in person, at 7.0 o'clock this evening.

We are privileged to publish the following telegrams which passed between His Excellency and Capt. Bent prior to the arrival of H.M.S. "Danae" at Stanley :

From His Excellency the Governor : "In the name of the Colony and myself I offer you a hearty welcome. We are all looking forward to your visit and hope you will have an enjoyable time."

From Captain Bent : "Thank you very much for your kind message we are all greatly looking forward to meeting you all."

RIDER'S FALL AT DOUGLAS.

Well Known Jockey Hurt.

An accident occurred at Douglas Station on Thursday evening when F. Browning, a well known jockey and rider for Mr. R. Greenshields, sustained, it is believed, a fractured rib as the result of a fall from a horse.

It is understood Browning was training the animal - one of several that have been transhipped from the West and are expected to run at Stanley Sports - when it fell on him.

The injured man was made as comfortable as possible pending the arrival of Surgeon Lieutenant Commander D.M. Beaton of H.M.S. "Danae" who was expected to leave Stanley early this morning in the absence of the Principal Medical Officer with whom he has exchanged duties during the warship's visit to Port Edgar.

---O---O---

REVISED TELEGRAPHIC RATE.

As from the 1st of January next, the rate for the local telegrams to and from the West Falklands will be reduced to 3d a word instead of 6d a word for messages written in plain language. Code messages will be charged at the rate of 6d a word as heretofore.

We welcome the facility for communication between the two Islands which is afforded by this cheapening of the cost and hope it will lead to that closer touch which is desirable, for example, when persons on the West Falklands wish to order goods or supplies by unforeseen sailings which are suddenly announced.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

By the kindness of the Captain, Officers and the ship's Company of H.M.S. "Danae" provisional arrangements have been made for a party to be given to the children of Stanley on the afternoon of Tuesday, the 30th instant. We are sure this treat will be thoroughly enjoyed by all the little ones.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Lonely Mother's Appeal.

To The Officer In Charge :

7th October, 1930.

Sir,

Trusting to your courtesy and kindness to graciously forgive my presumption in writing to you I have presumed to make this request.

As we live twenty-seven miles from a school with no neighbours nearer than ten miles, I have to try and educate my children myself. As geography is a hard subject for Bush children to understand and as stamps help to make it more real would you please send us some used stamps of the Falkland Islands. We would be very grateful if you would do so.

Also, if there is woman in the Islands who is as lonely as I am at times (I often go for six months without seeing a woman) who would like to start a correspondence, I would be very glad to hear from her.

Thanking you sincerely in anticipation of a kind reply,

I remain Sir,

Yours truly,

TWO LARGE COMPANIES

FEEL THE STRAIN.

Two important companies announce their intention to pass payment on preference dividends. They are the Hudson Bay Company whose issued capital is £4,492,224, and Harland Wolff of Belfast whose share capital is £10,205,394.

The announcement of the Hudson Bay Company, a press message states, refers to "the continuous and serious fall of the price of furs involving the Company in heavy loss" and the effect of the prevailing depression in Canada.

The Company was originally incorporated in 1670 and for many years past has paid substantial dividends on ordinary shares.

"Acute depression in ship-building" is the reason given by Harland Wolff for not paying the dividend due on January 1st on four millions sterling six per cent accumulative preference shares.

THE PRINCE'S PLANS.

South American Visit.

Brother May Go With Him.

Immediately the "Oropesa", one of the crack liners of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, arrives at Liverpool from the Panama Canal on the 2nd of January, a small army of workmen will go aboard to prepare a special suite for the Prince of Wales, who will sail in the liner for South America on the 15th of January, to open the British Empire Trade Exhibition at Buenos Aires on the 14th of March.

It is hoped that Prince George may accompany him.

During the fortnight the "Oropesa" will be in dock and will be re-painted and re-decorated, and a royal suite containing a sitting room, a state room, and a bath room will be prepared. Special quarters will also be provided for the officials who will accompany the Prince.

When the liner is at sea it is expected the Prince will join in the social life of the ship. The voyage to South America, which usually takes a month, is always a pleasant one, and for a fortnight, during which the liner will be out of sight of land, most of the passengers will spend their time in sun-bathing and in deck sports.

After calling at La Rochelle, Pallua, Santander, Corunna, and Vigo, the "Oropesa" will cross the South Atlantic to Havana, pass through the Panama Canal, and down the west coast of South America to Valparaiso.

Here the Prince will disembark and will travel overland by the Transandes Railway to Buenos Aires, where the Exhibition is to be held. He will be in the train for two days, and will cross the highest mountain in South America.

ANOTHER REVOLT IN SPAIN.

Cabinet Called To Emergency Meeting.

A Reuter bulletin from Hendaye states that according to a message received from Madrid a revolt has broken out in the town of Jaca in the border province of Nueces.

Communications between Jaca and the capital are said to have been cut and the Spanish Cabinet have been called to an emergency meeting.

The movement is led apparently by a former army officer, Captain Oalen, who was expelled from the army in 1926 following an attempt to bomb a train carrying King Alfonso from Barcelona to Madrid.

Trainloads of loyal troops left Saragossa for Jaca and the aerodromes at Madrid and Saragossa have been ordered to hold themselves ready for urgent orders.

A further message from Madrid states that the evening newspapers were requested by the Minister of the Interior not to refer to the uprising.

HELEN OF RUMANIA LEAVES FOR GOOD.

