DEPARTURE OF THE REV. W.F. MCWHAN

The departure of the Reverend W.F. McWhan yesterday was the cause of general regret in Stanley.

Mr. McWhan has worked in the Colony for some 2½ years and the effect of his comparatively short ministry on the religious life of the Colony will be remembered for many years.

Before he left the children (who had spent many happy hours owing to his kindness and resource) gave him a present of a writing desk set, and the older members of the congregation made a collection of £12 which was handed to him as a token of their regard.

"CAMBRIA" ON TEST FLIGHTS

The Imperial Airways Flying Boat "Cambria" spent several hours on Saturday in test flights over the Atlantic off the Irish coast in most unfavourable weather conditions.

The experts expressed themselves well satisfied with the results.

Radio contact with Foyne's radio station and with London and with the other side of the Atlantic was maintained throughout and on landing Captain Powell, who was in command, said that they had been able to find their way through cloud and sleet without the slightest trouble.

AIRMAN'S FORCED LANDING

Flight-Lieutenant David Llewellyn, who is making an attempt on the Cape record, arrived at Cairo on Saturday evening and later departed for Khartoum.

Yesterday he made a forced landing at Herowe in the Nubian desert uninjured and on the completion of some repairs returned to Cairo en-route for England having abandoned his attempt.

RADIO DIRECTION-FINDINGSTATIONS IN AFRICA

It is reported from London that the plans are well advanced for the installation of twenty-seven new radio direction-finding stations on Empire air-routes in Africa. This is the last link in the schedule which will provide Egypt with eight mail deliveries weekly and five for South Africa.

MORE FLOODING IN BRITAIN

Flooding has again occurred in the Thames Valley and other parts of southern England. The traffic has been dislocated and the records show that the January and February rainfall this year is two-and-a-half times that of normal months at the same part of the year. The suburbs of Paris have been flooded by the Seine and Germany is under snow.

MADRID It is reported that the Insurgent attacks in the Jarama valley are at a standstill with the position the same as it was a fortnight ago, but it is also stated that many white flags are flying on buildings in Madrid although the Insurgents are disregarding these as a possible trap. Violent artillery duels are reported in all other sectors.

BRITISH FRONTIER OBSERVERS IN

FORTUGAL

The Administrator of the British frontier observers in Portugal, under the scheme which has been accepted by the International non-Intervention Committee as a substitute for the scheme of supervision rejected by the Portuguese Government, will be Captain Malcolm MacDonald who was the British representative on the Straits Commission from August 1924 until the entry into force of the Montreux Convention. The deputy administrator will be Captain Smyth, also a retired Naval Officer and former secretary of the National Employment Agency for ex-servicemen.

The staff of 130 observers under Captain MacDonald will consist mainly of ex-naval officers and ex-customs officials.

It is expected that the first contingent will leave for Portugal within the next few days.

The Portuguese Government are co-operating with the British Government to make the work of administration efficient and smooth. Diplomatic immunity has been assured for the personnel.

The organisation will have no executive authority but the Portuguese Government has offered ample assurance that full facilities will be afforded to make the observation thoroughly efficient. Should the observers find anything to question as a contravention of non-intervention Agreement procedure, they, through their administration, would inform the British Embassy in Lisbon. The matter will then be dealt with through diplomatic channels.

THE NEW CLOCK

At 2 p.m. yesterday the new clock, which has been fixed on the south side of the Town Hall, was set going.

It is a double-dial 8-day clock fitted with opal glass. The dial measures 48" across and at night is illuminated from the interior by electric current.

It is hoped that there will be no more disagreements about the correct time. The "Town Clock" will be the standard by which everybody will set their domestic timepieces and their watches, and unpunctuality will be abolished.

Nobody will leave his work too soon or get to it too late, nobody will ever be late for an appointment. Meals will never be late and nobody will be late for meals. The millennium of punctuality has arrived. And if all this proves to be the case, the new clock will prove to be a good investment!

TO REMOVE DANGER TO EUROPEAN PEACE

Speaking in the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Eden said that the British Government had taken initiative after initiative in favour of the non-intervention policy. After many anxious months it was bearing fruit. They could justly claim that it was the right policy and they would persist in it. Mr. Eden paid a warm tribute to the Committee and said that he thought that the new Agreement on volunteers would go a long way to remove completely the dangers to European peace arising from the Spanish Civil War.

He spoke understandingly of the Portuguese difficulties over the control plan and appreciatively of the offer which had led to the Anglo-Portuguese arrangement now accepted by the International Committee for the Portuguese-Spanish frontier. The next task of the International Committee, Mr. Eden thought, would be to secure the withdrawal of foreign nationals fighting in Spain.

It is reported from Madrid that Toledo, the scene of the famous Alcazar siege at the end of last year, is again directly threatened. According to the Government claims, local operations south of the Tagus have led to the conquest of a number of strategic positions, and the Government are now firing upon the Barrio del Toledo buildings which are used as barracks, and the Military Governor's headquarters near the Alcazar have been hit. A sharp struggle is continuing.

NAVAL BASE AT SINGAPORE

It is anticipated that the Naval Base at Singapore will be ready for general use in the financial year 1939.

The expenditure on it up to the end of January 1937 is £5,856,000. The total estimate is £11,211,750.

In communicating this information to the House of Commons yesterday it was stated on behalf of the Admiralty that no difficulty had been experienced up to the present in obtaining the iron and steel required for the work.

GERMANY'S ALLEGED "SECRET DEBT"

It is reported from New York that revelations of a so-called secret debt of about 2,000,000,000 dollars on account of Germany's re-armament and employment programme have been made by the Securities and Exchange Commission in New York.

The matter came to light in connection with the registration of the German Government issue of 69,000,000 dollars' funding bonds to meet the German Government's interest on indebtedness.

The Commission made its customary request to Germany to state the whole of her outstanding indebtedness. Germany has not denied the existence of a secret debt but has refused to include details on the ground that it is not a Governmental debt.

The Commission has agreed without prejudice to the registration of the 69,000,000 dollars' Funding Loan, but stated that full publicity should be given to the existence of unrecorded obligations which include advance tax certificates, a short-term financing employment programme, motor highway construction, and re-armament costs.

DEFENCE OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Foreign Secretary in the House of Commons on Tuesday defended the League of Nations against those who described it as virtually dead.

The solution of the Alexandretta dispute between France and Turkey, which might have had grave consequences, was a success which was owed in large measure to the admirable work of the Council's rapporteur & the Swedish Foreign Minister.

It was a matter for congratulation that the information to hand showed that the local feeling in Sanjak warmly welcomed the settlement achieved by the League.

Such successes received little notice because a crisis solved ceased to be news, whereas reverses suffered by those working for peace were widely advertised because their failures had important consequences which were cumulative.

Ending a hopeful commentary on the future of the League Mr. Eden said "I am sorry I can give no similar happy account of the progress of the negotiations for a new Western Agreement."

Many matters, including the complications caused by the Spanish Civil War, had militated against its progress. Now that the Spanish danger was less they had got to make another effort to achieve progress and he did not yet despair of getting the nations concerned around a table on this issue. Even so, that would only be the first step to a general settlement which was the British Government's aim.

Speaking of the German claim to the restoration of Colonies Mr. Eden recalled his recent reply in the House "As previously stated the Government have not considered and are not considering the transfer of any territory under British political control." That remained the policy of His Majesty's Government. In concluding this part of his speech the Foreign Secretary analysed the position of Britain as he had defined it in his speech at Leamington in relation to foreign commitments to the League Covenant and to re-armament. He added his own to the Chancellor of the Exchequer's recent challenge to the Opposition to say specifically where they differed from his statement of British arms and policy.

It was to prevent ambiguity or doubt that he had declared that British arms might, and if occasion arose, would be used in the defence of France and Belgium against unprovoked aggression, and in accordance with Treaty obligations.

He had added, and he wanted now to repeat, that if a new Treaty could be negotiated a similar undertaking would readily and willingly be extended towards Germany. The mutability of the Locarno Treaty made particular appeal and was always specially welcome to the spirit of the British people.

Regarding obligations under the Covenant the Opposition complained, Mr. Eden said, that he had been less definite. It was true that at Leamington he drew a distinction between the obligations towards France and Belgium and it might be Germany and the general Covenant obligations. That was not because the Government were seeking to deny the general Covenant obligations but because - so far as military action was concerned - the obligations of the Covenant were less far-reaching, less specific and less precise than the Locarno obligations. Had it been otherwise there would have been no need for the Locarno Treaty. It might be argued that the Covenant obligations should be as precise respecting military action as the Locarno Treaty, and that all the nations ought to undertake in advance to have recourse to military sanctions, but that was not the Covenant. Such a commitment would not only go beyond the Covenant but beyond the abortive Geneva Protocol of 1924. Was it the view of the Opposition that they should go beyond the Protocol now when the League was relatively in a much weaker condition? Nothing could be more illogical than to stand for universal military commitments and not to be ready to provide the necessary armaments. The Government could not and did not endorse universal military commitments, but it stood by the Covenant and based its foreign policy on it. That was why, almost throughout the world, the British re-armament programme had been welcomed, for it was realised that Britain would not engage in war contrary to the Covenant.

Everyone, Mr. Eden declared in his closing sentences, regrets the necessity for the re-armament programme, but it was his conviction that with Europe and the world as they were to-day for Britain to have greater power was to add to the forces of peace. "We never forget that re-armament is a means to an end and not an end in itself. If it creates fresh opportunities to reach an agreement on limitation I agree that these opportunities must not be missed. It is even possible that through this route which none of us wish to take we shall reach the goal we all desire. This at least is true - His Majesty's Government believe that the policy that they are now pursuing and the statement of their commitments which I have made, is the greatest contribution which it is in their power to make to the preservation of world peace."

A debate was initiated for the Opposition by Mr. David Grenfell, who said that the backbone of the League system had fallen apart and that they had lapsed into a condition of secret diplomacy, and balance of power politics, which had been so generally denounced after the Great War and so largely accepted as being responsible for that catastrophe. The great nations were arming against some danger which was never specified, and propaganda, dangerous and unparalleled in the history of the world, was rampant. Diplomacy was completely demoralised and the huge expenditure which confronted the nations alarmed every thinking person.

Speaking of Europe Mr. Grenfell said that all Germany's neighbours were apprehensive about her and her alone. He hated to have to say this as one who had criticised the Allies' Post War policy towards Germany, but he hoped that the Foreign Secretary was speaking as plainly to the German Government as the circumstances warranted.

She must be asked definitely did she want peace and what kind of peace? Did she stand for peace all round?

Intervening later in the debate Sir Austin Chamberlain suggested that they did not want a new conference or new agreements but an undertaking to keep all the agreements already made. He observed that Germany had complained of her difficulties about raw materials but now had declined to attend the meetings of the Committee at Geneva which was to investigate the whole question of access to raw materials.

NEW EMPIRE AIR TERMINUS NOW

Croydon will cease to be the Empire Air Terminus after to-day when all services to and from the Empire will arrive and depart from the Imperial Airways new temporary base at Hythe, Southampton.

This move is in pursuance of the policy of operating all the Empire services to and from England entirely by flying boats instead of air-liners.

Eight services weekly - two in each direction between England and South Africa and two each in the direction between England and India, the Far East and Australia - are involved in the change.

The Government also claims that road communication with Oviedo has been completely cut as the result of the capture of positions to the west of the city.

RE-ORGANISATION OF ELECTRICITYSUPPLIES

The Government have decided to adopt in principle, subject to certain modifications in detail, the recommendations for the re-organisation of the electricity supplies made by the Committee on Electricity Distribution, which presented its report in May last year.

The Committee recommended that the scheme should include provision for a substantial reduction in the number of undertakings, of which there are now 643 operated by 627 separate authorities, and the prevention of the splitting up of comprehensive undertakings.

It also recommended that the charges for electricity should be lowered and levelled and voltages standardised.

MEDIATION IN SPAIN

In reply yesterday to a question in the House of Commons regarding the prospects of mediation in Spain Mr. Eden said that the question as to whether His Majesty's Government can take any steps to provide a basis of negotiation between the contending parties was constantly being considered in the light of developments. He regretted to say that up to the present they had received no indication that either party was prepared to consider mediation of any nature.

LONDON Negotiations have been carried through resulting in an agreement between the Nuffield Trustees and the Special Areas re-construction Association Ltd., for Whitehaven Colliery Ltd. to be acquired by the Coltness Iron Co., which will take over and work the Whitehaven Colliery and Coking Plant. At the Colliery, which is in a distressed area of Cumberland, employment will be available for a large number of workers at present unemployed.

"BROWN SHIRTED FANATIC MENACING THE PEACE OF THE WORLD"

In New York yesterday Mayor Laguardia addressing the Women's Section of the Jewish Congress suggested that Herr Hitler's portrait might suitably be displayed in the Chamber of Horrors at the 1939 World Fair, and described the Fuhrer as "a brown-shirted fanatic now menacing the peace of the world." According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent an International incident was created, the German Embassy lodging a strong protest with the United States Government.

"BROWN-SHIRTED FANATIC"

The State Secretary, Hull, informally expressed regret for this incident but the incident is not considered to be closed.

It has caused a storm of indignation in the German press. One Nazi paper violently attacks Laguardia whom it describes as "a dirty Jew whose inflammatory speeches may bring catastrophe on the world". Another paper says "This stupid vulgarity must not be ignored by Washington. We expect suitable measures to be taken."

At the press Conference yesterday afternoon Mr. Cordell Hull said that although he was not acquainted with the facts concerning Laguardia's speech he regarded any utterance which might be offensive to another Government as a matter for regret. He added that the American Government would deal with the situation as soon as he had an opportunity to study the text of Laguardia's remarks.

TRADE AGREEMENTS WITH THE DOMINIONS

In a speech at luncheon in London yesterday the Chancellor of the Exchequer said that he looked upon trade agreements with the Dominions not only as economically advantageous but as the means of securing the Empire's common aims and ideals.

If Britain were to separate herself from the rest of the Dominions by changing the policy of Imperial preference it would endanger the structure of the Commonwealth of Nations and undermine, if not destroy, all that sense of unity which had so powerfully impressed the world.

If the British Empire went to pieces the world would lose one of the strongest bulwarks for peace which it possessed to-day.

PLANS FOR A SERVICE OF "AIR-RAIDWARDENS"

It is reported from London that the local authorities in Britain are being recommended to organise a service of Air-raid Wardens to supplement the normal resources of the civil authorities for safeguarding the general public in the event of an air attack.

The duties of the Wardens, of whom some 300,000 will be voluntarily enlisted, will include advising the public on officially recommended precautions against air-raids, assisting in the distribution of respirators, and in the event of war taking an active part in helping their fellow citizens during and after air-raids.

WARNED AGAINST COMPLACENCY

Mr. Winston Churchill, intervening in the House of Commons during a debate on the Defence Loans Bill yesterday, referred to the reported decision of the Labour Party not to vote against the Defence Estimates, and said that its effect would be to add appreciably to the safety of the country.

Mr. Churchill warned the House against complacency in the face of the formidable re-armament in Europe, accompanied by nervous tension and financial strain; and while approving of the Government's programme expressed doubts as to whether its tempo were sufficiently high or whether the country were being made to face squarely the sacrifices necessary for the preservation of its freedom.

THE MONSTER AT PLAYWomen Motorists Watch

The following is from a Scottish paper and we think that it will be of local interest as Mrs. Moir, who was in the Falkland Islands for many years, is concerned in it.

"A party of women who were motor-ing along Loch Ness-side had a clear view of the monster in the vicinity of Abriachan, several miles from Inverness End.

The party consisted of Mrs Moir, widow of Dr. John Innes Moir, senior medical officer of health in British Honduras; Iona, her daughter, Mrs. Moir of Aberdeen her sister-in-law, Miss Frazer of Inverness and Mrs Grant of Inverness, who was driving the motor car.

Mrs. Moir, Inverness, in an interview, said 'It was in the late afternoon that we saw the monster. About five to six hundred yards away was a black moving object. The creature had three humps, the one in the centre being the most prominent. It was moving in the direction of Inverness. It had a long thin neck. The object suddenly turned and shot straight across some distance to the other side of the loch. It proceeded quickly and created a considerable wash as it raced along. It came back to where we had seen it originally.

We noticed that the humps had disappeared under the water. The creature apparently being either feeding or playing.'

Mrs. Moir added that when they left the monster was still there. They had watched it for over a quarter of an hour."

LONDON The final result of Thursday's elections to the London County Council was the increase of the Labour Party's majority from 14 to 26. Labour holds 75 out of 124 seats, the other 49 being held by municipal reformers.

HOME NOTES

When boiling an egg which has a cracked shell, place a pin in the saucepan with the water; this will prevent any of the egg running out through the crack.

Clothes that have been packed away for any length of time sometimes become very creased and shabby looking. To remove the creases hang the clothes in the bathroom and leave the hot water tap on until the room is full of steam. Leave for an hour or two, then dry the garments in the open air. Press on the wrong side with a cool iron.

Do you find that the inside of your rubber boots often gets damp? Try making a patent drier by filling a pair of old golf stockings with bran and tying up the ends firmly. Then make these hot in the oven and put one in each boot each time you take them off. The bran absorbs the moisture and the driers can be lifted out and dried before the fire while the boots are being worn.

Polishing brass is a tiresome job, but a way in which you can keep your brass in a constant state of brightness is to buy some colourless varnish and give each brass article a very thin coating of it. This will produce that lovely goldy richness of colour that only brass can give.

The next time you wash your hair-brush or those of the family do remember to rub over their polished wooden backs thoroughly with vaseline. You will find that this prevents the ammonia or soda, which should always go in the washing water for hair brushes, from eating into the wood, which makes them look shabby.

The pockets on children's clothes often get dreadfully grimy from the children's habit of putting all manner of grimy objects into them. A tip on wash day is to shake a few soap flakes into each pocket before plunging the garment into the wash-tub and this simplifies the cleaning process.

If you have difficulty in washing and drying your nutmeg grater try cleaning the grater with a crust of bread cut off the end of a loaf. It removes all particles and leaves the grater quite clean.

TRAWLER SUNK WHILE PROTECTING

PASSENGER VESSEL

The inhabitants of Bilbao saw a Government armed trawler sunk and a destroyer and trawler badly damaged while endeavouring to protect the passenger vessel "Galdames" against the Nationalist cruisers "Canarias" and "Almirante Cervera".

The "Galdames" was approaching Bilbao from Bayonne. Shell fire killed two women and three children passengers in the "Galdames". The vessel carried war materials and food valued at £20,000. The "Galdames" was taken to Pasajes where ambulances awaited the wounded.

FRENCH NATIONAL DEFENCE LOAN

It is reported from Paris that owing to a legal hitch the issue of the Government national defence loan, which was to have taken place to-day, is being postponed until at least Wednesday.

The Finance Minister, M. Auriol, is meeting the Chamber Finance Committee to-morrow and it is anticipated that the Bill will be rushed through both Houses and the loan issued immediately the Bill is approved.

According to the Sunday Times correspondent an unprecedented national campaign has been organised to ensure the loan's success. The campaign was opened by M. Blum's broadcast on Friday. The details of the loan are being broadcast by President Lebrun during the week. The loan and the change in financial policy are believed to indicate that no further franc devaluation is contemplated. M. Blum declares that the loan will bring back capital which had been sent abroad as the subscribers are guaranteed against exchange loss.

WORKING MEN AND WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Queen Mary visited Morley College for working men and women on Saturday and opened the extension, which has cost £22,000.

Her Majesty herself was one of the contributors to the Fund. The extension includes besides additional classrooms, a library for 7,000 volumes available to the 3,000 students of the College and a music room which is a memorial to Gustav Holst who for many years assisted with the musical side of the College's activities.

SUPERVISION BY LAND AND SEA

On Saturday the Chairman's sub-Committee of the International Committee for the application of the non-intervention Agreement gave further consideration to the report of the Special Conference of maritime experts on the Naval Control Scheme.

It is not thought likely that this control scheme as a whole will be ready for approval by the plenary Committee before to-day at the earliest.

The "Times" diplomatic correspondent states that the Dutch Vice-Admiral de Graaff is likely to be proposed as the Chief Administrator of the combined schemes of supervision by land and by sea.

EXPENDITURE TO BE BUDGETED

It is now possible to forecast fairly closely from the Civil, Defence, and other Estimates already published, the total expenditure for which the Chancellor will have to Budget.

The Civil Estimates at £408,053,605 are up by £28,751,132 as compared with the total for last year. The Defence Estimates total £277,685,000 but only £197,685,000 is to come from revenue, which is an increase of £9,815,000 on last year's total.

With the requirements of the Revenue Departments the total for the coming year reaches £619,635,205 or £38,974,432 more than for the year now expiring.

But the apparent increase is somewhat misleading owing to the coming into operation of the last Finance Act by which the Revenue and Expenditure of the former road fund are taken into the ordinary accounts. When allowance is made for this change the increase is reduced to the neighbourhood of £16,500,000. Provided therefore that the charge for the service of the debt amounting last year to £235,300,000 remains approximately the same, as appears likely, the financial writers in the newspapers take the view that the Chancellor will not have to ask the tax-payer for more than an additional sum of about £20,000,000, leaving the £8,000,000 for Defence not charged to revenue to be defrayed under the procedure of the Defence Loans Bill and out of the realised surplus and borrowed money.

DUBLIN The city of Dublin is threatened with a black-out owing to 1,500 of the Corporation electricians declaring a strike against being required to drive motor vehicles during work. The strike is at present confined to Dublin but the whole of the Shannon supply is threatened.

The opinion is generally expressed that despite Mr. Chamberlain's warning at Edinburgh on Friday night that the tax-payers have not yet reached the end of their sacrifices, he will be able to secure the additional revenue without any severe increase of taxation.

Of such speculations as these the "Birmingham Post" remarks "though it is still too early for amateur budget making, it is by no means too early to give thanks for the fact that these abnormally heavy demands can be presented to a nation financially in a good heart and well prepared to meet them."

In a leading article on the same theme the "Times" says "In any case the prospects for the forthcoming budget are entirely reassuring."

Solving Household problems.

Inventors are always at work solving small household problems. They produce gadgets for simplifying little jobs. For better or for worse this is an age of 'tinned' or 'canned' foodstuffs. Every day hundreds of tins have to be opened to prepare the daily meals. Hundreds of different types of tin openers have been devised and patented, but it is only lately that a completely satisfactory and inexpensive TIN OPENER has been made available for the use of the busy housewife.

It is named "JIFFY"

It opens tins with an easy rotary motion, and does not leave any ragged edges.

It cannot slip off the tin and cut your hands.

It is sturdily built to give long service.

Yet it is so inexpensive that when it does wear out it can be replaced for a modest 6d bit.

Every householder should have a "JIFFY" tin opener. 6d each.

"Rotary" vegetable knives, made of "Monel" untarnishable metal 11d ea.

SUPERVISION BY LAND AND BY SEA

The International non-intervention Committee met for three hours yesterday afternoon to give their final approval to the scheme for the supervision by land and sea of the application of the non-intervention Agreement.

The Communique issued last night states that the Committee adopted the scheme of observation of the Spanish frontiers by land and by sea. It is provided that the principal officials shall be appointed forthwith and shall take up their duties at once.

The Chairman announced that the naval supervision plan would come into operation on March 13th.

It was agreed to add to the representatives of the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Italy, and Russia, three other representatives to form a Board to whom will be entrusted the responsibility of carrying out the scheme of observation.

The Committee will now proceed to examine the possibility of a further extension of the non-intervention Agreement, including such subjects as the recall of "volunteers" and financial aid.

A further meeting of the Committee will be held later this week for the purpose of appointing the principal officials under the Supervision Scheme.

DISORDERS IN ADDIS ABABA

Last night in the House of Commons Lord Cranborne had a number of questions to answer on the subject of the reported disorders in Addis Ababa. He replied: "While it will be realised that the precise details are in the circumstances difficult to obtain, the Foreign Secretary has received information tending to show that following the attempted assassination of Marshal Graziani scenes of grave disorder have occurred in Addis Ababa in the course of which reprisals of a severe character were taken by the Italian soldiery, resulting in a large number of deaths and the extensive destruction of property. I am glad to say that so far as British subjects and protected persons are concerned those who were arrested when the outbreak occurred have now all been released at the instance of the Acting British Consul-General and no British lives were lost."

DEATH OF MR. JAMES CLARKE

The tragic death of Mr. James Clarke occurred in Stanley Harbour yesterday afternoon when he was lost overboard from the Schooner "Shamrock" and drowned.

Mr. Clarke was 40 years of age and is survived by his wife and three children to whom we offer our deepest sympathy.

Efforts are being made to recover the body.

LONDON The Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs was questioned in the House of Commons last night about Herr von Ribbentrop's recent speech at Leipzig. Lord Cranborne said that he had read the report of the speech but did not consider that any formal action was necessary or desirable. Regarding the Colonies he recalled the previous announcement of the Government's policy.

If the decision of the Tribunal is acceptable to the Government they will introduce the Bill in the present session to acquire the property.

INSURGENTS MAKE A FURTHERADVANCE ON MADRID

One of the heaviest actions of the Spanish Civil War, which may play a great part in deciding the fate of Madrid, is now being fought about 65 miles to the north-east of the capital.

Re-inforced Insurgent troops yesterday followed up the offensive they launched on Monday in which they claim an advance of seven- and-a-half miles over a wide front, so tending to reduce still further the area east of Madrid through which the capital's communications pass.

The Government communique, while admitting retreat on Monday, claims that yesterday the Government forces "resisted valiantly".

TO PROTECT DUTCH MERCHANTSHIPPING

It is reported from the Hague that following the stopping of the Dutch ship "Triton" off the coast of Spain by an Insurgent vessel, the Dutch cruiser "Java" of 6,670 tons armed with ten 5.9-inch guns, has been ordered by the Government to proceed to Spanish waters and patrol as an escort for Dutch merchantmen.

HAYES The latest press reports state that the Faircy Aviation Works strike (see Page 2) has been settled and work is being resumed to-morrow. The Rolls Royce situation at Derby is unchanged but the strikers are meeting to-morrow when some developments are expected.

CIVILIAN ANTI-GAS SCHOOL

Twenty-nine members of Parliament visited Falfield Civilian Anti-Gas School near Bristol yesterday.

The School is at present the only one of its kind in Britain, but another is to be started shortly in Yorkshire.

Since the school was opened in April last year more than 800 people, including police officers, doctors, members of the Red Cross Society and St. John's Ambulance Association, and the employees of local authorities and of the public utility organisations, have received a fortnight's training in identifying and dealing with the various gases and in the determination of affected areas, and have returned to their own districts to pass on the instruction to others.

As a result it is estimated that 3,500 people in various parts of the country are already proficient in the work of air-raid precautions.

COLD WEATHER AND SNOW IN BRITAIN

It is reported from London that the coldest night in March recorded for six years was recorded on Tuesday night.

There have already been seven days of snow in England this month, the north of England, Scotland and Wales are all under snow at present.

INSURGENTS' ADVANCE MAINTAINED

According to the Daily Telegraph Correspondent at Salamanca despite the bad weather the Insurgents' north-east advance has been maintained - 18 miles' progress having been made in the last two days involving the occupation of the villages commanding the Saragossa road and 15 miles from their immediate objective - Guadalaajara. The Government resistance has been stiffened by the realisation that the fall of Guadalaajara will decide the fate of the capital.

It is reported from Madrid that the defenders are holding their ground in intense hand-to-hand fighting while mobilisation orders calling up 15,000 people have been issued.

LEGAL OBLIGATION ON BRITISHSHIPPING

Lord Plymouth, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs and the Chairman of the International non-intervention Committee, was warmly cheered in the House of Lords yesterday on rising to move the second reading of the Bill imposing a legal obligation on British shipping bound for Spanish ports to comply with the procedure of the system of supervision established by the 27 Governments participating in the non-intervention Agreement.

It was obvious, Lord Plymouth said, that any delay in bringing the system into force would be very dangerous, and some untoward incident might undo the work so painfully accomplished.

He explained that if the International staff of observers witnessed any apparent infringement of the Agreement by British ships they would inform the Board of Trade which would consider what proceedings should be taken.

SPAIN AND NON-INTERVENTION

The subject of Spain and non-intervention was before the House of Commons at question time yesterday.

The Foreign Secretary stated that British ships would be responsible under the control scheme for the supervision of the northern coast of Spain from the French frontier to Cape Husto, and for the southern coast from the Portuguese frontier to Cape de Gata, but despite this very considerable additional commitment for His Majesty's ships in Spanish waters, the British naval authorities would take steps to keep in touch with His Majesty's diplomatic and consular representatives at Valencia, Barcelona, and Palma.

Mr. Eden also gave details of the facilities which the Portuguese Government were giving to the British observers of the Portuguese-Spanish frontier under the arrangement between the British and the Portuguese Government.

The duties of the British observers would be to note the nature of the goods and the number and nationality of the travellers crossing the frontier and to report to the Ambassador at Lisbon.

They would be at liberty to ask for information from the local authorities, including statements of clearances or the passage of cargo and passengers, and to request the competent Portuguese authorities to take such steps as might be possible to verify or disprove fears that breaches of the Agreement were being or were about to be committed.

Mr. Eden said that the observation would be carried out on the frontier and the officers who would be stationed at the frontier crossings, in particular at the railway stations and on the major and secondary roads, would be in a position to establish all the facts necessary for the proper observation of the application of the non-intervention Agreement.

PROTEST AGAINST INTERFERENCEWITH BRITISH PROPERTY

In the House of Commons yesterday the Foreign Secretary stated that the British Ambassador at Hendaye had been instructed to protest to the Insurgent authorities at Salamanca against interference with British property on the High Sea in the case of two Spanish vessels carrying British-owned cargoes of iron ore which had been intercepted by Insurgent warships.

The Ambassador was to ask for the release of the cargoes and to state that His Majesty's Government reserved the right, if necessary, to claim damages.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE TO THE WESTERN PACT

It is reported from Berlin that Herr von Ribbentrop returned to London and it is believed that he has received fresh instructions in regard to Germany's attitude to the Western Pact.

It is believed that he is now in a position to converse further with Mr. Eden upon this subject.

Germany's reply to the British Memorandum of last November on the subject of the Western Pact is expected to be handed over before long.

ALLEGED INTERVENTION IN SPAIN

Strong Protest Made

It is reported from Valencia that a strong protest against alleged intervention by the German and Italian troops in Spain has been made by the Foreign Minister, Delvayo, who quoted statements allegedly made by four Italian prisoners who were part of the contingent of 5,000 who landed at Cadiz on the 1st of January, belonging to the 2nd Division of the Fascist Militia Commanded by General Pozzi.

They reached Siguenza on the 8th of March when there were six Italian battalions on this front. They saw 15 guns served by the Italians and also German Artillery.

According to a British visitor who has arrived at Algeciras from Cadiz, three steamers, believed to be Italian ones, carrying no flag and with the names painted out, have landed contingents of Italian troops over the week-end.

RAW MATERIALS INQUIRY

In the House of Commons Mr. Eden, the Foreign Secretary, said yesterday that the terms of reference of the League raw materials inquiry were strictly limited to a question of equal commercial access for all nations to certain raw materials.

Any discussion of the territorial re-distribution of Colonies or Mandated Territories, or any change in their administration, was precluded.

LONDON While the market interest is centred on base metals there has been a steady advance in the price of wheat which is mainly due to heavy German buying.

INTERNATIONAL SUGAR CONFERENCE

The forthcoming international sugar conference figured largely in the House of Commons at question time yesterday.

The Colonial Secretary, stated that the exports of sugar from the British Colonies had been 782,000 tons in 1933, 751,000 tons in 1934, 851,000 tons in 1935, and 1,000,000 tons last year, and in considering any suggestion at the conference of a quota for the British Colonies, the latest figures would be taken into account.

ROOSEVELT WARNS THE UNITED STATES

President Roosevelt broadcasting yesterday warned the country of the existing situation which is rapidly approaching that of the 1929 boom.

The courts had cast doubts on the Congressional ability to protect the country from catastrophe by adaption to modern social and economic conditions but in emphasising the former harmonious relations between the Supreme Court and the Congress the President said that during the past four years the sound rule of giving the statutes the benefit of reasonable doubt had been cast aside and the court was acting as a policy-making body and not as a judicial body and was thus hindering the Congress safety measures.

The Senate Judiciary Committee opened its investigation into President Roosevelt's scheme for enlarging the Supreme Court, at Washington yesterday.

THE FRENCH DEFENCE LOAN

It is reported from Paris that the details of the French Defence Loan will be published on Friday when the loan is to be launched.

The Senate passed the relevant Bill by 258/4 votes after the Finance Committee had added the clause fixing the loan at a maximum of 10,500,000,000 francs which approximates to the total Army, Navy, and Air Force extraordinary estimates.

A national rally to the loan is expected with an enormous influx of gold, and the experts forecast that the franc will soon reach 100 to the sterling instead of 112.

The Equalisation Fund is buying sterling to check the franc advance and the exchange thus acquired is being of use to increase the Bank of France reserve.

A New York message states that it is unlikely that there will be a substantial participation in the French Loan.

THE S.S. "LAFONIA" is expected to reach Port San Carlos at 11 this morning.

RELENTLESS FIGHTING IN SPAIN

It is reported from Salamanca that a big Insurgent push to complete the encirclement of Madrid is proceeding relentlessly despite snowstorms and freezing cold.

After the capture of the town of Brihuega where the Government battalion is reported to have been practically destroyed, and the neighbouring villages where 400 Government troops are said to have been killed by the Insurgent columns, they have set out to the north-west and south with the object of linking up with the Insurgents in the Guadarrama Mountains on the one flank and those in Toledo sector on the other.

The next big objective is Aramuna, a village on the road connecting Madrid and Valencia through Guadalajara.

The fall of Arumuna would mean that Madrid would have only one means of access to Valencia left - namely a secondary road south of Alcaladehenares. Finally the push will continue to the south-west of Exarnna, with the object of cutting this road and joining the Insurgent army in Toledo sector, thus completing the investiture of Madrid.

The fiercest fighting seen during the war in Spain has been during the last 48 hours on the Brihuega sector. The Government forces yesterday violently counter-attacked the Insurgents who advanced the positions in the heights between Brihuega and Valdearenas with artillery, aeroplanes and bombs. The Government claim that they have inflicted terrific losses, but the Insurgents have put many of their tanks out of action.

It is officially declared that there are several Italian black-shirt divisions and one Italian regular army division at Guadalajara, commanded by Italian Generals under the supreme command of General Manzini.

General Manzini declared "This is a regular European war."

CALEDONIAN POWER BILL REJECTED

In the House of Commons late on Wednesday night the second reading of the Caledonian Power Bill, which sought to empower an industrial company to establish a factory in the Highlands of Scotland to manufacture calcium carbide with hydraulic power, was rejected by 188 votes to 140.

This decision was left to the free vote of the House and among those voting with the minority were three Cabinet Ministers.

For the Opposition it was claimed that the carbide could be generated as cheaply from coal as from water and it was suggested that all the ingredients required in making carbide were to be found elsewhere, for example in South Wales.

The Secretary for Scotland, Mr. Walter Elliot, supporting the Bill said that there could be no division of opinion regarding the advantage of establishing the industry. If the House decided not to proceed with the Bill the problem remained and the Government would take up the question forthwith as to how best this country could be

THE NAVAL BUILDING PROGRAMME

Sir Samuel Hoare, speaking in the House of Commons on Thursday night on the Naval building programme, said that he regarded the surface raider as still the greatest danger to trade routes so that an adequate number of warships remained the first essential for their protection.

The First Lord dealt in particular with a question - to which the Naval and Air Staffs had given closer attention than to any other - of trade communications through narrow seas.

The plans developed were necessarily confidential but he told the House that if that threat developed they were ready to meet it and added the information that the Committee, representative of the Admiralty, Board of Trade, and Shipping interests, was preparing measures for ensuring the least possible dislocation of shipping in an emergency.

But the Navy still believed that the best form of defence was a bold offensive. Attack would not be the monopoly of the enemy.

The First Lord, remarking on the changes affecting Naval policy before 1914, said that whilst so many had been for the worse one was pre-eminently better - now and henceforth there could be no rivalry between the United States and the British Navies. Also, under the Anglo-German Naval Agreement there could be no race between Britain and Germany in Naval Armaments. He was not prepared to state the desired standard of British Naval strength in terms of countries or in terms of numerals. He preferred to say that they must, in order to keep open their trade routes and imperial communications, have a fleet strong enough to carry out its responsibilities in both the Eastern and Western Hemispheres for they were an oceanic Empire with oceanic communications.

After parenthetically assuring the House that the Naval Base at Singapore was within sight of completion, Sir Samuel recalled that the general objective he had given for Naval strength was as essential for our part in collective action which Britain might have to take under the Covenant, as for self-defence.

He anticipated that if the Naval Programme were criticised in the light of these considerations it would be for its shortcomings rather than its excess, but he replied that in changing the situation the programme must be flexible and for the present proposed that the expansion was as much as was either wise or practicable. In the case of battleships, during 1937 five new ones would be laid down because as twelve of the existing fifteen were over twenty years old they would otherwise be in a position of serious weakness in the face of naval powers which had been building battleships for some years.

The new battleships would displace about 35,000 tons and have 14-inch guns and were designed for a higher speed than any existing British battleships. As to cruisers, seven new ones were to be laid down this year and would bring the under-age cruisers up to 53 and the over-age ones to 23. The over-age cruisers would not be scrapped but armed with anti-aircraft guns for escort work in narrow seas.

Sir Samuel Hoare's concluding words were devoted to the future of naval armaments. Was the world entering upon a new race in which sooner or later it would die, either of exhaustion or by self-destruction in a final catastrophe? He refused to accept a view so fatalistic, recalling that in one field it has been found possible so far to reach an agreement on limitation. There was the Washington Treaty, though it had not been renewed since the 1930 Treaty, the Anglo-German Naval Agreement, the Protocol on submarine warfare and lastly there was every hope that the London Treaty of 1936 would be accepted by a sufficient number of powers for Britain to ratify it.

The position was that negotiations were going on with a number of other powers with a view to bringing them within the system of Treaty.

The main effort of the British Government had been directed to the conclusion of bi-lateral Agreements with Germany and Soviet Russia but similar negotiations had been proceeding satisfactorily with Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Poland, and Turkey. As to Italy he was glad to say that the Italian Government was ready to make a valuable contribution by its readiness to accept the maximum gun calibre of 14 inches for capital ships provided the other principal naval powers did likewise. He hoped that following the Anglo-Italian declaration relating to the Mediterranean that Italy would, before long, accede to the whole Treaty.

He urged the House not to under estimate the value of the 1936 Treaty which he believed might be great. It was regrettable that it embodied no direct quantitative limitation but if the treaty became general they might nevertheless obviate the Naval race which could be qualitative as much as quantitative, and past experience showed that the first was more dangerous.

Competition in types was more expensive and more detrimental to friendly relations between the nations than in numbers. The 1936 Treaty gave them the chance to avoid a race of new types and size and he was not unhopeful of the future.

The American Ambassador, Mr. William E. Dodd, interviewed Herr von Neurath yesterday afternoon and drew his attention to the language of the German press, particularly that of the Nazi periodical "Angriff", about the American people and the Government in connexion with the Laguardia incident on March the 4th.

It is understood that the Ambassador emphasised that America's foreign policy was conducted on a basis of complete mutual respect for the rights and sensibilities of other countries, but stressed the safeguards provided by the American constitution for the rights of free speech, and said that the American Government was unable to account for such "sweeping vituperation" and such unfounded attacks, probably unparalleled in their coarseness and indecent character, and staggering and shocking to all decent minds, especially as they appeared entirely unjustified.

SEVERE SNOW STORMS IN BRITAIN

Practically the whole of Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and the northern part of England, have experienced during the last few days the most severe snow storms for many years. Not within living memory has snow covered so deeply such a large area of the British Isles.

During the week-end a thaw began in Ireland and resulted in severe flooding, but in Scotland and northern England further snowstorms occurred and many roads and railway tracks are buried beneath huge drifts - many country villages and farmsteads being completely isolated.

The farmers in particular have suffered heavy losses as the severe weather has come just as the lambing season is due to begin and many thousands of sheep are lost.

In northern England and southern Scotland there is now some improvement in the road conditions and the usual main thoroughfare to Scotland from the South is now open for single

SUPERVISION BY LAND AND BY SEAScheme Now In Operation

The Non-Intervention Committee's Scheme for the supervision of the Spanish land and sea boundaries became operative at midnight on Saturday/Sunday.

The sea control, in addition to British Naval vessels, includes French destroyers on the Biscay coast and a cruiser for the Mediterranean, with the establishment of convoys in co-operation with the Algerian squadron.

It is reported from Berlin that Germany is sending a group of armed trawlers to operate with the German Fleet in Spanish Waters.

The Land frontiers are divided into three zones, each under an Administrator with 130 Observers, having Paris as their Headquarters, and other zones controlling ports on the Spain border.

SUCCESS OF FRENCH DEFENCE LOAN

It is reported from Paris that owing to the unprecedented success of the issue of the first half of the French Defence Loan the Finance Minister has decided to issue the second portion immediately, on exactly similar conditions as the first.

CLEAR WARNING TO GERMANY ANDOTHER COUNTRIES

The Soviet Ambassador, Maisky, addressing a public meeting in London on Saturday directed a clear warning to Germany and any other power attacking Russia.

Mentioning the Japo-German rapprochement Maisky said that this amounted to a military alliance against the U.S.S.R. but that the Soviet frontier was now impregnable, while its economic preparedness was beyond question strong enough to repel single-handed any attack by a Foreign Power or by combined Powers.

ITALY READY TO NEGOTIATE A NEWWESTERN PACT.

Italy is ready to negotiate a new Western Pact on the lines of the old Locarno Pact but account must be taken of certain important changed circumstances, for example the de-militarised zone in Germany.

Italy opines that any new Pact ought to be simple in form and quickly applicable and should not contain vague general undertakings, but quite definite obligations must be assumed by all parties.

With regard to Belgium, Italy is ready to give the same guarantees as Britain, France, and Germany.

The Franco-Soviet Pact was not mentioned by the spokesman but it may be assumed that it is one of the "changed circumstances" mentioned above.

UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES REDUCED

In the House of Commons on Friday evening the House agreed to the money resolution preliminary to the Government's Special Areas Bill.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer spoke in the course of the debate, following Mr. Lloyd George who made an appeal for the development of land settlement in special areas as a contribution to the national defence.

Mr. Chamberlain cited the figures of the unemployment in the special areas which had been brought down by 120,000 in a little over two years, and in South Wales - perhaps the most difficult area - by 20%. It was the policy of the Government to take advantage of the re-armament programme to direct as much work as possible into these districts. Up to the end of November last orders totalling £41,000,000 went to the needy districts, of which £24,000,000 went to the Special Areas proper.

By the end of January those totals had been raised respectively to £57,000,000 and £35,000,000.

The Chancellor described the advantages the special areas had derived from the revival of the iron and steel industry, from the shipping subsidy, from the increased shipbuilding, and from the effects of trade agreements on coal exports.

Mr. Chamberlain thought that the inducements to the location of new industries in special areas which the Government's Bill would provide would prove effective and he said that Mr. Lloyd George had not convinced him that the authorities were wrong who held that in the matter of land settlement one must go cautiously. It would be impossible to put half a million people back on the land without raising agricultural prices and destroying relations with Dominion and foreign producers. As to the defence aspects of agriculture, it was not the occasion for him to enter upon the subject, but they might rest assured that it was receiving the Government's attention.

traffic. In Belfast three large halls belonging to the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society were practically destroyed on Saturday when the weight of snow caused the collapse of the roofs, damage being done which is estimated at £12,000. London and southern England escaped the snow but on Saturday heavy rain fell continuously. The Thames is again rising and at Twickenham the ferry boat had to cross the main road beside the river before it could land the passengers.

NEW POWER BOAT TO REPLACE THE

LAUNCH "PENGUIN"

The Government has recently ordered a power boat of the Sea Monarch class from the British Power Boat Company of Southampton to replace the launch "Penguin".

The vessel is 37' 6" in length and is driven by two 100 h.p. engines. The maximum speed of the engines is 3,000 r.p.m. Under favourable conditions a speed of 30 m.p.h. can be attained but the makers recommend a cruising speed of 24 m.p.h., representing an engine speed of 2,400 r.p.m. The contract cost of the vessel f.o.b. with an additional engine, a dinghy and all spares is £2,959. 10s. 6d. The expenditure will not be a charge on the revenue of the Colony but will be met from the Marine Insurance Fund built up for the purpose of replacing the "Penguin" when necessary. The market value of this Fund stands at £3,526. 14s. 3d.

The principal object of purchasing a vessel of this description was that the Government should have a craft available for travelling outside the harbour limits as well as for ordinary port duties. It was at one time the intention of the Government to procure a vessel of the fishing craft type with an auxiliary Diesel engine but the advantages of a power boat are so manifest that preference has been given to that alternative. The cost of fuel for

The King has been pleased to approve the appointment of Lord Brabourne, Governor of Bombay, to succeed Sir John Anderson as Governor of Bengal on November 25th until when the tenure of Sir John Anderson has been extended.

Lord Brabourne, who is 41, served with distinction in the War. Before becoming Governor of Bombay he was for a year Parliamentary Private Secretary to the Secretary of State for India. When his Governorship began in 1933 the Civil Disobedience Movement was declining and the situation has since steadily improved. In Bengal, under Sir John Anderson, the Terrorist outrages, once so frequent, have virtually ceased and the ameliorative policy has been attended with marked success.

a fast launch is of course very much higher than for an auxiliary Diesel. As a set off against this there will be a saving in freight of several hundred pounds, a saving in manning, great saving in time and much higher efficiency for any service. The builders estimate the life of the power boat at 60,000 miles.

The vessel will be used for official travelling and for emergency calls from any part of the Colony where other means of transport are not available as well as for harbour duties.

The boat is divided into four water-tight compartments. A control department is situated right forward wherein all engine controls are grouped round the steering wheel. There are large box seats with upholstered cushions and sleeping accommodation in this forward part. Further aft is the main cabin with two seven-foot settee berths, a wardrobe cupboard, etc.. Galley, Pantry and toilet are next on the starboard and port sides respectively. Then comes a large open cockpit (which can be enclosed) with further seating accommodation. Right aft is the self-contained machinery compartment.

The outstanding feature about the power boat is probably her steadiness in comparatively heavy seas. These vessels have been bought in large numbers by the Royal Air Force and Imperial Airways for service in all parts of the world and have received Admiralty approval.

A semi-official Government trial was carried out in the English Channel off Plymouth with one of these 37 ft. 6 inch. craft during a 60 m.p.h. gale gusting up to 70 m.p.h. and with a service crew on board everything possible was done to capsize it without avail. The Times special correspondent ascribes the comparative comfort of the boat in bad weather to the extraordinary rigid construction of the hull.