Definite Breach With Carol.

News from Paris reports that Princess Helen of Rumania, the wife of King Carol, will shortly leave Bucharest probably never to return.

She is going first on a visit to Bordighera on the Italian Riviera then, it is understood on good authority, she will proceed to Paris probably before Christmas.

While it is necessary for the Princess to consult eminent oculists for persistent eye trouble and this is given as the reason for her departure, it is understood that it really indicates a definite breach with Carol.

Intimate friends of Carol declare it is the will of the King that Helen should leave Rumania before the orthodox Christmas ceremonies.

It is understood that orders have been given for an establishment to be prepared in Paris and the surrounding country for her definite stay in France.

Prince Michael will not accompany his mother. Helen who has been practically separated from her son since Carol returned to Rumania in June, is reported to be broken-hearted at this enforced permanent separation.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR

Sierra Leone.

The announcement, which came last night as a tremendous surprise, had winged its way over the face of all the earth by means of the wireless press service from London; and that the news of such a well deserved promotion should be further dissimulated into the homes of the people of Stanley and the Camp through the loudspeakers of the Stanley Broadcast - a system His Excellency has fostered with parental devotion - is a fitting climax to the successful outcome of this popular venture.

Mr. G.R.L. Brown spread the news from the Studio in the following words :

"We are giving this special Broadcast to-night in order to announce a special item of news which we feel sure will cause at once joy and sorrow.

"His Majesty the King has been pleased to appoint His Excellency Arnold Hodson, our Governor, to be the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Sierra Leone in succession to Brigadier-General Sir J.A. Byrne, K.C.M.G., C.B.E., who has been transferred to the Governorship of Kenya Colony.

"We wish to congratulate most cordially Mr. Hodson on his promotion to this important Governorship which, at the present time, ranks as one of the most important in the Empire and carries with it most responsible duties as will be realised at once from the fact that the late Governor, Sir Joseph Byrne, has been promoted to no less important a Colony than Kenya.

"While we appreciate that no higher tribute could have been paid by His Majesty to the work our Governor has done in this Colony during the comparatively short space of three and a half years he has been here, we cannot but voice our sense of disappointment that he should have been taken from us in what is normally his mid-tenure of office. We wish His Excellency and Mrs. Hodson every success in their new sphere and have no doubt that will go on from strength to strength doing good and upholding the right wherever they may be called.

"The importance of Sierra Leone may be understood when it is stated that the area of the Protectorate is 27,250 square miles, its population 1,540,000 and its annual trade approximating £4,000,000. The scenery is amongst the most magnificent on the Globe. Sierra Leone Bay, on which the capital is situated, is one of the most beautiful harbours in the world not excluding those of Sydney and Hobart. The extensive hinterland fringing that interesting and as yet unexplored region bordering the Sahara abounds in game and we are sure will provide ample scope for His Excellency's adventurous and sportsmanlike talents."

DEFENCE FORCE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Week-End Shooting.

Owing to the inclement weather on Saturday the shooting for the Bishop's Cup had to be postponed. Weather permitting the competition will be shot off on the afternoon of Saturday the 20th instant. Particulars will be given later.

Eighteen members were present on Sunday when the shoot for the Fortnightly Spoon took place. The wind and light was very changeable at the 200 yards; the deflection was roughly one and a half minutes right while the sun shone brightly. At 500 yards the sky became cloudy and the wind veered to zero, then to four minutes left, afterwards remaining very steady throughout the rest of the shoot.

Pte. E. McAtasney returned the top score and won the Spoon with a total of 95. The leading scores were :

Pte. E. McAtasney	30	33	32	95.

SUNDAY BOXING IN JEOPARDY.

The London County Council Theatres and Music Hall Committee are recommending the Council to refuse to permit Sunday, Christmas Day and Good Friday Boxing.

Considerable loss of wages and employment will, it is feared, be caused if the threat to stop Sunday boxing materialises. The news of the proposed ban has caused consternation especially since it was followed so closely by the High Court ruling that Sunday cinemas are illegal and thus may lead to a serious curtailment of Sunday entertainment consequent upon the reduction of labour.

If Sunday boxing is abolished Blackfriar's Ring will have to close down. Victor Beiliner, the manager, declared "Sunday is easily the most popular night for us. I think it is for the public to decide whether they want Sunday boxing or not. Attendances have proved that there is a demand for it and we have just paid £10,000 in fees and wages on Sundays since June.

"This sum means a living wage to many and it is an unwarrantable interference with the liberty of the people to prevent them from earning it."

SPANISH REBELLION CUT UP.

The Republican rising at Jaca has been ruthlessly crushed. A force of 1,500 troops and volunteers led by Colonel Julio Manyada against the monarchy was cut up by artillery fire in a battle lasting over an hour.

After fire had opened rebel officers approached the Government forces and attempted to seduce soldiers from allegiance but they were arrested and will be tried for treason.

Though the Government profess confidence that the trouble is over there is still grave unrest in the country.

WHAT A GIRL IS.

The Views Of Stars.

"You think of a girl as a perpendicular biological phenomenon in short skirts. How do you know she is not an oval mass of bent space being thrown off by electrons from swiftly rotating nithol-watts with all the speed of an idzel."

This is the definition of a girl given by Professor Einstein to an insistent New York reporter who pressed him to say whether he thought the American girl as attractive as her European sister.