SUDDEN DEATH OF SIR AUSTEN

All British newspapers, irrespective of party, pay tributes to-day to Sir Austen Chamberlain whose death occurred suddenly last night.

He had been unwell for a few days but felt better yesterday evening and left his bedroom to go to his library. On entering this room he had a sudden heart attack and never regained consciousness.

Sir Austen, who was first elected to the House of Commons 45 years ago, had held during his career nearly all the highest offices of State. The only notable exception was that of the Premiership which he might well have attained but for his determination in circumstances of moment to subordinate his own ambitions to wider interests. He had those outstanding qualities of complete honesty and independence which have, above all, commanded universal respect and assured him in the House of Commons of close attention and great personal influence.

He was a notable Chancellor of the Exchequer and a still more notable Foreign Secretary.

The "Times" recalls that his collaboration with M. Briand and Herr Stresemann produced an atmosphere which promised - for all too brief a space - a permanent improvement in the relations between the European nations.

Sir Austen Chamberlain was 73 years of age.

THREE DEAD IN AIR LINER CRASH

While engaged in a night flight from Croydon to Cologne the Imperial Airways liner "Jupiter" crashed yesterday twenty-five miles west of Cologne.

A gale, accompanied by snow and sleet, was blowing. The news of the disaster was conveyed to the House of Commons by the Under Secretary for Air who stated that the three occupants of the machine - Captain Holmes the Pilot, Mr. Langman the Wireless Operator, and Mr. Walley Dod the Imperial Airways European Manager who was the only passenger, are dead. No mails were on board.

The cause of the accident is not yet determined.

TRIUMPHAL ENTRY OF MUSSOLINI

Mounted on a pure-bred white Arab horse Signor Mussolini made a triumphal entry to Tripoli yesterday evening, greeted by the shrill cries of the excited Arabs punctuated by the boom of saluting artillery.

Five thousand people, including many Arab notables, were seated on a special tribune to welcome his entry. It was the close of a strenuous day which had started at 5 a.m. when he piloted his plane as far as Cirte Reste. His party, numbering about 400, followed, also in planes. From Cirte the journey was continued by cars.

THE S.S. "LAFONIA" left Fox Bay at 6 a.m. yesterday in fine weather. At noon yesterday she was 812 miles from Grytviken.

LARGEST AIR ESTIMATES EVER PRESENTED TO PARLIAMENT

The largest air estimates ever presented to Parliament were introduced in the House of Commons on Monday afternoon by the Under Secretary for Air, Sir Philip Sassoon.

The net estimate of £82,500,000 including the loan provision compares with the average figure of some £18,000,000 asked for by the Ministry in pre-expansion years. It shows an increase of nearly £32,000,000 on the total estimates of 1936.

The expansion in no way meant the abandonment of the hope of securing an air pact and general stabilisation of air armaments. On the contrary the Government regarded the realisation of this hope as a matter of paramount importance and would seize instantly any opportunity to achieve it.

Air Force expansion was not merely a question of making good deficiencies. It meant practically the trebling of the force as well as re-arming it with modern equipment. Aircraft and aero-engines could be produced with increasing speed as the experience of production was gained and as new plant came into operation, but a considerable period was absolutely necessary to train really skilled pilots and navigators.

During the coming financial year they intended to train 1,175 pilots. The position with regard to airmen was equally satisfactory. During the 1936 financial year they intended to recruit 11,000 airmen, including 2,656 apprentices and boy entrants. The present figures indicated that these hopes would be fully realised.

They hoped to recruit a slightly larger number during the coming year.

Referring to Dominion co-operation he said that there was in operation a scheme whereby pilots were trained as cadets in the Royal Australian Air Force and then served a term of years with the Air Force in this country. Afterwards they reverted to the Royal Australian Air Force Reserve. New Zealand he said was establishing a similar scheme and also a system whereby candidates who applied for the Royal Air Force were medically examined locally.

The British Government would welcome the adoption of a similar system by Canada from which Dominion no fewer than 100 young men had come on their own and been accepted for short service commissions.

After dealing with the satisfactory progress made regarding aerodromes, works, and buildings, Sir Philip Sassoon passed on to the problem of the production of adequate supplies of equipment.

Except for the larger aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm the monoplane which approached most nearly to the ideal streamline form had almost entirely replaced the bi-plane. The difficulties of providing wings of adequate stiffness to resist twisting and bending delayed this change for many years. They had now been overcome by various methods. By continuous attention to details such as surface smoothness of the latest aircraft had been greatly reduced.

The net result was that the striking power of the new types far surpassed that of the corresponding types of two years ago. The Government however were far from resting content with the design of the new machines. Active research and development were continually in progress with a view to obtaining machines of an even greater speed range and load capacity. Referring to the advance made in certain other directions he said that two new guns had been introduced for use on aircraft. One was a completely new type of Vickers gun. The other was a Browning gun which had the merit of simplicity and gave a greatly improved performance for aerial use. Arrangements had been made for its manufacture in this country. Active research continued to exploit still further the advantages of higher quality fuel. The tests of the sleeve valve aero-engine which gives a substantial reduction in maintenance as well as more rapid production and better performance had been most encouraging and it was about to go for service trials.

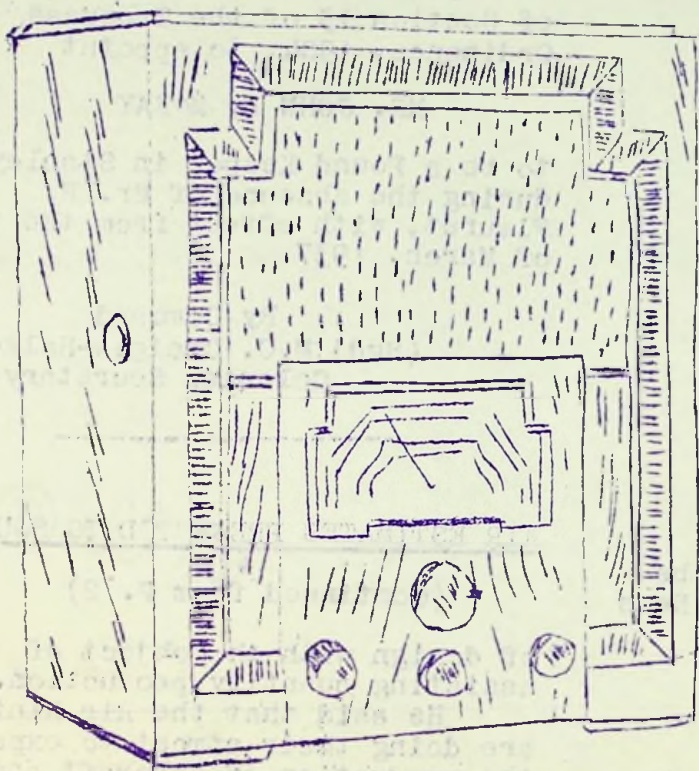

Finally, over the whole field of aircraft components, accessory equipment, wireless apparatus, and warlike stores generally, great emphasis was being placed on the standardisation of types and simplicity

LONDON A deadlock was reached at the meeting of the non-intervention sub-Committee yesterday morning when the question of financial aid to either side in Spain was discussed.

The Soviet Note to Lord Plymouth stated that Russia was willing to discuss the question of financial assistance to Spain in principle but refused to agree to any discussion affecting the assets of the Spanish Government including the gold of the Bank of Spain. There was a lengthy debate on this question without any solution being reached.

of design with the object of assisting quantity production.

He said that the Air Ministry are doing their utmost to expedite the production of aircraft and were aiming at reducing the number of types. He described the policy regarding shadow factories as a practical policy which not only created a war potential but also reinforced production and did not interfere with the normal industry.

Satisfactory progress was being made with the erection of factories both for the production of air-frames and aero-engines. A careful review was being made of the requirements of raw materials of which there would be a risk of shortage in time of war. Arrangements had already been made for the purchase of reserve stocks of certain essential products. Provision was being made for obtaining adequate reserves of petrol and oil and for storing them in places least accessible to air attack.

SCHOOLBOYS v EX-SCHOOLBOYS

A Football match took place on Tuesday night in Government Paddock between a team of ex-schoolboys captained by C.White and a team from School.

Kick-off was at 6.45, the school team winning the toss decided to kick with the wind.

The School team played in colours lent from the school and were captained by J. Dettleff.

Play was fairly moderate and attacks from both sides were frequently broken up by the defence. After a time the school's marksmen improved and found the net, to give them the lead which they kept until half-time.

The ex-schoolboy's goalie, W. Jones, saved quite a few hot ones.

Following the kick-off of the second half the ex-schoolboy attacked with a vengeance but some fine play by the school right-back, L. Morrison, saved the situation. It was from an attack of this kind, which was warded off, that the school forward line got up the field and netted a second goal. For the ex-schoolboys F. Aldridge was outstanding, but the ex-schoolboy were often out of position and passes never found their mark.

The schoolboys netted at regular intervals, and an accidental kick by one of the ex-schoolboys went through his own goal.

The finish of the game was played in the oncoming dusk and though the ex-schoolboys tried

MESSAGE TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONSFROM THE KING

A message from the King was read to the House of Commons on Tuesday by the Speaker.

It stated that the demise of the Crown rendered it necessary that renewed provision be made to the Civil List and added "His Majesty places unreservedly at the disposal of the Commons those hereditary revenues which were so placed by his predecessor and has commanded that the papers necessary for the consideration of the subject shall be laid before the House. His Majesty desires that provision shall be made for Her Majesty the Queen and for His Majesty's children other than her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth corresponding to the provision which the House of Commons has been willing to make in like circumstances in the past. His Majesty also desires that suitable provision shall be made for Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and for His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester. It is, however, His Majesty's intention so long as the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall are vested in himself, to make that provision for Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester, and in so far as those revenues are sufficient to provide for His Majesty's Civil List, and in the event of the birth of a Duke of Cornwall to assent to arrangements similar to those which were assented to by his predecessor.

His Majesty recommends the consideration of these several matters to his faithful Commons and relies on their attachment to his person and family to adopt such measures as may be suitable for the occasion."

RISE IN PRICE OF RUBBER

The following announcement has been made by the Rubber Regulation Committee:- "The spot price of rubber has been advanced to 1/0³/₄d per pound which is the highest since March 1929."

There were substantial rises on the Stock Exchange in the rubber shares.

ARMY ESTIMATES INTRODUCEDIN HOUSE OF COMMONS

In introducing the Army Estimates in the House of Commons on Tuesday the Minister for War, Mr. Duff Cooper, said that the experiences of the last twelve years - a period generally regarded as one of peace but during which hardly a single year had passed without some special and unexpected situations arising to interfere with the normal activities of the army - should convince the House that an expeditionary force equipped to the highest point of efficiency must at all times be maintained.

Dealing with the contemplated developments he said that it had been decided that a mobile Brigade containing only one tank regiment, would be lacking in punch and protective power, and in future a mobile Brigade would consist of a fully mechanised infantry battalion.

TRADE WITH SPAIN

Replying to a request for information regarding the visit of Mr. Frazer of the Board of Trade to Burgos, Dr. Burgin stated in the House of Commons on Tuesday that the object of the visit was to discuss with the representatives of General Franco's administration various questions of detail connected with their informal assurances regarding future trade between the United Kingdom and the area of Spain under the control of General Franco.

Questions arising on trade with the area under the control of the Spanish Government had been discussed with representatives of that Government in London.

SERIOUS FLOOD IN ENGLAND

A twenty yards breach night at 6 o'clock and millions of gallons of water are inundating the Fenlands.

According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent 40,000 acres have been flooded. Other dykes in the area are seriously threatened, and night-long patrols were watching the danger spots, while 2,000 helpers including Cambridge University volunteers were carrying clay

TRIBUTES TO THE LATE SIR AUSTENCHAMBERLAIN

Profound grief at the death of Sir Austen Chamberlain which took place on Tuesday night is expressed in the telegrams and other messages which have reached London from many parts of the world throughout yesterday. In the House of Commons at the close of Question Time eloquent tributes to his long and devoted public service were paid by the leaders of all parties. The King sent a personal message of sympathy to Lady Chamberlain and the Prime Minister called on her yesterday morning to express his condolen-

TRIBUTES TO THE LATE SIR AUSTENCHAMBERLAIN

The telegrams from abroad included messages of sympathy on behalf of the League of Nations.

In the House of Commons Mr. Baldwin recalled his personal attachment to Sir Austen Chamberlain who he described as being a great Parliamentarian. He loved the House of Commons and the life of the House. He was always formidable in debate, courteous and chivalrous, but capable of giving and receiving hard blows. Great as was his political career, and numerous as were the great offices he held, yet it was during the last years of his life that he exercised a far greater influence than ever before. His unshakable loyalty in everything he believed to be right was deeply embedded in his conscience.

The Opposition Leader, Major Clement Attlee, said that Sir Austen was a friend of everyone in the House. He was a great House of Commons man, a devoted servant of his countrymen, kind, courteous, and generous. The strokes he delivered in debate never left ill-feeling behind.

The Liberal Leader, Sir Archibald Sinclair, recalled Sir Austen Chamberlain's struggle for peace and understanding among the nations and his championship of the freedom of democracy.

Mr. Lloyd George said that it was meet that a great assembly, on this occasion representing a united people, should do honour to a man of honour.

Mr. Maxton, for the Independent Socialists, associated his followers with those tributes.

ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION OF SPAIN

A report from Salamanca states that the Note sent by the Spanish Foreign Minister last month to the British and French Governments intimated that the interests of these two powers would be taken into consideration in connexion with Spain's economic reconstruction, also their mutual military, aerial, and naval relations, and that Spain would be disposed to examine in conjunction with these powers the convenience or otherwise of a modification of the present situation in Spanish Morocco. It was confirmed in official circles in London yesterday that a communication of this nature was received by the British Government in February but the very character of the proposals was such as to make it out of the question for them to be entertained, as their acceptance would be a direct departure from the declared policy of non-intervention in Spain which the British Government has advocated and adopted since the outbreak of the Civil War.

A reply to the Spanish Government is likely to be sent in the near future.

ALLEGED ITALIAN ATROCITIES

The Negus has addressed the Secretary General of the League of Nations requesting the appointment of a Commission of enquiry to investigate the alleged Italian atrocities in Ethiopia, and the letter denounces "the execution of Ras Desta and other Chiefs who were taken prisoner on the battlefield, and the killing of thousands of persons during the three days after the attempt on the life of Signor Graziani, and the systematic massacres of the Ethiopian population".

EX FRENCH AMBASSADOR SHOT

In Paris yesterday the Comte de Chambrun, ex French Ambassador in Rome, was shot and seriously wounded. He was rushed to hospital but his condition is grave.

A woman was later arrested who gave her name as Madame Fontange.

The s.s. "Svend Foyn" and Whale Catchers arrived at South Georgia yesterday. The "New Sevilla" and "Sourabaya" left for Europe yesterday morning.

RECENT INCIDENTS IN PALESTINE

The recent incidents in Palestine were the subject of several questions in the House of Commons on Wednesday.

Replying, the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Ormsby Gore, said that he was glad to note the statement of February 10th announcing that the Mufti of Jerusalem and two other members of the Arab Higher Committee had expressed their abhorrence of these acts, but unfortunately the criminal acts had continued. "It will be appreciated that it is extremely difficult to ensure security in a country where the tension is so acute following on the disturbances of the last year. I have personally discussed with the High Commissioner for Palestine the question of taking further measures for dealing with the increasing number of acts of violence which have recently occurred in certain parts of the country. The High Commissioner, who is due to reach Palestine on Friday, will take up the matter in consultation with his advisers and with the General Officer Commanding the Forces, as a matter of urgency."

The Minister was asked when Martial Law would be proclaimed. He replied "I do not know whether Martial Law could deal with this matter. We have power under an Order in Council which we can exercise, but Martial Law means the complete end of all Civil Government and the Government would be reluctant to put that into operation."

Asked whether he was satisfied that these acts were organised by some central influence he replied "I am quite satisfied that these acts of violence are on the Arabs by Jews of organised local bodies and that they are very local in character. I am quite sure that these murders, admittedly by small gangs, have no connexion with the Higher Committee."

PRODUCTION OF CALCIUM CARBIDE

The Minister for the Co-Ordination of Defence, Sir Thomas Inskip, announced in the House of Commons on Wednesday that he proposed to set up a small Committee to consider the question of the production of Calcium Carbide.

H.M. SHIPS IN SPANISH WATERS

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, was asked in the House of Commons which of H.M. Ships would maintain touch with His Majesty's diplomatic and Consular representatives at Valencia, Barcelona, Palma, and elsewhere in Spanish ports during the next few weeks.

He replied that the Hospital ship "Maine", together with at least one destroyer and one depot ship, would be available on the north-east coast of Spain and Majorca.

In addition to these he understood that a cruiser was at present available.

Replying to another question Mr. Eden stated that he had received reports from Gibraltar to the effect that an Italian vessel had arrived at Cadiz on the 5th of March with an unknown number of troops on board her. He was making further inquiries. Apart from this particular matter the authorities at Gibraltar had informed him that they had no information of any Italian or foreign personnel being landed in Spain in contravention of the agreement regarding volunteers.

In reply to a further question Mr. Eden said that his attention had been called to recent Italian broadcasts alleging the use of poison gas by the British bombing aeroplanes on the tribes near Aden. The allegations regarding the use of poison gas were entirely unfounded. Asked what action the Government proposed to take he said that the publication of the true facts constituted a sufficient answer. Further questioned he said that he did not think that it was worth while to request the Italian Government to broadcast a denial of their previous broadcasts.

He added "In the Mediterranean and outside it we desire to live in peace with all and we offer our collaboration to those who manifest a similar desire."

CHILDREN INCINERATED IN BOARDING SCHOOL FIRE

It is reported from Moscow that a charge of counter-revolutionary wrecking activity by constructing a Kindergarten boarding school in such a way as to facilitate the outbreak of fire as a consequence of which many children were incinerated, is being heard in another big sabotage trial.

The seven accused include Kuramzhin the Chairman of the Building Trust, Khomchik the Director of the Savings Bank, Kharitonoff the contractor and also a passer-by who failed to report the fire after noticing the outbreak.

The prosecution alleges that Kuramzhin was ordered by the regional Trotskyist organisation to build a school so to make it a death trap from fire. No exits to the dormitories, and stoves fixed close to thin wooden walls.

The fire broke out at night and the Matron fled when she discovered it, without arousing the children, and the Night Watchman did the same. The prosecution contends that the motive of the accused was to discredit the Government and Communist Party's educational work.

INFLUENZA DISCUSSED IN THEHOUSE OF COMMONS

An Inquiry was addressed to the Lord President of the Council in the House of Commons on Thursday regarding the progress of experiment and research, assisted by the Medical Research Council, into the prevention and cure of the common cold and influenza.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald said that during the past year there had been further confirmation from different parts of the world that the virus, originally isolated in 1933 at the National Institute for Medical Research, is the infective agent which causes the epidemic of influenza and on this basis measures for preventive action were being devised and substantial progress had been achieved. There was considerable ground for hoping that a satisfactory means for producing at least temporary immunity would be evolved. He added that the Council was not at the moment supporting any direct attack on the common cold but the problems were closely related and an advance against one disease was likely to assist attacks on the other.

RISE IN PRICES OF STEEL AND IRONOWING TO ARMAMENT DEMANDS

The Chancellor of the Exchequer was asked in the House of Commons on Thursday whether he was aware that owing to the demands of the armament programme and the manipulations of speculators, the prices of iron, steel, and non-ferrous metals, were still rising.

He replied that the position was being carefully watched but that the questioner attached exaggerated importance to the demands of the armaments programme of the Government. These were only a part of the total British demand and that in turn was a small fraction of the world demand. The fundamental rise in price of these commodities was neither armaments nor speculation but the rapid progress towards economic recovery over a large part of the world.

MRS ERNEST SIMPSON

In the divorce court before the President, Sir Boyd Merriman, yesterday, application was made by the King's Proctor arising out of the undefended suit which was heard at Suffolk Assizes last October when Mrs. Ernest Simpson obtained a decree nisi against her husband.

The Attorney General, Sir Donald Somervell, who appeared for the King's Proctor, stated that on December the 9th Mr. Francis Stephenson of Ilford intervened and alleged in his notice of appearance that he proposed to show cause why the decree nisi should not be made absolute by reason of material facts not having been brought before the court and or by reason of the decree having been obtained by collusion. But on December 14th Stephenson gave notice by letter to Mrs. Simpson's solicitors that it was not his intention to file affidavits or to proceed further.

The rule that a decree nisi cannot be made absolute so long as an appearance is entered by an intervener remains on file.

It was stated by Sir Donald Somervell that the King's Proctor saw Stephenson who told him that he was not possessed of any evidence to support his allegations and that they were based on rumours and that having regard to the events in December 1936, now matters of history, he had decided to withdraw his intervention. The Attorney General added that the result of the King's Proctor's inquiry on all aspects of the case had not resulted in any evidence which would justify him in directing intervention. Stephenson, who was present, said that he adhered to his decision to withdraw and he consented to any order which the court might make.

After Mr. Norman Birkett, the Counsel for Mrs. Simpson, had explained the circumstances in which, as a matter of expedition, proceedings were taken in Ipswich, the President in response to Mr. Birkett's application announced that the appearance would be struck out.

FIVE KILLED IN ANTI-FASCIST

DEMONSTRATION

In Paris yesterday thousands of Popular Front members participated in the funeral procession of five men who were killed last Wednesday at Clichy in a clash with the mobile guard during an anti-fascist demonstration.

The Government was not represented. Vast crowds lined the route, while a large number of mobile guards stood by. The hearses were covered with red wreaths, while the crowd gave the clenched fist salute and sang the Internationale.

GOVERNMENT FORCES CLAIM ADVANCE

From Madrid it is reported that the Government forces on Saturday claimed a 20-mile advance along the Madrid-Saragossa road, driving the Italians back to the point from which the attack commenced a fortnight ago. The troops are now six miles from the Insurgents' Headquarters at Sigüenza.

According to the Sunday Times the Government communique states that the Italian rout is complete. The Government Commander, General Miaja, told the troops "We are on the road to triumph and are not afraid of the tin soldiers sent by Hitler and Mussolini." It is also claimed that the Government forces have captured, during the last three days, over 400 prisoners, 24 heavy guns, 200 machine-guns, 70 lorries, 2,000,000 rounds of rifle and machine-gun ammunition, and thousands of gallons of petrol.

SCHOOL EXPLOSION CASUALTIES

The New London, Texas, school explosion death-roll has not been ascertained definitely yet but it is officially stated that over 400 children have been killed outright and 100 others so severely injured that it is not expected that they will survive.

A preliminary investigation ascribes the explosion to the accumulation of petrol gas from leaking pipes in an unused basement. Rainstorms impeded the rescuers engaged in removing the twisted steel girders of the roof structure which lifted and then dropped upon the collapsing walls, burying all within. The disaster is without parallel, involving children, in any part of the world since 1883 when 186 children in Sunderland were crushed in a theatre panic.

THEIR MAJESTIES RETURN TOLONDON

The King and Queen, on the conclusion of their visit to Lord and Lady Derby at Knowsley for the Grand National Steeplechase, returned to London by Royal train on Saturday afternoon.

FENLAND FLOODS

Over the whole area of the Fens on Saturday the water levels were reported to have fallen, but at several new points the river banks have weakened and measures to prevent further flooding which had threatened, are engaging unremitting attention. Men of the Royal Air Force are still assisting in the work on the banks. A dam has now been built across Scham lode and is holding water, so that the risk of further flooding over Sedge fen has been reduced.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF INTERNATIONALOBSERVERS

A full meeting of the International Committee for the Application of the Agreement regarding non-intervention in Spain has been summoned for Monday afternoon.

It is assumed that this development indicates that progress has been made towards ending the deadlock which arose in the Chairman's sub-Committee meeting and in reference to which, and for the speeding up of the work of the non-intervention, the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, on Friday received the French, German, Italian, Portuguese, and Soviet Ambassadors at the Foreign Office.

It will be recalled that difficulties were met with when the Committee sought to proceed to the outstanding questions, namely the withdrawal of volunteers and the question of financial assistance, including the gold of the Bank of Spain. Certain difficulties were also encountered in connexion with geographical distribution, according to nationality, of the international observers who will carry out the supervision scheme. In consequence of the differences of opinion on the latter question, these impositions are not yet complete, but it is hoped that to-day's meeting will mark progress on this matter.

As the Ambassadors were informed on Friday, the British Government are concerned for the next stages in the non-intervention Committee's work and hope that the scheme of supervision will be brought into operation as soon as possible.

DEATH OF NOTABLE SOCIAL WORKER

The death occurred on Saturday of Mrs Mary Higgs of Oldham, Lancashire, aged 83, whose life was devoted to social work, particularly on behalf of friendless tramps. In the last honours list she was the recipient of the O.B.E.

After leaving Girton College, Cambridge, where she was the first woman to take a natural science tripos, Mrs. Higgs was engaged in educational work, but for nearly fifty years her whole energies have been directed towards improving the conditions of the poor and particularly of homeless women.

LINER AS HOME FOR BOYS

The old White Star Liner "Majestic" has been fitted out to house 20,000 boys who are to become seamen and naval engineers. The vessel, which has been re-named H.M.S. "Caledonia", will leave Southampton early next month and proceed to Rosyth where she will remain in service for about three years, by which time a big shore training establishment for boy seamen and artificer apprentices will be ready for occupation.

ELECTRICITY HELPS IN DEFENCEOF THE COUNTRY

The electrical industry was congratulated on Saturday by the Minister for the co-ordination of defence on the part it is playing in forwarding the defence of the country.

He said that to-day electricity was taking a greater part in the manufacture of munitions than was the case at the height of the demand during the Great War.

Lord Eltisley, the President of the British electrical development association, said that ten years ago Britain was generating 5,500,000,000 units of electricity annually. Last year over 20,000,000,000 units were generated, which was an increase of about 14% over the previous year's generation. That was a larger proportional increase than any other country in the world could show. Many more houses were being wired for electricity. There had been an increase of 2,300,000 during the past four years.

In the use of electric cookers proportionately to the population Britain led the world. Great progress had also been made towards rural electrification and some 30,000 farms were now electrified, while reckoning both high tension and low tension lines in one calculation Britain had a record of over 30,000 miles of rural lines.

RETURN OF DUKE AND DUCHESS OF KENT

The Duke and Duchess of Kent arrived at Croydon by air liner yesterday from their month's holiday in Europe.

ADDITIONAL EXPENDITURE ON ARMAMENTS

The Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, speaking at Plymouth, said that the most remarkable thing about the debates in the House of Commons on the Defence Programme had been that, apart from six extreme left-wing members, no-one on either side of the House had denied that the substantial additional expenditure on armaments was necessary. The fact that at the present moment out of the seven most powerful states in the world, the U.S.A., Japan, and Germany were outside the League of Nations altogether, while Italy was acutely critical of the League, must have a profound effect on the League ideal of collective security viewed not as an ideal but as a going concern.

"There are some people who are tempted to refuse to face these facts and they repeat this phrase 'collective security' almost as though it were a charm or incantation. But the safety of our country cannot depend on the phrase and in the world as we find it our defence policy is the necessary means by which we can discharge our responsibilities and fulfil our International obligations."

Referring to the Government's policy of non-intervention in Spain he said: "We have two motives. In the first place the present struggle in Spain ought to be the issue for the Spanish people. We do not believe that a decision imposed as the result of foreign aid to one side or the other is likely to be lasting. But we have another and even more urgent motive. No-one can fail to see that unchecked intervention on both sides would almost certainly have led in the end to extending the war beyond the frontiers of Spain. Let us do nothing to prolong the war and above all let us give no encouragement to open competition in intervention among most of the powers of Europe which must sooner or later almost inevitably bring about the incalculable disaster of widespread war

PLANE CRASHES WHILE TAKING-OFF

It is reported from Honolulu that on Saturday Miss Amelia Earhart's plane, in which she was making a world flight, crashed while taking-off and caught fire.

The aviatrix and her two companions were unhurt and the plane was only slightly damaged.

The accident was due to a tyre burst which caused the plane to overturn. The flyers are returning to Los Angeles.

SIGNOR MUSSOLINI ON TOUR

It is reported from Tripoli that Signor Mussolini, continuing his Libya tour, visited Leptismagna, the ancient Phoenician city, on Saturday, and inspected the archaeological excavations. Owing to sandstorms the visit to the desert city of Ghadames, which was to have taken place yesterday, was cancelled, and it is believed that the Duce is returning to Italy a day earlier than was previously planned.

LATEST CASUALTY REPORT FROMNEW LONDON

All work has been suspended for the funeral, while an inquiry is proceeding regarding the cause of the disaster.

ELY. Troops and other workers fighting the Fenland floods received a telegram from the King on Saturday stating that Their Majesties were following their efforts with anxious interest and admiring the work of those endeavouring to keep the position under control.

FREE GRANT FROM COLONIAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

His Excellency the Governor has much pleasure in announcing that he has received a telegram from the Secretary of State stating that the Committee of the Colonial Development Fund has made a free grant to the Colony of £3,480.

£2,500 of this sum is a contribution towards, or one half of the expenditure on, the experimental regrassing and general improvements this year of Stanley Common to increase its stock carrying capacity. The balance is to cover the entire cost of the visit to the Colony next spring of Mr. William Davies the distinguished grass expert from the Aberystwyth Plant Breeding Station. The object in view is to improve the pastures and rough grazings of the Colony generally. Mr. Davies will visit these islands in an advisory capacity and will stay for a few months only. Experiments and works extending over a number of years will it is anticipated arise out of the report of Mr. Davies and it is proposed to seek financial aid from the Colonial Development Fund to cover the cost. Meanwhile His Excellency has telegraphed to the Secretary of State to thank him on behalf of the Colony for the generous preliminary grant made.

There can be no doubt that the quality of the pastures of the Colony as a whole has deteriorated steadily for the past forty years. The number of sheep carried has fallen from over 300,000 to little more than 600,000. The work to be undertaken is therefore of outstanding importance to the future of these Islands.

487 PEOPLE OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

It is reported from Johannesburg that 487 people were overcome by gas fumes during the disaster which occurred at the Simmerandjack Mine, near Germiston, on Friday.

Twenty-nine natives are reported to be dead and hope has been abandoned for a further 26. Four hundred and thirty-two persons have been taken to hospital, including 29 Europeans.

Teams from all parts of Witwaters Rand are continuing rescue operations, while the fire which caused the fumes has been extinguished.

B.B.C. INCOME LAST YEAR

The total B.B.C. income last year, including £2,509,750 derived from licence fees, amounted to £2,953,469.

In 1935 the total income was £2,472,572 and the income from licences £2,042,844. The net revenue from B.B.C. publications last year was £442,009. During the year listeners' letters, containing appreciations, criticisms, suggestions and inquiries, received by the Corporation numbered 160,000 and it is stated that about 80% of the correspondence expressing opinions on the programmes were appreciative.

The expenditure on plant and office equipment for television last year amounted to £123,546. In regard to licences for sound receiving sets and to the profit on publications, the report now issued expressed the view that a saturation point is approaching. For the last ten years the total B.B.C. income has amounted to £16,610,000.

"NORMANDIE" RECAPTURES THE BLUE RIBAND

It is reported from Paris that the "Normandie" passed Bishop's Rock at 6.45 yesterday evening and her average speed over the course was 30.99 knots according to the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. This compares with the "Queen Mary's" average speed of 30.63 knots for the same crossing, the "Normandie" thus apparently recapturing the Blue Riband.

KING LEOPOLD VISITS ENGLAND

King Leopold of the Belgians, who is paying a visit to England, arrived at Dover yesterday afternoon where he was met by the Belgian Ambassador, Baron Cartier de Marchienne, with whom he travelled by rail to London.

Lord Cromer, representing King George, greeted the visiting monarch at Victoria Station.

King Leopold was the guest of honour at dinner at the Belgian Embassy last night. During his visit, which ends on Thursday morning, the King who is unaccompanied by Minister will have informal talks with Mr. Eden and other British Ministers during which the recent changes in the Belgian Foreign policy will be discussed.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE MEETING

POSTPONED UNTIL TO-DAY

The Meeting of the International Committee on non-intervention in Spain which was provisionally arranged for yesterday afternoon to give its final approval to the appointments under the scheme of supervision, was postponed until to-day when the Meeting of the Chairman's sub-Committee will also be held. The latter has before it outstanding questions including the withdrawal of volunteers and financial assistance to the rival parties in the Spanish conflict.

The problem of the withdrawal of foreign contestants from Spain was referred to in a question in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. Replying Mr. Eden recalled that the matter had been raised in the non-intervention Committee by Lord Plymouth on the basis of the suggestions made by the German and Italian Governments in their replies to Notes which were addressed to them by His Majesty's Government regarding the prohibition of the despatch to Spain of foreigners for the purpose of taking part in the Civil War.

He added that the matter was now under discussion in Committee.

Mr. Eden was also asked whether the landing of Italian troops with arms and munitions in Spain for the purpose of making war on the Constitutional Government of that country before the 20th of February did not constitute a violation of the non-intervention Agreement, of the Briand-Kellogg Pact, and of the Covenant of the League. He replied that if by "Italian troops" units of the Italian army were meant he had no evidence which established the landing of such units in Spain. In any event the question of the violation of the Agreement was one for consideration by the non-intervention Committee itself. He did not feel called upon to express an opinion with regard to the remaining parts of the question.

SALARIES OF MINISTERS ALTERED

The main purposes of the Ministers of the Crown Bill, issued yesterday evening, are, First the removal of certain anomalies in the present standing of Ministers by adjustments and alterations in their salaries; and secondly the revision of the existing rules as to the allocation of Ministers between the two Houses of Parliament.

It is therefore proposed to provide that all the Ministers of the Cabinet should each receive salaries at the uniform rate of £5,000 yearly. Provision is also made that when the Minister in respect of whose office a lower salary is payable is included in the Cabinet his salary shall be made up to £5,000 yearly.

The position of the Prime Minister has not hitherto received statutory recognition nor have any emoluments attached to it. No salary has been paid to the Prime Minister as such but they have received salary in respect of some office held by them, and the office traditionally held has, with rare exceptions been that of the First Lord of the Treasury.

The Bill proposes to give statutory recognition to the existence of the position of the Prime Minister and to the historic link between the Premiership and the Office of First Lord of the Treasury

ANOTHER PLANE CRASH

The Flying Boat "Capricorn", which left Southampton yesterday morning on the first stage of its flight on the India route, fell during a snowstorm in a pine forest about 40 miles from Lyons, France.

"MILITARY INTERVENTION" IN SPANISH

CIVIL WAR ALLEGED

At yesterday's meeting of the non-intervention Committee the Soviet representative made a statement calling attention to the "ever increasing military intervention into Spanish affairs on the part of the Italian Government."

The statement added that according to the U.S.S.R. Government's most reliable information the number of Italians in Spain in . . . February was not less than 60,000 and they had reasons for believing that the number had since been considerably increased. The so-called Italian volunteers, it proceeded, arrived in military formations under the command of Italian Officers and Generals and well supplied with munitions of an Italian make, and the formations, at least in considerable part, were drawn from the regular Italian Army. "All these facts justify us in regarding the action of the Italian Government as one of the most flagrant cases of foreign intervention ever known in history and in fact, taking into account the magnitude of the forces employed, it is something akin to an Italian military invasion of a foreign country which is a flagrant case of military aggression against a foreign country as understood by International Law and the Covenant of the League."

The U.S.S.R. Government proposed firstly to ask the non-intervention Committee forthwith to investigate the validity of the allegations contained in the Note of the Spanish Government of the 13th of March and for this purpose secondly to set up and to send immediately to Spain a special Commission of investigation which should have as its task - A. To investigate all the allegations regarding the landing after February 20th of so-called Italian volunteers in Spain as well as the landing of war materials and munitions for General Franco from Italian and other sources, and B. To investigate all the allegations concerning the participation of parts of the regular Italian Army in the military operations against the Spanish Government, and C. To report to the non-intervention Committee.

The Chairman, Lord Plymouth, pointed out that the question thus raised was not on the Agenda and no previous notice had been given to him. The Italian representative said that the provocative statement by the representative of Communist Russia would have from the Fascist Government of Italy the answer it deserved. The German representative described it as an amazing statement of hypocrisy. The French representative suggested, and the Chairman agreed, that it should be referred to the Chairman's sub-Committee.

The Portuguese representative said that on a previous occasion the U.S.S.R. had brought forward unfounded charges and the continuation of such procedure was highly dangerous to the work of the Committee and to the peace of the world.

The U.S.S.R. representative claimed that the rules of procedure prompted the raising of any question relating to breaches of Agreement if there was reason for believing that such breaches had occurred. The German representative agreed that the matter should be discussed in the sub-Committee. He was anxious to prevent the present Committee from being turned into a propaganda Committee and feared that the statement would, within a few hours, be in the press of the world for propaganda purposes.

ANOTHER STRIKE ACTION THREATENED

It is reported from Glasgow that claiming an increase of a penny an hour 2,000 engineers employed at Beardmore's, whose works are running 24 hours a day on re-armament orders, are threatening strike action to-day unless the additional penny per hour is granted.

LONDON. A large number of the visitors to London for Easter have made a feature of "walking the Coronation route" and this is explained by a desire to visualise the events through the broadcasts if their attendance is rendered impossible.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN TANK CORPSBARRACKS

MAILS RETRIEVED FROMWRECKAGE

A survivor of the British flying boat "Capricorn" disaster, Wireless Operator Cooper, states that at the moment of the crash he was in communication with an aerodrome and received a message advising a different course, but the time did not permit of the instructions being acted upon. The last messages sent were relative to ice formation on the wings when it was thought that the craft was proceeding along the Saone valley.

The mails and valuable freight have been retrieved from the wreckage.

McAtasney as Chief Bridesmaid wore a similar pretty frock of blue flowered georgette and a blue picture hat.

The three other bridesmaids, Miss Dawn Reive, Miss Hazel Gleadell (cousins of the bridegroom) and Miss Natalia Bertrand, were all the personification of dainty charm in old-world dresses of blue floral satin, with shady hats, mittens, and posies.

The best man was Mr. J. Bound, an old friend of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a The Dansant was held in the Town Hall, attended by some 300 guests who enjoyed a delightful evening.

The magnificent five-tier wedding cake had been made by the bride's Mother and was the subject of much admiration.

The evening closed with the traditional "Chairing" of the happy couple and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne".

Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Grierson have received a large number of beautiful and useful presents. The Bridegroom's present to the Bride was a gold wristlet watch and the Bride's present to the Bridegroom was a set of platinum and gold sleeve links. The Bridegroom gave all the bridesmaids a necklet.

Mr. and Mrs. Grierson will make their home in Stanley, and we should like to join their many friends in wishing them every happiness.

Miss N. Lellman & Mr. D. Honeyman

Although the weather on Saturday morning was unpromising the sun shone brightly for the wedding of Miss Nancy Sybil Frances Lellman and Mr. David Masterton Honeyman in the afternoon.

The marriage was solemnised at Christ Church Cathedral which had the added beauty of the Easter flower decorations.

Miss Lellman is the only daughter of Mr. A. Lellman and the late Mrs. A. Lellman of Stanley, and Mr. Honeyman is the only son of Mr. A. Honeyman of Leuchars, Scotland.

Both the bride and bridegroom are well known in Stanley. They have given much pleasure by their music both at Concerts and Dances and we feel that the people of Darwin are to be envied in having two such talented people in their community.

In her gown of ivory crepe-de-chine, veil, and orange blossom, Miss Lellman's attractive fairness was shown to great advantage. She carried a beautiful bouquet of mixed flowers arranged by Mrs J.F. Summers. On her wrist was a bangle of carved ivory, the present of the bridegroom. Round her neck she wore a pendant lent by Miss Sylvia Summers.

Mr. A. Lellman, her Father, gave her away. She was attended by two

PROTEST BY BRITISH NAVAL

AUTHORITIES

A protest has been addressed by the British Naval authorities to the Spanish Insurgent Naval Command regarding three cases of interference with British shipping contrary to International Law and to the assurances given by General Franco's Naval representatives in reply to former British representations.

The ships concerned are, first, the "Menin Ridge" which a week ago was ordered to heave-to and had a shot fired across her bows by a Spanish trawler five miles from Almina Point while on a voyage from Barry to Oran. Second, the "Stanholm" which on the same day was, when outside territorial waters, ordered to heave-to and later escorted to Gibraltar by the Spanish warship "Commandante Dato", and third, the "Springwear" which early in March, on representations from Insurgent quarters that she was carrying war materials, was diverted into Gibraltar and suffered twelve

POPE CARRIED TO CHURCH FOR MASS

The Daily Telegraph Correspondent, giving a vivid account of the Easter Mass at St. Peter's, Rome, states that the Pope was carried to the Church for his first public appearance since December.

The cheers of the assembly of 70,000 drowned the silver trumpet fanfare announcing his arrival.

His holiness blessed 200,000 people from the exterior balcony subsequent to the service and wept with emotion when carried down the aisle in the Chair of State.

The Kiss of Peace was given to 27 Cardinals. Distinguished visitors sitting in the Tribune during the Mass included ex-King Alfonso, the Maharaja of Kapurthala, the Crown Prince and Princess of Denmark, while the Diplomats included the British Ambassador, Sir Eric Drummond and Lady Drummond. Neither the German Ambassador to the Holy See nor any member of the staff attended.

WREXHAM Arising from the Gresford pit disaster enquiry more than twenty summonses have been served on the Colliery company and its officials.

WOBURN Hope has been abandoned for the survival of the Duchess of Bedford and a memorial service will be held at St. Mary's Church, Woburn, to-day.

AT HORSE-SHOE BAY

TO ATTEND THE CORONATION

It is reported from Cairo that the Premier, Nahas Pasha, will attend the Coronation ceremonies, while a message from Bucharest states that the heir to the Roumanian throne, Prince Michael, regards the British ceremony as a high light as this will be the first occasion on which he will represent his country. He will arrive by the Roumanian cruiser "Regina Marcia" and that vessel will attend the Naval Coronation Review.

PROTEST BY BRITISH NAVAL AUTHORITIES

days' delay while her hold was cleared with the result that the allegations were proved unfounded.

The case of the "Stanholm" called particularly for protest because as a result of the charges by the Algeciras authorities that she was intending to load war material at Casablanca her loading was supervised by the British Consul, the Inspector of Customs, and Lloyds' Agent, and it was established that only general cargo was taken on board.

The findings of these investigations were communicated to the Algeciras Naval authorities but despite this the "Stanholm" was brought into Gibraltar where on further examination her papers and cargo proved to be in order and she suffered a delay of 24 hours in consequence.

The British protest, which requires an explanation to be furnished in the cases of the "Menin Ridge" and the "Stanholm", recalls the scrupulous execution of the measures which the British Government has taken to prevent the carriage of war materials in British ships and claims that apart from legal considerations this leaves no practical grounds to justify the action of the Insurgent authorities in the cases cited.

CONFLICT BETWEEN GERMANCATHOLICS & NAZIS

It is reported from Berlin that the conflict between the German Catholics and the Nazi authorities has been carried a stage further as is revealed by the fact that two Berlin Jesuit Schools have been forbidden to receive new enrolment for the primary grades, while the higher grades are to be transferred immediately to the regular public non-denominational schools. The Jesuit leaders fear that other Catholic schools may be involved. Simultaneously the Catholics are busy distributing circulars recalling "the Nazi promises to observe the Concordat, including the right of educating the children" The circular denies that the Confessional Schools favour class war and urges the Catholics to hold fast to the Confessional Schools.

INAUGURATION OF AUTONOMY

To-day is the appointed day under the Government of India Act for the inauguration of Autonomy in 11 provinces of British India and the separation of Burma from India.

On this occasion the King has addressed messages both to India and to Burma in which His Majesty assures his subjects in those two countries of his interest in and good wishes for their continued welfare. In India he says "a new chapter is opening and it is my fervent hope and prayer that the opportunities now available will be used wisely and generously for the lasting benefit of all my Indian people." His Majesty expresses the hope and belief that Burma will find in her new Constitution the road to ever increasing happiness and prosperity.

The King has also appointed as Governor of Burma, Sir Archibald Cochrane, Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Provincial autonomy henceforth obtains over two-thirds of the total area of India and affects directly a total population of over 290,000,000. It involves the setting up of a Ministry in each of the eleven provinces responsible to the elected legislature for a large and clearly defined sphere of Government in which the Central Government will have no say.

Each provincial Governor must follow the advice of his Ministers except in a small number of matters and in circumstances specially defined in the Act.

On the inauguration of the new Constitution in Burma the Viceroy of India, Lord Linlithgow, has presented a silver Mace to the Senate in Burma as marking its separation from India and as a token of his confident hope that "In the years to come Burma may have cause for thankfulness that the direction of her public affairs is founded on the Parliamentary system of Government."

Another effect of the Constitutional changes in India is the ending, after nearly a hundred years, of the connexion of Aden with the British Indian Administration. Aden now becomes a part of the Colonial Empire but as the King states in the message sent to the Governor and Commander-in-Chief on the inauguration of the Colony "The ties of commerce and personal association with India will remain."

EXCHEQUER RETURNS FOR THE

FINANCIAL YEAR

The Exchequer returns for the whole of the financial year which ended last night show the total realised revenue has amounted to £797,289,000 and the expenditure to £802,886,000, making a deficit of £5,597,000 but the expenditure figure includes the large sum applied to debt redemption.

Authority was given in the last financial Act to borrow for the payment of the Statutory Sinking Funds but it has not been exercised and the expenditure figures include the sum of £13,127,000 for the redemption of debt by means of sinking funds so that the current revenue of the year has exceeded the current expenditure of the year other than that for debt redemption by £7,530,000.

In his Budget Speech last April the Chancellor of the Exchequer estimated the revenue for the year at £798,381,000 and the expenditure - including £158,251,000 the original total of the Defence Estimates plus a margin of £20,000,000 for the defence supplementary estimates, or £178,251,000 in all - at £797,897,000 with an estimated surplus of £484,000. Early in the financial year it became evident that the provision for defence would be exceeded and speaking in July the Chancellor indicated that in

view of the general acceleration of the Defence Programme it was already practically certain that there would be a deficit. In the Budget the Inland Revenue Duties were estimated to produce £433,000,000, an increase of £28,000,000 over last year's receipts. This substantial increase has not quite been attained and the total receipts are £3,250,000 below the estimate.

The estimate for Customs and excise revenue was £317,500,000 or £14,000,000 more than the realised receipts for last year. This estimate has been exceeded by £3,250,000 and thus the receipts from Customs and Excise and Inland Revenue have together realised the budget expectations.