When Gracie Fields was given the Einstein theory of a girl to ponder over she was frankly puzzled but at length said "I have it. I think Einstein's conclusions are self-evident and I agree with all of them. Evidently he is a little up in the clouds and as I am a star myself we probably see things much in the same light".

MORE POLICE FOR LONDON.

To Cope With Criminal Activity.

Four new flying squads, one in each division of the Metropolitan Police, as well as at Scotland Yard, and an increase of 600 men in London's detective force.

These important additions to the Metropolitan Police have been suggested in a report which the "Sunday Despatch" understands has been submitted to the Home Office on the authority of Lord Byng, the Commissioner of Police. In his opinion it is a big increase in the personnel but it is necessary to enable the police to cope with every form of criminal activity in London.

CARNERA MEETS ANOTHER GIANT.

The first thing Carnera did when he arrived at Victoria Station on Saturday, was to shake hands with Tim Campbell, a Battersea navy who is one and a half inches taller than himself and for whom friends predict a brilliant boxing future. Campbell is 6 ft. 9½ inches in height.

The Italian, acknowledging the cheers of the crowd, went on to meet his fiancée, Emilia Tersini. Afterwards he greeted Maurice Chevalier.

Stanley,
Falkland Islands.

Wednesday, 17th December, 1930.

:X:Z:X:X:X:Z:X:X:X:X:Z:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:X:

It is with great pleasure we learn from a telegram received last evening of the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Hodson on the 15th instant and we take this opportunity of congratulating His Excellency on this auspicious event which so admirably coincides with his appointment to the Governorship of Sierra Leone, the announcement having been made the same day. Both Mrs. Hodson and the infant are doing well.

The doctor of H.M.S. "Danae", who has exchanged duties with the P.M.O. during the absence of the warship from Stanley, had a unique experience this last week-end when he journeyed to Douglas Station to give treatment to a man with a broken rib. The accident occurred on Thursday evening last about 8.45 and some 4½ miles from the settlement. The unlucky man, Fred Browning, was taking "Ivor", one of Mr. Greenshields horses for a gallop when it put its foot into a hole and turned over on its rider. Browning, although with a fracture, rode the horse back to the settlement arriving there after 9.0 p.m. when it was too late to phone for the assistance of the doctor that evening.

The next day the doctor was called for. Owing to the long journey by horseback arrangements were made whereby Mr. Greenshields' motor-boat, under the charge of Allan Anderson with Alfie Anderson, should pick up the doctor at the Estancia where he arrived about 9.30 Saturday morning with F. Fleuret as his guide, wet through and with rain falling heavily and the wind blowing hard. Bad weather had also delayed the arrival of the motor boat which took five hours to make the length of the inlet. Eventually a start on the second stage was made between 1.0 and 2.0 p.m. with the wind blowing at almost gale strength and the heavy running at times taking the propellor clean out of the water.

Slow progress was made and several times shelter had to be sought so that Horseshoe Bay was not reached until well on in the night when another halt was called. Further delay then occurred for when an attempt was made to re-start it was found that mud was choking the circulating pump. Eventually the journey was completed about 7.0 o'clock Sunday morning.

The doctor stayed the night and made the return journey the next day taking some three and a half hours from Douglas to the Estancia by the motor-boat and practically the same time riding from the Estancia into Stanley which he reached about 5.0 p.m.

A GOLD CUP FOR "TOMMY" LIPTON.

Sir Thomas Lipton arrived at Southampton last week-end from New York with a solid gold cup presented to him by American admirers as a tribute to the World's Best Loser.

Sir Thomas said to an interviewer "I am definitely ready to build yet another Shamrock but I cannot until I know the rules for the future races for the America Cup.

"The New York Yacht Club wants to make the next contest as fair as possible and this should enable the "Shamrock VI" to be built on the same lines as her next rival.

"Probably there will be another race in 1932. I am ready to challenge to-morrow."

KILLING WHALES BY ELECTRICITY.

Experiments Off The S. Orkneys,

(By Our South Georgia Correspondent.)

The floating factory s.s. "Orwell", belonging to the Tonsberg Whaling Company, which normally operates in the South Orkneys, has been experimenting recently with the new electrical method of killing whales.

It is understood that the harpoon used is the same as the ordinary harpoon but without the portion charged in the head. The line of the harpoon carries an electric cable in its centre and the current is switched on as soon as a hit is made. The voltage is said to be very small indeed.

Six whales are known to have been taken by this new method, the majority of which were killed instantly.

The chief fault that has been found so far with this device is that the strain on the line breaks the cable and thus makes the line useless. But it is hoped that this difficulty will be remedied.

POINCARÉ GRAVELY ILL.

A Paris message states that the condition of M. Poincaré, the seventy years' old French statesman remains grave although a slight improvement was recorded by Dr. Beindin, on Tuesday morning after he had spent the whole night by the patient's bedside. The bulletin posted up later in the day read "Patient's condition remains the same. No notable change is to be expected within the next two or three days."

The gravest concern is expressed by the King and Queen for M. Poincaré's condition and the British Ambassador called at the statesman's residence Tuesday afternoon.

FEWER SURPLUS WOMEN.

There are 1,500,000 more women than men in the United Kingdom. This fact was disclosed by the Board of Trade based on the estimate of the population in the middle of this year.

The total population given is 45,900,000, an increase of 200,000 for the year. The women are lower in the proportion to the men for in 1924 there was a surplus of 1,900,000.

OXFORD STREET BURST.