On the expenditure side the charge for the National Debt was fixed at £224,000,000 for interest and management. The charge has, in fact, amounted to only £210,873,000 leaving a margin of £13,127,000 which has been, as stated above, applied to the redemption of the Debt.

The Budget provision for the Supply Services was £562,597,000. The total amount of estimates presented to Parliament during the year has been £578,088,000 including £41,091,000 for Supplementary estimates of which £11,138,000 was for Civil Votes and £29,953,000 for Defence. The actual Exchequer issues have amounted to £567,230,000 and a balance of £10,858,000 representing savings spread over several votes. Of the total issues £186,072,000 is for Defence and this amount is £7,821,000 more than the amount expected to be spent at the time of the Budget and £49,123,000 more than the expenditure in 1935/36. This excess reflects the general acceleration of the Defence Programme since the Budget was framed and more than accounts for the deficit shewn on the realised figures of the turn out of the Budget for the year.

The Floating Debt now stands at £698,130,000 as compared with £782,170,000 a year ago and is made up of Treasury Bills £674,595,000 and ways and means borrowing from public Departments £23,535,000.

NON-INTERVENTION IN SPAIN

It is reported from Rome that Italy's attitude with regard to non-intervention in Spain has been defined by Dino Alfieri the Minister of Press Propaganda who has informed the foreign press that since the ban on volunteers came into force Italy has rigorously enforced the provisions and therefore the statement that more troops were to be sent to Spain was unfounded.

He emphasised that the decisions reached by the London non-intervention Committee must be applicable on an equal basis and if other countries violated the pledge and sent volunteers to Spain then Italy would have to re-examine the situation.

Signor Alfieri said that the reports of a big Italian defeat in Spain had exaggerated the Italian losses and the killed and wounded on the Guadalajara front amounted to a few hundred men.

ORDERS TO THE FRENCH NAVY

It is officially announced in Paris that all French warships have been instructed to assist French merchantmen stopped on the High Seas outside Spanish territorial waters and to oppose, if necessary forcibly, any inspection or change of course.

The Communique states that since the rights of a belligerent cannot be invoked at present, the orders given to French merchantmen navigating over three miles from the coast by Spanish warships to heave-to and change course, remain contrary to International Law and the principle of the freedom of the seas. It adds that no act of war or police undertaken by a Spanish vessel could be tolerated in French territorial waters whatever might be the flag of the vessel whereof it was the object.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON NUTRITION

The Government's Advisory Committee on Nutrition appointed to inquire into facts quantitative and qualitative in relation to the diet of the people, and to report as to any changes therein which appear desirable in the light of modern advances in the knowledge of nutrition", and consisting of leading experts on the subject such as Sir Gowland Hopkins, Sir John Orr, and Professors Cathcart and Mellanby, together with social workers and others specially interested in or informed upon the question, has issued its first report.

The Committee state that they believe this to be the first occasion in history that a comprehensive survey of the diet of a whole nation has been set on foot by any Government.

In a brief review of the last quarter of the century the Committee find that along with a great improvement in public health the consumption per head of most foodstuffs, especially those of the greatest nutritional value, has progressively increased.

The Report states "The diet of the people is now more in conformity with physiological principles than it was in pre-war days."

In the light of the statistics of the national food consumption, and on the basis of the League of Nations' optimum standards of nutrition, the Committee find that the national dietary contains sufficient energy-giving foods for the whole population and that all except a relatively small fraction of the population are obtaining the full amount of calories they require. There is no aggregate deficiency of fat in the national dietary though there is some deficiency in the diets of the very poorest.

The investigations do not reveal a shortage of total protein, though there may be some shortage of animal protein in the diets of the very poorest.

The Committee however regard the consumption of milk as the key to proper nutrition and call attention to the fact that it is much below the recommended standard. The consumption of liquid milk, unlike other foods, has slightly declined since before the war and it is too low and the Committee say that the Nation cannot remain indifferent to the under-consumption of a foodstuff so important in a country so eminently suited for milk production. The Committee also advocate the increased consumption of fruit and green vegetables and draw attention to the particular value of sea fish as a source of good protein and iodine and other minerals.

The Report emphasises that it is no more than a preliminary survey. The science of nutrition is still in its infancy. The Committee's investigations are incomplete and are being extended in connexion with family budgets and dietary surveys. Research is also needed to establish a reliable means of assessing the state of nutrition of the individual.

Further reports will be issued by the Committee as its work proceeds.

The Minister of Health has lost no time in following up the Report of the Advisory Committee on nutrition. He has issued to all maternity and child welfare authorities a circular requesting an early review of their arrangements under the Maternity and Child Welfare Act for the supply of milk and other foods with a view to securing that the diet of pregnant and nursing mothers contains the proper constituents and that the consumption of milk, especially by young children, is increased. The Minister also asks the authorities to consider afresh the question of a properly organised system of meals for expectant mothers and young children.

In drawing attention to the additional financial assistance which has just been afforded by the Government to the local authorities in the increase and rearranged distribution of exchequer grants, he suggests that the relief afforded in many cases will enable the extension of work of the character described in the circular in areas where it is most needed. Sir Kingsley Wood in a statement on the Report said that he regarded it as the most valuable document on the subject of nutrition which had yet appeared.

The control of the traffic at Piccadilly Circus, the busiest and most complicated street intersection in London's West End, is to be transferred from the Police to vehicle-actuated signals.

STRIKE ROLL IN THE U.S.A.Coal Agreement Reached

It is reported from New York that the nation's strike roll has been substantially reduced as a result of the agreement made on Friday regarding coal. This agreement, it is estimated, has increased the miners' wages by 17,000,000 dollars annually.

According to the Union officials 1,400 of 130,000 idle United Automobile workers are engaged in a sit-down strike at the Ford Assembly plant at Kansas City. This, the Union alleges, is due to the fact that the Company ignored seniority rights and discriminated against Union workers. Some 30,000 General Motors workers were expected to resume work over the week-end, but the resumption of work by those concerned in the four weeks old Chrysler dispute depends on the outcome of conferences which have been held this week-end.

DANGER TO SPECTATORS OF MOTORRACING IN IRELAND

Following the Down County Council Law Committee's decision that the proposed Newtownards Bye-pass on the Ards circuit would not eliminate the danger to spectators of the motor racing, the Tourist Trophy International is not being held in Ulster in 1937. The Committee have indicated the possibility of closing the roads on the Ards circuit for the 1938 race if a bye-pass is constructed at Newtonards and at Comber.

ROME. Machine guns were fired in salute on Saturday when King Victor Emmanuel presented a flag to the Italian Air Force in the Piazza Venezia. Signor Mussolini attended this parade of 8,000 airmen from 52 squadrons.

It is reported from Rome that His Holiness the Pope received 400 newly-married couples from Scotland, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, France, and Belgium, yesterday, and expressed pleasure at holding the first such ceremony since his illness.

ACCIDENT TO DUCHESS OF BEDFORD

The Great Yarmouth theory that the Duchess of Bedford, who has been missing for eleven days, has crashed into the North sea, is strengthened by the discovery of part of the propeller at Winterton together with wing struts at Gorleston, Lowestoft, and Southwold, all identified.

INCREASE FOR SOUTH WALES MINERS

It is reported from Cardiff that the South Wales Miners' Federation Conference has adopted a wage agreement involving a £750,000 increase during the next year.

About 127,000 men are receiving increases varying from 2s/2d. to 10s/- per week. The Agreement, which is lasting for four years, is expected to operate immediately.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR NEW AGREEMENT

Negotiations will shortly be opened between the Transport and General Workers' Union and the London Transport Board for a new Agreement on business conditions to replace the one terminating on May 1st by a months' notice just given by the Union.

The Union's action has been taken in connexion with preliminary exchanges with the Board, which have so far proved unsuccessful, on the claims advanced on the men's behalf respecting hours of work.

IRISH GENERAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN

It is reported from Dublin that Mr. Cosgrave, opening the general election campaign on Saturday, declared that the United Ireland party desired a settlement with Britain securing the free entry of Irish goods into Great Britain on equal terms with other members of the Commonwealth of Nations. Such an agreement would bring hope to the world's finest peasantry who were at present suffering hardships from five years' losses.

The dispute with Britain was, he declared, costing £5,000,000 annually and the loss of a wonderful market.

The Party would de-rate all land and float a 3% recovery loan giving all the farmers a fresh start.

No. 45. GOVERNMENT NOTICE.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
 Stanley, Falkland Islands.
 3rd April, 1937.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that owing to the cessation of the direct mail service from the United Kingdom the General Post Office, London, has been requested to despatch all parcels already posted at the direct rates, by the first opportunity via Montevideo. The additional cost entailed in consequence will in this instance be borne by this Government. The General Post Office has been requested further to instruct the Post Offices in the United Kingdom to accept parcels only at the via Montevideo rate, unless especially notified to the contrary, e.g. for parcels addressed to be shipped by the m.v. "Reina del Pacifico".

The Government has been negotiating continuously for the past two years with the General Post Office and the Montevideo Administration for a reduction in Parcel Post rates via Montevideo and still trusts that some success may be achieved. Failing this the Government has in contemplation the grant of a subsidy. Temporarily, however, the full rate will have to be paid.

By Command,

(Sgd) M.C. Craigie-Halkett,

Colonial Secretary.

It is suggested that the Highland Agricultural Society should offer a prize of one hundred guineas to anyone who could discover a satisfactory means of preventing or curing the disease. So serious are the losses that insurance companies are declining to insure the risk.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS RECORDED

CHANGE IN CORONATION CEREMONY

A change in the Coronation ceremony provides that the King will take his Coronation Oath immediately after his recognition by his people before the Communion service begins instead of during Communion.

As the result of changes, which do not vary the essentials of the service which has been in use for nearly 1,000 years, the length of the service will be reduced to two hours.

As already announced the King will broadcast from Buckingham Palace a few hours after he has been crowned. His address will be the culmination of the broadcast in which Mr. Baldwin, the Viceroy of India, and the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Southern Rhodesia, will take part.

The arrangements have now been completed for marshalling the Coronation cavalcade in preparation for the procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey. All the troops taking part in the actual procession will be assembled in Kensington Gardens. They will march in procession from Kensington Gardens to Constitution Hill where they will form up in readiness for the start of the Royal Procession from the Palace. The Royal coach containing the King and Queen will be near the end of the great pageant. The procession to the Abbey will not be so long as that which will make the return journey when it will be joined after the service by carriages containing notabilities attending the Abbey including the Premiers of the Dominions. This procession will be more than two miles long.

LONDON The death roll in the railway disaster which occurred on Friday outside Victoria Station has been raised to 11 by a further death in hospital.

APPEAL FOR RECOGNITION OFFRANCO'S REGIME

It is reported from Dublin that a meeting of the Irish Christian Front on the College Green in Dublin on Sunday, called upon the Government to recognise General Franco's regime and a two minutes' silence was observed for the members of the Irish Brigade who have been killed in Spain.

There were many interruptions and frequent scuffles with the police who were compelled to use their batons.

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN ENGINEERS'STRIKE IN GLASGOW

No developments are anticipated in the strike of engineers employed by the firm of Beardmore, Glasgow, before to-morrow when the National Executive men will reply to the resolution passed by the mass meeting on Sunday.

The apprentices' strike is spreading and practically all the Clydeside yards are without apprentice labour. It is rumoured that there will be intervention by the Government.

THE INTERNATIONAL SUGAR CONFERENCE

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, Lord President of the Council, presided at the opening yesterday morning at the Foreign Office of the International Sugar Conference summoned by the League of Nations.

The representatives of twenty-two countries attended, but Italy has not accepted the invitation to the Conference.

The object of the Conference is to consider the possibility of an International Agreement to regulate the production and marketing of sugar. In many countries sugar production is heavily subsidised as a matter of domestic policy and the general increase in production in the years since the war has been accompanied by a fall in prices which has been kept prominently before the public and the Governments concerned.

has greatly disturbed the economy of the Industry in many exporting countries.

Britain is concerned in the International discussions both because of home production of sugar, which has become an integral part of her agricultural policy, and because of the large production of cane sugar in the Colonies.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Ormsby Gore, has stated that the Colonial interests will be one of the primary considerations of the British Government.

He has pointed out that the Ottawa Agreements contain no provisions on the subject of Colonial sugar and that any questions arising out of those Agreements will probably be dealt with by a discussion between the industrialists and Governments affected as the occasion arises rather than at the Imperial Conference.

CENTRALISED CONTROL FOR COTTON

The annual report of the Manchester Textile Workers' Association, just issued, stresses the inadvisability of starting an immediate campaign for the socialisation of the cotton industry but urges support for setting up a centralised control as a preliminary step.

TO REDUCE TRADE BARRIERS

Well-informed circles in London discount the stories of the calling of an International Economic Conference as contained in the reports from Brussels and Paris regarding exchanges between the British, French, and Belgian Governments. The Three Power Monetary Declaration of last September called attention to the importance of freeing International trade and a similar view found expression in the proceedings of the League Assembly, thus the whole subject

HOTEL EMPLOYEES IN ENGLANDTO MAKE A WAGE CLAIM

The London Trades Council Secretary stated yesterday that waiters, cooks, porters and other hotel employees intend making a wage claim which will have to be met before the Coronation rush or difficulties will arise.

LONDON. Nawab Bhopal arrived in London yesterday with his entourage and 25 polo ponies. The Estonian submarine "Kalev", built at Barrow, arrived at Portsmouth yesterday for trials and will remain for the Spithead Coronation Review.

HOUSE OF COMMONS IN SESSION

The House of Commons reassembled on Tuesday after the Easter holidays. The Question Paper was crowded and afterwards the House debated on the second reading of the Government's Special Areas Amendment Bill designed to facilitate economic development and social improvement of distressed areas.

Under the existing Act various measures to reduce unemployment and to improve the public health and other services have been initiated involving commitments up to the beginning of last February amounting to about £11,000,000. The placing of Government orders and the establishment of Government factories in these areas have prepared the way for a further advance and accordingly under the present Bill the powers of the Commissioners have been extended to include the making of contributions for periods not exceeding five years not only towards income-tax and rates but also towards the rent payable in respect of the new industrial undertakings established in the special areas.

POSITION OF AFFAIRS IN INDIA

A statement on the position of affairs in India was made in the House of Commons at question time on Tuesday.

The Under Secretary for India said that provincial autonomy had come into operation on the 1st of April. As the House was aware however the leaders of the Congress Party, in the six provinces where that party was expected to command a majority in the legislature, had declined invitations to form ministries

These had accordingly been formed from other parties. The Congress Party was prepared to accept office only if its leaders in the provinces in question were - to cite the terms of the Congress resolution - "satisfied and able to state publicly that the Governor would not use his special powers of interference or set aside the service of his Ministers in regard to their Constitutional activities."

The Provincial Governors, with the full approval of the Governor-General and the Secretary of State declined to give any undertaking in regard to the use of the powers conferred upon them by the Act and the obligations imposed upon them by their instructions issued with the approval of Parliament. But the Governors offered, subject to their obligations, their fullest assurances of sympathy and support to any ministry which might be formed.

The Congress leaders were, unfortunately, unable to accept such assurances as adequately fulfilling the requirements prescribed by the All India Congress Committee.

Regarding the situation on the north-west frontier Mr. Butler said that considerable unrest continued in the northern part of Waziristan and on March 29th the units which were protecting the passage of a convoy on the road between Bannu and Razmak were attacked by large forces of tribesmen whom they repulsed with heavy losses.

The local political, military, and air authorities are at present working in close collaboration in dealing with the situation, and the Commander-in-Chief himself has gone to Peshawar.

by the Non-intervention Committee of the question of the evacuation of foreign nationals from Spain, but as had been previously stated, His Majesty's Government attached great importance to the progress being made with this problem.also.

No reports, he said, had recently been received of the landing of any foreign troops in Spain

COAL FAMINE RUMOURS DENIED

The Mines Department in London, while admitting a shortage of coal hewers with the increasing special demands ~~denies~~ the rumoured coal famine which the critics ascribe to the restricted "allocations".

The March output exceeded 5,000,000 tons weekly for the first time for seven years.

DANGEROUS CONDITIONS IN MINE

It is reported from Wrexham that in the view of the experts dangerous conditions still exist behind the mine seals at the Gresford colliery and the attempts to bring out the bodies of the 255 Gresford pit victims will have to be postponed.

NON-INTERVENTION IN SPAIN

In reply to a number of questions in the House of Commons on Tuesday regarding Spain and non-intervention, the Foreign Secretary said that the International Board which was in charge of the scheme of observation had now completed the first stage of its arrangements for the establishment of the scheme and the first groups of officials have already left for their posts.

He said that he was not in a position at present to give the House any fresh information as to the consideration

FORMER CHIEF ON TRIAL

A message from Moscow states that the former OGPU Chief, Yagoda, is being placed on trial as an "incorrigible gangster and racketeer".

The official indictment includes "the embezzlement of 1,000,000 roubles of state funds, and the lowest forms of debauchery". The investigations leading to his arrest are from the accused's insubordination on transference to his appointment as Postal Commissa

FIERCE FIGHTING ON BASQUE FRONT

It is reported from Hendaye that fierce fighting continues on the Basque front with an International Brigade, composed of Italians, Germans, and Moors, supported by tanks, artillery, and aircraft, concentrating its efforts on Barazar, Urquibla, and other points in the Alava province. The Government claims the repulse of these attacks.

From Bilbao it is reported that a pan-American steamer has been sunk by the Insurgents after unloading stores for the Basque Government. The Insurgents have made three attacks on Santander aerodrome.

The Spanish Embassy in London confirms that 10,000 Italian troops were landed at Cadiz between March 22nd and 24th, while in Rome bitter complaints are still being made that France and Russia are still supplying the Spanish Reds with men and munitions.

It is understood that the German Air Minister, Herr Goering, is shortly visiting Rome with the probable intention of discussing the best means to meet the Spanish stalemate.

The destroyer suffered no damage. In accordance with the instructions which have been issued to British warships to protect themselves against attacks of this character, fire was opened upon the Insurgent aircraft.

PHYSICAL TRAINING AND RECREATIONBILL

The second reading of the physical training and recreation Bill, designed to give effect to the Government's scheme for improving the health and physique of the nation, was moved in the House of Commons by the Minister for Education on Wednesday. The Minister claimed that both the objects and the details of the scheme had met with general approval.

Mr. Lees Smith, for the Labour Party, expressed the fear that the scheme was directed too much towards meeting the needs of the black-coated workers and neglected the requirements of the workers in the factories and mines.

For the Liberals Sir Francis Ackland emphasised the vital importance of a parallel campaign for better nutrition, but both speakers gave their qualified support to the measure.

ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION URGED

The Prime Minister's attention was drawn in the House of Commons yesterday to the speech of the United States' Secretary of State urging the need for increased economic co-operation between the nations of the world, and he was asked if he would consider extending the scope of the Agenda of the forthcoming Imperial Conference to include the question.

Mr. Baldwin replied "the scope of the Agenda as already announced is I think sufficiently wide to admit of a general discussion of this question if the representatives at the Conference so desire."

INSURGENT GOVERNOR APOLOGISES

The Insurgent military Governor of Majorca apologised yesterday for the aerial attacks by Spanish Insurgent aircraft on the British destroyer "Gallant" (see page 2).

Instructions have been issued to General Franco's airmen to exercise very great care in the future in examining the identity marks of warships in Spanish waters.

PRE-NATAL CLINIC

The Medical Department is opening a pre-natal clinic at the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital on Tuesdays at 2.30 p.m.

The Department is anxious to get in touch with expectant mothers at as early a date as possible so that they may have the benefit of this clinic throughout the ante-natal period.

It is in this period that the individual's whole life is shaped and one can therefore readily understand that it is the most important time in the whole life-span. Every child has the right to be well-born.

The attention of mothers, who have already been attending the Hospital at irregular times, is particularly called to this announcement.

WINDFALL FOR EDINBURGHUNIVERSITY

Edinburgh University will benefit by £1,550 from the sale of a 1692 Strad-variis violin, which was recently sold by auction in London.

In 1853 this violin fetched only £110 in the same auction room. Eventually it passed to the late Mrs. Guthrie Watson, who bequeathed it to the University. By her wish the proceeds of the sale will be used to found a scholarship in the Faculty of Music.

The Strad is of the "long" period, and is about half an inch longer than those of the earlier "grand pattern".

NEW WORK FOR THE BLIND

The Association for the general welfare of the Blind has now three factories, and is doing some pioneer work in finding new occupations for the blind, such as soap-making and cigarette making, now that the former demand for baskets has been killed by the use of papier mache and other substitutes and cheap imported material.

CORNISH HOLY WELL TO BERESTORED

A Cornish holy well at St. Austell is to be restored in commemoration of the Coronation of King George. This well, which is of the Middle English architectural design, was recently discovered on a farm, where it had been covered with shrubs and undergrowth for many years. The scheme includes the construction of an approach path for the public and the removal of obstruction around the well.

6,000 "MACS" ON ONE ISLAND

The directory of Prince Edward Island, smallest of Canada's nine provinces, contains 25,000 names, and 6,000 of them start with "Mc" or "Mac". The McDonalds lead all, but there are great numbers of McKinnons, McLeods, McNeils, and in addition numerous Campbells, Camerons, Frasers, Stewarts and so on.

Prince Edward Island families with "Mc" names have their own ways of preventing confusion which might arise when several families in one community bearing the same surname choose identical Christian names for their offspring.

Down west there was a Big Malcolm McDonald whose son was called Johnny Big Malcolm, and his son, Alex McDonald. There were so many other "Alex McDonalds" about that the grandson was called "Long Alex" which made him Long Alex Johnny Big Malcolm McDonald.

In other parts of the province affixing the name of an object like "axe" or "pump" before the surname, giving "Johnny Axe Campbell, or "Malcolm Pump McDonald", solves the problem of probable confusion quite satisfactorily.

NEW UNIFORM FOR POSTMEN

The General Post Office, London, announces that on May 1st there will be issued to over 80,000 postmen a new summer uniform of blue serge which will be about 4 ounces a yard lighter than the present material. Experts have altered the design. The shoulders of the new uniform will be padded, and there will be some stiffening and other up-to-date touches to give it a smarter appearance.

It will be the first time that postmen have had a lighter uniform for the summer since 1922. For fourteen years they have worn 22½ oz. all-wool blue serge both in summer and winter.

AUSTRALIAN REPRESENTATIVEKILLED

All the engagements of the Australian Coronation Contingent have been cancelled for the next two days as a mark of respect for Gunner Percy Sullivan V.C. who was knocked down last night by a cyclist in Birdcage Walk within twenty yards of Wellington Barracks where the contingent is stationed and later died from injuries sustained.

Sullivan, who had been signing his name in the books of autograph hunters by whom he was besieged, stepped off the pavement into the roadway without noticing an approaching cyclist.

He won the supreme distinction of the V.C. in north Russia in 1919 for rescuing four of his comrades under heavy machine-gun fire who in crossing a river over a narrow flank fell into a deep swamp.

The official record of the award said "It was a splendid example of heroism as all ranks were on the point of exhaustion and the enemy was less than 100 yards distant."

Sullivan returned a few days ago from Liverpool where he had handed over to relatives the ashes of another Australian V.C. who was to have accompanied the contingent but who died shortly before it left.

NO INTEREST IN EUROPEAN PEACE

SETTLEMENT

In Berlin yesterday the former Foreign Minister, Herr Simons, who was the delegate in the Versailles negotiations, stated in a press article that Germany has no interest in a European peace settlement until equality of rights has been restored by the return of Colonies.

Germany needs these territories, he said, not only as raw material sources but as satisfaction for the slanderous pretext of Colonial maladministration under which they were stolen.

BELGIAN LINER RUNS AGROUND

Just before midnight on Saturday the 8,433 tons Belgian liner "Anvers Ville", carrying 170 passengers for a pleasure cruise, went ashore on Dungeness Bank and although some anxiety for her safety was felt throughout the night she was refloated in a dense fog yesterday morning two hours before high tide.

The Dungeness lifeboat stood by during the night and the rocket life-saving crews on land were held in readiness should an emergency arise, but the weather was fine and the sea smooth. The vessel was aground on a shoal and she was towed into deep water by three British and one Dutch tug. The passengers remained calm throughout.

CORONATION ITEMS

It is reported from Berlin that Prince Frederick, the youngest son of the German ex-Crown Prince and the Godson of King George Vth, has been invited to attend the Coronation Ceremony at Westminster Abbey.

The Japanese Prince and Princess Chichibu have left New York for Southampton where they are expected to arrive to-day to be present for the Coronation.

MOVEMENT FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

The movement for a Constitutional Amendment in Ottawa is reported to be growing, and eminent Constitutionalists such as Bennett, La Pointe, and other authorities, are impressed by the urgent need for the revision of the British-North American Act.

It is considered that by re-distributing the Federal and Provincial functions there will be a decrease in the expensive litigation in which the Privy Council is frequently called upon to interpret the law.

LONDON. The notable film director, Ralph Ince, was killed when his car, driven by his wife, collided with a refuse cart outside the Albert Hall yesterday.SPECIAL CABINET MEETINGLAST NIGHT

At the special Cabinet Meeting held last night it was decided that British vessels attempting to penetrate the Insurgent blockade around Spain should not receive naval escort.

After two hours it was agreed that a special situation was created by the Insurgent investment of Bilbao but that there would be no change in the Government attitude which had not granted belligerent rights to either side.

General Franco has three powerful naval units off the Basque coast and the British cargo boats now in French ports laden with foodstuffs for Bilbao have been advised not to attempt to reach their destination.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent stresses the difference between the escort of vessels through an alleged blockade zone which would amount to intervention, and the maintenance of rights to protect shipping proceeding on its lawful occasions on the high seas.

THE SITUATION IN SPAIN

It is reported from Madrid that nothing sensational happened on the widespread fronts over the week-end. The Government forces' determined drive to enforce the Insurgents to evacuate the University City was countered by heavy artillery bombardment of the capital.

Fighting has subsided in the Bilbao area and it is suggested that capitulation is imminent.

The Valencia area has experienced great aerial activity while the Government claims advances on the Cordoba front.

MISSIONARIES

The British Ambassador in Rome, Sir Eric Drummond, has been instructed to renew the enquiries relative to the expulsion of six British missionaries from Abyssinia.

It is now clear that the Italian Colonial authorities are at no special pains to co-operate with Britain, while the recognition of Italian sovereignty is withheld, and it is also evident that Italy is not prepared to tolerate foreign missionaries in any of her territory.

The press in Rome asserts that peace was disturbed by the British missionaries and alleges that the Addis Ababa massacres were the direct result of Protestant religious education.

TERRITORIAL RECRUITING

It is reported from London that territorial recruiting during March reached the record figure of 6,397, the high for any month since the war.

OUTSPOKEN ATTACK ON THE UNITED FRONT

The Socialist Party Headquarters have issued an outspoken attack on the United Front which it alleged was generously financed from undisclosed sources to accomplish the affiliation of the Communists with the Labour Party.

The pronouncement stresses that any members participating in such a campaign do so in clear defiance of party decisions and subject themselves to expulsion.

A GREEN BELT FOR OXFORD

The continued growth of Oxford to the north has become so great that it is to be stopped by a green belt about a mile in depth on the outskirts of the city.

It is also recommended that the County Council should refuse permission for land in Kidlington, five miles north of Oxford, belonging to the Earl of Dudley, to be developed as a residential estate and that the land should be purchased.

GUIDE TREES FOR

AIRMEN

It is announced that groups of trees in the shape of a shield are to be planted as landmarks for aviators, the points of the shields to face southwards.

This idea is part of the afforestation campaign of the Men of the Trees Society; and the plan has been favourably received by the aviation authorities. Groups of native hardwood trees are to be planted on hills in every county from Land's End to John o' Groats. The smallest plantation will be 72' by 48', and one, at least, will be about 200 acres in extent.

These plantations may eventually become bird sanctuaries.

FROG FAIR IN GREAT BRITAIN

The first frog-fair in Great Britain has been started by a young Scottish woman, Miss Alice Murdock, at Bridge of Earn, Perthshire.

Twelve pairs of bull-frogs have been imported, as a start, from the United States, and already Miss Murdock has received many inquiries from hotels, restaurants, and medical schools.

She hopes to induce the general public to regard the frog as edible.

CURING AN ELEPHANT'S COLD

The elephants at the Zoo rarely become ill, but from time to time one of them does catch a chill or seems off-colour, and in this case a dose of medicine is prescribed.

It is a bottle of rum diluted with warm water, and it is offered to the patient in a bucket.

There is never the slightest difficulty in getting the elephant to drink up her dose. If it is unfamiliar to her she smells it and tastes it suspiciously. But after the first taste the medicine disappears with great rapidity.

A new helmet for members of the London Fire Brigade has been designed by the Royal Fine Arts Commissions.

It is made of cork and rubber, and is a glossy black, with gilt comb, badge, and rosettes, the only difference from the helmet worn by an officer being that the comb, badge, and rosettes are silvered.

H.M.S. "HOOD" SENT TO ST. JEAN DE LUZ

In London last night Mr. Baldwin, addressing the House of Commons on the Spanish situation, stated that the Government could not recognise or concede belligerent rights (search and seizure on the high seas) or tolerate any interference with British shipping at sea and for this reason the battle cruiser "Hood" has been sent to St. Jean de Luz.

Mr. Baldwin added that in view of the dangers arising from General Franco's attempt to invest Bilbao, shipping had been warned not to enter the port. According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent the British steamer "Seven Seas Spray" was seized by the Insurgent cruiser "Almirante Cervera" almost simultaneously with the "Hood's" arrival but it is gathered that she made an attempt to enter Bilbao.

The Spanish Embassy in London have issued a statement that the safety of all merchantmen is guaranteed by the Government vessels and shore batteries and that no Insurgent warship has approached within the three mile limit. On the other hand it is learned through French sources that the "Almirante Cervera" has broadcast a warning to all vessels that they risked seizure or sinking if found within Spanish waters.

SIR ARNOLD HODSON

The following is taken from the N.R.A. Journal and will, we are sure, be of great interest to our readers:-

"Congratulations to His Excellency Sir Arnold Hodson, Governor-General of the Gold Coast, on his appointment as Knight of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. "

LONDON The Earl of Plymouth, the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will, at the invitation of the Governments concerned, pay an official visit to Finland towards the end of May and to the Baltic States on his return journey in the early part of June. He will be absent from London for about a fortnight.

MISCONCEPTION OF BRITISHGOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE

The Foreign Office communique issued yesterday states that "as certain organs of the foreign press have on occasion shown a misconception of the attitude of His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom towards the proposals contained in the memorandum of the 9th of February last from the Spanish Government, more particularly so far as those proposals concerned the Spanish zone of Morocco, the text of the reply of His Majesty's Government is given below in order to avoid any further misunderstanding in the matter."

The Communication, which is addressed to the Spanish Ambassador in London and dated March 20th states "The present unhappy position in Spain has been a source of great anxiety and concern to His Majesty's Government and it has been, and will continue to be, their earnest desire to do everything in their power which might contribute towards shortening the conflict and sparing further sufferings to the Spanish people. His Majesty's Government note that the immediate object of M. del Vayo's proposal is to obtain the cessation of any kind of foreign interference in the affairs of Spain. As the Spanish Government are aware this has been the guiding principle of His Majesty's Government's policy since the commencement of the Civil War and although this policy, owing to the necessity of obtaining an International Agreement, has unfortunately been met with many difficulties, the Government are confident that the Agreement which has now been reached by the London non-intervention Committee will provide an effective guarantee against munitions and volunteers reaching Spain from foreign countries.

M. del Vayo stresses the importance of further steps being taken for the withdrawal of foreign nationals in armed forces in Spain and His Majesty's Government are in full sympathy with the Spanish Government on this point. It is one to which the non-intervention Committee will give their most serious consideration and it is the earnest desire of His Majesty's Government that it may be found practicable to reach a solution which will commend itself to the Spanish Government and contribute to the final settlement of the Civil War. His Majesty's Government realise that the termination of the present troubles will find the Spanish Government faced with serious problems, both external and internal. His Majesty's Government are convinced however that, actuated as they are solely by motives of sympathy and friendship for Spain and the Spanish people, it is in the best interests of Spain that His Majesty's Government should confine their efforts to securing in as complete form as possible the non-interference of foreign countries in the Spanish conflict. They are happy to think that this object is one which the Spanish Government have most at heart and they cannot but feel that the other problems to which M. del Vayo refers should await the return of peaceful conditions in Spain."

MISCONCEPTION OF THE BRITISHGOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE

RESUMPTION OF BITTER FIGHTING

A communique from Madrid envisages the early resumption of bitter fighting following the relative calm which has obtained over the week-end, because the Insurgents' position in the suburban areas is difficult, and the Government are anxious to continue their advances.

A message from Barcelona states that the Insurgent fortress Castillo de Bechar, to the north-east of Huesca, is surrounded, and many Insurgent guns have been captured.

EXPULSION FROM ABYSSINIA

Several questions respecting the expulsion from Abyssinia of the British-Indian firm of Mohammed Ali, were answered by Lord Cranborne in the House of Commons yesterday. He said that on March 6th the firm were ordered by the Italian authorities to close their premises and cease commercial activity. A similar order, coupled with the intimation that their employees should leave the country, was given a week or so later. Representations have been made by the Acting British Consul-General at Addis Ababa on the instructions of His Majesty's Ambassador at Rome, with a view to ascertaining the reason for the action and to securing an extension of the period within which the firm must leave. The firm had been suffering severely from the effects of the Italian exchange restrictions in Abyssinia and for some time had been contemplating entering into partnership with an Italian firm. The representations have resulted in an extension of the time limit being granted but it was not regarded as adequate and the result of further representations which were being made to ensure that the firm were given reasonable time in which to arrange their affairs, was awaited.

FIRST CUCKOO IN FALKLANDS

An American Cuckoo was found and caught in Government House Garden last week. This is, as far as is known, the first cuckoo which has reached the Colony.

The bird has since died and has been mounted for the Stanley Museum.

THE "GREAT BRITAIN"

The famous "Great Britain" which has been moored in Stanley Harbour for over 50 years, was on Monday towed out to Sparrow Cove where she is to be left.

Yesterday His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by the Manager of the Falkland Islands Company, visited Sparrow Cove to view the ship in her new resting place.

She will be an attractive spectacle to tourists, and of course to the general public, in her new kindly setting of calm water surrounded by quiet hills.

INSURGENTS INTENSIFY MINE-LAYING

The Board of Trade issued a warning to British shipping yesterday that the Spanish Insurgents intend to intensify mine-laying along the eastern and northern Spanish coasts, with the only safety zones at Barcelona and Valencia. Meanwhile H.M.S. "Hood" has moved into the waters adjacent to Bilbao and two German submarines have been despatched from Germany to this area.

A message from Paris indicates that France takes the view that shipments of food and general merchandise to Spain are legitimate under the Non-Intervention Agreement. The German press praises the British tolerance as expressed in Mr. Baldwin's and Mr. Eden's speeches, while the Spanish Insurgents are gratified by the unequivocal allegiance to non-intervention.

EGYPTIAN CAPITULATIONS CONFERENCE

A message from Montreaux states that Captain Euan Wallace, the Secretary of the Department for Overseas Trade, was the first speaker at yesterday's public session of the Egyptian Capitulations Conference.

In stressing the particular friendship between Egypt and the United Kingdom Captain Wallace declared that the British Government, in line with the other Governments, was in full agreement with the suppression of capitulations. The final aim of the Conference was freedom of action for the Egyptian Government concerning foreigners in Legislative and Judicial domains.

He recalled the engagements already entered into by Egypt for the equitable treatment of strangers and said that it was the duty of the Conference to give a certain guarantee as to their future, to the foreign communities.

The British Government, he said, attached great importance to the success of the Conference.

PRICE OF GOLD

The Chancellor of the Exchequer was asked two questions in the House of Commons yesterday by Mr. Boothby, a Conservative member who has been associated at various times with the advocacy of "planning" and "managed money". He asked first for an assurance that the Government had no intention of taking action to check the rise in commodities by raising the price of sterling in terms of gold in view of the deflatory effect it would have, and also whether the maintenance of "cheap money" remained the fundamental objective of Government policy.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain replied that it was not at present part of the policy of the Government to maintain a fixed price for gold in terms of sterling, but the price of gold was of course one of the factors to be taken into account in determining their monetary policy from time to time. They were, he said, fully alive to the undesirability of interfering with the flow of business towards recovery.

With regard to "cheap money" he referred to his answer made in the House of Commons on Monday in which the point was made that "cheap money" was not the object in itself but a means for securing an improvement of trade activity and employment.

While the Chancellor was satisfied that the policy actually followed and had given the maximum stimulus to economic recovery, no statement could be made as to the future since the measures to be taken at any time would depend on the course of events.

Mr. Boothby's second question was about the Tri-Partite Currency Agreement and whether it precluded any alteration of the gold value of its currency by any of the three Governments without prior consultation with the others.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he was satisfied with the working of the Agreement and added that the purpose of the Agreement was to maintain the greatest possible equilibrium in the system of International Exchanges and to avoid to the utmost extent any disturbance of that system by monetary action on the part of the Governments concerned. There was no express reference to the gold value of the several currencies. These answers led to a supplementary question as to whether he was contemplating any negotiations with the United States and France for a wider and more permanent agreement. The Chancellor said that he was not contemplating that at the present time, and to another question he explained that the last answer was not inconsistent with the expression of hope in the declaration of September 19th that it might be followed by further measures towards the lowering of the restrictions of International Trade.

There she will carry out a further series of tests in connexion with wireless and other facilities provided by the Irish Free State authorities with a view to the operation of a regular trans-Atlantic air mail.

SETTLEMENT OF THE KEELUNG INCIDENT

The Foreign Secretary announced in the House of Commons at Question Time the settlement of the incident at Keelung, Formosa, last October, in which British sailors and a Naval Officer were involved.

Mr. Eden said "In accordance with the arrangements come to between the Japanese Government and His Majesty's Ambassador at Tokyo, the Director General of the Formosa Government on Monday addressed a letter to His Majesty's Consul at Tamsui regretting that such an unpleasant incident should have occurred, stating that appropriate steps would be taken to prevent their recurrence and inviting the co-operation of the British authorities to this end."

The Governor General's letter, Mr. Eden said, said that the policeman concerned had been reprimanded for improper conduct in laying hands on the sailor under examination, and for using improper language to the British officer - due no doubt to his limited knowledge of the English language - and had cautioned him to be more careful in the future.

The letter concluded with the hope that the incident might now be regarded as closed. His Majesty's Consul-General has with Mr. Eden's authority acknowledged this letter and agreed that the incident might now be regarded as closed, and has assured the Government of Formosa that they may certainly count on his co-operation in preventing a recurrence of similar incidents in the future.

The settlement is regarded as accepted by His Majesty's Government and Mr. Eden said that he was sure that the House of Commons would agree that it is a matter of satisfaction that the case should have been finally disposed of.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

The presence of a number of foreign Ambassadors and Ministers in the Distinguished Strangers' Gallery marked the interest aroused by the House of Commons debate on the Labour motion of censure in the following terms "The House, taking note of the Prime Minister's statement on the situation in Bilbao, deplore the failure of His Majesty's Government to give protection to British merchant ships on their lawful occasions."

The debate took place yesterday afternoon.

The first speaker for the Government was the Home Secretary. He began by emphasising the adherence of the Government, in common with the Government of France, to the policy of non-intervention.

He then recalled that in August and September last when the naval preponderance in the Civil War was still on the Government side the Madrid authorities had sought to declare a blockade of Ceuta and Melilla and other ports. Then, just as now, the British Government refused to recognise the blockade, but then just as now directions were issued to British ships for their guidance in view of the dangers which threatened. It was, therefore, he claimed, impossible to maintain that the action taken in reference to the situation at Bilbao represented a new policy.

Sir John Simon proceeded to give information on the situation derived principally from Admiralty reports. On April 6th the destroyer "Blanche" reported that there was a close blockade and that serious incidents were likely if merchant ships attempted to enter the port. When the report was received the "Blanche" was instructed to inform any British merchant ship bound for Bilbao of this state of affairs and to advise it most strongly not to attempt to enter the port. Later the Government decided to inform British ships that it desired them not to enter Bilbao on account of the dangerous situation there. This action he claimed was on all fours with that taken last autumn. Of course, the Home Secretary added, the British Navy could force its way into any port in Spain. It could sweep the passage clear of mines. But that action would not be consistent with the policy of non-intervention to which it was their primary duty to be faithful. General Franco had been told expressly that the British Government could not recognise belligerent rights and that the warning given to British ships would not be considered to have absolved him from responsibility for any damage to a British ship which disregarded the warning.

Sir John reminded the House that the British Navy had for months discharged great humanitarian work off the coasts of Spain. They had carried 17,000 innocent people to safety. But within the last two months, on the advice of the Admiralty, it had been thought unsafe because of the danger from mines for British warships to enter ports on the Basque coast and work had to be done so far as was possible by ships which were not men-of-war. Sir John claimed in conclusion that he had justified the action of the Government to the House of Commons and to the country.

Moving the motion of censure Mr. Attlee said that the Opposition regarded the Government's action in warning British ships against entering the port of Bilbao as a surrender of rights which had always been maintained for British shipping and a surrender made in the face of a grave breach of International law.

The Spanish Insurgents had no belligerent rights and no right to blockade Spanish ports. The prevention of British ships trading with Spain was no part of the non-intervention policy so long as they carried neither munitions nor volunteers. The issue therefore was simple. British ships on their lawful occasions had been turned back by the rebels. What was to be done? The Cabinet came to a decision. The Prime Minister made a firm declaration against interference with British shipping - white ensign is hoisted. Then it is run down and the white flag is run up - British ships were to all intents and purposes told that they must not go to Bilbao. Yet there was no question this time of starting a world war or of trouble with a great foreign power. The threat to which the Government had surrendered came from rebels whose land forces were on the run and who had no great naval strength.

Mr. Attlee asked for detailed information of the evidence on which and from which the Government had reached their decision and the sources from which it came. He declared that General Franco, who was failing generally, was dependent for a local success upon starving women and children and the British Government acquiesced. The Government had no right to put upon British sailors such humiliation.

The Liberal Speaker, Sir Archibald Sinclair, who followed the Home Secretary argued that the Government's action in discouraging British food ships from entering Basque ports was an intervention in the Civil War and not as Mr. Simon claimed part of the non-intervention policy.

The next speaker was Mr. Winston Churchill who said that he was a partisan of neither side in Spain but that it would be madness to break the blockade which the Insurgents had established and, according to British naval officers, effectively established.

MADRID. The Government claims that the Insurgent attacks on the University sector yesterday were repulsed, while a report from Valencia states that the bombardment of the east coast town south of Cape Tortosa by Insurgent warships continues.

CORRESPONDENCE

Stanley,
15th April, 1937.

The Editor,
The "Penguin".

Sir,
Your correspondent "Ship-Ahoy" is welcome to the following information regarding the hulk at the head of "Packer's" Jetty, the "Jhelum".
Wood barque of 428 tons, built by Steele at Liverpool in 1849. Arrived at Stanley on the 19th of August 1870, 36 days out from Callao bound for Dunkirk with guano. She had been badly battered off Cape Horn and was in a bad way. The crew refused to put to sea in her again. Her owners, Messrs. Widdicombe and Bell, went bankrupt, the vessel was condemned and used as a hulk. The Captain was Charles Beaglehole.
Should "Ship Ahoy" desire information regarding any other vessels in the harbour I will endeavour to supply his wants in this connexion.
Yours faithfully,

(Sgd.) K.V. Lellman.

RUNNING THE INSURGENT BLOCKADE

It is reported from Bayonne that the British cargo boat "Mary Llewelyn", carrying a thousand tons of potatoes, left there yesterday in a southerly direction without disclosing her destination. Her Master and part-owner, Captain Nrola, stated that he was confident of his ability to run the blockade, the efficacy of which he and the Masters of two other British food-ships at present in Bayonne are inclined to think is much exaggerated.
The two other Masters, of the "Seven Seas Spray" and the "Hamsterley" respectively, have reported to their owners the view that there would be no difficulty in delivering their cargoes in defiance of General Franco at Bilbao. Meanwhile the Basque authorities have issued another statement declaring that the Insurgent warships daren't venture within Basque territorial waters for fear of being shelled from the shore batteries.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced between Mr. W.H. Roland Still, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Still of Boston Manor, London, and Christine, only daughter of the Honourable A.R. Hoare M.B.E., J.P., and Mrs. Hoare of Stanley, Falkland Islands.

TORONTO The General Motors Strike at Oshawa appears to be no nearer a solution, while the local organisers of the automobile workers express confidence that the United States workers will support the local branch. The Ontario Government is at present taking full responsibility for the maintenance of order.

SPAIN CONTROL SCHEME

The Chairman's Sub-Committee of the non-intervention Committee sat for three hours yesterday and decided that the Spain control scheme should come into operation at midnight next Monday, April 19th/20th.

The Chairman appealed to the representatives on the Committee to bring a spirit of goodwill to the solution of the problems with which they were faced, and the Italian representative said that he was prepared to resume the discussion of the withdrawal of volunteers from Spain.

The Russian representative in the same spirit did not insist on the discussion of the proposals he had made at the last plenary session. The Committee agreed to appoint a technical advisory sub-Committee to prepare a scheme for the withdrawal from Spain of all the persons now engaged either directly or indirectly in the present conflict in that country who are not of Spanish nationality or who were not of Spanish nationality on the 18th of July 1936, and for the effective supervision of any such scheme of withdrawal. Before the Committee adjourned the Italian representative announced that he proposed at once to submit proposals for the extension of the non-intervention Agreement to the prohibition of the entry into Spain of all persons of non-Spanish nationality whose activities were calculated to prolong or embitter the present conflict.

Asked whether he was aware that French volunteers and munitions of war were still being sent to Spain to assist the Valencia Government, Lord Cranborne told the House of Commons that the Foreign Secretary had received no official reports which would confirm these allegations.

THE PARIS-NEW YORK AIR RACE

It is reported from New York that the hostile opinion relative to the Paris-New York air race is increasing as the experts consider that it is hazardous and may cause fatalities.

Reports from Paris state that the race may be called off as only two entrants are registered up to now, and both of these are British.

THRONE'S DEMOCRATIC TENDENCIES

From Baghdad it is reported that Princess Rahidja, the youngest sister of King Ghazi of Irak, has announced her engagement to a Lieutenant of the Air Force.

OFFICIAL DENIALS IN ITALY

It is officially denied in Rome that Signor Mussolini will visit Herr Hitler in Germany after his conversations with the Austrian Chancellor, Herr Schuschnigg, in Venice when Signor Mussolini will be accompanied by the Foreign Minister Signor Ciano. It is stressed that the meetings are merely formal ones as provided by the 1934 Rome Protocol, but diplomatic circles are anticipating repercussions, particularly with regard to the Hapsburg restoration.