Another Holborn Disturbance.

Severe dislocation of trade both in the streets and on the underground railways, and serious damage to business property besides the interruption of telephone and electric light services in the immediate district, were caused by the bursting of a twenty-four inch water main at the corner of Oxford Street and Tottenham Court Road on Tuesday morning.

The burst occurred just as the city workers were arriving from the suburbs. The flood forced up wooden paving blocks and spreading in all directions, poured into the basements of buildings and down escalators to the tube station where the water was soon some feet deep.

The extent of damage cannot yet be estimated but it is feared that the foundations of the roadway and the superstructure of the underground railway are affected. Shops within the area anticipate heavy losses in Christmas trade. It was expected that the underground services would be normal by to-day (Thursday).

The incident brings to mind the gas mains explosion two years ago when many streets were closed for months in Holborn - only a few hundred yards from the scene of Tuesday's accident.

AUSTRALIAN FLARE UP.

"Words" In The House.

The first sign of trouble came when Messrs. Latham and Peterson refused to serve on the Committee to which Mr. Theodore had been appointed when the duty on sheepskins was announced.

Mr. Hawker, another member, shouted "This is worse than mangana". Theodore, backed by a dozen labour members rushed at him shouting "You are not going to insult me and get away with it."

Mr. Latham rushed to Mr. Hawker's aid saying "Theodore, you get out of this." Further words followed and the members had to be forcibly restrained from hitting one another.

KING OF SPAIN'S "PROFESSIONAL RISKS".

Attempt To Overthrow Dynasty.

Forty-eight hours after the most serious attempt to overthrow the dynasty, King Alfonso of Spain appeared smiling and calm in public surrounded by cheering crowds of subjects. He drove half a mile to the church of San Francisco el Grande where the centenary requiem celebration of the Spanish-South American patriot, Simon Bolivar was being held.

The King's Ministers advised him against attending this public ceremony and though the revolutionary republican movement is crushed several of the most dangerous members of the extremist party are still at large and they would shrink at nothing.

The King, however, was obdurate and refused to evade what he himself laughingly called "risks of the profession". There was no sign of any desire for a republic as the crowds cheered with waving hats and mantillas while the scarlet plumed guard of honour marched slowly past with the king. Much of tranquillity now in Madrid is due to the attitude of Alfonso and his firm advice.

CONFIDENCE IN FRENCH GOVERNMENT.

Majority Of 7 Votes.

After an exciting Parliamentary sitting M. Steeg, who became Premier in succession to M. Tardieu a fortnight ago when the latter was overthrown by the Radical-Socialist senators, obtained a vote of confidence in the Chamber on Thursday evening after a division on the general policy of the Government.

He received a majority of seven after a re-count had been taken.

M. Thouonyre, the Minister of Pensions and two under-secretaries retired after a heated ministerial council two hours before the Parliamentary session opened.

The three men were supporters of M. Tardieu and had been criticised for accepting office in company with politicians who had worked to overthrow M. Tardieu.

AUSTRALIAN BANKS CONCERN

The trading banks, so a message states from Sydney, have issued a manifesto declaring that unless effective steps are taken by the Australian Governments to balance their budgets and reduce their costs, the time is coming when the banks and other financial institutions will be unable to help the Governments to meet their commitments except by widening the gap already apparent between the costs and returns from the Australian industries.

GIRL GUIDES.

Presentation Of Prizes At Headquarters.

On Thursday evening His Excellency the Governor paid a visit to the Girl Guide Headquarters and presented as prizes two of his well known books, one, "Seven Years In Abyssinia", given by himself, and the other, "Where Lion Reign", given by Mrs. Louis Williams, the Guide Commissioner.

The two books had been awarded to Guides Lily Alazia and Joyca Turner for regular attendance during the past year.

Parading under the command of Guide Lieutenant Miss Betty Felton, the Company came smartly to the salute on the arrival of His Excellency who was received by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. D. Roberts (Islands Secretary) and Miss Bessingham (Hon. Treasurer of the Local Association.)

Mrs. Williams, in welcoming His Excellency, stated that they all knew that it was owing to his efforts that the Guide Movement had its being and they would always remember the many kindnesses they had received at his hands both financially and in other ways.

His Excellency's departure from the Colony would leave a blank in their lives and she hoped he would not forget them when they were struggling through a semi-Arctic winter while he was basking in the sun at Sierra Leone. It was owing to his help that the spinning had been started in the Colony and she hoped that in a few years it would be quite an interesting industry.

On presenting the prizes to the successful girls His Excellency stated that it gave him great pleasure to be with them that evening and to congratulate the Guides who had obtained the awards.

In thanking Mrs. Williams for her kind speech His Excellency assured her that the prospect of leaving them all caused him a feeling of real regret. Both Mrs. Hodson and he had always the welfare of the Guides very much at heart for they felt it was a splendid movement and one that was in every way worth while. He hoped very much that it would continue to prosper.

Movements like theirs were so apt to fall back if they did not continue to receive every support. The Guides themselves could do a great deal to help by taking a thorough interest in their training and striving to make themselves proficient. That meant painstaking and constant effort.

It was just the same in one's every day work and in sports such as golf and shooting. To succeed one had to go the right way about it and keep on persevering. It rested with them to show people who were inclined to belittle their work, how practical their training was.

So important did His Excellency say he considered their work that it was his intention to allocate to the Girl Guide Movement a small portion of the gift of £1,000 which Mr. Hamilton of Weddell Island had so kindly presented to him to be used for public purposes. He could not say at present how much could be spared for the Girl Guides but when they received the sum they would know that it was Mr. Hamilton they had to thank for it.

With a final word which brought forth smiles His Excellency said he felt he was entering on a speech making season which would continue until after Christmas. In that case he would say nothing further at present especially as he had been told by Mrs. Williams that the Guides were just about to have supper.

In the course of the evening which proved most enjoyable Mrs. Williams presented special badges to seven Girl Guides and Three Stripes to Guides Irene Hardy and Evelyn Smith.

KING ALFONSO TAKES THE HELM.

Steering Spain Through The Rocks.

The "Daily Mail" bulletin from Madrid reported that the one strong man in Spain in the present crisis is King Alfonso.

It is an open secret that when the garrison at Jaca, under Major Franco, made their threatened coup at Cuatro Vientos Aerodrome near Madrid, there was hesitation and consternation in high circles.

The calm presence of mind of Alfonso alone intervened and urged measures providing ample safeguards for the preservation of good order and did not err on the side of severity.

It is because King Alfonso is a man of virile decisions and his judgment not merely as a sovereign that he was able to impose his will on the course of events and shape them to a successful issue.

Besides having taken so decisive a share in the events which ended the rising it is understood that Alfonso is determined to take advantage of the reaction which started two days ago against the Republican party's movement.

The new policy stands for government with a freely elected Cortes and Alfonso hopes to be able to establish a moderate Liberal Monarchical party which will be able to lead Spain upon along the constitutional path of progress.

BOXING FIASCO.

Thursday's Fight.

Carnera Outclasses Meen.

Geoffrey Simpson, the "Daily Mail" boxing correspondent writes that the biggest boxing fiasco in the history of the sport was perpetrated at the Albert Hall on Thursday evening when Carnera beat Reggie Meen, the Leicester shoemaker, in the second round.

Meen was outclassed in every phase of boxing; he was hopelessly handicapped in size and strength and was put down for a brief count as the first round ended.

He was floored again for nine seconds by a terrific short right to the chin after a minute in the second round and after a few more blows from the giant, the referee stepped between the men and stopped the fight.

Immediately there was a howl of indignation from the crowd and their protest against the fight was never more justified than it was then. It was not a match it was the slaughter of the innocent.

STANLEY GOVERNMENT SCHOOL PRIZEGIVING.

His Excellency And Education.

Mr. Davies Report.

The annual distribution of prizes to the children of Government School, Stanley, took place on Friday evening at 6.30 o'clock in the Town Hall, which, with the exception of the space set aside for the display, was filled with parents and friends. The children were effectively grouped on and in front of the stage when His Excellency the Governor arrived together with Mrs. Hoare who had only that day returned to the Colony on the m.v. "Lautaro", Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander D.M. Beaton, Lieutenant R.W. Marshall, the Hon. J.M. Ellis (Colonial Secretary) and Mr. G.R.L. Brown (Private Secretary).

Unbounded Admiration.

The proceedings opened with a display and during the course of an hour's complete enjoyment one could not but feel an unbounded admiration for the excellent entertainment provided by the children. The whole setting was the more effective because of the conformity of the scholars dress for, with the exception of the infants whose pretty frocks and neat clean suits were so dainty, the boys appeared in white and the girls wore red tunics made by themselves under the supervision of Miss Purdie. Mr. W.J. Davies (Acting Superintendent of Education) and his staff are to be congratulated on the high standard set and attained.

It would be invidious if attempted, to single out any item as the best or most popular. The drills, directed by Mr. W.M. Allan, showed how persevering the training had been while the Country Dances could not have been more effective. The songs and recitations and the illustration of Mr. Pickwick's dilemma resulting as we all know it did in his famous law suit, deserved the immense applause they received while the tiny tots merited a special word of praise for their delightfully charming embarrassment which, however, was not lacking in self possession.

The Confidence Of Parents.

In his report Mr. Davies said : "Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen. Except for the absence of the Superintendent of Education who is on vacation and duty leave the school has had a full staff during the year. The attendance has been very satisfactory indeed especially during the winter months when we experienced bitter weather. I will not burden you with figures, but I would like to state that the percentages of attendances for the months of June to September - the four worst months read 89%, 88%, 86% and 92%. This speaks very highly for the health of the children of the school, and I have it on very reliable authority that from a health point of view the children of Stanley compare very favourably indeed with children in parts of England. The school has not been closed on account of illness.

"In last year's report the Superintendent of Education stated we have a loyal and capable staff. I am in a position to appreciate and repeat that statement. I have nothing but praise for the efficient manner in which they have helped to maintain last year's high standard of work, and my task of managing the school during the absence of Mr. Hoare has been made much easier by their loyalty and efficiency. We have a schoolful of good children - very good this afternoon, but they are not always like that - and what is quite as important to teachers the parents are sympathetic and interested. It has been a great help to me to know that we have had the confidence of the parents.

Prize Scheme For Camp Children.