B O X I N G

Last night the well-known boxer Farr beat the former world champion Baer on points in a 12 round contest.

CRITICAL SITUATION IN BUCHAREST

A critical situation is reported to be developing in Bucharest with the Fascist Iron Guard supporting ex-Prince Nicholas, and the Iron Guard leader, General Cantacuzenu, demanding the repeal of the Royal exile order against Prince Nicholas.

General Cantacuzenu presided over a meeting of the Iron Guard Officers yesterday when it was revealed that a Cabinet delegation, headed by the Premier, had delivered a 24 hours' ultimatum to Prince Nicholas ordering him to abandon his intention of re-establishing his annulled marriage, and when Prince Nicholas rejected this demand King Carol deprived him of his Royal rank.

The Iron Guards are standing by the ex-Prince who is now under house arrest in his Palace. There is every evidence of immediate difficulties arising with the co-operation of minorities against the Tatar-escu Government.

VIOLENCE AMONG THE PRISONERS

In view of the press reports that there has been an outbreak of violence among the prisoners at Dartmoor prison, the Commission has issued an official statement that the reports were untrue.

It appears from the official statement that on two occasions this month a small number of prisoners made complaints about the food and in connexion with these incidents five prisoners committed minor breaches of discipline.

The cases were reported and dealt with by the Governor or Board of Visitors.

PLEA TO WORLD NAVALPOWERS

A strong plea to the naval powers to make every effort to avert from the world the almost intolerable burden of unrestricted competition in naval construction and to show that on land, sea, and air, that it is possible to make International Agreements and maintain them in the interests of ourselves and the world, was made at the dinner of the Royal Corps held in London last night.

The Naval constructors asked that the other powers should think again of the almost intolerable burden that would be placed on the shoulders of all the powers if the size of armament warships, and building of new types, was unrestricted.

As far as Britain was concerned, the speaker said, we should welcome the opportunity of ratifying the first to ensure the accession of a sufficient number of naval powers. It is gratifying to note that the chapter of Anglo-American rivalry at sea is forever closed and the Anglo-German Agreement has prevented the repetition of the Anglo-German naval rivalry.

ALUMINIUM BICYCLES

Hitherto, aluminium has been used only for rims, pedals, and small fittings of bicycles, but now a new alloy called hiduminium, has been developed for aero-engine parts.

It is forged, and heat-treated to the strength of mild steel, but is only one-third the weight. Rims, pedals, cranks, frames, handlebars, saddle parts, mudguards, chain wheel, nuts, and lamps, are all built from it. A complete bicycle weighs only 13 lbs.

Even the weight of paint is saved by dyeing the aluminium to any colour by an electrical process called anodising. Since the alloy is non-corrosive, no danger exists at sudden failure at some vital point from rusting.

MAP OF BRITISH SHIPPING

An unusual map of the world has been issued by the Admiralty showing the distribution of British shipping of 3,000 tons gross and over in harbour and at sea on March 7th this year. On that day the positions of all ships were communicated to the Admiralty, which plotted them out on the map.

The result is a vivid portrayal of the size and ubiquity of the British Mercantile Marine. The number of vessels at sea was 1,462. Those afloat on the Great Lakes and in coastal and railway services added 143 to the total, and there were 852 vessels in harbour. The grand total was 2,457.

SPANISH INSURGENT ATTEMPT TOBLOCKADE BASQUE PORTS

Parliamentary interest in the situation arising from the Spanish Insurgents' attempt to blockade the Basque ports continues unabated. There are twelve questions on the House of Commons Order Paper for today concerned with the position of Bilbao and the reported sailings of British merchant ships in disregard of the Government caution to them.

The Foreign Secretary will be asked to say in what form the instructions were sent to the British warships to accompany up to the limits of territorial waters any merchant ship proceeding to Bilbao contrary to the desire of the Government. He will be asked also if the naval reports confirm the existence of an effective blockade. Other questions will afford an opportunity for a general statement on the situation.

LINER "QUEEN MARY" JUSTIFIESEXPECTATIONS

The Cunard White Star report for 1936 states that the "Queen Mary" has fully justified the expectations that she would prove very popular with the travelling public.

The Company's total receipts from passage money and freights amounted to £6,881,318 - an increase of £900,000 on 1935 while the expenses increased by £308,000 to £6,292,897.

The net profit for the year was £546,659 as compared with £469,859 loss in 1935.

BILL AMENDING DIVORCE REACHESREPORT STAGE

The Marriage Bill amending the law of divorce introduced by Mr. A.P. Herbert reached the report stage in the House of Commons on Saturday and there was general expectation, in view of the support from all quarters of the House and the representative opinion of the outside people, including Church opinion, which the proposals have received, that this Stage would be completed, but the determined resistance of the minority, which the divisions show to number about forty, prevented it.

Owing to the rules of Parliamentary procedure governing private members' Bills, the outlook for the Bill is now uncertain and the "Times" Parliamentary correspondent is almost alone among his colleagues in the press in showing any confidence in its prospects, which he bases less on the ability of the Bill's supporters to overcome the obstructive tactics of its opponents in the small time still available this session for private members' bills, than on the probability that the Government, in view of the obvious desire of an overwhelming majority to pass the measure, will, without itself taking up the Bill grant the request for extra time which it is stated over 200 members are prepared to endorse.

The "Daily Telegraph" at the end of a long leading article condemning the use of technical Parliamentary obstacles to defeat the Bill, which has secured widespread support as embodying overdue reforms, says

"If obstruction carried out in this spirit can lay its dead hand on every measure brought forward by private members, the time has surely come when the Government must abandon its neutral attitude and give official facilities to reform."

BLOCKADE OF BASQUE PORTS

Questions in Commons

The Foreign Secretary, the President of the Board of Trade and the First Lord of the Admiralty, were all questioned in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon regarding the situation arising from the Insurgent effort to blockade the Basque ports.

Several questions on the Order Paper were addressed to the Foreign Secretary which involved naval details, and were answered by the First Lord of the Admiralty. At the end of Sir Samuel Hoare's replies to subsequent supplementaries the Opposition leader expressed his dissatisfaction and gave notice that he would raise the subject on adjournment to-day. The moving of

FOOD SHORTAGE IN BILBAO

It is reported from Bilbao that there is an acute food shortage there which is causing suffering. The Basque men are heroically defying the attack of the Insurgents and the blockade.

All civilians are for-going food in order to maintain the troops' supplies. The insurgents are confident that the blockade will succeed.

The morale of the 300,000 inhabitants of Bilbao is unaffected by the air-raids.

Government troops continue to advance on Teruel to the north-east of Valencia with strong aeroplane support and have cut the Insurgent communications at Teruel and Saragossa.

an adjournment on any other question on the day of the Budget is most unusual procedure.

The most important of the statements made in the First Lord's replies was that the reports received from the Vice-Admiral commanding the Battle Cruiser Squadron in H.M.S. "Hood", read together with the reports received from the other authorities concerned, had confirmed the view that the Spanish Insurgent authorities had established an effective de facto blockade of Bilbao. To the members who enquired how the blockade was being made effective he retorted "By Insurgent ships and mines". Sir Samuel Hoare also said that up to about a month ago the reports showed that the Spanish authorities had attempted to maintain a swept channel through the mine-fields into Bilbao but he was unable to say whether they had in fact found it possible to continue this operation in the face of the superior Insurgent forces.

In another reply Sir Samuel Hoare recalled that the instructions to His Majesty's ships had, since the beginning of the Civil War in Spain, been to the effect that if it came to the knowledge of a British man-of-war that a British Merchant ship was being interfered with on the High Seas by a Spanish warship, the British ship was to be afforded protection, but no new instructions had been issued, since it was not proposed that the British merchant ships should be convoyed up to the limits of Spanish territorial waters.

Asked by Private Notice for a statement of the circumstances in which the Captain of the British steamship "Mari Llewellyn" was desired by the Commander of the destroyer "Brazen" to return to the port of St. Jean de Luz on the night of April 15th, Sir Samuel Hoare replied that he was not

FAITH IN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

At Carcassone faith in democracy and the League of Nations was emphasised by the Foreign Minister M. Delbos on Sunday. He declared that democracies threatened nobody. France's confidence rested in agreements with Poland, Russia, and the Little Entente nations.

Believing that armaments competition and economic nationalisation are the gravest obstacles to peace France would propose the control of armaments and their publicity to the bureau of the disarmament Conference to be held next month, he declared.

M. Delbos went on to add that the League, badly served by some, abandoned by others, defied by imperialists, remained the most trustworthy peace reality. Instead of universal assistance against the aggressor, France proposed regional pacts under League guidance between countries with a common danger.

BLIND AND DEAF AUTHORESS

Miss Helen Keller, the blind and deaf American authoress, was received by the Prime Minister at Tokio on Sunday following her presentation to the Emperor and Empress of Japan at a party given by the American Ambassador. The Prime Minister thanked Miss Keller for bringing hope to Japan's blind people.

CALCUTTA The month-old strike in the Bengal cotton mills has spread to three mills at Barracknare where policemen were injured on Friday by brickbats thrown by the strikers. The rioters were dispersed by the police.

ELECTRICITY CONSUMERSIN GREAT BRITAIN

There was an increase of 801,000 or 11.6% in the number of consumers of electricity in Great Britain the year covered by the Report just issued by the Electricity Commissioners.

The sales of electricity in the same period amounted to 15,049,000,000 units corresponding with an increase of 17% as compared with the previous year in the total output.

BLOCKADE OF BASQUE PORTS

yet in a position to furnish the required information but that enquiries were being made.

When, in answer to a question the Foreign Secretary said that he had nothing to add to the statement made in debate last Wednesday on the situation at Bilbao and the Government's policy, one member asked if he was aware that the shipowners and insurers were left in a difficult position by the Government's attitude, and another member countered this question by asking if it was not a fact that in the view of the shipping industry the Government was dealing very successfully with a very difficult situation.

In another reply Mr. Eden said that the military Governor of Irun, acting on instructions from General Franco, had informed Sir Henry Chilton on the evening of April 9th that the entry into Bilbao of four British ships known to be lying in St. Jean de Luz would be resisted by the Insurgent warships. This information was received in London on the morning of April 10th. But, Mr. Eden added, Franco's blockade warning had nothing to do with the decision taken by the Government, and he chided the Liberal leader for imagining that the Government's action was taken on Franco's Note.

HULKS IN STANLEY HARBOUR

We have found, in an old copy of the pamphlet written by the Revd. C. McDonald Hobley kindly lent to us, a few details about hulks in Stanley harbour which may interest our readers in view of the recent correspondence on this subject.

"The hulk which terminates the West Jetty is the "George Cooper", an American ship which was bought by Mr. G. Dean. The "Eigeria", another American vessel lies at the end of the East Jetty. The "J.P. Smith" was a Canadian ship which reached the Falklands with a load of nitrate, but as she was leaking badly, she was bought up by the Falkland Islands Company.

The two other collier hulks are the Presis and the Capricorn, the latter being a Swansea vessel built entirely of teak.

The "Nimrod" was originally a fruit vessel and traded between London and the Azores. The "Fleetwing" is a finely built ship of English oak and green-heart.

One of the most notable smaller lighters is the "Fairy" which was originally schooner rigged and once performed the voyage from Stanley to Montevideo in 4½ days. The "Lady Elizabeth" arrived in the Falklands in 1913 with a cargo of wood, but she had such a bad journey round the Horn that her sailing days were considered finished and she too was bought up by the Falkland Islands Company."

INTERNATIONAL SUGAR CONFERENCE

The communique issued by the International Sugar Conference states that the Committee appointed to examine the general questions held a further meeting on Monday when the discussion turned chiefly upon protectionist or fiscal measures in connexion with sugar.

The negotiating Committee also held a meeting with the heads of delegations at which the President, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, informed them of the negotiations. He told them what had so far been accomplished towards adapting the various demands for export quotas to the total needs of a free market and pointed out further concessions which would have to be made in order to reach an equitable agreement compatible with the common good.

GRESFORD COLLIERY PROCEEDINGS

At Wrexham yesterday the Solicitor-General opened the case against the owners of the Gresford Colliery when forty summonses were down for hearing, alleging breaches of the coal mining regulations. All the defendants pleaded "not guilty".

VERDICT OF "ACCIDENTAL DEATH"

In London yesterday the verdict of "accidental death" was returned at the inquest on the ten victims of the Battersea rail smash on April 2nd.

The relief signalman acknowledged the error of admitting the train into an occupied section of the line.

MINERS' BALLOT

The Miners' Executive announced in London yesterday that the Coalfields' ballot on Union recognition favoured the handing-in of strike notices by 444,546 as against 61,445.

The Notts coalfield figures were 21,956 as against 4,810.

T H E B U D G E T

In the House of Commons, the floor and galleries of which were packed yesterday, Mr. Neville Chamberlain opened his sixth, and what is assumed will be his last, budget, the normal public interest in which has been brought to a high pitch by the great increases in expenditure associated with the Defence programme and the expectation of the inevitable additional taxation.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer prefaced his review of the past year and the explanation of his proposals, which lasted just over 60 minutes, by himself recalling that the national finances must for several years be dominated by the overshadowing feature of vast defence expenditure. He announced an increase of income-tax to the rate of 5s/- in the £1., but no increase in indirect taxation. The Chancellor's other important proposal was a graduated national defence contribution in respect of the growth of profits by businesses whose profits exceed £2,000 in a year and from which he estimated no more than two millions in the current year, rising perhaps to twenty or twenty-five millions as the profits increase. The final balance showed a total estimated revenue of £863,100,000 and a total estimated expenditure of £862,848,000.

Examining the turn out of the last Budget, the Chancellor said that broadly speaking but for the excess of defence expenditure of nearly £8,000,000 over the original provision, he would have ended the year with a surplus of nearly £2,250,000 after providing £13,000,000 for the redemption of debt. The total realised revenue at £797,289,000 was a little less than the Budget estimate but showed an increase of £44,369,000 over the previous year. The total revenue from income-tax, surtax, and death duties, together fell short by £5,750,000 of his expectations, but on the other hand stamps duties had yielded £2,000,000 more than was estimated, at the record figure of £29,140,000, reflecting activity in the Stock Exchange. Customs and Excise gave £3,250,000 more than was estimated - due in part to the new duties on beef and veal imposed at the end of December. He considered the results as extremely satisfactory and as reflecting expanding trade and an increase of the purchasing power of the people.

Elsewhere the artillery activity was on a far greater scale than hitherto experienced.

On the Basque fronts massed guns hammered at the mountain defences aided by the naval forces which were shelling the shore batteries.

In the south the Government forces, which are making a drive against Toledo, claim that the advance guard has entered the city's outskirts.

There is intense aerial activity in the Bilbao area with the defences subjected to heavy bombing and machine-gunning from low-flying planes

HERR HITLER'S BIRTHDAY

A message from Berlin states that Herr Hitler's birthday on Tuesday was made the occasion for an impressive display of Germany's military might, with a march past of 14,550 officers and men, 1,500 horses, and 950 mechanical units.

He was 48 years old on Tuesday.

FRENCH DEFENCE LOAN

In Paris on Tuesday the new 4½% Defence Loan, with interest guaranteed in sterling and dollars, was quoted on the Bourse for the first time and failed to maintain the issue price of 98, closing at 95¾.

SPANISH NON-INTERVENTIONCONTROL SCHEME

The Spanish non-intervention control scheme, which became operative on Tuesday, was marked by no outstanding features.

The senior officers on land and sea reported no developments. Nevertheless the Valencia Government has made emphatic protests alleging intervention on behalf of the Insurgents by Germany and Italy.

The British naval units are patrolling southwards and France is controlling the north-west, with the Italians on the east coast, and the Germans with a free hand in Spanish waters. The land forces operated from midnight on Tuesday.

BUCHAREST Prince Nicholas is leaving Bucharest in his private plane for Vienna on Sunday and is being joined by his wife later.

POSITION IN BELGIUM

The Foreign Secretary told the House of Commons yesterday that he hoped to make a statement at a very early date on the position of Belgium in relation to her provisional Locarno obligations of March 19th, 1936.

The question, he said, was under discussion with the Belgian Government.

SEIZURE OF SHIPS BY SPANISHINSURGENTS

Questioned in the House of Commons yesterday regarding the seizure by Spanish Insurgents of two Spanish ships carrying British-owned cargo and a cargo of iron ore destined for England, the Foreign Secretary replied that the Insurgent authorities had agreed in one case to hand over the cargo to the British authorities.

The British Ambassador is renewing his representations in the other case.

EXPENDITURE ON CORONATIONFROM PUBLIC FUNDS

The estimated expenditure from public funds in connexion with the Coronation will be £689,400 according to a reply made in the House of Commons yesterday.

LONDON. It is reported that the Austrian delegation for the Coronation celebrations will consist of the Foreign Secretary, Herr Schmidt, the Federal Diet President, Herr Hoyos, & the Army Chief, General Schilhaffsky. The Soudanese contingent was given a send-off from Khartoum yesterday of unprecedented enthusiasm.

FLOATING HOTELS

It is possible that a fleet of floating hotels will be anchored in the Thames during the Coronation celebrations. They will be cruising vessels bringing visitors from all parts of the world.

It is estimated that if berths were allotted for twenty-one vessels between Gravesend and London Bridge this would provide accommodation for about 12,000 people at a time.

HOLIDAYS FOR WIVES OF UNEMPLOYED

An excellent scheme for providing holidays in Sussex village homes for wives of unemployed men in the depressed areas has been proposed by the Reverend R.M. Wilson, of Worthing.

Mr. Wilson suggests that members of the institutes who have room in their homes should take women of the depressed areas as their guests for a week or two. He feels that women in the more prosperous parts of England should do something for other women who are less fortunately placed.

A DRASTIC REDUCTION OF FLAG DAYS

Seventy-five hospitals, which have hitherto held different flag days in London, have agreed to combine together for appeals on only two days this year.

The Commissioner of Police has fixed May 2nd to May 8th the week preceding the Coronation, as Hospitals' Week. On Tuesday May 4th there will be one street collection for the whole of the Metropolitan boroughs, and on Saturday May 8th, one for the outlying areas extending as far as the Metropolitan Police District.

There will be no other hospital flag days before these dates.

The hospitals hope to collect at least £30,000, the amount realised in one year by all the different flag days.

MODEL FLATS FOR WORKERS

Flats which may be considered model ones for workers, with labour-saving devices and garden surroundings, have been completed by the London County Council in a square adjoining Holloway Road North.

These flats, with their site, cost £100,000; cover five acres, and provide accommodation for 1,500 people. They are a model for the dwellings which are gradually rising as a result of area clearance schemes in London. Their amenities include - children's playground, communal drying rooms, gas and electric points, separate bathrooms.

The 32 flats which comprise the block are the forerunners of others which will transform London's residential "black spots" into well-equipped estates for working people.

F A C E T I A E

Little Johnnie came home from Sunday school with the distressing news that he had lost the penny given him for the collection. "But that is three Sundays running you have lost your penny" his Mother complained. "Well I must win sooner or later," Johnnie replied. "Fred's luck can't last for ever."

Wife: "It's the furniture folk come for the piano, Henry".

Husband: "But I gave you the money to pay the next instalment."

"Yes, I know dear; but don't say anything. I'm going to pay them as soon as they get it downstairs. I've decided to have it in the sitting room."

The man who had thoroughly enjoyed himself during the Xmas holidays sat with his head between his hands. "It

AMERICAN PILGRIMAGE TO ATTENDTHE CORONATION

It is reported from New York that the American pilgrimage to attend the Coronation ceremonies, which is expected to reach 30,000, thus surpassing the 1929 boom, started in earnest yesterday with the departure of the Cunard White Star Liner "Queen Mary" carrying 1,800 Americans including the former Ambassador to Berlin, Mr. Gerrard, who is the special Coronation representative for the United States.

Other notabilities travelling are Mr. J.P. Morgan, Mr. Heenan, and many official delegates and a vanguard of specialised journalists.

FALL OF THE FRANC

A message from Paris states that the franc yesterday fell to the lowest limit imposed by the currency law and the decline was connived at by the French equalisation fund with large accumulations of gold and foreign exchange.

The Bourse is depressed.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH'SBIRTHDAY

Princess Elizabeth celebrated her eleventh birthday yesterday.

The King and Queen gave her a snow-white pony and saddle and bridle as birthday presents.

BRITISH CRUISER TAKES REFUGEES TOST. JEAN DE LUZ

Yesterday the British cruiser "Forester" arrived at St. Jean de Luz with 247 refugees from Bilbao. They were all Spanish except 19 who were British. According to one of the Britishers who was ordered to leave by the British Consul, the food shortage is no worse than it was a month ago in Bilbao.

CONSIDERATIONS OF BUDGETPROPOSALS

The House of Commons began the consideration of the Budget proposals in earnest yesterday.

Mr. Pethwick Lawrence, for the Labour Party, wanted to know how the Chancellor's plan for the national defence contribution would work out in a number of ways, and he expressed the hope that the Treasury had taken to heart the mistakes learned in connexion with the war-time excess profits duty.

Sir Robert Horne paid a high tribute to the Chancellor's conduct of the nation's finances during his long period of office. He had pursued an undeviating course of resolution and rectitude with the result that the country was the envy of the world. Sir Robert Horne however was critical of the proposed national defence contribution, the scope of which he feared would result in a check on enterprise. He urged that the opportunity, which he believed offered, should be seized for securing a trade agreement with the United States.

Sir Archibald Sinclair attacked what he described as the Chancellor's protectionist policy and indicated that the Liberals would have preferred the strict control of armament prices rather than a scheme of taxation which made the Government a partner in profiteering.

Sir Alan Anderson thought that a measure such as the national defence contribution was an absolute necessity when the whole of the people were being called upon to bear a heavy burden, although he admitted that the schemes for taxing excess profits were full of difficulty.

By the enforcement of an old law the Brooklyn court yesterday found the employees and Union official who are staging a sit-down strike at a Jewish hospital in New York, guilty of the offence of endangering the lives of others. They are liable to a gaol sentence and a decision on this will be given in a week's time when other strikers are tried. This finding is regarded as the most serious blow yet struck at sit-down strikers.

ANOTHER RECORD

Stanley,
22nd April, 1937.
The Editor,
"Penguin".

Sir,

It may be a matter of interest to those who are keen on gardening to know that yesterday a root of potatoes was dug at the Government House garden and threw a weight of 17 lbs. Other roots taken from the same plot weighed from 10 lbs. to 15 lbs.

The potatoes are the Arra Banner variety and I am sure that it is the heaviest crop on record at this garden.

No doubt the season has been most favourable and perhaps some of your readers can beat these weights, but it certainly reflects great credit on the Gardener, Mr. H. Evans, who prepared the soil and picked and planted the seed. After two years' training at Kew Gardens perhaps Mr. Evans will excel even this record.

I am,

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) C. Harrison.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS INNORTH OF SPAIN

According to reuter messages from Burges, important developments have taken place in the north of Spain with the Insurgent leader, General Franco, taking up the challenge of a British merchant ship Master and announcing his intention to mine all Government-controlled ports.

Reports from London state that Mr. Lloyd George has given £250 towards a foodship for Bilbao now loading at Immingham and chartered by Trades Unions and other bodies.

It is anticipated that the vessel will sail to-morrow and certain Parliamentarians will probably be aboard.

FIERCE FIGHTING THROUGHOUTSPAIN

It is reported from Madrid that the Government forces have launched an offensive on the 60-mile front of the Cordoba area, supported by heavy arterial attack. It is also claimed that the Catalan forces are closing in on Huesca on the Aragon front.