"In reviewing the year's work, a Headmaster usually stresses the successes of his pupils during the year. In spite of the fact that there are no scholarships or competitive exams here, I am in the happy position to announce that two of our pupils brought the school into prominence by winning certificates in the recent Harrod's Handwriting Competition opened to the British Isles. This is no mean achievement especially when we consider that there were hundreds of schools competing with double and treble the number of children to select from. We have had many visitors to the school this year and all were impressed with the atmosphere of happiness and with the work displayed. The Honourable J.M. Ellis, Colonial Secretary and School Inspector paid many visits to the school, and on all occasions has expressed himself more than satisfied with our work and the general tone of the school. The Continuation Class has justified its existence, from an educational point of view, and from the number and attendance of pupils in the class. It is very gratifying to note that ex-scholars of this class are making good in Government Offices.

A Sound Mind In A Sound Body.

As a result of His Excellency's deep and active interest in Education, this ceremony in future will be extended to the Camp in a modified form. A prize scheme for Camp children is being prepared and will be put into operation early next year. By this scheme Camp children will be able to experience that great pleasure - the pleasure of receiving a prize for good work done during the year.

Many are the aims of Education, the most concise is perhaps, that which states "A sound mind in a sound body." The first is ever before us - it is our daily task, but we are also giving full attention to the second - a sound body. The boys play football and hand ball, and this year owing to the spell of fine weather they have taken up the game of cricket, a game in which they display great keenness and ability. The girls play hockey and are equally as keen as the boys. It is quite pitiful to hear them groaning when it rains on Tuesday their hockey day. In addition both boys and girls have ninety minutes drill every week under the able instructorship of Mr. Allan, which certainly keeps them fit and in good health. Next year the children of the Government School will be in the unique position of having a beautiful gymnasium for themselves. I say unique because I know of no elementary school which can boast of such a building. For this spacious place I have to thank His Excellency, and I can assure you Sir, it will be put to good use.

Congratulations To His Excellency.

"It is with deep regret that I have to say Good-bye to Mrs. Barnes who is leaving us to-day. Mrs. Barnes has completed six years of devoted service in the school. She is well liked by the children and I know we shall miss her very much indeed. I take this opportunity of thanking her for her services and wish her the best of health and prosperity.

"Our thanks are due to the Hon. L.W.H. Young for presenting prizes to the value of three guineas. Mr. Young is not here, but I ask Mrs. Young to accept our sincerest thanks. These prizes have been awarded to the best Mathematicians First and Second year in the Continuation Class, and to the best Arithmetician in Standard Six.

And finally I thank Your Excellency not only for coming here to distribute the prizes, and for the numerous prizes you have given - but also - and more so - for the keen and sympathetic interest you take in the children of Stanley.

"On behalf of the Staff and the scholars of the Government School, I extend to Your Excellency our heartiest congratulations on your obtaining the Governorship of Sierra Leone, and wish Your Excellency and Mrs. Hodson, not forgetting Miss Hodson, great success and happiness in your new Colony. The children of Stanley will have cause to remember and honour your name." (Loud Applause.)

His Excellency's address.

Rising from his chair to respond, His Excellency, after receiving a great ovation, said : "It is a real pleasure for me to be here to-day, but mixed with this pleasure is a distinct feeling of sadness, as I realise full well this is the last time I shall have the privilege of presenting the prizes, and I hate to think that this time next year your new Governor will be performing this ceremony, but of one thing you may be certain that when I am mopping my brow in the tropical heat of Sierra Leone on December 19th, 1951, my thoughts will be with you, and such is the contrariness of human nature that it is all Lombard Street to a China Orange I shall be, at the same time, longing to feel once more, to cool my heated brow, those gentle zephyrs for which these Islands are so famous and which at the present moment I must truthfully say I do not appreciate as much as I ought to. (Laughter.)

"As you know I do not prepare my speeches but wait for an inspiration to come when I stand up before you. I am afraid I shall find it difficult to find this inspiration to-day owing to the fact that Mr. Davies in his excellent speech appears to have touched on every feasible subject which might interest you, including even a welcome to Mrs. Hoare I should have got my spoke in first, and on a similar occasion in the future I will remember this. (Laughter.) However in extending the welcome to Mrs. Hoare I should like to say how much we all miss our much respected Superintendent, Mr. Hoare, who instead of being here to-day is wrestling with long rows of figures in the Audit Department, London, and how we all hope he will return to us safe and sound after his holiday. (Applause.)

A Unique Privilege.

"It gives me particular pleasure to see two officers of H.M.S. 'Danae', Surgeon Lieutenant Commander Beaton and Lieutenant Marshall, present this evening to witness the prizogiving, and the various other items which are being performed. It is a good opportunity for me to say how much we all appreciate the kindness of My Lords of the Admiralty for the unique privilege they have given this Colony in enabling our boys to enter the Royal Navy. It is a privilege we deeply prize, and one we shall be very careful never to abuse. Four of our lads have entered already, and I am glad to say they have all done exceptionally well. We have several other boys who, when they are old enough, will follow their example. It is a scheme very near to my heart, as I honestly believe it is the finest training any boy can receive, and in addition he has a unique opportunity of seeing the world at his country's expense, and of having the time of his life. Moreover it binds us all very closely to the finest service in existence. (Applause.)

Education In The Colony.

"I find myself in a difficult position as I have been asked by Mr. Davies to say a few words on education. The difficulty is how to please the different generations gathered together this evening? Whether there are any Great-grandparents present I do not know, but I am sure there are grandparents and numerous grandchildren. It is probable in these modern days what pleases Grandfather will not please grandson so that it behoves me to proceed warily. (Laughter.)