The Insurgents continued yesterday to attack the suburbs of Madrid while a continuous bombardment of the city resulted in a heavy casualty list.

CORONATION MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENTROOSEVELT

A special Coronation issue of the Christian Science Monitor has been published with a Coronation Message from President Roosevelt in it in which he stresses the common bond existing between the United Kingdom and the United States for the preservation of peace.

Relative to the Anglo-Saxon countries Mr. Roosevelt says "While the national means and methods of contribution to a more secure and stable peace may rightly vary, this common objective stands ever as a common inspiration."

The concluding passages of the statement read "It is fitting on this occasion of the Coronation of King George that America's interest in the progress and welfare of the British Commonwealth of nations should be expressed."

FLOOD POSITION GRAVE

From Ely it is reported that the flood position is becoming increasingly grave with the river levels five feet above normal and only two feet below the recent high mark. The control of the river banks is being continued.

LIFE LOST WHILE ATTEMPTINGTO RESCUE COMRADE

At Doncaster yesterday, following a series of falls at Bradsworth Colliery, Company official Tatham lost his life in attempting the rescue of a worker buried beneath three tons of coal. Tatham, one of a party of six who formed the rescue party, was buried by a ten ton fall of coal, and the other five were injured but not fatally.

MORE BUS WORKERS ON STRIKE NOW

It is reported from London that yesterday more of the Home Counties busmen joined the strike for a revision of hours and wages. The areas now affected are Kent, Essex, Sussex, Hertford, Buckingham, Bedford, Huntingdon, Northampton, and Cambridge.

LORD HOWE OPENS NEW RACING CIRCUIT

At the Crystal Palace site yesterday Earl Howe, driving a big sports car, broke the tape opening the new two-mile road-racing circuit which has cost £25,000 to construct. He described the course as being as good as any in the world.

GOVERNMENT ADVICE TO BRITISH SHIPOWNERS

The Government advice to British shipowners regarding ships going to Bilbao is to the effect that from the sources of information at its disposal the Government is not in a position to advise the shipowners that their ships are able to enter the port of Bilbao.

Regarding the other ports, such as Santander and Gijon, the Government has advised the shipowners that there is a certain degree of risk and as that risk varies from day to day they cannot give any long term advice. In any event His Majesty's ships will afford protection on the High Seas as has already been announced, if called upon.

USE OF POISON GAS

A little while ago the British Government addressed a Note both to the Spanish Government and to the Insurgent authorities at Salamanca pointing out the deplorable effect which the use of poison gas by either side in the Spanish Civil War would have on the outside world, and the political damage which the offending party would bring upon itself by such use of gas.

The Note expressed the desire, in order to allay any possible fears, that assurances should be received from both parties that they would not have resort to poison gas.

The reply has now been received from Valencia disclaiming any intention on the part of that Government to use poison gas.

No reply has yet been received from the Insurgents.

It will be recalled that in an answer in the House of Commons by Lord Cranborne on March 24th he said that His Majesty's Government had no reason to suppose that either side in the Civil War intended to resort to the use of poisonous gases for military purposes.

STEEL EXTENSIONS TO COST

The plans of steel works extensions to cost £2,500,000 were announced yesterday by Messrs. Colvillies Limited, a Scottish Steel Company with capital of £6,000,000.

The scheme is that the Company should erect coke ovens to produce about 7,000 tons of coke per week, also two additional blast furnaces capable of producing about 3,500 tons of pig-iron per week, along with a plant for handling ore, and other extensions in the shape of plate mills and smelting furnaces. When these plans are completed the output of steel in Scotland will be increased to the highest level in history.

(Sgd.) J.W. Grierson,
Hon. Secretary.

RETURN OF MR. GEORGE LANSBURY

Mr. George Lansbury, former Opposition Leader, who resigned his Chairmanship of the Parliamentary Labour Party a few years ago in loyalty to his Christian Pacifist principles and who had an interview with Herr Hitler in Berlin last week-end, arrived back in England on Thursday.

In a statement to the press Mr. Lansbury said that he did not want to be too optimistic but he had begun to feel an inner conviction that the catastrophe of war could yet be averted. The peoples of the world were living on the edge of a precipice but at least he could say that he had not met anyone in the previous five days who did not want peace, and who did not wish to make a supreme effort to prevent a world catastrophe.

The Prime Minister was questioned in the House of Commons regarding the German Chancellor's declaration to Mr. Lansbury that Germany would be willing to participate in a new World Conference. He said "The position of the Government on this matter has been made clear from time to time and I may perhaps repeat it. The Government would of course be willing to participate in a World Conference provided that a thorough and comprehensive investigation showed that such a Conference would be likely to succeed and provided that there had been adequate preparations."

BELGIUM'S LEAGUE OBLIGATIONS

"So long as Belgium is a member of the League of Nations she remains bound by the obligations of the Covenant. Such obligations cannot be modified either by her own action or by any agreement that any individual power may make with her." This statement was made by the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs in a House of Commons reply to a member who asked whether any changes contemplated in the status of Belgium would affect her League obligations.

BRITISH WARSHIPS GIVE MERCHANTSHIPS PROTECTION

British warships gave protection yesterday morning to three British merchant ships proceeding with food cargoes from St. Jean de Luz to Bilbao when they were interfered with outside territorial waters.

The merchant vessels, the "MacGregor", "Hamsterley", and "Stanbrook", left St. Jean de Luz on Thursday night.

There was no naval convoy but the battleship "Hood" and the destroyer "Fire Drake" which were on patrol in the neighbourhood and were aware of the ships' destination came immediately to their assistance when the Insurgent cruiser "Almirante Cervera" and the armed trawler "Galerno" ordered them at a distance of 4 to 5 miles off shore to discontinue their voyage.

H.M.S. "Hood" remonstrated with the Insurgent cruiser which then desisted from interference and the British merchant vessels proceeded into territorial waters where they were joined by a Basque Government ship and were not again interfered with. It is reported that the shore batteries fired on the Insurgent trawler.

ALL NIGHT SITTING IN HOUSE OFCOMMONS

An all night sitting of the House of Commons, lasting until 11.30 yesterday morning, caused the cancellation of yesterday's sitting at which three private members' Bills, including Mr. A.P. Herbert's Marriage Bill amending the law of divorce, were down for consideration, and at which the promoters of the latter had hoped to see sufficient progress made to ensure its passage into Law in the time available, which they had reason to expect in view of the majorities it has attained at various stages.

Next Friday is the last sitting of the session available for private members' Bills so that unless the Government agree to accept the suggestion of a large number of members of all parties that it should provide time for the Bill, the prospect of its becoming law is slight.

DENTAL SERVICE

With the idea of giving an improved dental service certain changes are about to be made and the attention of the public is called to them.

(1) In order to avoid interference with routine treatment of patients, special 'Consultation Hours' have been set apart for new patients. Persons who desire dental treatment are asked to see the dentist at these 'Consultation Hours' to arrange a time when the actual work can be done; arrange for payment etc., etc.

(2) For the benefit of those who may find it difficult to visit the dentist in ordinary hours Evening Clinics have been provided.

(3) School Children - So many children need dental treatment that the Saturday Morning Clinic has proved insufficient. To meet this, one evening clinic on Wednesday from 5.0 to 7.0 has been set aside. To give effect to these changes the following time-table has been arranged:

	Consultation a.m.	Treatment a.m. p.m.	Consultation p.m.	Treatment p.m.
Monday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	6 - 6.30	6.30 - 8.0
Tuesday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	-----	2 - 4.
Wednesday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	4.30-5.0	5.- 7. (children)
Thursday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	6.0-6.30	6.30 - 8.0.
Friday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	-----	2. - 4.
Saturday.	10 - 10.30	10.30 - 12.30	-----	-----

N.B. It will be noted that the Consultation Period is provided every morning and on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday in the evening as well

(4) There has been difficulty in the past over the collection of fees and this has made necessary the somewhat stricter application of the Regulations. Urgent cases will be dealt with as promptly as circumstances permit and without regard to the financial aspect but the cost of routine work will be estimated at the Consultation Hour when appointments are being made. It will then be necessary to produce a receipt from the Clerk covering the cost of the work before the Dentist will begin treatment.

Charges in whole or in part may be remitted by the Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the Senior Medical Officer but this must be arranged first not after the work is done.

(5) The public is again reminded that the Dentist has reserved from May the 10th to May the 22nd for the benefit of those living in the Camp.

(Sgd) G. Kinneard.
Senior Medical Officer.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL TREATIES.

Drafts of the two Naval Treaties which Britain is concluding separately with Germany and Russia are virtually completed and signatures are expected shortly when a favourable opportunity is presented, says the Sunday Times.

The basis of the Treaties is that Germany and Russia will subscribe to tonnage and calibre limitations as laid down in the London Naval Treaty of 1936, concluded between Britain, France, and United States but the concessions to be granted to the Soviet are dependent upon Japanese action.

THE MONTREUX CONFERENCE

The Egyptian Premier, Nasha Pasha, in a special message to the Sunday Times, paying tribute to Britain's loyal cooperation and spirit of understanding as shown by the capitulatory powers, expressed hope that the Montreux Conference on Monday (to-day) would restore to Egypt full exercise of legislative and judicial independence and so cement her friendship with foreign powers - thus laying the foundation for a harmonious collaboration.

THE BRITISH COLONIES.

Important New Development.

Colonies have now become a major issue of international politics, and Colonial affairs are constantly in the news. It is all the more surprising, therefore, that in Great Britain, which is the foremost Colonial Power, there should be no specific centre for the study and discussion of purely Colonial problems, differing widely as they do from those affecting and self-governing Dominions and India.

The British Colonial Empire comprises over forty territories stretching across the globe, and contains a population of sixty millions of every race and creed, more than double that of all the Dominions. These territories, for which the people of this country are ultimately responsible, present a great range of questions of increasing complexity and importance, affecting not only their internal development and future, but their relations with the Empire generally, with the Colonies of other powers, and with the world at large.

In Brussels, there is an International Colonial Institute; other nations, including Germany, have powerful Colonial organisations; in this country, though the Empire as a whole is well represented, the Colonies have no meeting ground of their own. A movement to remedy this deficiency is now actively afoot.

It has been decided to form the Colonial Empire Union to unite all those, both at home and overseas, who are interested in Colonial affairs, to provide for their meeting place together, and especially Colonials home on leave, and for the discussion of topics of Colonial interest. The presidency has been accepted by Lord Lugard, the "Grand old man" of the Colonial world, and many eminent men concerned with the Colonies have become vice-presidents, including (so far) the Rt. Hon. W. Ormsby Gore, M.P., Secretary of State for the Colonies; the Rt. Hon. L.S. Amery, M.P., Lord Hailey, Lord Oliver, Lord Snell, Lord Cranworth, Sir Frank Swettenham, Sir John Maffey, Sir John Shuckburgh, Sir Edward Davson, Bart., Sir Hesketh Bell, Sir Donald Cameron, Sir Cecil Clementi, Sir Claud Hollis, and Sir Evelyn Wrench. The Chairman of the Union is Major W.E. Simnett, whose work as editor of The Crown Colonist brings him in constant touch with all parts of the Colonial Empire, and a strong and representative committee has been formed.

Membership is open to any member of the public at home interested in Colonial affairs, and it is hoped to form branches or groups throughout the Colonies. Since it is not desired to multiply societies, but rather to work in close co-operation with existing Empire organisations, members of these bodies will not be charged a separate subscription, but will pay a nominal annual fee to cover necessary expenses. This provision, it is felt, should tend to strengthen membership of the wider organisations. The C.E.U. is sponsored, in the first instance, by the Overseas League, to whose founder, Sir Evelyn Wrench, it is deeply indebted, but membership, as stated, is open to all. Those interested should apply without delay to the Secretary, Colonial Empire Union, Overseas House, St. James's, S.W. 1.

NEW YORK RAILWAY STRIKE AVERTED.

New York. A threatened railwaymen's strike was averted by Presidential intervention and a months truce declared, while the Federal Mediation Board investigates the dispute. The men's leader, Ryan, states that the main reason for precipitation of the crisis was to keep the industrial organisation committee and its leader Lewis out of the picture.

The Ford assembly plant at Richmond, California, resumed production on an agreement relative to discrimination against Unionsists.

BRITAIN'S NATIONAL DEFENCELOAN

(London) The terms of the £100,000,000 issue of the National Defence Bonds to be made on Thursday were announced in the House of Commons at question time by the Chancellor of the Exchequer who explained, in the general interest of the local authorities and other borrowers, that it was desirable that the Market should know his intention, in respect to borrowing, under the recent Defence Loan Act. Mr. Neville Chamberlain said that it was proposed to advertise on Wednesday morning full details of the issue to be sold on Thursday, of 2½% National Defence Bonds, to the amount of £100,000,000. The loan would be redeemable before the end of 1948 by annual drawings (at par) of not less than 20% of the amount of the loan, first drawings being made in the autumn of 1944. Subscriptions would be payable by instalments over three months, the first dividend would be 13/-, payable on the 15th of September, 1937.

He intimated that a special arrangement would be made for the small investor through the Post Office and the Trustee Saving Banks. The proceeds of the issue, until required for financing the defence programme, would be available for the reducing of the floating debt and would, in any case, cover the estimated expenditure of £80,000,000 to be met this year from borrowed monies.

City writers in the evening papers say that the issue was well received.

BRITAIN'S PROTEST TO INSURGENTS.

General Franco has been fully acquainted.

THE BILBAO BLOCADÉ.Britain Criticized.

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in Rome understands that the German Minister Goering's conversation with the Duce and the Italian Foreign Minister Ciano yesterday, dealt with the withdrawal of all volunteers from Spain - foreign diplomats attach great importance to the talks.

The Italian press is following the German lead of adverse comment upon British Naval action, relative to foodships running the Bilbao blockade. On the other hand there is indication that Germany is less interested in the Spanish question.

SPANISH CIVIL WAR.Liba Evacuated.

A Vitoria communique claims that the Insurgents, under General Mola, entered Durango which is the key to Bilbao, early yesterday morning, while the Government forces have evacuated the arms manufacturing town of Liba.

S.W.A. GERMANS DISSATISFIED.

According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent, the Germans in South West Africa intend placing a report on recent South African legislation before the League of Nations Mandates Commission with particular reference to the ban on German political activities.

SPANISH CIVIL WAR.

It is reported from Bilbao that the Insurgents are blasting a way through Eibar and leaving it in smoking ruins. Yesterday they completely eliminated Durango and villages of Polivar, Arbacegin, and Guerricaiza with 300 lb bombs, leaving craters twenty feet wide and forty feet deep.

The Basques are setting fire to Eibar on evacuation, but ascribe the destruction to incendiary bombs. Nevertheless, Bilbao is holding out.

The Basque "Holy City" Guernica, which is the ancient capital, is now blazing while planes (alleged by Basque President Aguirre to be German) razed all the buildings including farm houses within a five mile radius.

A Hendaye message states that the Insurgent General, Mola, considers that the Biscay resistance is broken in these attacks which resulted in 5,000 prisoners and 80 guns captured; while it is understood he has issued a warning to the Basque Government that Bilbao will be wrecked unless the town is surrendered.

The shelling of Madrid becomes more persistent, continuing night and day with snaphel introduced over the main streets, but Government planes, so far are unable to locate the Insurgent batteries responsible.

INDIAN REVOLUTIONARY PLOT CASE.

It is reported from Calcutta that judgment has been given at Alepore in the Revolutionary Plot case where twenty-nine Indians were charged with conspiracy to overthrow the Government.

Twelve of the accused were acquitted but fifteen received terms of rigorous imprisonment ranging from three to twelve years; one to be detained in a reformatory for three years, and one transported for life.

Representations are being made in a petition to the King that participants in the Poona Riots in April 1936, now undergoing imprisonment, be released by Coronation amnesty.

THE DANUBE IN FLOOD.

The thawing of heavy snowfalls in the Balkans resulted in catastrophic floods of the Danube and Sava Basin (states a Belgrade Reuter message) and vast areas of North Bulgaria and Jugo Slavia are under water.

The casualties are uncertain.

MORE MONEY FOR ARMS.

The Washington representatives Appropriations Committee have recommended allocation of 500 million dollars for the Army, which is 25 million above the current year's figures.

The Committee states that unless there is larger military allocations for future Budgets, defence will largely consist of man-power unequipped, unimplemented, and unprepared to resist any force equipped with modern weapons.

FLOODS IN ONTARIO.

The River Thames, London, Ona io, and the Grand River reached the highest level for forty years and flooded the greater parts of the city, resulting in compulsory evacuation of 6,000 inhabitants. Electric light supplies are disconnected.

NOTES No.2 PREPARED BY AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT. - Stanley.

The following notes are intended to offer something in the nature of guiding principles in the matter of economical flock improvements.

- (1) Constitution first and foremost is of paramount importance.
- (2) Following on constitution quantity of wool is next in order of importance.
- (3) Having made sure of numbers 1 and 2, the aim should be to answer the following questions.

What is the use of a good fleece of high quality if the sheep dies before it is shorn as the result of a poor constitution? It applies equally to all breeds of sheep that, within the particular breed, the finer the wool, the weaker the constitution, therefore a great danger in all breeding exists in attempting to breed highest price wool. By endeavouring to breed for highest price wool, a gain in the price per lb may be made, but not per sheep, because constitution is sacrificed and invariably weight of wool per sheep.

The ideal aim should be, as good a quality of wool as can be secured without sacrificing the first two essentials.

The breeder should pick out sheep which are thriving the best on his country and breed to that type.

Dual purpose sheep are aimed at in most countries to-day with a good deal of consideration given to conformation. Wool has of course in the past at anyrate been in the main consideration in this Colony, but with the present prospects of the growth of an export trade in frozen mutton, breeders of all breeds of sheep might do well to aim at a low set, short legged type with thick hams and quarters, and plenty of spring rib, short thick necks and wide loins. The tall leggy type of sheep might gradually be discarded, because the carcass is unsuitable for first class freezing requirements.

On poor quality pastures, the flock has a tendency to become lighter in the bone and wool, with a consequent loss of constitution, and some breeders assist this tendency by breeding from rams of the same quality and count as the ewes. For instance, if the ewe flock is of 50 wool count and a 50 wool count progeny is aimed at, many breeders will use a 50 wool count ram which is definitely a wrong procedure. The ram to use should be about a 46 count, as in ordinary circumstances his female and unsexed progeny could not reasonably be expected to be as strong in the wool as the animal.

A careful examination of most flocks will generally show that the sheep which thrive best are low set compact animals with wide open nostrils, strong head and a good spring of rib.

To sum up briefly, the owner should go through and study his sheep and amongst the diverse types it will be found that certain ewes thrive much better than others, and that they produce better lambs and wool, indicating that they are the most suitable types for the country on which they are running.

These special ewes should be carefully selected to form the nucleus of the flock improvement plan. A high class ram of the same type and characteristics as the ewe should then be bought and line breeding resorted to.

The original sire could be re-mated with his grand-daughters provided the mating has been a success - likewise half brothers and half sisters could be mated. Line breeding if properly carried out means uniformity and a fixed type. Line bred rams are more potent than those bred from continual outcrosses. Dangers of course lie in hereditary weakness. No sheep should be mated to relations unless outstanding for constitution. Provided the constitution is sound sheep can be interbred longer and much more successfully than for instance, cattle.

A breeder having success with his picked ewes and ram should gradually eliminate rams other than the progeny of the his picked ewes and ram, so that ultimately all the sheep should be direct descendants of the type that have proved suitable for local conditions.

It is largely a matter of common sense and simple methods. Concentrate on ewes that are thriving on the country, or that in other words are acclimatised, and make sure of constitution especially in the male animals.

I am personally acquainted with an owner, who, over a period of years actually increased the weight of wool per sheep in his flock by nearly four pounds, by adopting common sense methods of line breeding and selection.

Another owner with whom I am well acquainted has been line breeding merinos from one ram for 46 years and this flock today is of outstanding merit.

It should be made a cardinal rule when classing sheep for wool during the process of culling to avoid straight wool, no matter what breed of sheep is concerned. Straight wool is unattractive, breaks in the weaving machines, and usually contains a good deal of hair. Straight woolled sheep are almost always exceptionally hairy in the britch.

(Sgd) D.S.A. Weir, Agricultural Adviser.

BOMBING OF CIVILIANS
DEPLORED BY BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

His Majesty's Government deeply deplore the bombardment of the civilian population in the Spanish Civil War wherever it may occur and whoever may be responsible. They have in the past taken such steps as were open to them to make their attitude on this subject clear to both parties and to promote agreements to safeguard the civilian population. They will continue to examine whether further steps are possible to prevent recurrence of such deplorable events. This statement was made in the House of Commons by the Foreign Secretary in an answer to a question by private notice of the opposition leader arising out of reports of the aerial bombardment by Spanish Insurgent aeroplanes of Guernica, the historic Basque cultural centre and of its nearly total destruction with heavy loss of life among civilians. A large number of supplementaries followed by Mr. Eden's answer; some inspired by partisan sympathy for one side or the other but all showing profound horror at the cruelties which the continuation of the Civil War was inflicting on numberless innocent Spaniards in territories of both sides.

Mr. Eden reiterated more than once that the regret of the Government at the bombing of civilians and their desire to see an end put to it by an agreement between the two sides in Spain, and in this connexion he was able in answering another question to inform the House that both sides had now, on the invitation of His Majesty's Government, given assurances of their intention not to resort to the use of poison gas as a weapon in the civil war.

Miss C.D.Hoare and Mr. H.R.Still.

The spacious nave of Christ Church Cathedral proved to be inadequate to hold the large number of people who assembled on Wednesday afternoon to witness the wedding of Miss Christine Dorothy Hoare and Mr. William H. Rowland Still, solemnised by the Rev. G.K. Lowe.

Miss Hoare is the only daughter of The Honourable A.R. Hoare, M.B.E., J.P., Superintendent of Education, and Mr. Still, L.D.S., Colonial Dentist, is the only son of Mr. H.H. Still of Boston Manor, London.

Miss Hoare was dressed in a radiant gown of white ivory corded silk, carrying a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and roses, and wore a veil of fine Indian lace lent for the occasion by Mrs L.W.H. Young, while the bridesmaids, Miss Eileen Felton Miss Henniker-Heaton, Miss P. Henniker-Heaton and Miss O.H. Felton made the tout ensemble as charming and picturesque a wedding party as has been seen in Stanley for some time.

The Misses Henniker-Heaton wore frocks of pale primrose crepe suede and Miss E. Felton and Miss O.H. Felton wore periwinkle blue crepe suede frocks while all four maids wore Juliet caps to match.

Dr. J.B. Henderson, friend and colleague of the groom, was bestman.

After the ceremony a reception was held at No 5 The Quarters at which some 70 guests drank to the toast proposed by the Honourable M.C. Craigie-Halkett, O.B.E., Colonial Secretary, who, in a few well

INSURGENTS DENY AIR-RAID ON

GUERNICA

An Insurgent communique from Salamanca formally and officially deny all knowledge of an air raid on Guernica, adding that no planes
and there was no flying on Tuesday while there are no Insurgent planes near the city at any time. On the other hand the Basque President Aquirre makes a religiously solemn affirmation that German planes bombed the defenceless civil population for 3½ hours.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent in investigating the Guernica ruins, states that all houses are a smoking debris beneath which the dead inhabitants lie, and months must pass before order is restored.

proceeding, fighting planes dived and machine gunned the streets.

The French press accused Germany and Italy of engineering the Guernica raid.

A Salamanca communique concludes with a statement that advances are being continued on the