"Education now-a-days looms very large, and enormous importance is attached to it, and rightly so. We have some experts who say without a knowledge of the classics a man is uneducated, others state that the classics are unnecessary but that mathematics and chemistry are essential and so on ad infinitum. 'When thieves fall out -' no, perhaps that is the wrong proverb to use, so I will say instead 'Pools dash in where Angels fear to tread' and acting on that advice, having very little real knowledge of the subject, I will give you my own views for what they are worth, but in no dictatorial spirit, in so far as this Colony is concerned. I believe here our subject shall be to give the children, in as attractive a form as possible, a good grounding in Mathematics, Geography, History, English prose, and such subjects, paying particular attention to the books they read, encouraging them to prefer first-class, but not prosy, works such as 'Ivanhoe', 'Robinson Crusoe', 'Robbery-under-Arms', et cetera instead of trashy novels. To train them to write well, to appreciate good music, to take an intelligent interest in world events - our excellent broadcasting service fills an admirable want in this respect - to speak King's English and to have good manners. This we try to do, and in addition promising boys and girls are promoted to the Continuation Class where they learn more advanced subjects, and in addition Spanish and Shorthand, and from this class when it is possible I take recruits into our own Civil Service. This policy I am glad to say is working admirably. (Applause.)

The Teachers' Responsibility.

"It is very hard for us who are not teachers to realise their cares and tremendous responsibilities. It is as easy for a tactless teacher to ruin a child as it is for a bad horseman with heavy hands to ruin a young colt's mouth.

"I can remember quite well when I was a small child at school an order was suddenly given that every Sunday morning before we were allowed to go out the Collect for the day had to be learnt by heart, and repeated without a mistake. Whether it was the result of the Ston suit we wore on Sundays, plus a stiff white shirt and uncomfortable collar, I do not know but the fact remains I found considerable difficulty in fulfilling this task, and the result was I took a violent dislike to Collects and even now when a Collect is read an inward spasm passes through me and those sad days are recalled, and I quite fail to see their beauty although I am told they contain the most perfect examples of English prose extant. I trust the Dean will take this as an extenuating circumstance when I am sometimes absent from the Cathedral on a bright sunny day. (Laughter.)

"Therefore I think perhaps the modern system of teaching is far ahead of the old, for now-a-days a child is taught by tact and by being interested in the subject, and vain repetitions and senseless tasks are done away with and are as extinct as the Dodo, I am glad to say.

HARBOUR ADVENTURE.

While making his way to the "Falkland" in a Norwegian pram yesterday, about 1.30 p.m., a man named Charlie Brown got into difficulties as a result of the heavy seas and high wind and found himself in a precarious condition as the frail craft drifted rapidly away out of control.

The Government launch "Penguin", by the express command of His Excellency the Governor who witnessed the incident from the windows of the Town Hall, and the motor-boat belonging to the Falkland Islands Company went to his assistance. The motor-boat picked Brown up and took him on board the "Falkland" none the worse for his experience.

HUSBAND'S NIGHTMARE.

Revelations For The Wives !

A New York correspondent reports that a hectic nightmare which caused him to talk volubly in his sleep has landed Aloysius Tannefeld of New York into a heap of trouble and also gaol where he is at least safe from the fury of four women each of whom believes herself to be his lawful wife.

Tannefeld, who says he came from Manchester had been a well-to-do resident in a New York Suburb and a pillar of the local church to which his wife number one belongs.

Certain things he talked about disjointedly during his agitated slumbers prompted Mistress Tannefeld whose Christian name is Julia to fetch her mother from the adjoining bedroom.

They agree they heard Julia's sleeping spouse say "Emma dear, it isn't my fault you haven't seen me for a month. You know I'm a travelling man."

Then after a pause he said excitedly "Hang it all, I did telephone you. Yes I did address it correctly, 13 - - - Avenue. There's no other place of that name in Connecticut."

Next day Julia's mother set out to join a mission of enquiry. What she ascertained she confided to the police.

The report of Tannefeld's arrest and his description brought on the scene two additional claimants to matrimonial possession of the defendant who now faces a charge of triple bigamy.

HOOF BEATS.

(By "Steve".)

"Turfite", who was an eager contributor to this column last year, is, I am sorry to say, suffering from a severe chill - the result of a superabundance of enthusiasm which took him up to the race course to spot the early risers last Saturday when he was caught in the subsequent storm and floated home.

He wired me from Newmarket immediately and I am sorry my arrival was delayed (between you and me I had forgotten all about his urgent message until the weather reminded me of Xmas's near approach.)

I understand that the last Race Meeting at which one of His Majesty's ships was present and participated in was in February 1929 when the Admiral visited the Colony in H.M.S. "Despatch".

Our visitors this year have an undoubted advantage over the "Despatch" for they have just spent some days getting "sound in wind and limb" at Port Edgar not to mention their schooling into hard riding on the return journey to Stanley. It only remains for them to show if they can sit the Falkland Islands horses as comfortably as they can the Falkland Islands seas.

The great interest this year is centred on the ambitious arrivals from the West Falklands. "Ivor" the horse which threw "Nibbles" Browning at Douglas recently, is, I believe, a likely entrant. "Casino", one of the Westers' champions is out to make Stanley and the rest of the East look to their laurels while "Monty", Mr. Bert Shilling's champion from the other Island, with R. Hutchinson up, is a strong candidate for the £40.

"Mr. Jim", the winner of the Governor's Cup last year is, I hear on good authority, in excellent condition and certainly his running a few days back was very impressive. He is out not only to retain the Cup but also to make a great effort to carry off the Douglas Plate. Tom Paice, the veteran jockey who will ride him again this year has every confidence in him.

Wednesday, 24th December, 1930.

By the bye, "Nibbles" who broke a rib while riding "Ivor" recently arrived in Stanley by the "Falkland" the other day and seems determined to have a shot at riding on Boxing Day. He is going to get into the saddle on Christmas Day at least and if he can stick it he says he will "ride or bust" the next day. Good luck to him.

I was sorry to learn that "Niny II", a warmly fancied entry from Douglas Station for the Plate that goes by that name, has had to be left out. Apparently she received a severe cut as the result of a kick.

I have it on good authority that Bill of the Aldridge Ilk, is going all out for his third consecutive silver horse in the San Carlos Prize. I have not been able to gather the name of his mount but there is no doubt he is well worth backing.

But he will have to fight hard for I hear that Mrs. Coutts "Bluebell" is an entry while there is no doubt that the West will be strongly represented. Bill's previous successful mounts were "Swagallama" in 1929 and "Heather" in 1928.

"Swagie" who, as will be remembered very acutely by her backers last year was somewhat disappointing. But this year I hear she is in very good form and should regain her fallen pedestal with a good proportion of the loot.

"Maggie" it is said is going to enter for the Maiden Plate which she carried off so well last year. She is again in good form but she will have strong rivals if "Kloncyke" and "Beauty" also enter as I believe they will, for both of these horses have won it twice and are out to get it for keeps.

There are several horses yet to come in from Darwin and the field is sure to be of a much greater variety than heretofore. G. Osborne's "Pansy" will figure in the lists, I think, while my namesake - Steve, also of the Aldridge Ilk - is putting up his well known coaster "Trenador" which won the £40 Douglas Plate last year. "Joan" and "Aragan", Vere Summers horses are in splendid form and should be seen to advantage this year.

The Course officials this year are as follows : Messrs. C. Andreason, T. Campbell, J.M. Coutts, F.G. Langdon, Dr. J.I. Moir, Messrs. W. Morrison and D.R. Watson. (Stewards.)

Mr. V.A.H. Biggs, the Hon. G.J. Felton, Messrs. R. Greenshields, J. McGill, W. McPherson, W. Newing, and L. Sedgwick (Judges horse events). Messrs. J.M. Coutts, J.D. Creamer, E. Dettleff, R. Greenshields, J. McGill, A. Newing, L. Sedgwick and A.W.N. Vincent. (Judges foot & gymkhana events).

Lost Imperial Airways 'Plane

What is believed to be the complete fuselage of the Imperial Airways seaplane "City of Rome" which sank off the coast of Italy in October, 1929 with the loss of seven lives, was dragged to the surface last week in nets by a fishing vessel.

The captain of the trawler tried to tow the seaplane but was forced to abandon his efforts owing to the machine's great weight. It sank again carrying with it the nets to a depth of 300 feet. At the time of the accident the seaplane was engaged in the Mediterranean stage of the Indian Air Mail Service.

"ZACHARIAH THE REVUE" PARTY

ON BOARD H.M.S. "DANAE".

The party on board H.M.S. "Danae" so generously arranged for all the adult members of the Cast, the Orchestra and others associated with His Excellency's Play by Captain Bent but which had to be postponed owing to the unavoidable delay in the return of the ship to Stanley, has now been fixed for Thursday, the 1st of January.

The Chorus Girls should wear either of their costumes and the Fee Girls their Robin Hood costumes while the Troupe their Minstrel costumes. Other members may attend in whatever costume they consider desirable.

It is needless to add how deeply this kind thought of Captain Bent's is appreciated by all concerned. The imagination would always grasp with eagerness an event of this nature. But more particularly does this delightful adventure appeal since, given a calm evening and with the reflection of the ship's lights adding to the dazzle of colour, the Party should be more than usually fascinating.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

It is with great pleasure that we remind the Children of Stanley of the Party to be given on board H.M.S. "Danae" this afternoon for their benefit and which begins at 3.0 p.m. continuing until 6.0 p.m.

By no one are the visits of the warships more appreciated than by the children of Stanley who receive so warm a welcome when they put foot on board and the gesture of Captain Bent, by whose kind permission the Party is being held, is all the more happy since the sailors of H.M.S. "Danae" have already gained the lasting admiration of our little ones.

UNCLE RALPH MARRIED.

Great interest has been centred in the wedding of "Uncle Ralph" of Stanley Broadcast Service (Mr. George W. Butcher) and Miss Agnes Davies, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Davis, which took place on Christmas Eve.

The bride was given away by her father and the best man was Mr. J. Turner. Those who attended the ceremony in the Registrar's Office were Sgt.-Major Wheeler and Sgt. Stanford, attached to H.M.S. "Danae" and Mr. M. Robson. A reception was afterwards held at the bride's home.

LEWIS GUN MATCH.

A Lewis Gun Match between teams from H.M.S. "Danae" and the Defence Force took place on Monday. Five iron falling plates, set in a cluster one yard apart, were used in the competition; Fifteen rounds in a magazine, range about 300 yards; The time allowed for firing was thirty seconds and the gun had to be loaded and set at the aim when the order was given for firing. The Defence Force had two teams of four men but the Ship had only two Seamen and two Marines. So it was arranged that each of the latter's men should fire twice. The results were
